Tentative Report:

School Finance On Rocky Road

There's no relief in sight for taxpayers in Elementary District 25. That's a likely conclusion that will emerge from the study of school finances being conducted by the University of Chicago's Midwest Administration Center.

The center's team studying District 25 finances presented its first report to a special citizens group at a meeting Monday in South Junior High School. Because of the 70-page bulk of the report, they had little chance to react to specifics in the document.

They were cautioned, howhowever, to regard the report as "tentative" and were told conclusions will be turned in with the next report on May 16.

BUT SEVERAL THINGS began to emerge with the tentative report besides the tax dilemma.

One is that the final report may not provide all the information originally sought by the school board in setting up the study. Purpose of the study is to look into the revenue structure of the district, expenditure patterns, the quality of education provided and the demand for education in the district.

A number of committee members expressed disappointment that one section of the report — covering per pupil costs for various categories of salaries (administrators, consultants, clerical personnel, service personnel, teachers and others) did not contain comparisons with other school districts.

They were told by Prof. J. Alan Thomas, project director, his team could not afford to spend the time developing the same kind of comparisons in that area as were developed on other data. Committee member George Beacham said, however, it was "the guts of the study" and asked Thomas to reconsider.

SEVERAL committee members suggested the school board be asked for more money to get the comparative data. They won one concession: Thomas agreed to get comparative data on per-pupil costs of administrators' salaries.

In a second area, a survey of residents' demand for education will be limited to a sampling of 70 to 90 household heads living in single family residences. Thomas said the team was "not going to use this research to say how much education people want" but to get "some feeling" of attitudes.

Outside of the comments on comparative salary data, committee members generally appeared impressed by the volume and kinds of material developed in the report. It is broken down into six chapters.

They cover general questions affecting school finances in suburbs, factors which may affect demand for education — to be tested in the survey, the District 25 current educational program, school expenditures and the current and future tax base of the district.

The first chapter ticks off demographic statistics citing the growth rate of Arlington, steady reduction in average age, high educational background and high percentage of white collar workers and — based on higher than average incomes — a realtively high ability to pay for education.

The second chapter discusses factors affecting demand for education which will be explored in the survey: level of education, family financial burden, benefits received from the school district, knowledge of schools and the like.

The third chapter discusses the current educational program

LAST REMNANTS of railway parks in Arlington Heights will be converted into two-hour free shopper parking lots this spring. Fading Railway Parks

To Provide Parking

The last remnants of Arlington Heights' old railroad parks will fade from the scene this spring when the village converts them into free shopper parking lots.

The still-remaining blotches of green were once part of a grassy strip that was the beginning of Arlington's park system. Over the years, the green has been replaced by blacktop, and the two new lots will complete the evolution.

The village has authorized construction of a 62-space lot on the strip south of the railroad between Arlington Heights Road and Evergreen Ave. The second lot, with 22 spaces, will be along Davis Street, between Dunton and Vail.

HISTORY OF the parcels goes back to 1852. William H. Dunton, who mapped out the original town, used the offer of cheap land to induce the Illinois and Wisconsin Railroad to run its tracks across Dunton's property.

The railway had extended its line out from Chicago to Rand (Des Plaines). From there, it was to extend north toward Wisconsin along the line of the present-day Rand Road.

But Dunton sold a 16-acre parcel through the middle of town to the railway for $350, according to documents in the Arlington Heights Historical Society. The swath—wider than a normal railroad right-of-way—was 16 rods (264 feet) wide running between what is now Arlington Heights Road and Highland Avenue.

IT WAS TO be used for a railroad station and for businesses needing railroad services—lumber yards and elevators. Dunton even moved his house to accommodate the new line.

Mors Parkway, named after a town baker, was developed along the north border of the railway property. Fragments of the old parkway, since replaced by Northwest Highway, still remain. One short strip is just west of Arlington Heights Road; another is east of Highland.

Along the southern border was Railroad Avenue. Then owned by the railway, the street was sold to the village in 1916 when it was paved.

THE STRIP was not immediately developed for parks.

The first railroad station (labeled "Elk Grove" after the then-largest settlement in the area) was south of the tracks. A new station was located on the north side in 1891, after the railroad put in a second set of tracks.

A lumber yard shared the block between Evergreen and Dunton with the old train station until 1897. To the east of Evergreen, an elevator was built. It was torn down in 1916. Between Dunton and Vail, a freight depot and grain elevator were erected.

THE LAST remaining private building in the strip, a doctor's office, was built in 1928 on Vail Avenue, just south of the tracks.

The elevators and lumber yard having been removed around the turn of the century, the strip was developed mostly for park purposes. Focal point was between Evergreen and Dunton.

But the parks began giving way to the auto. Except for the station and highway, the north side of the park area already is devoted exclusively to parking. The wisdom of Dunton in setting aside extra land along the railroad will be reiterated when the next stage of its evolution occurs this spring.

Charity Requests Cut Back

Arlington Heights' United Fund allocation has been slashed from a requested $70,190 to $57,620 by the Suburban Community Chest Council.

The United Fund's board reluctantly agreed to the reduction when it met last Wednesday to hear a report from budget committee chairman Roger Chapman. Chapman said he did not feel it would help to appeal the cut.

The approved figure represents a 9.8 per cent increase over the local allocation of $52,500 in last year's drive. Control of the local group's budget comes through the suburban council because a large proportion of its funds are collected by the Metropolitan Crusade's payroll deductions in Chicago.

CHAPMAN said the 12 agencies participating in Arlington's United Fund originally asked for $80,000. That was slashed by the local group to $70,190 on March 30.

Chapman told the group's board the 9.8 per cent increase already was regarded as a special recognition of Arlington's growth rate. The maximum increase for other suburban communities, he said, was 5 per cent.

Noting some communities like Park Ridge received a larger dollar increase in their allocation, Chapman said they still received a smaller percentage increase and Arlington was handicapped because it started from a smaller base. "By 1972," he predicted, "we will receive what we're requesting." Until that catch-up point is reached, the committee chairman added, local agencies will have to remain patient.

The local fund still receives more than it would if it did not participate in Metro, he suggested. The suburban council, he added, had "spent more time discussing the Arlington Heights United Fund request than all the other united funds in this region combined."

AGENCIES WHO will participate in the 1966 drive are the Salvation Army, Boy and Girl Scouts, Clearbrook School, YMCA, Camp Fire Girls, Northwest Mental Health Clinic, Mental Health Society, Kidney Foundation, Goodwill Industries, USO and Arthritis & Rheumatic Foundation. Bo-Gi, a local youth group, indicated it did not need funds next year and was withdrawn from the list of members.

Chapman suggested the board wait until after the fall drive to allocate funds to participating agencies—a frank attempt to encourage all agencies to help in the collection. But Pres. John Gillen said he wanted the allocation made in the next month or two so contributors will know how their donation is distributed.

One Is Dubbed Project Great

Two surveys of residents' attitudes, both sponsored by public bodies, were to get under way in Arlington Heights this week.

—The village has contracted with a University of Illinois professor to survey residents' attitudes on garbage collection methods and the survey should start Friday.

—A sampling of attitudes towards educational services and costs, part of a financial study being done for Elementary District 25 by the University of Chicago Midwest Administration Center, was to have begun Tuesday.

The village's survey, done by phone, will involve only three questions. Four hundred residents will be questioned. The school survey—an at-home interview lasting about an hour—will involve between 70 and 90 residents.

IN BOTH cases, sampling of residents will be according to rigidly prescribed mathematical formulas to insure a random selection of names.

The village's survey, to be completed on a budget of $200, is being done by Carl M. Larson, professor of marketing at the Chicago Circle campus.

Professor Larson will use village clerical employes in taking the poll. He stressed two points: the survey is being done by him privately and not by the university, and village employes doing the telephoning will be responsible to him and will not discuss their work with the village administration.

Names for the village's sampling are taken from the water bill mailing list. Since the survey is about residential garbage collection (preference for curbside or backdoor pickup), all commercial and apartment listings will be eliminated from the sample. Two recently annexed subdivisions also will be eliminated: Arlington Gardens, which does not have the village's main scavenger service (Laseke Disposal), and Arlington Vista, which switched to Laseke this month and is receiving back-door pickup for the same price it formerly paid for curb service.

PROFESSOR Larson has dubbed the survey "Project Great." The phoner will ask for the head of the household, then say:

"This is Miss — of Project Great in which we are polling at random households of Arlington Heights to determine your opinion on garbage pickups. This survey has been officially approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board and is under the direct supervision of Mr. Carl M. Larson.

"We would appreciate it if you would give us an answer to the following questions:

"1. Are you familiar with the method in which your garbage is now being collected?

"2. ARE YOU in favor of continuing the present method of collection?

"3. What is the method at your household?

"Thank you very much for your kindness. The local papers will publish the results in the near future."

Professor Larson said he would ask the press to perform the follow-up procedure associated with samples.

The school survey is being done by Robert Jewell, a member of the Midwest Administration Center team; it is only one part of a broad, $3,700 financial study.

JEWELL SAID his sampling is based on a list of property tax bills. It also will exclude apartment dwellers, though they are direct users of schools. Jewell said the team "didn't know how" to include all apartment dwellers in a list from which the random sample is taken.

Jewell admitted the sample was "not large enough to make absolute statements" about attitudes as a result. His superior, Prof. J. Alan Thomas, said the survey would "give us a feel" of residents' thinking.

The sample has already been taken and residents contacted by mail for interviews. Jewell will ask a variety of questions, including family income, size of family, financial burdens, how property taxes are paid, how large a financial "cushion" the family has, knowledge of the school district, structure and financing of schools, benefits, age and value of home, size of tax bill, priorities the resident places on school services (how he ranks individual school goals in importance) and general attitudes about District 25, education and taxes.

A Herald Editorial

Harold E. Sortor's re-election to a second term as president of the Arlington Heights elementary school board is good news.

As board president during the past year, Sortor has exerted a special brand of quiet leadership during board deliberations on matters of educational impact. He has repeatedly emphasized that, although the district's current rate of growth requires the board's attention to "brick and mortar" decisions, the board must never lose sight of the end product of its work: education. His dedication to excellence in education is demonstrated not only in his words but in the energy he has devoted to this job.

BOARD MEMBER Joseph Faner retired last week after six years as a school director, receiving deserved praise from his fellow board members. Faner had earned a reputation among board members as an authority on school finances and building contracts. But other members respected and looked for his opinion on any subject; he had a knack for cutting through a mass of details to the relevant point.

He truly deserves a word of thanks for his six years in this non-paying job, including his two years as board president.

'Classroom Gap' Confronts Catholic Schools

By SALLY LEIGHTON

(Mrs. Leighton, prominent local Catholic layman and freelance writer, reports exclusively to the Herald on the reasons for and likely effect on local Catholic parishes of an archdiocesan "pause" in school building construction and on a possible trend away from the traditional Catholic educational patterns. Herself the mother of seven Catholic-educated children, she warns that for new Catholic families moving into the area, "Happiness, for the moment, is finding any school for next fall which can take in increased enrollment and maintain sound standards.")

The mobile family to whom happiness is a desk for every child in the nearest Catholic school may have to switch to a thumb and blanket. There is no longer "room for one more" in every classroom, nor is permanent provision expected to be made in the near future.

The "classroom gap" reported in the Herald last week at Our Lady of the Wayside School in Arlington Heights is only the most recent to come to light.

The only variation has been in the way the teacher or classroom shortage has been handled. A few parishes, because of the psychological or practical problems involved in having children enrolled at both Catholic and public schools, have accepted almost all applicants, rather than split families up when there was technically room (under 50 students) in only some grades.

Others have arbitrarily cut off enrollment no matter what the particular hardship, out of justice to the whole concept of educational standards. Waiting lists are available for those determined to enroll even after considerable time in public schools.

WHAT HAS happened, and what some Catholic educators fear most, is that once a family has become used to the public school system, with its superior equipment and smaller class size, the moral imperative to give every child a Catholic education (interpreted by some pastors to mean in a Catholic school) loses some of its urgency.

Often parents will begin teaching Confraternity of Christian Doctrine courses to their own and other children and feel it is a good substitute for full-time exposure to the values of the Catholic Church.

They end by becoming more involved in religious education than ever before. Obviously, however, this is not an invariable result. In other instances, a family might lose its religious orientation entirely, weak enough as it was to begin with.

The majority of Catholic parents have long since decided that they want a formal Catholic education for their children.

WITH THE exception of a small, though possible growing, number of dissidents, they are more than willing to pay for it. That is amply documented by the continuing "floating commitments" in building fund pledges which even the movingest of Catholics transfers from one parish to another as freely as he moves. This group is often the most anxious to provide at least the anchor of strong religious orientation in a bobbing, shifting society where even the docks are moving.

The "dock" that has moved most recently is the new

Pailey to Chair United Fund Drive

William J. Pailey, 700 S. Belmont Lane, has been named general chairman of the 1966 Arlington Heights United Fund drive.

Pailey is a member of the board of directors of Holy Family Hospital and of the Northwest Suburban YMCA board. He is president of Memory Garden Cemetery.

As United Fund chairman, Pailey will organize and direct activities of volunteer workers during the 1966 drive to raise funds for public health and welfare agencies participating in the program.

AFTER BEING named to head the drive, Pailey said, "I am very happy to be a part of this organization. At the same time, I am anxious that we can repeat, during 1966, the successes that the United Fund of last year exeprienced. Naturally, we have some ideas of our own and we hope to bring some innovations into the campaign this year."

Pailey's wife, Ruth, is actively participating in current fund-raising efforts of Northwest Community Hospital. (A

Support Promised For Traffic Light

Village backing has been promised Hasbrook and Greenbrier residents who have complained about the need for a stoplight at the Kennicott Avenue intersection with Palatine Road.

George C. (Bud) Beacham, former village trustee and past Hasbrook Civic Association president, told Hasbrook members Sunday that Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson is making continued contacts with the state highway department officials who must okay installation of traffic signal.

If by the May 2 board meeting Hanson has not been successful, village trustees will consider a resolution calling for 1966 installation of the traffic light at the Palatine-Kennicott crossing.

"I see no reason why the resolution shouldn't be approved," Beacham told Paddock Publications Tuesday.

BEACHAM SERVED on the village board at the time when the Kennicott crossing was successfully negotiated for with the highway department. At that time, he said, trustees were assured that a light would be installed as soon as the on-grade crossing was finished.

But Greenbrier Civic Association officials who have contacted highway department officials recently were told lack of funds will delay installation of the traffic signal until 1967.

They cited a need for traffic counts as a delaying factor.

The answer did not satisfy Greenbrier residents, whose sole exit from the subdivision is the Kennicott-Palatine Road crossing.

Gordon Beguhn, 1965-66 president of Greenbrier Civic Association, listed the stoplight as the number one need during his "retirement" talk at the association's Friday evening meeting at the Carousel restaurant.

In addition to the 350 Greenbrier families, Winston Park traffic also exits through the Kennicott crossing. And close to 95 per cent of the outbound autos must make left-hand turns in order to reach Rand and Arlington Heights Roads.

The Kennicott intersection is not even lit at night. Greenbrier residents complain that lack of street lighting makes it extremely difficult to judge whether night-time Palatine Road traffic is flowing on the main or access roads. (A

There will be two shows, 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door for both shows and proceeds will be used for the PTA's work with the youth of the school.

ELRO THE Clown has appeared with Ben Alexander out of Hollywood, Calif., as well as with the Bozo Show on WGN/TV.

Other acts will include Ashton's Marionettes; Bill Sweeney, ventriloquist and magician; Jeff and Lita, novelty dance team; and Virginia Page, twirling batons. (A

Church Nursery Reorganized, Open Sunday

Punch and cookies will be served after the 10:45 a.m. service in the nursery room at the Arlington Heights Faith Lutheran Church Sunday.

The nursery will be opened at that time to display the newly reorganized facilities.

With the recent building program at the church, the nursery was in need of rejuvenation, and a group of interested women have taken the responsibility of re-decorating, cleaning, buying equipment and running the nursery each Sunday.

The expanded nursery accommodates youngsters from infancy to 3 years of age.

The Herald, April 21, 1916

Arlington Heights ought to change from a village to a city form of government and elect two aldermen from each ward.

The first ward should be north of the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks and east of Dunton Avenue; the second ward, all that portion north of the tracks and east of Dunton; and the third ward, all that south of the railroad tracks.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, April 25, 1941

The public sentiment in Arlington Heights against intervention in a foreign war began to crystallize in an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday evening in the village hall at which a local chapter of the America First Committee was formed at the initiative of residents.

Engineers were given the go-ahead by the Arlington Heights Village Board on plans for a $600,000 water feeder main construction project.

Trustees asked, in addition, that an elevated water tank be placed in the northwestern part of the village. (A

Student Appointed Legislative Intern

Richard J. Carlson, 22, 1711 W. Oakton St., Arlington Heights, is one of 14 students recently appointed to participate in the Illinois legislative staff internship program.

Carlson received a B. S. degree in radio-TV from the University of Illinois in 1965 and is now working on an M. S. in journalism there.

The Illinois legislative staff internship program is coordinated by the University of Illinois Institute of Government and Public Affairs at Urbana in cooperation with the Illinois Legislative Council and the Ford Foundation.

THE PROGRAM is designed to provide an educational experience in direct contact with the state governmental process for promising graduate students by means of nine-month internships with the Illinois General Assembly and related interim commissions.

Interns are assigned to staff positions which can provide subject-matter assignments and opportunities for working contact, research and observation with legislators. They also take part in a graduate seminar in state and local government and politics directed by the U of I institute.

A monthly stipend is paid each intern. Funds for the administration of the program and for half of six students are granted by the Ford Foundation; other stipend halves and eight additional grants are from funds appropriated by the State of Illinois.

4 Teachers To Talk at South PTA

South Junior High PTA Arlington Heights, will hold its last meeting of the 1965-66 school year at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the school.

Four teachers will hold an informal discussion tentatively entitled, "Who's Teaching My Child?" Also during the meeting, officers for the 1966-67 school year will be installed.

Those interested in signing up for round robin bridge for fall may contact Jan Regione (CL 3-5491) or Virginia Lentine (CL 9-3695). (A

House Damaged

An estimated $100 damage was done to a house under construction at 1810 S. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights, last week, apparently the work of vandals.

Shortages Cause Mail Problems

Problems in Arlington Heights mail delivery have been caused by limited post office space and a shortage of postal employees, according to the Chamber of Commerce's weekly newsletter.

The newsletter reported complaints about postal service continue to mount but commended Postmaster Mrs. Virginia Dodge for doing "everything possible to correct the problems."

The post office is designed to serve a community with a poulation much less than that of Arlington Heights, the newsletter said.

It recommended that complaints be sent to the Post Office Department in Washington. The chamber is willing to act as a collector for transmission of these complaints, said the letter. (A

Consensus-Takers To Jangle Phones

by DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

Arlington Heights takes on the LBJ look this week. The President's reputation for keeping the phones busy, to achieve a "consensus," is well known.

BAUMANN

The phones will be busy in Arlington, too. The village is having a survey done to determine how residents feel about garbage collection methods!

Carl M. Larson, the professor of marketing who's doing the survey, says 400 residents will be contacted, using mathematically constructed sampling tables. He says the results will have a reliability of 95 per cent — that is they would not vary more than 5 per cent no matter how many samples of 400 were taken.

Larson feels the survey may be unique. He's never heard of another community surveying its residents attitudes on a current problem through a scientifically designed sample.

Even more unique: two public bodies in the village are doing such samples at the same time. The elementary school district is having a survey done on attitudes towards the school system.

The idea has interesting possibilities.

—Imagine, the park district could do a survey to find out what kind of recreational programs you really hanker for. No more leaving it to chance. No more embarassing light-attendance programs.

—The mosquito abatement district could find out when most people will be on vacation and have their windows closed to the DTT mist.

—The high school district could find out how people really feel about federal aid to education, without getting into rough-and-tumble elections.

There's no end of possibilities.

For the present, though, we only have two "unique" surveys going on in our village. The school survey is relatively modest. Only 70 to 90 residents will be surveyed, and the University of Chicago team doing it say they will use the results only for "a feel" of residents' attitudes.

Unfortunately, we'll know with more certainty how residents feel about garbage collection than about schools.

Maryville Scout Troop Is Formed

A new Boy Scout troop has been formed at Maryville, Central and River Roads, Des Plaines, according to the Northwest Suburban Council. Thirty-seven boys comprise the charter membership of the new Troop 248.

John D. Miller, 120 N. Kenilworth, Mount Prospect is serving as scoutmaster for the group, assisted by 16 junior assistants from St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights.

The junior leaders are: Mike Laird, 1115 N. State Road; Tom Fox, 443 S. Banbury; Mike Madden, 1501 N. State Road; Tom Schmidt, 737 N. Stratford; Tom Zeinz, 1564 N. Highland; Rick Garrity, 615 E. Grove; and Don Kulla, 1923 Burke Drive — all of Arlington Heights; Joseph Stanley, 713 S. Louis; Dennis Wilkinson, 519 S. Na-Wa-Ta; Thomas Murray, 919 S. See-Gwun; and Philip R. Jeuck, 605 See-Gwun—of Mount Prospect; Bill Crotty, 308 E. School Lane, Prospect Heights; Ernest Buchanan, Michael Albers and Thomas D. O'Malley of Des Plaines; and James E. Ligman of Lake Zurich.

Howard E. Gibson, 221 N. Maple, Mount Prospect, is a member of the troop committee. (ACM

He says the results will have a reliability of 95 per cent — that is they would not vary more than 5 per cent no matter how many samples of 400 were taken.

Larson feels the survey may be unique. He's never heard of another community surveying its residents attitudes on a current problem through a scientifically designed sample.

Even more unique: two public bodies in the village are doing such samples at the same time. The elementary school district is having a survey done on attitudes towards the school system.

The idea has interesting possibilities.

—Imagine, the park district could do a survey to find out what kind of recreational programs you really hanker for. No more leaving it to chance. No more embarassing light-attendance programs.

—The mosquito abatement district could find out when most people will be on vacation and have their windows closed to the DTT mist.

—The high school district could find out how people really feel about federal aid to education, without getting into rough-and-tumble elections.

There's no end of possibilities.

For the present, though, we only have two "unique" surveys going on in our village. The school survey is relatively modest. Only 70 to 90 residents will be surveyed, and the University of Chicago team doing it say they will use the results only for "a feel" of residents' attitudes.

Unfortunately, we'll know with more certainty how residents feel about garbage collection than about schools.

Maryville Scout Troop Is Formed

A new Boy Scout troop has been formed at Maryville, Central and River Roads, Des Plaines, according to the Northwest Suburban Council. Thirty-seven boys comprise the charter membership of the new Troop 248.

The junior leaders are: Mike Laird, 1115 N. State Road; Tom Fox, 443 S. Banbury; Mike Madden, 1501 N. State Road; Tom Schmidt, 737 N. Stratford; Tom Zeinz, 1564 N. Highland; Rick Garrity, 615 E. Grove; and Don Kulla, 1923 Burke Drive — all of Arlington Heights; Joseph Stanley, 713 S. Louis; Dennis Wilkinson, 519 S. Na-Wa-Ta; Thomas Murray, 919 S. See-Gwun; and Philip R. Jeuck, 605 See-Gwun—of Mount Prospect; Bill Crotty, 308 E. School Lane, Prospect Heights; Ernest Buchanan, Michael Albers and Thomas D. O'Malley of Des Plaines; and James E. Ligman of Lake Zurich.

Library Maps Strategy to Meet 'Information Boom'

By MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

The Arlington Heights Memorial Library, humping to meet the population boom, soon will have to struggle with an "information boom" as well.

So says Arlington Heights Head Librarian Mary Lee Ewalt, doing some crystal ball gazing during the current National Library Week.

Huge libraries like the Library of Congress are already turning to automation, Mrs. Ewalt says, to solve problems of instant retrieval in massive collections.

The Toronto, Canada, school system, has already "tooled up" to handle explosion, and two years ago established an Education Center Library which can provide on call not just a reference list — but copies of articles — for both elementary and high school student use.

LIBRARIANS at 28 American universities are planning an Educom punch card system that will eventually link their catalogs through computers.

Such attempts, Mrs. Ewalt says, means that eventually you can "push a button and all the cards on 'bats' will fly out at you." "It's a long way off for local libraries," she adds.

But even village and small city libraries can, in their own way, plan to meet the "information boom."

"We're doing it in one way," Mrs. Ewalt points out, "just making sure our new building will have enough expansion space so that future, not-now-thought-of needs can be accommodated." Though she doesn't expect Arlington Heights' book volume to ever justify it, there will be space, for example, to handle IBM processing equipment some libraries plan to use for automated circulation control.

ARLINGTON Heights Memorial Library does expect to go to microfilm magazine files when its new building opens, Mrs. Ewalt says. The library has found that although state laws now forbid use of building bond funds to purchase books, the money can be used to buy equipment. This includes viewers; at the present time, purchase of two or three regular viewers and one viewer-printer machine are tentatively listed.

Humidity and temperature control will be a part of the new library. Books will benefit from the controlled environment; so will the microfilm, particularly sensitive to moisture changes.

Mrs. Ewalt sees microfilm as advantageous in two ways. The films are cheaper and easier to store than periodical bound volumes. And they aren't subject to mutilation.

"A whole volume can be ruined for reader use, you know, if just one person decides to tear out something and take it home," she adds.

"Cautious" is a mild word for suburban library officials, approach to proposals for unlimited loan privileges or union listing of area library collections. Even District 214's four high schools, for example, don't have available to students a card catalog listing books throughout the district.

A RELIABLE inter-library loan service will be possible when the new co-operative North Suburban Library System is finally operating, Mrs. Ewalt believes. This will enable an Arlington Heights borrower to request a book from Evanston's library, for example, with delivery and pickup being routed through the system office.

Right now, however, the board of directors of the new system are still considering bylaws.

Cooperation sould be possible between schools and public libraries as well as between libraries themselves, Mrs. Ewalt believes. She'd like, for example, for Arlington Heights adult residents to use the magazine-stocked high school library just as the students now use the public library now. (A IBM CARDS may some day replace the familiar card catalog which these Arlington Heights girls, Susan Damiano of 1120 N. Pine Court and Laura Marie Daletski of 1116 N. Pine Court, are consulting with Arlington Heights Head Librarian Mary Lee Ewalt's assistance. Automation of reference lists is a coming thing in libraries faced with an "information boom" as well as in addition to suburbia's population boom. The most famous U.S. library, the Library of Congress, will probably be the first to automate indexing of its wide collection. Right now, Mrs. Ewalt's just planning that the new village library will have enough space to handle unforeseen library changes. (A

OK Increased Sign Height for Dealer

Arlington Heights trustees Monday granted an extra five-foot variation from the sign ordinance requirements covering maximum height to Mark Heller, president of Mark Motors, 2020 E. Northwest Highway.

The variation was granted to allow him to have a star known as the Chrysler "Penestar" trademark placed atop his present 34 foot sign.

The present village ordinance sets a 15½ foot restriction on sign heights.

Heller was originally granted a variation on Feb. 17, 1964, when trustees set a limit of 34 feet on his sign. At the time, the sign was erected within that limit but the Penestar was left off.

TRUSTEE John J. Walsh Jr. noted Monday that the variation granted to Heller in 1964 was followed by variations for 34-foot Lattof Chevrolet and Arlington Theater signs and an Arlington Market sign limited to the building roof line.

In requesting the variation, Heller explained that the signs were manufactured in quantity by the Chrysler Corp. and call for the Penestar on top. He said he would like to mount the Penestar to conform in appearance with other Chrysler dealer signs throughout the country.

The variation was granted by a four to three vote with Trustees John F. White, Thomas H. Hanlon and Francois Palmatier voting "no." (A

More Facts Asked on Parking Fund Donation

An attorney for Howard S. Faber was told Monday to return again before the Arlington Heights Village Board with facts to support his contention that the village has no right to withhold $4,800 which Faber contributed to the downtown parking fund in 1960.

This time he was told to submit specific facts to village officials in advance of his appearance before the board so trustees could have a chance to study them.

THE ATTORNEY was Hugh Schwartz of the law firm which is representing Faber. Two weeks ago, Robert Marx, another attorney of the firm, asserted before village trustees that other downtown owners were given "preferential treatment" over Faber in enforcement of downtown parking requirements.

Marx then said that since Faber contributed to the downtown parking fund set up in lieu of granting variations in parking space requirements, "many others were granted variations under similar circumstances."

Last December, the zoning board of appeals granted Faber a variation from the four parking spaces required for his building. His $4,800 contribution was in lieu of the four spaces and he applied to the village board for a refund of the contribution.

As Schwartz began stating Faber's case, he was asked to name specific cases of downtown buildings allowed without parking spaces. He began citing instances when he was interrupted by Village Pres. John G. Woods who protested that trustees had received no advance copies of that information.

"IT IS OUR feeling," said Woods, "that this information would be submitted in advance so we could study it and ask intelligent questions."

He cited the long agenda for the evening and implied trustees did not want to spend time at the meeting familiarizing themselves with particulars.

Trustees subsequently voted to defer the item until their May 2 meeting. (A

Craftsman Displaying His Works

Fifteen works by Arlington Heights craftsman John Pepio are now on display at the Bank of Arlington Heights in the Arlington Market.

They are examples of a type of pictorial wood inlay called marquetry, which is the forming of elaborate designs or pictures by gluing together natural colored wood veneers to a background or in a frame.

Pepio was born in New York City and moved to Chicago in the 1940's. He has lived in Arlington Heights for the past 15 years.

Pepio studied marquetry in New York and has countinued the craft here as his hobby. This is the first time his works have been on exhibit. (A

Plan 'Tasting Day' On 214 Food Question

Next Thursday will be "tasting day" for the High School District 214 citizens committee charged with recommending the type of food service to be used in the new sixth school on Willow Road.

The Forest View High School cafeteria, scene of the 8 p.m. meeting, will have coffee and pie ready for the group to sample.

And representatives of vending and frozen food suppliers are expected to seize the offered opportunity to provide samples of their wares, too.

Costs, as well as taste, will be emphasized at the meeting.

DON HALL of Lincoln Manufacturing Company and Gary Krimmel of Ecko Products have promised to give the citizens committee figures estimates of the cost of operating a satellite food service for the new school.

Hall told the citizens' group that satellite food operation could save three cents per serving in labor costs. Estimates of equipment investment necessary to achieve that saving would be available by the next committee meeting, he said.

In satellite food service, food is prepared in a central kitchen and transported to school lunchrooms elsewhere. Hall's company manufactures heated units in which to transport the food.

Matthew Cockrell of Cockrell Coffee Service, Arlington Heights vending firm, and W. J. Thone of Armour Products Special Products Division also spoke at the citizens committee's first meeting last Thursday in the District 214 Administration Center at 6799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

COCKRELL estimated it would take 40 vending machines to supply four shift food service to the new school when it opens in 1968 with 2,500 students.

With automation, Cockrell said food service could be completed in 12 minutes.

He said this was "twice as fast as the average manual cafeteria"; District 214 studies, however, show their lunchroom serving time also averages about 12 minutes.

Thone said his company was experimenting now with a "Student Fare" line of frozen meals, expected to cost about three cents less than the 52 cents he cited as the average cost before subsidies of a "Type A" nutritionally balanced hot meal.

Cockrell cited the convenience of service, the saving of kitchen space, and the school district's lack of administrative worries in urging a decision favoring the automated operation.

A VENDED operation would mean a savings to the district—but not the student, Mrs. H. Robert Jolly asserted. She cited raises of 20 to 33 per cent in vending machine food costs and asked how long it would take for lunch increases to equal the $150,000 that will be saved if a full cafeteria is not built at the new school.

A fast computation gave $18,000 as the increase yearly of food service from vend-based on expected raises in food costs over the present Forest View High weekly cash intake.

Wayne Griffin

Rome is beautiful in the fall. I was there in late August, and the fun of sitting at a sidewalk cafe on the via Veneto can't be surpassed. I spent hours there, just watching the natives and the tourists.

They say that throwing a coin in Trevi fountain will bring you back to Rome, and in my case it did, and will again. I enjoyed revisiting many tourist haunts — the Colosseum, Capitoline Hill, the gardens of Villa d'Este and of course St. Peters.

Next day, I spent in visiting hotels to see what was new. In the deluxe category is the new Cavalieri Hilton, just out of town, not far from St. Peters. What a view from the balconied rooms. It overlooks Rome from its hilltop sight and many famous landmarks can be seen.

Rome of course is a must for any European itinerary. Let us plan yours. Drop in at Wayne Griffin Travel, 104 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, or phone CL 5-7010.

Percy Addresses Pupils by Phone

"Charles Percy calling," Arlington High School students heard this morning via tele-tron from seats in the high school Little Theater.

The students, who before have interviewed local police chiefs and Chicago Police Supt. O. W. Wilson via the Bell Telephone company equipment, heard Percy discuss his proposal for a Truth Commission to monitor charges made during political campaigns.

Percy, currently opposing incumbent Paul Douglas for U.S. Senator, thinks the Truth Commission would have been extremely valuable to him during his campaign for governor in 1964.

HE SAYS such a nonpartisan public body could have refuted literature circulated in South Side Negro wards charging him with racial bias.

Thursday's lecture will be followed Friday with a tele-tron talk between senior English composition students and University of Wisconsin freshman composition instructor.

Miss Nancy Klein, Arlington English teacher, set up the phone interview so that her students, jittery about college requirements, could learn for themselves what English teachers expect of college freshmen.

John Burns, business teacher, who arranged the two previous tele-tron lectures at Arlington High, says the school has been able to secure the telephone-loudspeaker equipment for another month.

Future lectures are being planned by both the mathematics and science departments, he said. (ACME

Area News Roundup

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Mexican-American organization and circulation of petitions by two groups are the new developments in the problems of housing for Mexican-Americans. Fifty men and women met in Elk Grove Village Sunday to form a committee of 12 to work on housing problems. The Northwest Opportunity Council and the Northwest Church Council for Migrant Aid are circulating petitions asking the county to stay evictions of families in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township.

PALATINE—The zoning board last week was favorably impressed with a huge planned development project which will have 740 apartment units. Planned for 90 acres at the northeast corner of Northwest Highway and Rohlwing Road, the project will have the following: high rise apartment buildings, two 10-story office buildings, a large motel, restaurant, 100,0000 square feet shopping center, movie theater, recreation center for the apartments, gas station, 15-acre lake and 20-acre park. A zoning decision was postponed until the zoners could get a recommendation from the plan commission.

MOUNT PROSPECT—The School District 57 board of education Monday night reaffirmed its original decision to demote principal Richard Van Dyke to classroom work come September. The second 5-2 vote came after a public hearing spread over four sessions. The second principal to be reassigned at a reduction in pay, F. Foy Haney, was undecided as to whether or not he would seek a similar hearing.

WHEELING—The Wheeling village board has decided to keep one classification of liquor licenses. Several trustees wanted to create several classes but agreed to leave only one class, after running into strong opposition from the Wheeling liquor steering committee.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Two random samplings of residents' opinions, financed by public bodies, are being undertaken this week. One concerns residents attitudes towards garbage collection methods and is being done for the village. The other concerns residents' attitudes towards school district finances and is being done for Elementary District 25.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP—Construction of a second junior high school for Schaumburg Township is in doubt since bids for the job called for the expenditure of more funds than available. A special referendum may be in the offing.

ROLLING MEADOWS—The city council held a special session this week to review the proposed 1966-67 municipal budget. Preliminary estimate of a total appropriation of $862,841, $160,750 higher than the 1965-66 appropriation, could boost the tax rate from $.30 to $.33. A new deep well and a proposed addition to city hall, coupled with salary raises and additional personnel account for most of the proposed increase.

BARTLETT—Registered voters of this community will go to the ballot-box Saturday to decide the fate of $175,000 general obligation bond issue for the construction of a new municipal building. Village board meetings have been held in recent months in the Bartlett Park Field House following the condemnation of the present village hall by the state fire marshal's office, prohibiting any future public meetings held there.

BENSENVILLE—The Bensenville Park District decided last week to take over the management and financing of the swimming pool built by the Bensenville Recreation Association. Swimming fees were set, with a bonus offered for those taking family passes—use of the miniature golf course at token cost.

ITASCA—Wood Dale's Mayor Herbert Gilbert is satisfied and Itasca's Pres. Wilbert Nottke is depressed about negotiations between the two villages to find a fair boundary line. According to Nottke, "nothing was resolved," and according to Gilbert, the meeting was "most beneficial."

2 Tougher Subdivision Rules Asked

Two changes in Arlington's subdivision ordinance—neither designed to warm the hearts of developers—have been reported out of the plan commission's zoning committee.

—One would increase the minimum size of single family lots from 70 to 75 feet in frontage.

—The second would require dedication of 20 per cent a residential development for streets. Attacked by developers at an earlier hearing, the proposal has been amended to eliminate hardship in special cases.

THE CHANGE in lot sizes will be scheduled for a hearing after it has been drafted into legal form by the village attorney, and after it has been published.

It would increase the minimum size of R3 lots—the most common single family zoning category — from 8,725 square feet to 10,000 square feet. Frontages—measured at the building line—would be increased to the 75-foot figure.

It would increase R2 lots from 10,000 to 12,000 square feet, with frontages of 80 feet. Also increased in R1 and R2 would be corner lot sizes. It would retain the current minimum of 15,000 square feet for big lots in the R1 category.

EXPLAINING THE planned change, the committee report said:

"It has been the policy of the board of trustees and the plan commission to reduce the density of building in Arlington Heights. One means of implementing this policy has been to direct builders to create a blend of R3 and R2 lots in developments. This technique has the drawback of not putting developers on notice when they buy land or do their initial planning."

The larger R3 lots would have the same effect but with advance notice to developers, the committee indicated. Recommended as the effective date of the ordinance was six months after passage or no later than next Jan. 1.

The requirement that 20 per cent of a parcel be dedicated for streets will go to a resumed plan commission hearing on April 27. It has been amended to allow for land locked parcels where no streets around the perimeter are possible because of previous developments. In such cases, the amount of land required for dedication could go as low as 10 per cent. The committee suggested it become effective immediately after passage by the village board.

A THIRD suggestion was referred back to the building commissioner by the plan commission after zoning committee chairman Norval B. Stephens said his committee did not feel competent to judge its merits.

Building Commissioner H. C. Best has suggested, Stephens said, that "shirt front" construction be prohibited. Such construction involves brick on the front of a home only. Best suggested wherever brick is used the builder be required to carry the brickline completely around the house.

BEST TOLD the committee he has substantially accomplished that goal and making it a law would not create a hardship for builders. Stephens, no pantywaist on the subject of "shirtfront" homes, said they looked "like barns."

Countering, commissioner Charles O. Bennett said he must live in a barn because his home had "shirt front" brick.

The commission decided the question was not in its realm of competence and suggested Best seek help through other channels.

2nd Charge Placed Against Salesman

Charges have continued to mount against Benjamin C. Hopkins, former salesman at Mark Motors, 2020 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Hopkins was arrested by Arlington Heights police April 12 and charged with stealing checks from Mark Motors and cashing one of them.

After he was released on $2,-000 bond, another complaint was signed against him, this time by Mrs. Ellen Ladd of Waukegan.

Mrs. Ladd charged that she had given Hopkins $600 down payment on a $1,000 car she was going to purchase from Mark Motors. When she returned to get the car at Mark Motors, she was told that the firm hadn't received her deposit.

HOPKINS turned himself in to Arlington Heights police on Friday.

According to police, Hopkins stated that he had borrowed $200 from Mrs. Ladd on April 7 and that she talked to him about buying a car. He said she gave him another $400 and the $600 sum was to be used as a deposit for a $1,000 car.

Police said Hopkins told them he took the money because he needed it to gamble with.

Hopkins is now being held in Cook County jail. Police said when they checked his record with Chicago police, they found he is also wanted by them for jumping a $5,000 bond.

His trial in Arlington Heights branch of the Circuit Court has been continued until May 2.

4-to-3 Vote Elects Burns Dist. 59 Head

Douglas Burns Monday was named president of the Elk Grove District 59 school board in a contested election preceded by "politicking."

The board voted 4 - to - 3 in favor of Burns. Joseph Schefter was the other candidate proposed.

The board also split in its vote to name a secretary. Nancy Swearingen won in a 4 -to - 3 vote over Richard Hess.

Burns, the board member with the most seniority and a nominee last year, was supported by members of the board from Elk Grove Village. The two new board members from Des Plaines were known to favor Schefter for president. This made Jackie Hofer's vote a key one.

SOME DES PLAINES residents made it known they wanted Schefter as president. Schefter often has been regarded as a vocal but minority voice on the board.

Before the vote was taken, the board recessed for a short time and certain board members conferred on the issue.

Mrs. Swearingen has been on the board for two years while Hess was elected last year. He was known to want the job, however.

Burns after his election said he "hoped he could fill the president's shoes as ably as his predecessors." He succeeds A. M. (Bud) Bernstein, who was defeated in his bid for re-election to the school board.

In his first action of the night, Burns made a strong speech underscoring the board's past history of teamwork. He stressed the board's belief they were associated with "one of the finest organizations."

"WE HAVE A tremendous administration. . .true professionals dedicated to the job," Burns declared. "Hours mean nothing to them as they work to provide the best education our money can buy."

Hess followed Burns' remarks with his own stress on past unanimity of the board. He sought to dispel the belief by some that certain board members voted together on issues.

A check on board meetings from Dec. 6 to April 4 showed the board voting unanimously 77 times, he said. He and Mrs. Swearingen teamed for one vote with Jackie Hofer, Burns, Vance Folkman, and Schefter against the motion.

Burns stood alone once in a vote, Schefter stood alone once, Hess stood alone three times, Mrs. Swearingen stood alone once, Bernstein stood alone once and Mrs. Hofer stood alone twice in votes on issues.

SCHEFTER and Hess voted together once; Folkman, Hess, and Schefter voted together once, his investigation showed.

Burns and Hess apparently wanted to stress the board would not split in its vote along north or south district lines.

The board presented outgoing Bernstein and Folkman with gifts and Burns praised them for their efforts on the board.

Bernsten as former president received an addition memento, a gavel engraved with his years of service. A(M in Arlington, terming it "excellent" and comparing specific parts with four other districts: Park Forest, Markham, Glencoe and Wheeling. They were chosen to provide comparisons with rich, poor and intermediate districts.

The same districts are compared in financial expenditures in the first portion of Chapter 4, but not in the expenditures cited by committee members.

The fifth chapter includes a series of 20 tables with projections on enrollment gains and declines in assessed valuation per student (property tax revenue is based on assessed valuation).

George Peterson, who presented that section of the report, said the projection researchers feel is most likely to occur shows an enrollment increase from 8,777 students in 1965 to 11,465 in 1970. Best projection on assessed valuation per pupil, he said, shows a decline from the current $16,432 to $15,774 in 1970. The drop results from a student population growing at a faster pace than the assessed valuation.

Although the preliminary report was devoid of recommendations, Professor Thomas did reveal one "probabie" recommendation: that the district hire fewer skilled people to operate school libraries full time, retaining the present qualified librarians to perform specialized work. Library hours presently depend on the availability of skilled librarians.

Civic Associations Elect New Officers

Both Greenbrier and Hasbrook Civic Associations elected officers last weekend.

About 35 persons attended the Sunday afternoon Hasbrook Civic Association meeting at which R. G. Ley, 1819 N. Walnut, was named president.

Greenbrier Civic Association, offering "one free drink per person," drew 75 persons to a Friday evening meeting in the Carousel Restaurant. Robert Dallstream, 2305 N. Lafayette, was elected president, garnering the second presidency for the family. Mrs. Dallstream currently is president of Greenbrier PTA.

OTHER OFFICERS elected, without opposition, at the Hasbrook Civic Association meeting were Richard Brandt, first vice president; Thomas Fennel, second vice president; Michael Cavallo, treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Dodds, secretary, and Mrs. William R. Wellman, editor.

Serving with Dallstream on the Greenbrier board will be James Weeks, vice president; Mrs. Jack Marcy, secretary, an Mrs. Jack Marcy, secretary, and will be Mrs. Marcy's second term.

The Greenbrier nominating committee customarily slates more than one name for top posts in the civic association. William J. Isbell, loser in the balloting for president, and Edgar W. Butterline and Francis M. Miller, runners up for vice president, were all elected at-large representatives to the civic association board.

OTHER AT-LARGE representatives named were David Patterson, Albert M. Hurlbut and Mrs. Dick Olson.

Chosen as area representative by the Greenbrier group were George Grulke, Kenneth D. Conrad, James D. Fitzgerald, Don Reed, Olson, Leighton Jorgensen, Chuck Bock, Don Montemurro, Ron Chrastka, and Russell Moe. (A

Anti-Tax Forms Raise Eyebrows

Arnold Scharringhausen, Elk Grove Township tax collector, has been passing out tax protest forms bearing the name of a Chicago law firm, Cullen and Burke.

The forms, given to persons who want to protest their tax rate, give the firm an unfair advantage in soliciting business, some citizens have complained.

Scharringhausen said he has the forms at his office only as a convenience for taxpayers, and that the forms were not printed with any township funds. (ACM

Village Asks Gasoline Bids

Attention, service station owners. The Village of Arlington Heights is looking for gasoline—100,000 gallons of it. Bids will be opened in the manager's office at 10 a.m. May 10 for supply of the village's annual bulk purchase, used at the public works garage.

Wreckers Begin On Old School

Demolition was expected to start Thursday (today) on the old St. Peter School buildings northwest of Highland Avenue and Northwest Highway. The buildings will be replaced by a seven-story apartment building named Highland House and a three-story office building named Eastman Center.

Zone Request Asks For Smaller Lots

Two former village trustees—William Moore and Robert Bishop—stood before the Arlington Heights village board Monday to argue opposing views on a request to rezone three contiguous 120 foot lots in R. A. Cepek's Subdivision to five 72 foot lots.

The lots in question are on the west side of Walnut Street in the triangular area between Kirchoff and Central Roads. To the west is Northwest Community Hospital and between the hospital and the three lots is a group of apartments. Other lots on that part of Walnut are all 120 feet wide.

Moore represented the petitioner, Donald Florence. He called the neighborhood "dilapidated" and said that only one owner in the block had improved his property. Moore said that if the lots are resubdivided to 72 foot frontages, Florence intends to build homes on them in conjunction with American Colonial Builders and will agree to make no further rezoning requests for them.

BISHOP opposed the rezoning as a private citizen and homeowner in the subdivision.

Bishop stated that he and other owners had bought property in the subdivision because it was zoned to 120 foot frontages and they felt the trustees and the plan commission would guarantee that it stay that way.

Bishop argued that changing the classification would set a precedent that would have an adverse effect on existing homes in the subdivision.

"Where do you draw the line," Bishop asked. "We feel the lines are already drawn and the village should hold to its standards. Zoning laws were not intended to be instruments for manipulators and land speculators so they can make more money."

Bishop acknowledged that development in the subdivision has been slow but "people there find it desirable to have vacant property."

HE LATER added, "I don't agree with the plan commission and builders that it's a sin to have vacant land."

Village Pres. John G. Woods maintained that the triangular area between Kirchoff and Central Roads where the three lots are located constitutes a "special problem" because it is isolated by Kirchoff and Central Roads.

He said Central Road is a logical dividing line and rezoning the three lots would not necessarily set a precedent affecting the area to the south of Central Road.

Woods added, "People have a constitutional right to use their property in a reasonable manner."

The discussion resulted in no action of the proposed rezoning because Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. conveniently pointed out that he had not yet driven down the street to look at the property in question. The matter was held over until the May 2 board meeting.

Local Girl Finalist in Competition

An Arlington Heights girl is one of 77 high school and college students from throughout the country named recently by Great Books of the Western World as finalists in its annual $65,000 educational fund awards program.

She is Anna Marie Pietrolonardo, 1600 N. Rand Road.

Finalists will compete for a first cash prize of $5,000 and 10 awards of $1,000 each. The remainder are eligible for $500 prizes.

The cash awards are intended to provide assistance to children who wish to attend college, but there is no limitation on their use. In addition to the cash prizes, a 54-volume set of Great Books of the Western World will be given to the schools attended by the winners.

Each student completed four objective tests and submitted essays based on material in the Great Books of the Western World or Gateway to the Great Books. Eligibility begins at seventh grade and continues (A through grade 12.

archbishop, John P. Cody, known before he came as a "builder." Now he has banned all except emergency building pending a thorough investigation of the present state of financial commitment of the Church of Chicago, but principally because current building prices are prohibitive. Construction costs have increased by as much as 25% in the last year alone.

A "pause" in building which does not quite qualify as a real moratorium will give Archbishop Cody a chance to look into the demographic trends of his see. Until now, building has been on a more or less "if you can pay for it, build it" basis.

The future may call for a more balanced estimate of the entire metropolitan situation. If there is one trait the new bishop has demonstrated, it is a desire for order and timing; for the diocesan building program to be allowed to "just grow, like Topsy," would be foreign to his nature.

At a meeting of Catholic educators three weeks ago, the suggestion was made that pending an informed decision on where, when, and how much permanent building was to be done, mobile classrooms would be available for rent through the archdiocese, in tight situations where their use would be feasible.

Our Lady of the Wayside school has not yet applied for a permit to use such structures, but barring the possibility that Wayside will be considered an "emergency" situation from the building commission's point of view, Arlington Heights might be the site of such classrooms this fall.

Meanwhile, although Elementary School District 25's Assistant Supt. Robert Campbell appears to believe that rumors concerning possible shifts in parochial classroom provisions have never materialized, reductions in Catholic school enrollment are already well advanced in the whole surrounding area. Catholic schools are presently turning down some applicants.

CUTTING OFF the first several grades certainly sends more Catholics into the public schools, as has happened in several parishes. Even without a building ban, this has occurred.

One item is even now affected by the building pause: St. Edna's Parish on Arlington's far north side will have neither school nor church till further notice. Father James J. Doherty, pastor, is the surveyor of a 14-acre possibility, no more. Children of the 300 families in his flock are served in St. Mary's, Buffalo Grove; St. Thomas Villanova, Palatine, and St. Alphonsus, Prospect Heights.

AS THESE parishes need the space for their own parishioners, St. Edna's people, barring instant building permission, will be coming to Arlington Heights elementary schools. St. Thomas Villanova has plans to build a church eventually, releasing the space now used as a chapel for the first three grades. They are at capacity plus a waiting list in several grades right now. St. Alphonsus has waiting lists for the first four grades; therefore, St. Edna's children may not enroll there. As population increases the picture is clear.

Meanwhile, what are Catholic parents to do till the building comes?

A spokesman at the board of education of the Catholic Schools indicated that serious thought on the whole future of Catholic education is very much in order. It is becoming obvious that every family will not be able to send all their children to Catholic schools throughout 16 years. Creative ideas on how best to bring about the Christian training which has been the goal of the schools in some new context will be welcomed by the Board.

The spokesman referred a reporter to John Cogley's paper, given at the National Catholic Education Association Convention last week, as a point of departure.

Cogley's closing comments were, "It is clear that Catholic education will, or in any case should, never be the same again. An era has ended; an historic period has passed. Like all historic periods, it was on balance a mixture of magnificence and mistake, of benevolence and mischief, of accomplishment and stupidity. We can praise it or denounce it, but we cannot prolong it. It is over. A new day has dawned for the church and with it a new day for Catholic education."

WHATEVER the failures and grandeurs of the past, a new day in the Chicago archdiocese begins with a man known as a builder. Yet there are more ways to build than with brick and mortar. There are communities to build, friendships to cement, bridges to throw across centuries-old chasms of suspicion and distrust.

Whatever the rising and falling barometer of building pressures and construction costs, it seems unlikely that buildings erected in Arlington Heights and environs will be the bastions of defense they have been traditionally considered, but rather, places dedicated to the nurturing of Christian confidence and ideals in the entire community. The forms building takes may well depend in part on the expression of the hopes of all the people who pay the bills.

Meanwhile, those moving into the area would be well advised to check school registration early. "Happiness," for the moment, is finding any school for next fall which can take in increased enrollment and maintain sound standards.

For new Catholic families in Arlington Heights, that may well be a public school.

Man Injured In Auto Accident

An Arlington Heights man was taken Sunday to Northwest Community Hospital after suffering neck and back injuries in an auto accident at Arlington Heights Road and Euclid Street.

He is Harold Hildebrandt, 41, of 410 E. Hawthorne.

According to police, Hildebrandt's car was stopped for a red light at Arlington Heights Road and Euclid when it was struck by a car driven by Vincent J. Alesi, 79 Forest Lane, Elk Grove Village.

Alesi told police he applied his brakes but was unable to avoid the accident because of the wet pavement and he was too close to Hildebrandt's car.

Alesi was cited for negligent driving and driving too fast for conditions. (A

Defer Zoning Action on Farms Near Nike Base

Zoning action on the Pingel-Hildebrandt farms southwest of the Nike base has been deferred until the developers of the two farms submit 10 copies of a map showing their proposals in detail

In deferring action at Monday's meeting Arlington trustees also recommended that a special meeting be scheduled with the developers after receipt of the map copies.

The zoning requests of the developers had been referred two weeks ago to a special committee of the village board. Reporting on a meeting of that committee, Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. said members had been unable to reach a positive agreement on the use of the land.

THE DEVELOPERS were appealing the recommendation of the plan commission that several of their zoning requests be denied.

The original requests would have made over the farms into substantially an apartment development.

The plan commission had agreed to the addition of 2.8 acres of apartment zoning west of the proposed extension of Wilke Road and the addition of approximately 2.5 acres of commercial zoning along Algonquin Road. However, the plan group denied other requests for apartment and commercial zoning on the farms.

The situation was further complicated because the developers had modified their earlier requests.

TRUSTEE WALSH said he was essentially in agreement with the request for apartment zoning west of the proposed extension of Wilke Road except for a strip of commercial zoning along Algonquin Road. But he indicated reservations concerning the proposals for apartment zoning east of the proposed Wilke extension.

One of the developers asked if trustees would finalize the zoning west of the Wilke extension but trustees would not agree to handling the zoning requests in two sections.

Pres. John G. Woods recommended that nothing be resolved until the developers supplied the detailed information on their proposals for the entire property. (A

Radio Taken

A two-way radio valued at $200 was reported stolen from a truck belonging to Henry Kerce, 122 S. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights.

Kerce told police the radio was taken from his truck while it was parked in his driveway Saturday night. (A

Oppose Apartment Plan for 32 Acres

A resolution opposing a 32-acre apartment development on unincorporated land west of Northwest Community Hospital was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board. A similar resolution, supporting Arlington's position, will be presented to the Mount Prospect Village Board May 3.

Cook County's Zoning Board of Appeals has under consideration a request to build two seven-story and four four-story buildings on the tract. It is expected to rule on the request for apartment zoning in about six weeks.

Marathon five-hour hearings were conducted on the proposal last Friday, with an array of expert witnesses and an apparent attempt by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel to "build a record" for use in court litigation which surely would follow approval of the development.

THE REQUEST for rezoning of the land, known as the Gosch farm, came from Tec Associates. The firm proposes a total of 708 apartment units of which 356 would be one-bedroom, 304 two bedroom and 48 three-bedroom. There would be two swimming pools and a private lake.

Representatives of the firm said 300-foot setbacks from the street would be used and pointed out maximum number of units permitted on the land under the proposed R6 zoning would be 894.

If the zoning board approves the request, it will take a two-thirds vote of the county board to overridge Arlington's objections. And if the county board approves it, the village has indicated it will challenge the rezoning in court. (AF-M

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Mexican-American organization and circulation of petitions by two groups are the new developments in the problems of housing for Mexican-Americans. Fifty men and women met in Elk Grove Village Sunday to form a committee of 12 to work on housing problems. The Northwest Opportunity Council and the Northwest Church Council for Migrant Aid are circulating petitions asking the county to stay evictions of families in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township.

PALATINE—The zoning board last week was favorably impressed with a huge planned development project which will have 740 apartment units. Planned for 90 acres at the northeast corner of Northwest Highway and Rohlwing Road, the project will have the following: high rise apartment buildings, two 10-story office buildings, a large motel, restaurant, 100,0000 square feet shopping center, movie theater, recreation center for the apartments, gas station, 15-acre lake and 20-acre park. A zoning decision was postponed until the zoners could get a recommendation from the plan commission.

MOUNT PROSPECT—The School District 57 board of education Monday night reaffirmed its original decision to demote principal Richard Van Dyke to classroom work come September. The second 5-2 vote came after a public hearing spread over four sessions. The second principal to be reassigned at a reduction in pay, F. Foy Haney, was undecided as to whether or not he would seek a similar hearing.

WHEELING—The Wheeling village board has decided to keep one classification of liquor licenses. Several trustees wanted to create several classes but agreed to leave only one class, after running into strong opposition from the Wheeling liquor steering committee.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Two random samplings of residents' opinions, financed by public bodies, are being undertaken this week. One concerns residents attitudes towards garbage collection methods and is being done for the village. The other concerns residents' attitudes towards school district finances and is being done for Elementary District 25.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP—Construction of a second junior high school for Schaumburg Township is in doubt since bids for the job called for the expenditure of more funds than available. A special referendum may be in the offing.

ROLLING MEADOWS—The city council held a special session this week to review the proposed 1966-67 municipal budget. Preliminary estimate of a total appropriation of $862,841, $160,750 higher than the 1965-66 appropriation, could boost the tax rate from $.30 to $.33. A new deep well and a proposed addition to city hall, coupled with salary raises and additional personnel account for most of the proposed increase.

BARTLETT—Registered voters of this community will go to the ballot-box Saturday to decide the fate of $175,000 general obligation bond issue for the construction of a new municipal building. Village board meetings have been held in recent months in the Bartlett Park Field House following the condemnation of the present village hall by the state fire marshal's office, prohibiting any future public meetings held there.

BENSENVILLE—The Bensenville Park District decided last week to take over the management and financing of the swimming pool built by the Bensenville Recreation Association. Swimming fees were set, with a bonus offered for those taking family passes—use of the miniature golf course at token cost.

ITASCA—Wood Dale's Mayor Herbert Gilbert is satisfied and Itasca's Pres. Wilbert Nottke is depressed about negotiations between the two villages to find a fair boundary line. According to Nottke, "nothing was resolved," and according to Gilbert, the meeting was "most beneficial."

2 Tougher Subdivision Rules Asked

Two changes in Arlington's subdivision ordinance—neither designed to warm the hearts of developers—have been reported out of the plan commission's zoning committee.

—One would increase the minimum size of single family lots from 70 to 75 feet in frontage.

—The second would require dedication of 20 per cent a residential development for streets. Attacked by developers at an earlier hearing, the proposal has been amended to eliminate hardship in special cases.

THE CHANGE in lot sizes will be scheduled for a hearing after it has been drafted into legal form by the village attorney, and after it has been published.

It would increase the minimum size of R3 lots—the most common single family zoning category — from 8,725 square feet to 10,000 square feet. Frontages—measured at the building line—would be increased to the 75-foot figure.

It would increase R2 lots from 10,000 to 12,000 square feet, with frontages of 80 feet. Also increased in R1 and R2 would be corner lot sizes. It would retain the current minimum of 15,000 square feet for big lots in the R1 category.

EXPLAINING THE planned change, the committee report said:

"It has been the policy of the board of trustees and the plan commission to reduce the density of building in Arlington Heights. One means of implementing this policy has been to direct builders to create a blend of R3 and R2 lots in developments. This technique has the drawback of not putting developers on notice when they buy land or do their initial planning."

The larger R3 lots would have the same effect but with advance notice to developers, the committee indicated. Recommended as the effective date of the ordinance was six months after passage or no later than next Jan. 1.

The requirement that 20 per cent of a parcel be dedicated for streets will go to a resumed plan commission hearing on April 27. It has been amended to allow for land locked parcels where no streets around the perimeter are possible because of previous developments. In such cases, the amount of land required for dedication could go as low as 10 per cent. The committee suggested it become effective immediately after passage by the village board.

A THIRD suggestion was referred back to the building commissioner by the plan commission after zoning committee chairman Norval B. Stephens said his committee did not feel competent to judge its merits.

Building Commissioner H. C. Best has suggested, Stephens said, that "shirt front" construction be prohibited. Such construction involves brick on the front of a home only. Best suggested wherever brick is used the builder be required to carry the brickline completely around the house.

BEST TOLD the committee he has substantially accomplished that goal and making it a law would not create a hardship for builders. Stephens, no pantywaist on the subject of "shirtfront" homes, said they looked "like barns."

Countering, commissioner Charles O. Bennett said he must live in a barn because his home had "shirt front" brick.

The commission decided the question was not in its realm of competence and suggested Best seek help through other channels.

2nd Charge Placed Against Salesman

Charges have continued to mount against Benjamin C. Hopkins, former salesman at Mark Motors, 2020 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Hopkins was arrested by Arlington Heights police April 12 and charged with stealing checks from Mark Motors and cashing one of them.

After he was released on $2,000 bond, another complaint was signed against him, this time by Mrs. Ellen Ladd of Waukegan.

Mrs. Ladd charged that she had given Hopkins $600 down payment on a $1,000 car she was going to purchase from Mark Motors. When she returned to get the car at Mark Motors, she was told that the firm hadn't received her deposit.

HOPKINS turned himself in to Arlington Heights police on Friday.

According to police, Hopkins stated that he had borrowed $200 from Mrs. Ladd on April 7 and that she talked to him about buying a car. He said she gave him another $400 and the $600 sum was to be used as a deposit for a $1,000 car.

Police said Hopkins told them he took the money because he needed it to gamble with.

Hopkins is now being held in Cook County jail. Police said when they checked his record with Chicago police, they found he is also wanted by them for jumping a $5,000 bond.

His trial in Arlington Heights branch of the Circuit Court has been continued until May 2.

4-to-3 Vote Elects Burns Dist. 59 Head

Douglas Burns Monday was named president of the Elk Grove District 59 school board in a contested election preceded by "politicking."

The board voted 4 - to - 3 in favor of Burns. Joseph Schefter was the other candidate proposed.

The board also split in its vote to name a secretary. Nancy Swearingen won in a 4 -to - 3 vote over Richard Hess.

Burns, the board member with the most seniority and a nominee last year, was supported by members of the board from Elk Grove Village. The two new board members from Des Plaines were known to favor Schefter for president. This made Jackie Hofer's vote a key one.

SOME DES PLAINES residents made it known they wanted Schefter as president. Schefter often has been regarded as a vocal but minority voice on the board.

Before the vote was taken, the board recessed for a short time and certain board members conferred on the issue.

Mrs. Swearingen has been on the board for two years while Hess was elected last year. He was known to want the job, however.

Burns after his election said he "hoped he could fill the president's shoes as ably as his predecessors." He succeeds A. M. (Bud) Bernstein, who was defeated in his bid for re-election to the school board.

In his first action of the night, Burns made a strong speech underscoring the board's past history of teamwork. He stressed the board's belief they were associated with "one of the finest organizations."

"WE HAVE A tremendous administration. . .true professionals dedicated to the job," Burns declared. "Hours mean nothing to them as they work to provide the best education our money can buy."

Hess followed Burns' remarks with his own stress on past unanimity of the board. He sought to dispel the belief by some that certain board members voted together on issues.

A check on board meetings from Dec. 6 to April 4 showed the board voting unanimously 77 times, he said. He and Mrs. Swearingen teamed for one vote with Jackie Hofer, Burns, Vance Folkman, and Schefter against the motion.

Burns stood alone once in a vote, Schefter stood alone once, Hess stood alone three times, Mrs. Swearingen stood alone once, Bernstein stood alone once and Mrs. Hofer stood alone twice in votes on issues.

SCHEFTER and Hess voted together once; Folkman, Hess, and Schefter voted together once, his investigation showed.

Burns and Hess apparently wanted to stress the board would not split in its vote along north or south district lines.

The board presented outgoing Bernstein and Folkman with gifts and Burns praised them for their efforts on the board.

A "pause" in building which does not quite qualify as a real moratorium will give Archbishop Cody a chance to look into the demographic trends of his see. Until now, building has been on a more or less "if you can pay for it, build it" basis.

The future may call for a more balanced estimate of the entire metropolitan situation. If there is one trait the new bishop has demonstrated, it is a desire for order and timing; for the diocesan building program to be allowed to "just grow, like Topsy," would be foreign to his nature.

At a meeting of Catholic educators three weeks ago, the suggestion was made that pending an informed decision on where, when, and how much permanent building was to be done, mobile classrooms would be available for rent through the archdiocese, in tight situations where their use would be feasible.

Our Lady of the Wayside school has not yet applied for a permit to use such structures, but barring the possibility that Wayside will be considered an "emergency" situation from the building commission's point of view, Arlington Heights might be the site of such classrooms this fall.

Meanwhile, although Elementary School District 25's Assistant Supt. Robert Campbell appears to believe that rumors concerning possible shifts in parochial classroom provisions have never materialized, reductions in Catholic school enrollment are already well advanced in the whole surrounding area. Catholic schools are presently turning down some applicants.

CUTTING OFF the first several grades certainly sends more Catholics into the public schools, as has happened in several parishes. Even without a building ban, this has occurred.

One item is even now affected by the building pause: St. Edna's Parish on Arlington's far north side will have neither school nor church till further notice. Father James J. Doherty, pastor, is the surveyor of a 14-acre possibility, no more. Children of the 300 families in his flock are served in St. Mary's, Buffalo Grove; St. Thomas Villanova, Palatine, and St. Alphonsus, Prospect Heights.

AS THESE parishes need the space for their own parishioners, St. Edna's people, barring instant building permission, will be coming to Arlington Heights elementary schools. St. Thomas Villanova has plans to build a church eventually, releasing the space now used as a chapel for the first three grades. They are at capacity plus a waiting list in several grades right now. St. Alphonsus has waiting lists for the first four grades; therefore, St. Edna's children may not enroll there. As population increases the picture is clear.

Meanwhile, what are Catholic parents to do till the building comes?

A spokesman at the board of education of the Catholic Schools indicated that serious thought on the whole future of Catholic education is very much in order. It is becoming obvious that every family will not be able to send all their children to Catholic schools throughout 16 years. Creative ideas on how best to bring about the Christian training which has been the goal of the schools in some new context will be welcomed by the Board.

The spokesman referred a reporter to John Cogley's paper, given at the National Catholic Education Association Convention last week, as a point of departure.

Cogley's closing comments were, "It is clear that Catholic education will, or in any case should, never be the same again. An era has ended; an historic period has passed. Like all historic periods, it was on balance a mixture of magnificence and mistake, of benevolence and mischief, of accomplishment and stupidity. We can praise it or denounce it, but we cannot prolong it. It is over. A new day has dawned for the church and with it a new day for Catholic education."

WHATEVER the failures and grandeurs of the past, a new day in the Chicago archdiocese begins with a man known as a builder. Yet there are more ways to build than with brick and mortar. There are communities to build, friendships to cement, bridges to throw across centuries-old chasms of suspicion and distrust.

Whatever the rising and falling barometer of building pressures and construction costs, it seems unlikely that buildings erected in Arlington Heights and environs will be the bastions of defense they have been traditionally considered, but rather, places dedicated to the nurturing of Christian confidence and ideals in the entire community. The forms building takes may well depend in part on the expression of the hopes of all the people who pay the bills.

Meanwhile, those moving into the area would be well advised to check school registration early. "Happiness," for the moment, is finding any school for next fall which can take in increased enrollment and maintain sound standards.

For new Catholic families in Arlington Heights, that may well be a public school.

Man Injured In Auto Accident

An Arlington Heights man was taken Sunday to Northwest Community Hospital after suffering neck and back injuries in an auto accident at Arlington Heights Road and Euclid Street.

He is Harold Hildebrandt, 41, of 410 E. Hawthorne.

According to police, Hildebrandt's car was stopped for a red light at Arlington Heights Road and Euclid when it was struck by a car driven by Vincent J. Alesi, 79 Forest Lane, Elk Grove Village.

Alesi told police he applied his brakes but was unable to avoid the accident because of the wet pavement and he was too close to Hildebrandt's car.

Alesi was cited for negligent driving and driving too fast for conditions. (A

Defer Zoning Action on Farms Near Nike Base

Zoning action on the Pingel-Hildebrandt farms southwest of the Nike base has been deferred until the developers of the two farms submit 10 copies of a map showing their proposals in detail

In deferring action at Monday's meeting Arlington trustees also recommended that a special meeting be scheduled with the developers after receipt of the map copies.

The zoning requests of the developers had been referred two weeks ago to a special committee of the village board. Reporting on a meeting of that committee, Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. said members had been unable to reach a positive agreement on the use of the land.

THE DEVELOPERS were appealing the recommendation of the plan commission that several of their zoning requests be denied.

The original requests would have made over the farms into substantially an apartment development.

The plan commission had agreed to the addition of 2.8 acres of apartment zoning west of the proposed extension of Wilke Road and the addition of approximately 2.5 acres of commercial zoning along Algonquin Road. However, the plan group denied other requests for apartment and commercial zoning on the farms.

The situation was further complicated because the developers had modified their earlier requests.

TRUSTEE WALSH said he was essentially in agreement with the request for apartment zoning west of the proposed extension of Wilke Road except for a strip of commercial zoning along Algonquin Road. But he indicated reservations concerning the proposals for apartment zoning east of the proposed Wilke extension.

One of the developers asked if trustees would finalize the zoning west of the Wilke extension but trustees would not agree to handling the zoning requests in two sections.

Pres. John G. Woods recommended that nothing be resolved until the developers supplied the detailed information on their proposals for the entire property. (A

Local Girl Finalist in Competition

An Arlington Heights girl is one of 77 high school and college students from throughout the country named recently by Great Books of the Western World as finalists in its annual $65,000 educational fund awards program.

She is Anna Marie Pietrolonardo, 1600 N. Rand Road.

Finalists will compete for a first cash prize of $5,000 and 10 awards of $1,000 each. The remainder are eligible for $500 prizes.

The cash awards are intended to provide assistance to children who wish to attend college, but there is no limitation on their use. In addition to the cash prizes, a 54-volume set of Great Books of the Western World will be given to the schools attended by the winners.

Each student completed four objective tests and submitted essays based on material in the Great Books of the Western World or Gateway to the Great Books. Eligibility begins at seventh grade and continues through grade 12. (A

A two-way radio valued at $200 was reported stolen from a truck belonging to Henry Kerce, 122 S. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights.

Kerce told police the radio was taken from his truck while it was parked in his driveway Saturday night. (A

Oppose Apartment Plan for 32 Acres

A resolution opposing a 32-acre apartment development on unincorporated land west of Northwest Community Hospital was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board. A similar resolution, supporting Arlington's position, will be presented to the Mount Prospect Village Board May 3.

Cook County's Zoning Board of Appeals has under consideration a request to build two seven-story and four four-story buildings on the tract. It is expected to rule on the request for apartment zoning in about six weeks.

Marathon five-hour hearings were conducted on the proposal last Friday, with an array of expert witnesses and an apparent attempt by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel to "build a record" for use in court litigation which surely would follow approval of the development.

THE REQUEST for rezoning of the land, known as the Gosch farm, came from Tec Associates. The firm proposes a total of 708 apartment units of which 356 would be one-bedroom, 304 two bedroom and 48 three-bedroom. There would be two swimming pools and a private lake.

Representatives of the firm said 300-foot setbacks from the street would be used and pointed out maximum number of units permitted on the land under the proposed R6 zoning would be 894.

If the zoning board approves the request, it will take a two-thirds vote of the county board to override Arlington's objections. And if the county board approves it, the village has indicated it will challenge the rezoning in court. (AF-M

Career Night Fair Set For Wheeling Tuesday

Companies with more than 2,000 jobs to fill are waiting to meet area seniors who will attend a Career Night fair at Wheeling High School next Tuesday evening.

The first Career Night offered in this area for students who plan to enter the work force when they graduate, the fair will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. in the high school at Elmhurst and Hintz Roads.

Twenty-six different schools offering technical, business and other semi-professional training will attend the Wheeling High School event. The schools will include barber and beauty colleges, data processing institutes, business schools and the Chicago School of Art and Design.

THE EVENT is open to juniors and seniors at all High School District 214 schools, their parents, and students at Conant High School, District 211, and Maine West.

"From the enthusiastic reports I've heard," said Valmar D. Erickson, the Conant contingent may be the largest group attending."

Erickson, High School District 214 vocational counselor who is in charge, says Centex, United Airlines, and Western Electric are among area firms who plan to have displays—and personnel people — at the Tuesday night fair.

So are 15 other northwest suburban employers, including Martin Metals, Illinois Range Company, the Defense Supply Agency at O'Hare Field, Lutheran General Hospital, Conex Division of Illinois Tool Works, Bruning, Jewel Tea, Pure Oil, Continental Air, Ecko, Illinois Bell Telephone, Century Insurance, Aetna Insurance and Northwest Community Hospital.

FIRMS FROM outside the area who will display are Caterpillar Tractor of Aurora, and IBM of Chicago. Others wanted to, said Erickson, but were turned down. "We didn't want this first Career Day to be too unwieldy," Erickson explained.

Recruiting officers from the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines will be on hand, as will a representative of the Des Plaines Social Security office.

The Career Night is Erickson's "baby." He's been planning for the vocational-oriented career show for three years. He sent invitations to employers and trade schools early in January, frankly telling the firms that he didn't know how many students would show up.

But 1,500 high schoolers trooped through displays at Mundelein, the only north suburban community where such a Career Night has been offered before.

TO ENCOURAGE high school seniors — and their parents — to attend, notices have been sent out from school and posters have been placed around the high school buildings. Juniors are welcome too, says Erickson, though their attention is being directed to the technical and trade school displays rather than the job-opening centers.

Bell Telephone Company in Wheeling has given the Career Night an unsolicited boost as well. Announcements of the Career Night are being sent out to all Wheeling-area phone users.

'Y' Slates New Series Of Classes

A new series of seven-lesson classes in different subjects will begin at Northwest Suburban YMCA the week of April 25.

Men, women, boys and girls will find a wide variety of special interest courses available whether they are members or not. Nom-members are charged a nominal fee; most classes are free to members.

SOME OF THE courses for youngsters include swimming and diving, air rifle, archery, crafts, trampoline and tumbling, judo and painting.

Adults may take bridge, ceramics, dance, fitness, golf, judo, knitting, lose weight and volleyball courses.

The YMCA is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. six days a week. Call the "Y" at 296-3376 for details. (B11

Medicare Signup Extension Granted

It is not too late to enroll for Medicare.

Older people in the Northwest area who did not sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare before the close of the first enrollment period on March 31 have been given a little more time.

"Congress has extended until May 31 the deadline for enrollment by persons 65 or over," said Henry Williamson, Social Security manager.

OVER 95 per cent of persons 65 or over residing in the district office service area were enrolled for the doctor bill insurance when Social Security offices closed at midnight on March 31, he said. Less than 2 per cent had turned down the protection which supplements the basic hospital insurance provided persons 65 and over.

Another 3 per cent had not made up their minds either way, or else were not aware of the deadline and the need to sign up for the supplementary protection.

Persons over 65 who have not yet applied for the medicare benefits should get in touch with the nearest social security office now, he said.

People 65 and over, whether or not they have ever worked under Social Security, and whether retired or still working, get basic hospital insurance protection under Medicare, he said. The hospital benefits will be paid out of Social Security taxes if the person has been covered by Social Security and out of general Federal revenues if he has not.

THE VOLUNTARY doctor bill insurance, he said, will be financed out of the $3 monthly premiums of those 65 and over who enroll, with a matching $3 a month for each enrollee contributed out of general revenues.

The $3 premiums do not become payable until July when the medicare program goes into operation. But persons 65 or over by February of this year who delay signing up until past May 31 will have to wait 2 years for another chance to enroll. The next general enrollment period will be October 1967 through December 1967 with no medical insurance benefits payable until July 1968.

The Northwest Social Security district office is located at 4255 N. Milwaukee Ave., Chicago. The phone number is 282-8200.

YMCA Pool Opens with New Filter

The large swimming pool at Northwest Suburban YMCA has re-opened after a week of inactivity while a new $6,000 filter was being installed.

The new equipment will help maintain the purity of the swimming water so that it will actually be clearer than the water we drink.

INSTALLATION was made at the direction of Arthur Geen, building superintendent of the local YMCA. "This is just one of a series of changes that are constantly being made to keep the local 'Y' among the leaders," said Mr. Geen.

Future improvements are planned for the gymnasium, the weight-lifting room and a general reconditioning of the parking lot area.

Northwest Suburban YMCA serves more than 25,000 members and participants annually and is a member agency of the local Crusade of Mercy. (B11

And They Don't Pay a Cent

Hasbrook Gadabouts Always Have Baby Sitter

By MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

The H. Robert Jollys haven't paid a penny to a babysitter in the five years they've lived in Hasbrook.

This doesn't mean the Jollys' four young children are left to fend alone. Quite the contrary.

When Bob and Edie Jolly go out together, they turn their children over to an adult who they know will be able to cope with everything from soaring temperatures to dropped-behind the-sofa safety pins.

The Jollys can do so—and all for free—because they are one of 25 families in the Hasbrook Babysitters Cooperative, organed five years ago and known since as just "the 'sitters' club."

EIGHT OF the present sitter club members signed the original charter, itself unique in a suburban area whose residents are prone to job change, transfer and promotion.

But the eight — Mrs. Jolly, Mrs. Silas E. Bert, Mrs. Robert J. Zeller, Mrs. R. T. McCullagh, Mrs. Robert A. Monroe, Mrs. Frank J. Smith, Mrs. Richard W. Walker, and Mrs. John F. Sonderegger — have been on the list since the club's first day in September, 1960.

Mrs. Vincent A. Beuder, president this year, credits good club rules — and willing husbands — as keys to the co-ops continued use.

"I know of another group that hasn't done well because their husbands won't help out," says Mrs. Beuder. "We pay each other back for sitting at our house by sitting somewhere else. We can't do this if our husbands aren't willing to stay home and pitch in too."

But in the two-to-three-block Hasbrook area where most of these gals live, Mrs. Beuder says the club has had had no problem in filling vacancies left by member moves.

HUSBANDS and wives alike enjoy the budget saving as well as the relief felt when a really experienced sitter is left with the brood.

Not that the Hasbrook operation is without its problems. The rules say, says Mrs. Beuder, that anyone with a gripe msut bring it to the president rather than creating neighborhood friction.

In the early days, members met monthly to go over such irritations—always without names being used. Often club rules were changed to meet the situation.

Originally there was no penalty charge for changing plans. Now there's a half-hour penalty charge — brought on, the women say, when a member took on the habit of booking a weekend sitter, "just in case," and then canceling out.

Though the bookwork is tricky, rules of the club operation are fairly simple. A member who needs a sitter calls the club secretary. The secretary looks at her list for gals who "owe" a lot of sitting, and lines one up. The sitter gets credits for the hours she sits, and the gadabouts get debits, to be paid off by later sitting.

NO CLUB members may roll up debits of more than 20 hours and no member may have more than 20 sitting hours credited. The secretary changes monthly, and draws a half credit apiece that month for her booking stint.

Double credit is given now for sitting over supper hour—"because it's a difficult time to sit and a bad time to leave your own house, too," says Mrs. Jolly — and similar credit is given for after 4 a.m. (A

2 Zoning Petitioners Are Absent

Two rezoning requests on the agenda for Monday's Arlington Heights Village Board meeting were deferred because petitioners did not appear.

One request was for the rezoning of the southwest corner of Miner Street and Highland Avenue from R-5 to the denser R-6 multiple family classification. Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson asked that it be continued because he had received an indication that the owner was in the process of combining the parcel with property to the west.

THE OTHER request deferred was for the rezoning of the lot immediately west of the gasoline station on the northwest corner of Central and Arlington Heights Roads from its present multiple family to limited retail commercial classification. Both rezoning proposals have already been approved by the plan commission. (A

"C'mon Bernie," said Bernie's wife.
"If we buy electric whole-house air conditioning now, we can save money."

So Bernie did.
Did Bernie save money?
You should see his smile.
Read how you can save, too.

The contractors who install electric whole-house air conditioning aren't busy right now (it's between seasons). In order to keep busy they are strongly inclined to make special money-saving deals for smart folks who want to keep cool.

Last year, 25,000 smart Chicago area folks installed electric whole-house air conditioning. Join the smart crowd. (Bernie did.) Your heating contractor can make you a member. Air-condition now.

With electric whole-house air conditioning you'll have the least expensive air conditioning available, both in the cost of the unit (as little as $800 in an average 6-room house) and cost of operation (about 40 cents a day during the air-conditioning season).

And with electric whole-house air conditioning you'll enjoy cool, filtered, dust-and-pollen-free air. You'll be really comfortable, and you'll sleep better and eat better. Best of all, you'll know it is one home-improvement you'll get your money back on if you ever sell your house.

Now you know why 25,000 electric whole-house air conditioners were installed in the Chicago area in 1965. And why you'd better beat the crowd in 1966.

And They Don't Pay a Cent

Hasbrook Gadabouts Always Have Baby Sitter

By MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

The H. Robert Jollys haven't paid a penny to a babysitter in the five years they've lived in Hasbrook.

This doesn't mean the Jollys' four young children are left to fend alone. Quite the contrary.

When Bob and Edie Jolly go out together, they turn their children over to an adult who they know will be able to cope with everything from soaring temperatures to dropped-behind the-sofa safety pins.

The Jollys can do so—and all for free—because they are one of 25 families in the Hasbrook Babysitters Cooperative, organed five years ago and known since as just "the 'sitters' club."

EIGHT OF the present sitter club members signed the original charter, itself unique in a suburban area whose residents are prone to job change, transfer and promotion.

But the eight — Mrs. Jolly, Mrs. Silas E. Bert, Mrs. Robert J. Zeller, Mrs. R. T. McCullagh, Mrs. Robert A. Monroe, Mrs. Frank J. Smith, Mrs. Richard W. Walker, and Mrs. John F. Sonderegger — have been on the list since the club's first day in September, 1960.

Mrs. Vincent A. Beuder, president this year, credits good club rules — and willing husbands — as keys to the co-ops continued use.

"I know of another group that hasn't done well because their husbands won't help out," says Mrs. Beuder. "We pay each other back for sitting at our house by sitting somewhere else. We can't do this if our husbands aren't willing to stay home and pitch in too."

But in the two-to-three-block Hasbrook area where most of these gals live, Mrs. Beuder says the club has had had no problem in filling vacancies left by member moves.

HUSBANDS and wives alike enjoy the budget saving as well as the relief felt when a really experienced sitter is left with the brood.

Not that the Hasbrook operation is without its problems. The rules say, says Mrs. Beuder, that anyone with a gripe msut bring it to the president rather than creating neighborhood friction.

In the early days, members met monthly to go over such irritations—always without names being used. Often club rules were changed to meet the situation.

Originally there was no penalty charge for changing plans. Now there's a half-hour penalty charge — brought on, the women say, when a member took on the habit of booking a weekend sitter, "just in case," and then canceling out.

Though the bookwork is tricky, rules of the club operation are fairly simple. A member who needs a sitter calls the club secretary. The secretary looks at her list for gals who "owe" a lot of sitting, and lines one up. The sitter gets credits for the hours she sits, and the gadabouts get debits, to be paid off by later sitting.

NO CLUB members may roll up debits of more than 20 hours and no member may have more than 20 sitting hours credited. The secretary changes monthly, and draws a half credit apiece that month for her booking stint.

Double credit is given now for sitting over supper hour—"because it's a difficult time to sit and a bad time to leave your own house, too," says Mrs. Jolly — and similar credit is given for after 4 a.m. (A

"C'mon Bernie," said Bernie's wife. "If we buy electric whole-house air conditioning now, we can save money."

So Bernie did.
Did Bernie save money?
You should see his smile.
Read how you can save, too.

The contractors who install electric whole-house air conditioning aren't busy right now (it's between seasons). In order to keep busy they are strongly inclined to make special money-saving deals for smart folks who want to keep cool.

Last year, 25,000 smart Chicago area folks installed electric whole-house air conditioning. Join the smart crowd. (Bernie did.) Your heating contractor can make you a member. Air-condition now.

With electric whole-house air conditioning you'll have the least expensive air conditioning available, both in the cost of the unit (as little as $800 in an average 6-room house) and cost of operation (about 40 cents a day during the air-conditioning season).

And with electric whole-house air conditioning you'll enjoy cool, filtered, dust-and-pollen-free air. You'll be really comfortable, and you'll sleep better and eat better. Best of all, you'll know it is one home-improvement you'll get your money back on if you ever sell your house.

Now you know why 25,000 electric whole-house air conditioners were installed in the Chicago area in 1965. And why you'd better beat the crowd in 1966.

Schneller Is Honored With Retailer Award

Joseph Schneller, president of Schneller Furniture Co., 32 S. Evergreen St., Arlington Heights was honored last week as one of the nation's outstanding Brand Name retailers.

He received a national Certificate of Distinction Award, furniture store classification, in the annual Brand Name Retailer - of - the - Year competition sponsored by Brand Names Foundation, Inc.

The awards were presented last Wednesday by Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor at the foundation's annual banquet at the Hilton Hotel, New York City.

ACCOMPANYING Schneller to New York for the award ceremony and foundation meeting were Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications; David S. Alcorn, president, and Carl Statler, vice president of marketing, Englander Co.; and T. D. Hartnett, retail ad zone manager, Chicago Tribune.

The banquet climaxed two days of events during which Schneller and other retail winners attended luncheons given in their honor by members of the Brand Names Foundation and a cocktail party and reception at the Rainbow Room, Rockefeller Center, hosted by Paddock Publications and the hometown media of other winners.

He also attended business and merchandising sessions with manufacturers, media and agencies.

A major event of the meeting was an original satirical musical revue called "Look Around," dramatizing the attitudes of today's youth toward advertising, profits and business careers. The revue also dealt with apathy and lack of knowledge on the part of consumers of the workings of our economy and the free enterprise system.

At a merchandising session in which the winners were instructed in advertising and promotion techniques, they were given a presentation by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association. The filmed program, "The Scene and How to Make It," dealt with creativity and imagination in advertising, with special stress on ad creation which would appeal to teenagers.

OFFERING special recognition of Schneller's achievement at the meeting were executives from several of his major suppliers.

Declared David J. Brunn, president of Drexel Furniture Co.: "We feel your emphasis on brand name merchandise has elevated your store above the 'retail rat race' in which so many are involved. This brand name approach is carried through all facets of your business including the way your salesmen are trained, the way your lines are presented to the public through advertising and display, and your approach to customer satisfaction."

Added David S. Alcorn, president of the Englander Co.: "We are especially proud to be associated with a retailer who emphasizes brand name quality, service, and satisfaction. The character of Schneller's retail operation accurately reflects the quality of our product. This combination provides the customer with a unique guarantee of satisfaction and value."

Nathan S. Ancell, president of the Baumritter Corp., said Schneller Furniture Co. is "part of a revolution in retailing."

"A new kind of retail furniture distribution is developing," said Ancell, "and it is exemplified by the growth of Schneller Furniture. All the essential ingredients are present: a store located in a rich, growing suburban area; a store aware that Americans are increasingly quality - minded, especially in the home which is a reflection of you and what you are; and a store that recognizes the emergence of strong, nationally - advertised brands and capitalizes on that advertising. Schneller will continue to contribute to this revolution in retailing."

EXPLAINING his philosophy of retailing and the reason for his store's success, Schneller said:

"Fulfill the obligations inherent in brand name merchandising, and both retailer and manufacturer will build sales volume. Brand merchandising must be a close working arrangement between manufacturer and retailer in the style, display, quality, and service aspects of retailing. And as an added bonus, brand name retailers can sell both the quality and integrity of their store name and the manufacturer's brand name — too many retailers don't do this."

Competition judges recognized Schneller for his promotion of such brand name merchandise as Drexel, Cushman, Baumritter, Sherrill and Hickory Chair furniture; Englander bedding; Karastan carpeting; Stiffel, Frederick - Cooper, and Rembrandt lamps.

In May 1965, Schneller moved from a 5,000-sq. ft. store in Arlington Market shopping center to a 35,000 sq. ft. building in downtown Arlington Heights. Total sales volume this year will top $1 million.

The Brand Names Foundation is a non-profit member organization of manufacturers, media, agencies, and consulting retailers whose object is to maintain a favorable climate of opinion for brand names and brand name marketing procedures.

Says Sick Don't Seek Help Because of Guilt Feelings

Many people, especially Christians, feel it is wrong to be sick and because of guilt feelings are reluctant to seek help, especially psychiatric help, according to Dr. David Busby, a member of the psychiatric staff of Forest Hospital, Des Plaines.

Dr. Busby's observation was made during an interview on religion and psychiatry for a continuing public service radio series being produced by Forest Hospital, a 90-bed private treatment facility.

Conducted by Morris B. Squire, administrator of hospital, the series is heard in five Illinois communities including Chicago, Evanston, Skokie, Springfield and Rockford.

DR. BUSBY, a Christian, states in the interview that once they decide to seek help even people who are not of his faith often seek him out for psychiatric help specifically because of his convictions.

"Even for people who have not been religious, when feeling one's mind 'slipping' it is natural for one to reach out for religion to keep from going over the brink," says Dr. Busby. "However, most people who have a healthy, balanced attitude toward God can make use of their religion as a bulwark to stabilize them especially during breakdown."

Dr. Busby also points out that the nature of psycho-therapy is such that the psychiatrist's attitude toward religion enters into his dealings with patients whether he likes, knows or wishes it or not; therefore, he should especially study this aspect of life.

With his background and interest in religion, Dr. Busby has often been called upon to deal with breakdowns and mental problems among missionaries. Such patients have come to him from as far away as South America, Africa, and the Far East.

"THE RIGORS OF life for the missionary are one cause of breakdown among these people and such breakdowns are not often a result of religious conflict," states Dr. Busby. "Of those missionaries who do suffer psychiatric breakdowns, the majority are those who come into conflict with others and not those who are off alone."

Dr. Busby, who holds certification from the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, has a private practice in addition to his affiliation with Forest Hospital and his services as psychiatric consultant for the Evangelical Child Welfare Agency and for the Niles West High School in Skokie, Illinois. He is also a member (and on Board of Directors) of the Christian Medical Society of Religion and Mental Health and a member of the Academy and of the Christian Association for Psychological Studies. Early Funds Benefit Suburban Villages

The Suburban Community Chest Council has distributed $565,000 to the 87 Community Chests and United Funds that form its membership, during the first quarter of 1966.

These funds, according to Louis E. Nelson, Council treasurer, represent support to the 56 Council members who joined the Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy as well as to others who declined for geographical or local reasons.

According to Nelson, funds distributed in the first quarter brings the total amounts for Palatine Community Combined Appeal to $720.70; Addison Community Chest to $8,050; Arlington Heights Community Chest to $5,250; Elk Grove Village United Fund to $5,838; Mount Prospect Combined Appeal to $10,063.50; and Streamwood Community Chest to $3,275 toward their goal for 1966 and constitute a minimum of 55 per cent of their current allocation.

"In addition," Nelson said, "a total of $46,156, representing designated 1965 contributions, was also forwarded to the 56 Metropolitan member communities. Additional Chests and Funds have indicated intention to join the metropolitan effort in this year's fall campaign, which may increase participation as much as 25 per cent."

The Prospect Heights Annual Appeal is one of five new applicants for membership in the Suburban Council.

The Suburban Community Chest Council is a service organization serving 87 suburban Community Chests and United Funds in a five county area surrounding Chicago. Offices are at 6804 Windsor Avenue, Berwyn.

Sheriff's Deputies Earn Commendation

Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie awarded a "unit" commendation April 12 to the men in the Investigations Section in Division 1 (Niles) of the Cook County Sheriff's Police, for their efforts in solving the slaying of 21 year old Suzanne Proeber of Palatine. Their investigation resulted in the arrest of William Murphy, a 20-year-old army corporal, who later confessed to the murder.

Sgt. Bernard Singer accepted the honor in behalf of his men. He also received three special commendations for his "professional" leadership of the division; one for the Proeber case; another for making arrests in a robbery-murder committed near Joplin, Mo., in January; and a third for apprehending a suspect in the March slaying of a 26-year-old mother in Leyden Township.

DETECTIVE Eugene F. Ecker of Mount Prospect was one of eight others who received commendations for their work on these cases.

A total of 301 arrests were made by the Cook County Police Department for the month of March. Of these, 146 were juveniles, the biggest percentage of whom were arrested for underage drinking and county curfew violation.

The breakdown also includes four arrests for robbery; 13 for burglary; seven for larceny; and 37 for aggravated and other assaults. There were two arrests for deceptive practices; one for possession of stolen property; nine for vandalism; two for carrying weapons; four for sex offenses; three for gambling; 22 for driving under the influence of liquor; 11 for violation of state liquor laws; and 15 for disorderly conduct.

One person was arrested for auto theft during March, and stolen cars valued at nearly $50,563 were recovered. The Sheriff's police also recovered auto accessories and other stolen items vaued at $2,000. In addition, they investigated a total of 301 accidents. (B10

Safety Expert Emphasizes Importance of Seat Belts

"I'm a housewife. I'm only going to drive three blocks to the shopping center. Must I bother with seat belts?"

"I'm a salesman. I'm in and out of my car all day. Is it worth all that trouble to hook and unhook a seat belt 10 or 20 times a day?"

You bet it is, according to Gordon Lindquist, director of safety and traffic engineering for the Chicago Motor Club. Appearing Monday, April 11, at the motor club's North Metropolitan Area Council's spring meeting at O'Hare Inn, Lindquist revealed startling statistics on the "second collision," or what happens when a person strikes the inside of his car a fraction of a second after an accident.

IN A DRAMATIC color-slide presentation based on a fatal auto accident study, Lindquist showed pictures of a simulated auto crash equivalent to a car hitting a barrier at nine miles an hour. In this example a dummy, not wearing a seat belt, struck and penetrated the windshield—at nine miles an hour.

At 18 miles an hour — far below the speeds most people drive, even to the shopping center—the unbelted dummy made knee and chest contact with the instrument panel, and in addition, its head went through the windshield.

The fatal auto accident study, a four-year project by two University of Michigan professors, revealed that "half of the victims that died would have lived through the accidents if they had remained in their seat through use of a restraining device," Lindquist said.

Ejection from the vehicle was the leading single cause of driver and passenger fatalities, the study indicated.

"But I'm a good driver. I don't need seat belts."

Lindquist said that in multiple car accidents investigated in the Michigan study, an innocent person in the other car died in one-third of the cases.

"I'm afraid of being trapped in my car and unable to get out in case of fire or submersion," is a common complaint about seat belts. Lindquist said that "less than one per cent of injury-producing accidents are of this type. Actually, a seat belt increases your chances of surviving even this occurrence, as it prevents you from being knocked unconscious and unable to leave the car yourself."

AUTO DESIGN safety and the safety of passengers and drivers within the car is a subject currently causing a great upheaval with the public, Lindquist stated, but as important as this is, "it is no panacea."

"Safer automobiles aren't the entire answer," he said. "In addition, to better and safer cars, we need better enforcement, better driver education, and better driver licensing procedures."

Haas Heads Harper College Board Again

Makeup of the William Rainey Harper College board (District 301) for the 1966 term remained unchanged after a meeting Thursday at which John Haas and Jesslyn Nicklas were renamed as board officers.

At the same meeting Paul O'Dea and Richard L. Johnson were sworn in for three-year terms on the board after an official tally of election returns. The two were unopposed in their bids for office in the April 9 elections.

Hass was re-elected for a one-year term as president of the board, and Mrs. Nicklas similarly was renamed secretary. However, the board discontinued the annual $100 paid to the secretary post as compensation.

OFFICIAL TALLY of votes showed O'Dea received 5,974 votes and Johnson received 6,135 votes. Write-in votes totalled 167.

In other organizational action, business manager James Perry was named treasurer of the college and Frank Hines was rehired as board attorney.

The board also agreed to meet a request from representatives of High School District 224 in Barrington that extensive consideration be given to the Barrington district's plans for annexation to District 301. Haas told representatives a letter will be sent to the State Junior College Board before April 22 acknowledging the board's willingness. Barrington petitions will be presented to the state board.

SPOKESMAN FOR the Barrington representatives, Walter Gillis, principal of Barrington High School, presented the board with reports of the district's economics and population.

District 214 is seeking annexation in order to avoid having its area chopped up among junior college districts. The northern part of the district is in Lake County which currently is attempting to form its own two-year college. A Barrington school citizens committee is asking that the district not be included in the Lake County college area. (B-10

Post-Mother's Day Special

Twenty special prizes will be awarded some lucky mother the day after Mother's Day, according to John Bowen, retail chairman for the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Cooperating merchants have come through with gifts for the mother who wins a West Coast trip, starting with a ukulele and ending with a going-away cake. The merchants promised a complete travel outfit for the winning mother, seven gift certificates, costume jewelry, a transistor radio, cosmetics and perfume. Other gifts include a flower arrangement, house slippers, corsage, candy and camera.

ALL MOTHERS are eligible for the grand award, a round-trip flight via American Airlines to San Francisco, two nights at the San Francisco Hilton, four tours in the city and $100 spending money.

The gifts will express the appreciation of the merchants for the year-round support on the part of the shoppers.

Anyone may register the name of his or her favorite mother. Such registration is encouraged each time a shopper visits any of the participating stores. All mothers are eligible for this award, providing they have become mothers prior to Sunday, May 9. Local travel agent, Wayne Griffin, has promised special attention for the winning mother in her selection of tours on the West Coast.

AMERICAN AIRLINES has promised first-class accommodations to the winning mother and her companion, both going and coming. All of the regularly scheduled Astro-jets are available, according to the wishes of the winner.

The special gifts for the winner from various merchants include: Arlington Bootery, gift certificate; Arlington Cake Box, going-away cake; Arlington Furniture Mart, gift certificate; Bowen Hardware, home flower arrangement (welcome home); Hagenbrings, $10 gift certificate; Harris Pharmacy, travel kit of cosmetics and perfume; Charles Klehm's Nursery, handy gadget knife with fingernail file; Landwehr's TV, small transistor radio; Lorraine Anne Shop, blouse; Marge's Apparel, $5 gift certificate.

Persin & Robbin, costume jewelry to match the outfit; Joseph J. Svoboda, gift certificate; Todd's Shoe Store, pair of house slippers; Roy Baumann Music, ukelele; Paddock Publications, corsage; Ma' Pa's Country Candy Kitchen, candy.

Webber Paint Store, gift certificate for something that is needed to complete her outfit; Norge Colonial Village, $5 cleaning certificate; Lisa's Draperies, gift certificate; Arlington Heights Camera, Fiesta camera outfit. (B-10

ON FIXING IT YOURSELF

by ED LANDWEHR

One of the most challenging TV servicing jobs that LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, ever received came from the home of a plumber. He apparently was fascinated by the maze of wires, tubes and so on, and gave in to the urge to fix it himself. Most of it was in a basket when he brought it in to our shop, and I know just how he felt.

I took an alarm clock apart one time, and that carburetor on my car had to be replaced after I 'fiddled' with it.

When you get these urges, hurry and phone LANDWEHR TV, at CLearbrook 5-0700. Just say 'emergency' and we'll rush right over. You can watch us service it.

"But I'm a good driver. I don't need seat belts."

Lindquist said that in multiple car accidents investigated in the Michigan study, an innocent person in the other car died in one-third of the cases.

"I'm afraid of being trapped in my car and unable to get out in case of fire or submersion," is a common complaint about seat belts. Lindquist said that "less than one per cent of injury-producing accidents are of this type. Actually, a seat belt increases your chances of surviving even this occurrence, as it prevents you from being knocked unconscious and unable to leave the car yourself."

AUTO DESIGN safety and the safety of passengers and drivers within the car is a subject currently causing a great upheaval with the public, Lindquist stated, but as important as this is, "it is no panacea."

"Safer automobiles aren't the entire answer," he said. "In addition, to better and safer cars, we need better enforcement, better driver education, and better driver licensing procedures."

Among those attending the luncheon meeting were: Royal S. Browne, Palatine Safety Council, Palatine; M. O. Horcher, Wheeling Police Chief; George L. Majoros, Elk Grove Village manager, and James Ruggio, Rolling Meadows police sergeant. (B10

MAYOR JOHN WOODS gets the first tickets for the upcoming Northwest Community Hospital players group, "Come Blow Your Horn," as play director Helen Bodelson smiles approvingly. Arlington Heights mayor has promised to be on hand for the event starting May 20 at Wheeling High School. The hospital will benefit from the box office.

Haas Heads Harper College Board Again

Makeup of the William Rainey Harper College board (District 301) for the 1966 term remained unchanged after a meeting Thursday at which John Haas and Jesslyn Nicklas were renamed as board officers.

At the same meeting Paul O'Dea and Richard L. Johnson were sworn in for three-year terms on the board after an official tally of election returns. The two were unopposed in their bids for office in the April 9 elections.

Hass was re-elected for a one-year term as president of the board, and Mrs. Nicklas similarly was renamed secretary. However, the board discontinued the annual $100 paid to the secretary post as compensation.

OFFICIAL TALLY of votes showed O'Dea received 5,974 votes and Johnson received 6,135 votes. Write-in votes totalled 167.

In other organizational action, business manager James Perry was named treasurer of the college and Frank Hines was rehired as board attorney.

The board also agreed to meet a request from representatives of High School District 224 in Barrington that extensive consideration be given to the Barrington district's plans for annexation to District 301. Haas told representatives a letter will be sent to the State Junior College Board before April 22 acknowledging the board's willingness. Barrington petitions will be presented to the state board.

SPOKESMAN FOR the Barrington representatives, Walter Gillis, principal of Barrington High School, presented the board with reports of the district's economics and population.

District 214 is seeking annexation in order to avoid having its area chopped up among junior college districts. The northern part of the district is in Lake County which currently is attempting to form its own two-year college. A Barrington school citizens committee is asking that the district not be included in the Lake County college area. (B-10

At National

Kathy Williams, 959 E. Baldwin, Palatine, was chairman of the Carnival committee at National College of Education, Evanston-Wilmette.

The "Bon Voyage" entrance suggested the approach to a ship and the "Welcome Home" streamers were at the exit door. College organizations sponsoring the carnival provided fun for the pupils of the NCE Children's School. (CC

Post-Mother's Day Special

Twenty special prizes will be awarded some lucky mother the day after Mother's Day, according to John Bowen, retail chairman for the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Cooperating merchants have come through with gifts for the mother who wins a West Coast trip, starting with a ukulele and ending with a going-away cake. The merchants promised a complete travel outfit for the winning mother, seven gift certificates, costume jewelry, a transistor radio, cosmetics and perfume. Other gifts include a flower arrangement, house slippers, corsage, candy and camera.

ALL MOTHERS are eligible for the grand award, a round-trip flight via American Airlines to San Francisco, two nights at the San Francisco Hilton, four tours in the city and $100 spending money.

The gifts will express the appreciation of the merchants for the year-round support on the part of the shoppers.

Anyone may register the name of his or her favorite mother. Such registration is encouraged each time a shopper visits any of the participating stores. All mothers are eligible for this award, providing they have become mothers prior to Sunday, May 9. Local travel agent, Wayne Griffin, has promised special attention for the winning mother in her selection of tours on the West Coast.

AMERICAN AIRLINES has promised first-class accommodations to the winning mother and her companion, both going and coming. All of the regularly scheduled Astro-jets are available, according to the wishes of the winner.

The special gifts for the winner from various merchants include: Arlington Bootery, gift certificate; Arlington Cake Box, going-away cake; Arlington Furniture Mart, gift certificate; Bowen Hardware, home flower arrangement (welcome home); Hagenbrings, $10 gift certificate; Harris Pharmacy, travel kit of cosmetics and perfume; Charles Klehm's Nursery, handy gadget knife with fingernail file; Landwehr's TV, small transistor radio; Lorraine Anne Shop, blouse; Marge's Apparel, $5 gift certificate.

Persin & Robbin, costume jewelry to match the outfit; Joseph J. Svoboda, gift certificate; Todd's Shoe Store, pair of house slippers; Roy Baumann Music, ukelele; Paddock Publications, corsage; Ma' Pa's Country Candy Kitchen, candy.

Webber Paint Store, gift certificate for something that is needed to complete her outfit; Norge Colonial Village, $5 cleaning certificate; Lisa's Draperies, gift certificate; Arlington Heights Camera, Fiesta camera outfit. (B-10

ON FIXING IT YOURSELF

by ED LANDWEHR

One of the most challenging TV servicing jobs that LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, ever received came from the home of a plumber. He apparently was fascinated by the maze of wires, tubes and so on, and gave in to the urge to fix it himself. Most of it was in a basket when he brought it in to our shop, and I know just how he felt.

I took an alarm clock apart one time, and that carburetor on my car had to be replaced after I 'fiddled' with it.

When you get these urges, hurry and phone LANDWEHR TV, at CLearbrook 5-0700. Just say 'emergency' and we'll rush right over. You can watch us service it.

Employers Asked to Plan for Summer Jobs

Area employers have been asked to plan now to fill their expected summer job openings-covering vacation replacements, new jobs, and special seasonal jobs that can be filled by high school and college students, and recent graduates.

Everett F. Callaway, manager of the Des Plaines office of the Illinois State Employment Service, said that high school and college students and prospective graduates are registering in large numbers at the Employment Office.

Callaway attributes the large number of job applicants to the steadily rising cost of a college education, the increasing expenses of high school, the desire of young people to save toward their future careers, and the opportunity for work experience these jobs offer.

EMPLOYERS MAY help the young people in their community by providing this job experience. At the same time, they also will be acquiring valuable employees for temporary or permanent work. Many of these young men and women have already had some work experience or training that will help increase their usefulness on the job, in service, office, or factory employment.

Jobs they may be able to fill include file clerks, cashiers, typists, retail salespersons, camp counselors, workers in food processing, manufacturing, warehousing, clean-up men, helpers for landscape gardeners, and office personnel.

Callaway warned employers not to permit themselves to get caught in midseason without an adequate labor supply.

"Plan now for the programs you will carry on this summer," he said, "by phoning us at 824-7191, or by dropping in at our office at 601 Lee St. in Des Plaines, and letting us know your job requirements. And, remember—there is never a fee to either the employer or applicant." (A-15

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

BUCKS AND DOES

New officers were elected a week ago Tuesday night at Bucks and Does' annual general meeting in the Arlington Heights VFW Hall.

Heading the club for the 1966-67 season will be Danny and Rena Hagen as presidents, Russ and Dorothy Benson, vice-presidents; Lennie and Marilyn Trost, treasurers; Herb and Bette Nicholi, secretaries. Paul "Foggy" Thompson was elected club caller.

He and his wife, Lorraine, are one of the most popular couples on the suburban square dance scene and club members joined their new officers in welcoming them to the fold.

After the business meeting there was dancing, of course, with various callers in the crowd taking turns at the mike. Hostesses Emily Rivard and Jean Brown prepared and served a buffet supper, drawing raves and thanks from the nearly 100 hungry Bucks and Does attending the meeting.

Top notch out-of-state callers are pegged for mike duty at the next two dances, Saturday, April 23 and the fifth Saturday, April 30. This Saturday will feature Wally Schultz of Janesville, Wis., and Don Chaffa will be in from Iowa the following week. Dances will be held, as always, in Dempster Junior High School, located on Dempster St., just west of Route 83. Carl and Marie Peterson will lead the rounds. Also as always is the 8 o'clock square-'em-up time and an open invitation to all square dance enthusiasts.

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

It was also election-of-officers time for the Hoffman Estates-Schaumburg club at the last dance when Frank and Florence Barnes were chosen as presidents. Other new officers are Ralph and Eve Golterman, vice-presidents; John and Theresa Gardner, secretaries; George and Ruth Billing, treasurers. Between casting ballots and losing the club banner to Art Gorski's Flying Squares, Plaids and Calicos awarded several Purple Heart badges because there were a number of callers in the crowd. Besides the thief chief Gorski, guest caller roster included Bob Belson and J. Pearson.

Pearson heads the Little Squares in Niles, one of the area clubs which recently welcomed Plaids and Calicos as visitors. Doubling as banner-snatchers early this month, a group of P & C's called at Niles on just the right night to get in on Pearson's birthday party. Coincidentally it was also the birthday of guest raider, Bert Burkes, and the host club not only gave up its banner but shared its birthday cake, too. That's real hospitality!

A late report from Plaids and Calicos carries the news that they retrieved their banner from the Flying Squares Saturday night and, hopefully it will still be home for tomorrow's dance. Everyone's invited to meet the new officers and check on the banner status as caller Bob Kim squares 'em up at 8:30 in Schaumburg School. Be there?

CIRCLE EIGHTS

Everyone's invited to try the Walt Mulqueen brand of square dancing Saturday night when Circle Eights get together in Hawthorne School, Scott and Wakeman Sts., Wheaton. Dancing, for beginners as well as the more experienced dancer, is from 8:30 to 11:30 with a coffee break tucked into the evening's schedule too. Complete information about the group is available via the Gordon McFarlands, 231-0635, or the Arnold Schnabels, 668-2024.

PALATINE SQUARES

Remember 'way back in February when we first mentioned the Palatiners' annual spring dance — and we said that seein' as how time flies you'd better get your tickets quick? Next Wednesday's the day — bet you still don't have the ducats!

Best chance to get yourself and partner set for Wednesday's spring special will be this Saturday night when the club has its regularly scheduled dance in Pleasant Hill School. Jim Stewart will square 'em up at 8:30, Dot and Jerry Daniels will lead the rounds between tips — and spring swing tickets will be available.

Wednesday's special will feature guest caller Wally Schultz of Janesville, Wis. co-starring with Jim Stewart and Jim Smith, and the rounders Jerry and Dot. Dancing starts at 8:30 in Fremd High School, 1000 S. Quentin Rd., Palatine. If you miss getting tickets Saturday night, buzz Lil Langerock, CL 3-7229.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

It will be Banner Night tomorrow for the Arlington Heights club, nearing the end of one of its most successful seasons, membership-wise as well as on the banner front. Displayed at the dance tomorrow night will be all of the banners snatched during the past four weeks — sort of a public reminder to retrievers that they have only the month of May in which to take action.

Everyone's invited to come see the impressive display — and to have fun dancing to the calls of Lenny Roos, squaring 'em up at 8:30 in St. Simon's Episcopal Church, 717 Kirchoff Rd., Arlington Heights. Jerry and Dot Daniels will have their usual round dance workshop at 7:30.

ADDED ATTRACTIONS

Square dancing can once again claim that it is a vibrant part of the all-American scene. It's been tagged to help celebrate an auto dealer's open house and to be part of an art exhibit — and how versatile can you get??

Lattof Motor Sales of Arlington Heights announces, "All square dancers are invited to participate Thursday, April 21, from 8 to 10:30 p.m., when callers Jim Stewart and Don Finfrock will conduct our square dance." From Arlington Squares comes the news that they have been asked to put on a 15-minute exhibition at 2 p.m., April 23 and 24, during the Pioneer Park art exhibit in Arlington Heights. Russ Lee will call for the Arlington Squares. (A-15

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Witnesses Operate Ministry School

"The school from which no one ever graduates' is a quick description of the Theocratic Ministry School operated by the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses at its Kingdom Hall at 239 E. Illinois, Palatine.

Each week students ranging in age from 10 to 70 prepare and deliver short sermons and instructional talks on Bible subjects. The course of study includes public speaking, Bible history, chronology, geography, biography, comparative religion, ministerial training and a verse-by-verse study of the Bible.

ROBERT WALKER, 111 W. Dundee Road, Arlington Heights, is the instructor for the school in the Palatine congregation. He assigns the material to individual Witnesses to prepare and counsels them after delivery, and conducts a written review of the material covered about once a month.

Each Witness grades his own papers and no records of the grades are kept, since school attendance and participation are purely voluntary and lifelong. There is no graduation from the school.

A model session of the Theocratic Ministry School will be the highlight of the Friday night, April 29, session of the "Make Disciples of People of All The Nation" Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held April 29 and 30 and May 1 at the Elgin Public High School, 4 S. Gifford St., Elgin.

Meets Tonight

The Des Plaines Valley Geological Society will hold its April meeting in the West Park Field House, 651 Wolf Road, Des Plaines, tonight (Thursday), at 8 p.m. A surprise program concerning some phase of earth science will be featured.

All persons interested in any phase of earth sciences or lapidary arts are invited to attend. Display tables of earth science subjects will be ready for viewing at 7:45 p.m. (ACM-E

May 2 and May 3 will be the last two opportunities for Wheeling Township voters to register locally before the June 14 primary elections.

Eligible voters should register in their municipality and those who live in unincorporated areas of Wheeling Township should register at the township clerk's office, 1818 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

The township clerk's office will be open for registrations on May 2 and May 3 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Village clerks' offices of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect will be open for registration from 7 to 9 p.m. on both dates in addition to their regular daytime hours.

The Wheeling village clerk will have no special night hours on May 2 but will be open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on May 3.

Voters may also register any weekday and Saturday mornings at the county clerk's office in Chicago, through May 16.

Record Delegation Expected for GOP Women's Conference

A record delegation of at least 150 Illinois Republican women is expected to represent the state at the 14th Annual Republican Women's Conference in Washington, D.C., May 4-7.

Heading the Illinois contingent in the registration drive are Mrs. Lucinda Wanner, vice-chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and Mrs. Virginia Macdonald of Arlington Heights, chairman of the Women's Division of the Cook County Republican Central Committee.

BOTH SAID they anticipate that Illinois will have one of the largest delegations at the conference.

Mrs. Mary Brooks, former Illinois Republican national committeewoman and the wife of the late Illinois Republican Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, has planned the program for the conference.

Mrs. Audrey Peak, present Republican National Committeewoman from Illinois, Republican National vice-chairmen, Mrs. Brooks, has arranged for a reduction in conference registration costs as compared with previous years.

"In keeping with the growing concern about run-away prices, we are looking forward to the workshop discussion on the 'Rising Cost of Living,' which is being led by Maurice H. Stans, former Budget Director under President Dwight D. Eisenhower."

OTHER FEATURED speakers include Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen, House minority leader Gerald Ford (Mich.), House minority whip Leslie Arends (Ill.), Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, Sen. Thurston Morton, Sen. George Murphy, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Sen. John Williams, former Sen. Barry Goldwater, Michigan Gov. George Romney and Colorado Gov. John A. Love.

Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. Wanner said registrations are still being accepted and may be arranged by calling 332-5555.

Witnesses Operate Ministry School

"The school from which no one ever graduates' is a quick description of the Theocratic Ministry School operated by the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses at its Kingdom Hall at 239 E. Illinois, Palatine.

Each week students ranging in age from 10 to 70 prepare and deliver short sermons and instructional talks on Bible subjects. The course of study includes public speaking, Bible history, chronology, geography, biography, comparative religion, ministerial training and a verse-by-verse study of the Bible.

ROBERT WALKER, 111 W. Dundee Road, Arlington Heights, is the instructor for the school in the Palatine congregation. He assigns the material to individual Witnesses to prepare and counsels them after delivery, and conducts a written review of the material covered about once a month.

Each Witness grades his own papers and no records of the grades are kept, since school attendance and participation are purely voluntary and lifelong. There is no graduation from the school.

A model session of the Theocratic Ministry School will be the highlight of the Friday night, April 29, session of the "Make Disciples of People of All The Nation" Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held April 29 and 30 and May 1 at the Elgin Public High School, 4 S. Gifford St., Elgin.

Meets Tonight

The Des Plaines Valley Geological Society will hold its April meeting in the West Park Field House, 651 Wolf Road, Des Plaines, tonight (Thursday), at 8 p.m. A surprise program concerning some phase of earth science will be featured.

All persons interested in any phase of earth sciences or lapidary arts are invited to attend. Display tables of earth science subjects will be ready for viewing at 7:45 p.m. (ACM-E

Action on Driver Licenses Told by Secretary of State

Ten area drivers have had their licenses revoked for driving while intoxicated, according to the latest report issued by the office of Secretary of State Paul Powell.

In Cook County they include Mr. Merle Martin of 19 Seegar Road, and Walter Orzolek of 306 Palatine Road—all of Arlington Heights; George L. Harris of 1672 Evergreen, Hanover Park; Donald C. Anderson of 455 Shady Lane, Palatine; James V. Center of 121 Streamwood Blvd., Streamwood; and Peter F. Fotheringham of 934 Beverly, Willy C. Necker of Rt. 45, Box 18, and Nick Stosen of 869 Jenkins Court, Wheeling. In DuPage County the license of Jerry W. Kotwicki, 17W352 Gladys, Addison, was revoked.

Also in Cook County, the license of Eugene C. Lowe, 515 N. Maine, Mount Prospect, was revoked for three violations, and that of Dennis G. Wessel, 730 E. Baldwin Drive, Palatine, for permitting fraudulent use of license.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS residents listed as suspended for three violations were Raymond L. Feddersen, 1522 W. Oakton; Beulah B. Martin, 1034 Algonquin Road; George W. Poplawski, 1118 S. Highland; John C. Davis, 158 Thunderbird, Carol Stream; and Ray V. Stachurski, 316 N. Maple, Itasca.

Probationary permits were issued to Rocco C. Miraglia, 481 Addison Road, Addison; James J. Ingebrigtsen, 1131 David Drive, and Marion E. Staack, 202 S. Center, of Bensenville; and Charles J. Zahara, 139 N. Circle, Bloomingdale.

The revocation of the license of William T. Bennison, 433 Mill Valley Road, Palatine, was rescinded following receipt of information from the Circuit Court of South Beloit that previous report of a guilty finding on a charge of driving while intoxicated was in error. (A15

600 Youth Volunteer Jobs Available with Red Cross

Six hundred "job" openings for youths in the Red Cross 1966 summer hospital volunteer program are now available. The pay? None. The work? Satisfying, pleasurable, memorable. The hours? From 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. one day a week or two half days a week.

The location? Veterans Administration Hospital, Hines, Ill.; Veterans Administration Research Hospital, 333 E. Huron, Chicago; Veterans Administration West Side Hospital. 820 S. Damen, Chicago; Cook County Hospital, 1835 W. Harrison, Chicago, and Veterans Administration Hospital, Downey, Ill.

Well, if there's no pay, what's in it for me? the teens asked. A chance to do something satisfying while getting a look into medical and allied professions, answered Mrs. William Marston, chairman of the Red Cross program. The students will work beside doctors, nurses, hospital administrators and other professional workers.

MRS. MARSTON said the hospitals welcome the young volunteers because they take some of the workload off doctors and nurses, and their energy and enthusiasm is a real morale boost in the wards.

The young volunteers will be assigned to work with children, help out in physical therapy clinics, distribute mail and answer phones, handle routine lab tests and keep records. Other students will be able to perform clerical, secretarial and library duties in the hospital.

Students accepted for the program will attend a Red Cross orientation, wear a volunteer's uniform (jackets for boys; jumper, blouse and cap for girls) and work in the hospitals under the supervision of Red Cross and hospital professional staff.

Some of the jobs available are laboratory service, radiology, escort service, dietetics, ward receptionist, library service, personnel and out-patient clinic.

Mrs. Marston said every student is given a chance to choose what they'd like to do. Work assignments are made as close as possible to their choices and on a first come, first considered basis.

STUDENTS MUST furnish their own transportation to and from the volunteer jobs. All of the hospitals are convenient to public transportation and have free parking facilities.

Interested youths who are at least 16 years old as of July 1, 1966 and who are currently enrolled in high school or college can apply for a volunteer position by calling the nearest Red Cross office in Aurora (TW 7-8436), Chicago (467-5800), Evanston (UN 4-9000), Harvey (ED 1-1075), Joliet (SA 3-3494), Oak Park (VI 8-2700), Waukegan (ON 2-4044) or Wheaton (MO 5-2346) for an application and fact sheet.

The summer youth program is one of the many Red Cross activities made possible by public donations of money and time.

Independence Is New Party Label

"Indeptndence" has been chosen as a party name by the Illinois Congress of Conservatives.

The group is sponsoring Gerald A. Moe of Buffalo Grove, for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), and sought by Charles H. Percy on the Republican ticket.

The other candidates making up the party roster, are: Thomas DeMik, South Holland, seeking the state treasurer's post; Donald W. Lierle, Quincy, hoping to gain election next November to the state superintendent of public instruction post:

And Lester Brossard, Crystal Lake; Robert Katz, LaGrange Park, and Charles J. Myers, Elmhurst, for University of Illinois trustees.

The party said, however, that the other candidates will merely be completing the party slate and will not actively be seeking the posts. State law requires that a party field a full slate of candidates in order to be a party.

Moe resigned his position as division chief engineer of Bell & Howell Co., to run against Douglas and Percy. (B-10

The revocation of the license of William T. Bennison, 433 Mill Valley Road, Palatine, was rescinded following receipt of information from the Circuit Court of South Beloit that previous report of a guilty finding on a charge of driving while intoxicated was in error. (A15

600 Youth Volunteer Jobs Available with Red Cross

Six hundred "job" openings for youths in the Red Cross 1966 summer hospital volunteer program are now available. The pay? None. The work? Satisfying, pleasurable, memorable. The hours? From 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. one day a week or two half days a week.

The location? Veterans Administration Hospital, Hines, Ill.; Veterans Administration Research Hospital, 333 E. Huron, Chicago; Veterans Administration West Side Hospital. 820 S. Damen, Chicago; Cook County Hospital, 1835 W. Harrison, Chicago, and Veterans Administration Hospital, Downey, Ill.

Well, if there's no pay, what's in it for me? the teens asked. A chance to do something satisfying while getting a look into medical and allied professions, answered Mrs. William Marston, chairman of the Red Cross program. The students will work beside doctors, nurses, hospital administrators and other professional workers.

MRS. MARSTON said the hospitals welcome the young volunteers because they take some of the workload off doctors and nurses, and their energy and enthusiasm is a real morale boost in the wards.

The young volunteers will be assigned to work with children, help out in physical therapy clinics, distribute mail and answer phones, handle routine lab tests and keep records. Other students will be able to perform clerical, secretarial and library duties in the hospital.

Students accepted for the program will attend a Red Cross orientation, wear a volunteer's uniform (jackets for boys; jumper, blouse and cap for girls) and work in the hospitals under the supervision of Red Cross and hospital professional staff.

Some of the jobs available are laboratory service, radiology, escort service, dietetics, ward receptionist, library service, personnel and out-patient clinic.

Mrs. Marston said every student is given a chance to choose what they'd like to do. Work assignments are made as close as possible to their choices and on a first come, first considered basis.

STUDENTS MUST furnish their own transportation to and from the volunteer jobs. All of the hospitals are convenient to public transportation and have free parking facilities.

Interested youths who are at least 16 years old as of July 1, 1966 and who are currently enrolled in high school or college can apply for a volunteer position by calling the nearest Red Cross office in Aurora (TW 7-8436), Chicago (467-5800), Evanston (UN 4-9000), Harvey (ED 1-1075), Joliet (SA 3-3494), Oak Park (VI 8-2700), Waukegan (ON 2-4044) or Wheaton (MO 5-2346) for an application and fact sheet.

The summer youth program is one of the many Red Cross activities made possible by public donations of money and time.

Independence Is New Party Label

"Indeptndence" has been chosen as a party name by the Illinois Congress of Conservatives.

The group is sponsoring Gerald A. Moe of Buffalo Grove, for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), and sought by Charles H. Percy on the Republican ticket.

The other candidates making up the party roster, are: Thomas DeMik, South Holland, seeking the state treasurer's post; Donald W. Lierle, Quincy, hoping to gain election next November to the state superintendent of public instruction post:

And Lester Brossard, Crystal Lake; Robert Katz, LaGrange Park, and Charles J. Myers, Elmhurst, for University of Illinois trustees.

The party said, however, that the other candidates will merely be completing the party slate and will not actively be seeking the posts. State law requires that a party field a full slate of candidates in order to be a party.

Moe resigned his position as division chief engineer of Bell & Howell Co., to run against Douglas and Percy. (B-10

State PTA Congress Set To Consider Revenue Bill

Will the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers support—or oppose—the Blue Ballot constitutional amendment to revise Illinois' revenue article?

That is the key question for the 150-some area delegates representing northwest suburban Parent-Teacher Associations at the convention which opened today at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

The real indicator of the northwest suburban delegates' feeling will come at tonight's District 37 caucus for all representatives of PTA's in Wheeling, Elk Grove, Schaumburg and Palatine Townships.

ACTION ON THE Revenue Amendment question is not likely until late Friday evening, and is expected to come from the floor as a motion to implement the present ICPT stand favoring a state income tax.

If last month's mock convention is any indicator, most delegates from northwest suburban District 37 will vote to oppose ICPT support of the Revenue Article.

A motion to support the Revenue Amendment approval was defeated overwhelmingly March 28 at a mock convention staged to give convention delegates a chance to try out parliamentary maneuvers.

And — to many legislative chairmen's surprise — the mock convention also approved a non-recommended change in the ICPT legislation platform that would strike out the entire state income tax statement from the platform section relating to state revenue needs.

BUT MOCK convention actions are only an indicator, and since then supporters of the Revenue Article such as Schaumburg Principal William Urbanek have been working hard to increase PTA support for the amendment.

Urbanek, legislative chairman for the Schaumburg PTA Council, and Stanley John, legislative chairman for the Arlington Heights PTA Council, both are also active in legislative matters for the Illinois Education Association. The IEA participated in compromises which made the Blue Ballot amendment possible and now is supporting its approval.

Some 25 of the 150-some District 37 delegates are administrators or teachers, generally members of the IEA, and will be influential in any efforts to secure ICPT support, too, for the Revenue Amendment.

WITH GROUPS lining up on both sides to support or oppose the amendment, the ICPT action will be closely watched.

To secure approval in November, the Blue Ballot amendment must receive "yes" votes from two-thirds of those voting on the measure itself or a majority of the total voter turnout at the election.

The Revenue amendment provides for classification of personal property, for classification of real property in Cook County only, creates sales tax to replace the present retailers occupation tax, and provides levy of a flat rate income tax of three to six per cent.

If the income tax is approved, the personal property tax must be abolished and not less than one per cent of the income tax take rebated to local taxing bodies to replace the personal property revenues lost.

PTA Board: No Revenue Policy

The state PTA board of managers is not expected to make any recommendation regarding Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers action on the Revenue Article.

The "Illinois Parent-Teacher" magazine in February carried a report from Mrs. Barry Norton of Chicago, state legislative chairman, stating that the board did not "care to" make a recommendation. She said the board felt it lacked member direction on too many provisions of the Article.

A number of board of managers approved and non-approved changes in the legislation platform will be acted upon by delegates. Among the recommended changes is a proposal to put the ICPT on record as favoring support of preventive measures in the area of juvenile delinquency.

Such an addition would make it possible for the state PTA group to support increased appropriations for the Community Services Division of the Illinois Youth Commission.

Town Schools Treasurer Gets $4,000 Salary Hike

A fat $4,000 salary increase—from $5,000 to $9,000 annually—was voted E. C. McAuliff, Wheeling Township treasurer of schools, at Monday night's semi-annual meeting of the Wheeling Township school treasurers.

Trustees Gust Stavros, Henry Vallely and Dr. Chester Cole heard McAuliff cite a $3,785 saving in the treasurer's office operations between 1964 and 1966.

They promptly reappointed McAuliff for a two-year term—and wiped out the saving in voting the salary increase.

AN EVEN higher salary—of $10,000, for a 100 per cent increase—was urged by Stavros before the $9,000 figure was agreed to.

The trustees, whose authority to hold title to school lands and disburse school monies stems from the 1785 Northwest Territory ordinance, met in McAuliff's second-floor office at 16 W. Northwest Highway, Mount Prospect.

As part of their evening's work they approved four land transactions—transfer of land to a park district, an agreement for park district lease of school property, dedication of land for two streets and a request for Arlington Heights annexation of a school site. All action was at the request of effected school districts.

The meeting started late, the call to order put off because of Stavros' delayed arrival. Cole and Vallely, who constitute a quorum, agreed to start the meeting at 8:20 p.m. and soon after the third trustee came up the steep front stairs.

McAULIFF, IN a report to the scholl trustees, cited two major accomplishments during his past two years as treasurer:

—Investment income from school district funds received and disbursed by law through his office has increased $178,716 over the investment earnings in 1964, the year McAuliff was appointed.

—Operations of the treasurer's office have been modernized by purchase of a check writing machine and use of data processing equipment to provide up-to-the-minute reports on expenditures, and unused budget amounts, for each fund of each school district. The first accordion-pleated report by data processing was delivered to River Trails School District 26 by McAuliff on Monday.

Past township school treasurers resisted the suggestion that a check-writing machine be purchased though they complained about the laborious task of hand-preparing the 4,000-some checks handled annually at that time.

AT MONDAY evening's meeting McAuliff displayed the check writing machine and carefully explained how it could be operated only by operation of a double set of locks. A reconditioned machine, it cost $702, he said.

He said that the number of processed checks, issued by the treasurer's office on each school district's funds and at their direction, has risen to 6,000 annually.

This is still, he said, a minor part of the treasurer's work. He cited as predominant importance the investment of school tax receipts and building bond monies.

School funds are invested, McAuliff said, in bank certificates of deposit or U.S. treasury notes. To facilitate purchase of the Treasury notes, without an additional handling fee, some of the treasurers's deposits are made in Chicago banks.

Other school monies are deposited in township banks—Arlington Heights National, the Bank of Arlington Heights, First National Bank of Mount Prospect, Mount Prospect State Bank and Wheeling Trust and Savings.

When McAuliff came into office, District 26 funds were kept at the Bensenville State Bank and District 23 funds at the Roselle State Bank. Neither bank is in the township—or even in Cook County.

TO MAKE IT more convenient for deposits to be made, new accounts were opened for the two school districts locally. Now only small amounts, just enough to cover outstanding checks, remain on deposit at the two out-of-county banks.

McAuliff said timing of Treasury investments "so as to hit the next high interest rate" has "really paid off" in investment return to school districts.

Cost of the treasurer's office, retained in Cook though it has been abolished in the other 101 Illinois counties, is carried by the six school districts in the township. Operation of the office for 1965-66 will cost $16,776.

In other Illinois counties school districts may choose their own treasurers. The result is lower costs—an average salary of under $500 for DuPage County's school treasurers compared to the average $16,000 cost of the Wheeling township operation. (ACM

Unannounced Meetings Told

The public learned Monday—when the minutes were read—that Wheeling Township school trustees held four unannounced, special meetings in the past six months.

On Nov. 19 trustees Henry Vallely and Dr. Chester Cole met in the office of the treasurer, E. C. McAuliff, to approve a $210,000 surety bond provided by American Motorists Insurance Co. on the treasurer.

On Nov. 22 Cole, Vallely and the third trustee, Gerald Moe, met to approve dedication of Wheeling elementary School District 21 land for use as a roadway.

ON JANUARY 29 at a 2 p.m. meeting all three trustees were present when another surety bond, covering an Arlington Heights elementary District 25 bond issue, was approved. Notice of the meeting was given to trustees more than 48 hours in advance, the minutes noted.

On March 21 Cole and Vallely met to consider Moe's resignation because of his candidacy as U. S. Senator. They accepted his resignation letter, dated March 18, and appointed Gust Stavros, of rural Wheeling, to fill the vacancy.

Acting on District 25's request trustees also approved dedication of a land for a street right-of-way.

State statutes require two semi-annual meetings of the school trustees, in April and October.

The April meeting was to have taken place on the 4th, but was postponed until Monday at the trustees' request.

More Precinct Captains Join Novotny Organization

H. F. "Pete" Bunnelle, campaign manager for Thomas W. Novotny, candidate for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman, has announced the appointment of area chairmen for Novotny's precinct captain organization. The next committeeman will be elected at the June 14 primary election.

The area chairmen are Floyd V. Steinman, who will be resnsible for Wheeling dopan sponsible for Wheeling and Buffalo Grove; Wayland L. Buchholz, who will be responsible for Prospect Heights where he is building a home; Donald W. Goodman, Mount Prospect; William L. Griffin, northwest Arlington Heights; Albert J .Miller, south Arlington; Eugene R. Ischinger, northeast Arlington.

AT THE SAME time, Bunnelle said he noted "the significance of the fact that five of the nine area chairmen in the last general election are involved in Novotny's campaign. They are Novotny himself, Thomas H. Hanlon, Miller, Goodman and Steinman. Two of the others have not, to our knowledge, made a commitment to either candidate, and a third is Novotny's opponent."

Bunnelle said their support "speaks well for Novotny."

Steinman is a former president of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club and was an area chairman from 1962 to 1965. He resides at 271 E. Norman Lane in Wheeling.

Wayland L. Buchholz, 95 E. Meadowbrook, Wheeling is president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop and treasurer of the Regular Republican Club. Bunnelle said Buchholz was placed on leave of absence as captain of Precinct 30 because of his support of Novotny.

Donald W. Goodman, Republican area chairman "also on leave of absence for endorsing Novotny," has accepted the assignment of campaign activities in Mount Prospect. He is a director of the Regular Republican Club.

Griffin, 1521 W. Oakton St., Arlington, will be in charge of the northwest area and will have the additional responsibility of coordinating any specific programs for the village.

GRIFFIN, WHO was elected a delegate to the Nebraska state Republican convention at the age of 21, has been active in scouting and is presently assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 135.

Miller, 501 S. Patton Ave., was a Republican area chairman from 1962 to 1965 and is also on leave of absence as captain of precinct 41. He is a former president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop and is education chairman of the local Regular Republican Club.

Ischinger, 618 N. Wilshire Drive, was formerly captain of Precinct 21, which was recently split to make Precinct 60.

Women's chairmen previously announced by Mrs. Franklin Friday, chairman of Republican Women for Novotny, include Mrs. Harry J. Jenkins, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Earle J. Miller, Mount Prospect; and Mrs. Ernest Stephan, Wheeling. Mrs. Friday has also announced the appointment of Mrs. Donald R. Roberts, 1703 Woodview, Prospect Heights, as women's chairman for that area. (ACM

Schlickman, Novotny To Share Platform

The two candidates for GOP committeeman of Wheeling Township will speak from the same platform for the first time in the campaign on May 19, at a meeting of the township's Regular Republican Club.

A release from Robert A. Cagann, program chairman of the club, indicated both candidates, Thomas W. Novotny and Eugene F. Schlickman, would appear. But there was disagreement over what happened at the club's board meeting where the program was arranged.

CAGANN'S release said, Richard Cowen, campaign manager for Eugene F. Schlickman in his dual races for election as township committeeman and state representative, vigorously protested the May 19 candidates night to the board of the Regular Club. Cowen cited 'campaign implications' since Thomas W. Novotny, president of the club, is a candidate against Schlickman for the committeeman's post. The club board approved the May program without dissent."

Contacted Monday, Cowen said he appeared as township deputy committeeman and not as a spokesman for Schlickman. He said he protested the timing of the event "coming only a week before the candidates night previously scheduled by the Regular Republican Organization." Cowen said the club's program is "apparently an effort to compete" with the organization's program, but added, "It is certainly their right to have a candidates night if they want to."

Novotny has charged several times that Schlickman has refused to appear on the same platform with him. Schlickman denied Monday that his acceptance of the invitation was a change in course. Schlickman said he has not refused any forman invitations but he had declared an informal approach for a debate on the grounds it would be "entertaining but not educational."

THE CLUB'S secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Grogan, said the three Republican senatorial and five state representative candidates all have agreed to appear. Each candidate will make a five-minute presentation.

Oh yes. The club's board also scheduled a June 23 "get well' party proposed by Novotny. Format for the party is that the winning committeeman candidate in the June 14 contest will be "special guest of honor."

Prospect Foyer Bids Near Estimated Cost

Prospect High fans and the rest of the high school district's hard-pressed taxpayers can share a sigh of relief over Tuesday's 4 p.m. bid opening.

The low bid was almost exactly what had been estimated as cost of construction of the long-awaited Prospect High fieldhouse foyer and included an on-site maintenance building.

Low bidder was Arlington Heights contractor John Lindstrom, with a base bid $229,983. Next lowest was F & J Vesecky Co., with a base bid of $244,618.

Berger Kelley Unteed and Associates, architects for High School District 214, had estimated $227,000 as the cost of the jointly-bid project.

THE ON-THE-DOT bids were in sharp contract to last week's Arlington Heights elementary District 25 bid opening. There bids for remodeling of South Junior High School ran substantially above architects' estimates.

District 214 board members will be asked to consider the Prospect bids at next Monday's 7:30 p.m. board meeting in the Administration Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

Architects representatives will also go over a proposed improvement of physical education facilities at Arlington High, possibly to suggest ways the project can be done in steps or the cost reduced.

An executive session is scheduled for discussion of the 1966-67 salary of Dr. Edward H. Gilbert, assistant superintendent who will take over the district's top administrative post when Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer retires.

SLICHENMYER will not attend the Monday session. He and 1965-66 board president Arthur Aronson will be in Minneapolis, Minn., to attend the National Association of School Boards convention.

The board will hear a report on the area's sole high school class for perceptually handicapped children. Giving the presentation will be Edward G. Whitcombe, Wheeling High School teacher who is in charge of the special education program.

Also on the agenda will be the appointment of a steering committee, including both school people and lay citizens, to study ways of replacing or supplementing the district's federally - financed Neighborhood Youth Corps work-study program. (ACME

Seek Luehring Replacement

The Wheeling Township Board of Auditors will interview candidates to fill the unexpired term of Wheeling Township Road Commissioner William W. Leuhring.

Interviews will be held at the town hall, 1818 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, April 30 and May 7.

The vacancy was created by the April 10 death of Mr. Luehring. There are three years remaining in his term. He was elected to the office in April, 1965. (ACM

Golf Classes to Be Offered in Spring

Golf lessons will be offered again this spring at Rob Roy Practice Fairway by the Adult Education Department of High School District 214.

Classes will start at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 3, or Thursday, May 5. The lessons will be held once a week for six sessions.

Both beginners and experienced golfers will receive instruction from golf pros on an outdoor driving range. Covered will be stance improvement, swing, putting and proper grip. Students will use their own clubs but golf balls will be furnished.

ABOUT 100 golfers took the course last year, according to W. L. (Pat) Randle, director of adult education. He expects a similar enrollment this year.

Heading up the instruction team will be Pat McDonald, golf pro at Rob Roy Country Club.

Fee for the six-session course will be $8.50 plus a $1.00 registration fee. Interested persons may receive more information by calling Randle at CL 3-1700.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS THURS., APR. 21, 1966

Forest View News

Kathryn M. Baardsen, president of the Forest View Elementary Parent's Club, was hostess to board members on Friday afternoon, where the nominating committee reported the following: Ro Morey for president; Arlene Lowe, vice president; Maureen Long, secretary; Juanita Andronaco, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Waller Smith, Chesterfield Drive, celebrated their 29th wedding anniversary with friends at Plentywood Farm in Bensenville Saturday evening, later returning home with their guests.

Mrs. Thomas Wright, who will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Smith, and Miss Catherine Williams, both of Alexandria, Va. arrived in time to help the Smiths celebrate.

Sunday the Kenneth P. Kazmars, Lonnquist Boulevard, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hart of Pendelton, Ore., dined at the Ivanhoe Restaurant in Chicago.

ON EASTER, Kenneth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kazmar of Chicago, and Paul Kazmar, home from Jamestown College in Jamestown, N. D., joined Kenny, Gloria and the Harts for dinner.

Sunday evening the Kazmars and Harts were in Chicago to see the "Sound of Music."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Englehardt, West Algonquin Road, went to see "Hello, Dolly" and had dinner at Trader Vic's with friends on Monday evening.

Dawn Davis, Busse Road, spent Easter vacation in Battle Creek, with her great-grandmother. After Easter sunrise services, she went to her grandmother's farm for Easter dinner with aunts, uncles and cousins from Wisconsin.

Birthday greetings go to Louis Vercelli, Jean Gooss, Steven Gozdecki, LeRoy Kloske, Barbara Neitzel, Evan Wehunt, Alice Granath, Edward Smalenberger, John Kloske, Patricia Trznadel, Greg Hilgeman and Jimmy Skoufas.

Happy anniversary wishes this week go to the Dave Andersons, Edward Smalenbergers, Harry Dahls and the LeRoy Kloskes.

COLONIAL HEIGHTS

Friday evening guest of the junior Carl Baardsens, Estates Drive, was Kathie's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Nystrom of Chicago. Saturday Karen Sue, Carlene Sue and Kristen Sue were guests of Mrs. Kenneth Kazmar for luncheon.

Work became fun on Sunday, when the Baardsen family spent the afternoon at Wonder Lake helping the Karl Nystroms get their cottage ready for summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Mendenhall and Jane Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schlatter and Ronnie, all of Robbie Lane, had Easter dinner at Plentywood Farm in Bensenville.

The Al Morey family, Kim Avenue, spent Easter vacation traveling in Kentucky and Indiana. Besides general sightseeing excursions, the trip was highlighted by reunions with a grade school chum, Lee Brown, at Ft. Knox and a college friend, Edie Stubbs in Indianapolis.

August Neitzel Sr. of Martha Lane has returned from a four-month vacation in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He returned in time to help August Jr. celebrate his birthday April 1.

THE NEITZELS entertained the Paul Bastian family of Chicago on Saturday evening for supper. On Sunday, the Neitzels visited the Ed Mikan family in Lockport, Mrs. Neitzel's sister and family, for a confirmation party.

The Ed Wuchterls, Kim Avenue, and the H. Dairmonts of Des Plaines had Saturday dinner at the Evergreens in Dundee and cocktails at Mangam's on Beverly Lake. The Wuchterls' Sunday evening guests were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll of Chicago.

Get well wishes go to Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Estates Drive, who is home with chicken pox.

MR. AND MRS. Dave Anderson, Kim Avenue, attended the wedding reception Saturday of Carol Ann Dziedzic to Kenneth Templin at the Fountain Room of the Chateau Bri-sche in Oak Lawn. Virginia's nephew, Tony Czarnik, was ringbearer.

The Walter Frederick family, Estates Drive, visited both parents in Chicago on Easter, going to the Richard Swiech home for a traditional Polish dinner, then to the John Fredericks' for supper.

LAKE BRIARWOOD

Georgia and Dick Osner and son, Tim, Briarwood Drive, East, have returned from a week's vacation in St. Louis, Mo., where they visited Dick's father and friends. Dick went on to Des Moines, on business, while Georgia and Tim went sightseeing at the new Planetarium in Forest Park.

The Larry DiLucchio family, Briarwood Drive, West, went to Pittsburgh to visit friends and relatives during Easter week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lord and son, Derrick, Briarwood Drive, East, and Mrs. Lord's mother, Mrs. Lucy Buxton from Iowa, drove to Florida. They visited Mrs. Kipper Jr. at Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flemmings in Cocoa Beach, drove on to Miami, took a boat trip through the Everglades and then up to Tampa to visit Miss Ara Thomas and Mrs. Walter Ray Jr. There they saw the tornado damage, arriving home on Easter Monday.

THE WILLIAM Casteel family and Robert Bender family, all of Briarwood Drive, East, have returned from a 10-day vacation. They flew to Florida for Easter week, staying at Siesta Key.

The Casteels visited the Ringling Mansion and Art Museum and the Cars of Yesterday in Sarasota. Sarasota was also celebrating Neptune Week, so they saw the parade and a performance by the Blue Angels.

The families dined out several times, at Buccaneer Inn at Longboat Key, Landmark Hotel at Lido Beach and at the Whispering Sands on Siesta Key.

The Benders also went to the last White Sox game of spring training and saw the Sox beat the Kansas City A's. The children collected autographs from several of the players.

One day was spent fishing and the children and their dads stopped counting after 38. Meanwhile, Mrs. Casteel and Mrs. Bender went shopping at St. Armands Key. They also visited some retirement homes on Bird Key.

HIGHLIGHTS OF the trip according to the Bender girls, was staying in the apartment next to White Sox catcher, John Romano, and meeting the Roy Duffy family of Des Plaines at Longboat Key. Kathy Duffy and Kim Bender are classmates at Forest View High School.

Both families won't forget making a couple of wrong turns off of a nine-mile bridge on the way to the airport, therefore traveling over Tampa Bay three times instead of the usual once and getting to the airport just in time to get on the homeward bound plane.

ELK RIDGE VILLA

On Wednesday, Patti Freko, Fern Drive, had a fourth birthday party for Joanne Kurtz, Scott Thomas, Linda and Diane Steger, Frank Tomazewski, Lori Wilkins, Paul Hyle, Eddie Wysocki and her sisters, Debbie, Kathy and Judy, and brother, Jim.

The Reinhardt Steinbart family, Palm Drive, celebrated Raymond's 10th birthday on Easter, by going to Pistakee Highlands to the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Vrbik, for a birthday dinner. Other guests included his grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Vrbik of Chicago, who had been a houseguest of the Steinbarts for a week.

On April 17, the family took Raymond to the Aunt Jemina's at O'Hare Inn. (AME

Kindergarten Registration Set for May 4

Registration for kindergarten children in the Prospect Heights Elementary District 23 will take place on May 4. Children are eligible to attend kindergarten next fall if they are 5 years old by Dec. 1. Parents should take the child's birth certificate to the registration place to verify the age.

Registration will be at Betsy Ross School, 700 N. Schoenbeck Road, from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. Residents with a question about school district boundaries should call Cl 9-4550. (ACM

Charge Youth With Auto Theft

A 17-year-old Mount Prospect youth was arrested by Arlington Heights police and charged with stealing a car Sunday from 416 W. Wing St., Arlington Heights.

He was apprehended Sunday evening by North Chicago police who said they caught him trying to enter a filling station window. They said he admitted stealing the car and driving it into a ditch along Route 41.

The youth was released to his parents on $1,000 bond and his case was continued in the Arlington Heights branch of the Circuit Court until June 20.

Town Schools Treasurer Gets $4,000 Salary Hike

A fat $4,000 salary increase—from $5,000 to $9,000 annually—was voted E. C. McAuliff, Wheeling Township treasurer of schools, at Monday night's semi-annual meeting of the Wheeling Township school treasurers.

Trustees Gust Stavros, Henry Vallely and Dr. Chester Cole heard McAuliff cite a $3,785 saving in the treasurer's office operations between 1964 and 1966.

They promptly reappointed McAuliff for a two-year term—and wiped out the saving in voting the salary increase.

AN EVEN higher salary—of $10,000, for a 100 per cent increase—was urged by Stavros before the $9,000 figure was agreed to.

The trustees, whose authority to hold title to school lands and disburse school monies stems from the 1785 Northwest Territory ordinance, met in McAuliff's second-floor office at 16 W. Northwest Highway, Mount Prospect.

As part of their evening's work they approved four land transactions—transfer of land to a park district, an agreement for park district lease of school property, dedication of land for two streets and a request for Arlington Heights annexation of a school site. All action was at the request of effected school districts.

The meeting started late, the call to order put off because of Stavros' delayed arrival. Cole and Vallely, who constitute a quorum, agreed to start the meeting at 8:20 p.m. and soon after the third trustee came up the steep front stairs.

McAULIFF, IN a report to the scholl trustees, cited two major accomplishments during his past two years as treasurer:

—Investment income from school district funds received and disbursed by law through his office has increased $178,716 over the investment earnings in 1964, the year McAuliff was appointed.

—Operations of the treasurer's office have been modernized by purchase of a check writing machine and use of data processing equipment to provide up-to-the-minute reports on expenditures, and unused budget amounts, for each fund of each school district. The first accordion-pleated report by data processing was delivered to River Trails School District 26 by McAuliff on Monday.

Past township school treasurers resisted the suggestion that a check-writing machine be purchased though they complained about the laborious task of hand-preparing the 4,000-some checks handled annually at that time.

AT MONDAY evening's meeting McAuliff displayed the check writing machine and carefully explained how it could be operated only by operation of a double set of locks. A reconditioned machine, it cost $702, he said.

He said that the number of processed checks, issued by the treasurer's office on each school district's funds and at their direction, has risen to 6,000 annually.

This is still, he said, a minor part of the treasurer's work. He cited as predominant importance the investment of school tax receipts and building bond monies.

School funds are invested, McAuliff said, in bank certificates of deposit or U.S. treasury notes. To facilitate purchase of the Treasury notes, without an additional handling fee, some of the treasurers's deposits are made in Chicago banks.

Other school monies are deposited in township banks—Arlington Heights National, the Bank of Arlington Heights, First National Bank of Mount Prospect, Mount Prospect State Bank and Wheeling Trust and Savings.

When McAuliff came into office, District 26 funds were kept at the Bensenville State Bank and District 23 funds at the Roselle State Bank. Neither bank is in the township—or even in Cook County.

TO MAKE IT more convenient for deposits to be made, new accounts were opened for the two school districts locally. Now only small amounts, just enough to cover outstanding checks, remain on deposit at the two out-of-county banks.

McAuliff said timing of Treasury investments "so as to hit the next high interest rate" has "really paid off" in investment return to school districts.

Cost of the treasurer's office, retained in Cook though it has been abolished in the other 101 Illinois counties, is carried by the six school districts in the township. Operation of the office for 1965-66 will cost $16,776.

In other Illinois counties school districts may choose their own treasurers. The result is lower costs—an average salary of under $500 for DuPage County's school treasurers compared to the average $16,000 cost of the Wheeling township operation. (ACM

The two candidates for GOP committeeman of Wheeling Township will speak from the same platform for the first time in the campaign on May 19, at a meeting of the township's Regular Republican Club.

A release from Robert A. Cagann, program chairman of the club, indicated both candidates, Thomas W. Novotny and Eugene F. Schlickman, would appear. But there was disagreement over what happened at the club's board meeting where the program was arranged.

CAGANN'S release said, Richard Cowen, campaign manager for Eugene F. Schlickman in his dual races for election as township committeeman and state representative, vigorously protested the May 19 candidates night to the board of the Regular Club. Cowen cited 'campaign implications' since Thomas W. Novotny, president of the club, is a candidate against Schlickman for the committeeman's post. The club board approved the May program without dissent."

Contacted Monday, Cowen said he appeared as township deputy committeeman and not as a spokesman for Schlickman. He said he protested the timing of the event "coming only a week before the candidates night previously scheduled by the Regular Republican Organization." Cowen said the club's program is "apparently an effort to compete" with the organization's program, but added, "It is certainly their right to have a candidates night if they want to."

Novotny has charged several times that Schlickman has refused to appear on the same platform with him. Schlickman denied Monday that his acceptance of the invitation was a change in course. Schlickman said he has not refused any forman invitations but he had declared an informal approach for a debate on the grounds it would be "entertaining but not educational."

THE CLUB'S secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Grogan, said the three Republican senatorial and five state representative candidates all have agreed to appear. Each candidate will make a five-minute presentation.

Oh yes. The club's board also scheduled a June 23 "get well' party proposed by Novotny. Format for the party is that the winning committeeman candidate in the June 14 contest will be "special guest of honor."

Unannounced Meetings Told

The public learned Monday—when the minutes were read—that Wheeling Township school trustees held four unannounced, special meetings in the past six months.

On Nov. 19 trustees Henry Vallely and Dr. Chester Cole met in the office of the treasurer, E. C. McAuliff, to approve a $210,000 surety bond provided by American Motorists Insurance Co. on the treasurer.

On Nov. 22 Cole, Vallely and the third trustee, Gerald Moe, met to approve dedication of Wheeling elementary School District 21 land for use as a roadway.

ON JANUARY 29 at a 2 p.m. meeting all three trustees were present when another surety bond, covering an Arlington Heights elementary District 25 bond issue, was approved. Notice of the meeting was given to trustees more than 48 hours in advance, the minutes noted.

On March 21 Cole and Vallely met to consider Moe's resignation because of his candidacy as U. S. Senator. They accepted his resignation letter, dated March 18, and appointed Gust Stavros, of rural Wheeling, to fill the vacancy.

Acting on District 25's request trustees also approved dedication of a land for a street right-of-way.

State statutes require two semi-annual meetings of the school trustees, in April and October.

The April meeting was to have taken place on the 4th, but was postponed until Monday at the trustees' request.

More Precinct Captains Join Novotny Organization

H. F. "Pete" Bunnelle, campaign manager for Thomas W. Novotny, candidate for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman, has announced the appointment of area chairmen for Novotny's precinct captain organization. The next committeeman will be elected at the June 14 primary election.

The area chairmen are Floyd V. Steinman, who will be resnsible for Wheeling dopan sponsible for Wheeling and Buffalo Grove; Wayland L. Buchholz, who will be responsible for Prospect Heights where he is building a home; Donald W. Goodman, Mount Prospect; William L. Griffin, northwest Arlington Heights; Albert J .Miller, south Arlington; Eugene R. Ischinger, northeast Arlington.

AT THE SAME time, Bunnelle said he noted "the significance of the fact that five of the nine area chairmen in the last general election are involved in Novotny's campaign. They are Novotny himself, Thomas H. Hanlon, Miller, Goodman and Steinman. Two of the others have not, to our knowledge, made a commitment to either candidate, and a third is Novotny's opponent."

Bunnelle said their support "speaks well for Novotny."

Steinman is a former president of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club and was an area chairman from 1962 to 1965. He resides at 271 E. Norman Lane in Wheeling.

Wayland L. Buchholz, 95 E. Meadowbrook, Wheeling is president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop and treasurer of the Regular Republican Club. Bunnelle said Buchholz was placed on leave of absence as captain of Precinct 30 because of his support of Novotny.

Donald W. Goodman, Republican area chairman "also on leave of absence for endorsing Novotny," has accepted the assignment of campaign activities in Mount Prospect. He is a director of the Regular Republican Club.

Griffin, 1521 W. Oakton St., Arlington, will be in charge of the northwest area and will have the additional responsibility of coordinating any specific programs for the village.

GRIFFIN, WHO was elected a delegate to the Nebraska state Republican convention at the age of 21, has been active in scouting and is presently assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 135.

Miller, 501 S. Patton Ave., was a Republican area chairman from 1962 to 1965 and is also on leave of absence as captain of precinct 41. He is a former president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop and is education chairman of the local Regular Republican Club.

Ischinger, 618 N. Wilshire Drive, was formerly captain of Precinct 21, which was recently split to make Precinct 60.

Women's chairmen previously announced by Mrs. Franklin Friday, chairman of Republican Women for Novotny, include Mrs. Harry J. Jenkins, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Earle J. Miller, Mount Prospect; and Mrs. Ernest Stephan, Wheeling. Mrs. Friday has also announced the appointment of Mrs. Donald R. Roberts, 1703 Woodview, Prospect Heights, as women's chairman for that area. (ACM

The families dined out several times, at Buccaneer Inn at Longboat Key, Landmark Hotel at Lido Beach and at the Whispering Sands on Siesta Key.

The Benders also went to the last White Sox game of spring training and saw the Sox beat the Kansas City A's. The children collected autographs from several of the players.

One day was spent fishing and the children and their dads stopped counting after 38. Meanwhile, Mrs. Casteel and Mrs. Bender went shopping at St. Armands Key. They also visited some retirement homes on Bird Key.

HIGHLIGHTS OF the trip according to the Bender girls, was staying in the apartment next to White Sox catcher, John Romano, and meeting the Roy Duffy family of Des Plaines at Longboat Key. Kathy Duffy and Kim Bender are classmates at Forest View High School.

Both families won't forget making a couple of wrong turns off of a nine-mile bridge on the way to the airport, therefore traveling over Tampa Bay three times instead of the usual once and getting to the airport just in time to get on the homeward bound plane.

ELK RIDGE VILLA

On Wednesday, Patti Freko, Fern Drive, had a fourth birthday party for Joanne Kurtz, Scott Thomas, Linda and Diane Steger, Frank Tomazewski, Lori Wilkins, Paul Hyle, Eddie Wysocki and her sisters, Debbie, Kathy and Judy, and brother, Jim.

The Reinhardt Steinbart family, Palm Drive, celebrated Raymond's 10th birthday on Easter, by going to Pistakee Highlands to the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Vrbik, for a birthday dinner. Other guests included his grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Vrbik of Chicago, who had been a houseguest of the Steinbarts for a week.

On April 17, the family took Raymond to the Aunt Jemina's at O'Hare Inn. (AME

'Spring Forward, Fall Back'

Daylight Saving Began as British War Tactic

Daylight Savings Time will officially begin at 1 a.m. Sunday, notes Robert I. Johnson, director Chicago Park District Adler Planetarium and Astronomical Museum. At that time clocks should be set forward one hour to be in accordance with civil time.

The practice of adjusting clocks to take advantage of additional daylight periods, said Johnson, originated in England during World War I. At that time hydro-electric power, like all strategic material, was in demand.

Because most people rise in the morning well after the sun is up, and go to bed some time after sunset, it was decided to shift clock time to coincide more nearly with the schedules most people kept.

Since in effect the sun spent one extra hour in the sky in the evening, one hour's use of electricity for lighting was conserved.

Of course the sun rose one hour "later" (by the clock), but comparatively few people use lights in the early morning anyway. This system resulted in a considerable saving of electic power.

THIS "FAST" time was adopted by law in the United States in 1918. However, one year later the law was repealed. Nevertheless, many cities continued to use it. During World War II Daylight Saving Time was used nationally, and since that time its use has been left up to individual states or cities. Because it fits so poorly with farm workers schedules, this system has never been widely used in rural areas.

These semi-annual time changes, which so many people find confusing, can be cleared up by remembering a few simple rules. First, the time changes occur (for most areas of the country) on the mornings of the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in October at 1 a.m.

To remember which way to set clocks, keep in mind the phrase "spring forward, fall back." Thus on the morning of April 24, 1966 1:01 a.m. becomes 2:01 a.m. The minutes between 1:01 and 2 inclusive do not occur on that date.

CONVERSELY, ON the morning of Oct. 30, 1966, 2:01 a.m. becomes 1:01 a.m. The minutes between 1:01 and 2 occur twice. By this reckoning, the hour's sleep lost in April will not be made up until the end of October.

The Congress of the United States is currently considering a bill (sponsored by Cong. William Springer of Illinois' 22nd District) to establish uniform rules for Daylight Savings Time. Under such a bill all local options would be eliminated, but each state would retain the power to veto "fast" time altogether.

50-Year Subscriber Once Knew Everyone

Paddock Publications were more interesting 50 years ago than now, recalls Mrs. Louis Hinrichs, 429 N. Smith St., Palatine.

Mrs. Hinrichs is a recipient of a free subscription to a Paddock paper offered to residents who have been subscribers for 50 years or more.

She and her husband first started getting the Cook County Herald when they were married in 1914.

"The paper was more interesting then because it had more news and less advertising," she said.

And she added, "Then you could pick up the paper and everybody you'd read about was someone you knew. There are so many new people now that you hardly know anybody mentioned in the paper."

LOUIS HINRICHS was an Arlington Heights man, but Mrs. Hinrichs had been raised on a farm in Schaumburg. her father was Charles Withaeger who had farmed near the intersection of Route 58 and Roselle Road since the 1870's.

After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Hinrichs rented a farm in Schaumburg for two years and then moved to Palatine. Mrs. Hinrichs still lives in the farmhouse which was built on part of their Palatine farm.

Mrs. Hinrichs will be 75 next month and just last week celebrated a rare distinction: the birth of her third great-grandchild. She has four children: Ray Hinrichs of Palatine; George Hinrichs, Schaumburg; Mrs. Ray (Luella) Chamberlin, Libertyville; and Mrs. Don (Esther) House, Villa Park.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Know How To Keep Your Wife Happy At Home?

(For Men Only)

By Jane Sherrod Singer

Alas, it seems that many women chafe under the pressures of being a wife, mother, cook, chauffeur, nurse, budget authority, veterinarian, and the other thousand-and-one chores which are involved in running a home. In most cases, her impetus, enthusiasm and success depend largely on the attitude of her husband.

On the basis of the following questions, how is your Husband Quotient?

	YES	NO
1. Do you take the time to listen sympathetically when your wife has obviously suffered a discouraging day?	( )	( )
2. Do you make it a point to compliment your wife when she prepares a good meal, makes new curtains or does something well?	( )	( )
3. Do you tend to your chores, repairs, the garden, etc. without forcing her to remind you or nag to get it done?	( )	( )
4. Do you back her decisions in front of the children (even though you may not completely agree at the time?)	( )	( )
5. Do you let your wife and the children know that homemaking is a complex and important job rather than under-rating it?	( )	( )
6. Do you pick up after yourself?	( )	( )
7. Do you refrain from venting your fatigue or bad temper at home?	( )	( )
8. Do you show an interest in the children and their activities?	( )	( )
9. Do you discuss the family budget intelligently with your wife?	( )	( )
10. Do you welcome her family and friends, even though they may not be your favorite people?	( )	( )
11. Do you offer to "house-sit" and "baby-sit" so your wife can have some time away from home on her own?	( )	( )
12. Are you capable to making your wife laugh when things go wrong rather than creating a scene?	( )	( )

DESIRABLE ANSWERS: All answers should be YES.

10-12 correct answers: You are a paragon of virtue and your wife is a fortunate woman. If she doesn't realize it, show this quiz to her.

5-9 correct answers: No doubt your wife shrugs off your faults and makes excuses for you but you ARE irritating at times. Examine yourself and your actions when all does not go smoothly at home.

2-4 correct answers: You are less considerate of your wife than you would be of hired help. The problem is that it is more difficult for her to give you notice and look for another job. Dear Husband, you are brewing your own storm!

0-1 correct answers: By comparison with you, Frankenstein is a thoroughly loveable personality.

Winners of 1966-67 state scholarships have been announced by Dr. Lloyd S. Michael, chairman of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

Of 9,940 high school seniors qualifying, 3,662 have been offered monetary awards totaling $2,206,044; honorary awards have been granted to 5,018; and 1,260 have chosen out-of-state or unapproved colleges. All will receive Certificates of Merit and will have until Sept. 1 to inform the Commission of their final college plans.

To qualify, a student must be a citizen of the United States, an Illinois resident, and of good moral chacter. At least two scholarships are awarded within each legislative district.

MONETARY AWARD winners receive full or partial payment of tuition and fees up to $1,000 a year at approved Illinois colleges of their choice. The average award for this year's monetary winners is $602.

Honorary awards provide recognition for outstanding scholastic achievement and enable students to request financial assistance if needed at a later date. All awards are renewable upon annual application.

Seven Delegates To Church Meet

St. Mark Lutheran Church of Mount Prospect will send seven representatives to the 6th annual convention of the Illinois District, The American Lutheran Church, April 26-28, at the Pere Marquette Hotel, Peoria.

Attending from St. Marks will be the Rev. David J. Quill, pastor, and the Rev. Philip Ramsey, assistant pastor; and Arland Jacobson, Norman Olson, Adolph Blomberg, Eugene Gallup and Dr. Earl Suckow.

The convention will convene to study "The Word of God in the World of Men," Rev. Quill said.

Parking Lots Paving Bid of $43,000 OK'd

Arlington Heights trustees Monday accepted a Rock Road Paving Co. bid of $43,000 for the construction of three parking lots in the village — but not until Village Pres. John G. Woods aimed sticky questions at a representative of the paving company.

The parking lot project was one of four on which bids were accepted at Monday's meeting.

Cecil C. Wabashaw, of the present when the parking lot bids were discussed and Pres. Woods wanted to know why Arlington Heights was paying more than other suburbs for pre-mixed cold asphalt.

His query was prompted by an article in Saturday's Chicago Daily News which showed that Arlington Heights pays $11.25 a ton for pre-mixed cold asphalt, highest price of 12 suburbs surveyed in the article.

THE SAME article stated that Chicago pays more than any suburb though it buys pre-mixed cold asphalt in larger lots.

Wabashaw said officers of his company had sent a letter to Chicago's purchasing agent explaining the reason for the higher price charged the city. He could not explain why the price paid by Arlington Heights was higher than other suburbs. But he noted that it is close to the $11 paid by the Cook County Highway Department.

Woods asked that an explanatory letter similar to that sent to Chicago be sent to him. Wabashaw said he would relay the request to company officers.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson told Woods that the village buys pre-mixed cold asphalt in small amounts for immediate cold patching jobs.

HE SAID these amounts are normally five to 25 tons at a time and that no bids are asked for because they cannot anticipate when the asphalt would be used.

Hanson pointed out that it wouldn't pay the village to buy asphalt in large amounts because it would have to be stored.

The Rock Road bid of $43,000 was lowest of five submitted. Next lowest was $43,300 by Arrow Road Construction Co.

Two alternate types of paving were offered by each bidder but the difference was in the type of base course material.

Woods noted that the village engineer's estimates of the cost of the parking lot project was $42,000 — less than the Rock Road bid.

Wabashaw explained that construction firms are involved in a labor strike and that the bid reflects an estimated increase in wages which the company will have to absorb.

Other bids approved Monday were:

—$6,065 BY Craftsman Painting Service for providing the labor to paint the inside and outside of the million gallon elevated water tank at Thomas Street. The village is supplying the paint.

The Craftsman Painting service bid was lowest of five, the highest of which was $11,500. Second lowest bid was $6,768 by Universal Construction Co.

—$34,766 by Rossetti Contracting Co. for the installation of a 2,400 foot eight-inch sanitary sewer and a 2,500 foot 12-inch wates main to service the proposed Weber Marking Systems plant.

The Rossetti bid was lowest of 12. Next lowest was J. Giannini & Sons at $35,600 and the highest was Abbott Contractors, Inc. at $49,000.

Weber Marking Systems will place money in escrow with the village to cover the cost of the project.

—$3,340 by Rafel Electric for constructing a lighting system for two parking lots. Rafel Electric's bid was lowest of four. Others were Contracting & Material Co., $4,000; H. & H. Electric, $4,050; and Wood Electric Co., $4,250.

All bids accepted were at the recommendation of the village manager.

Inner City Pastor To Address Women

The Rev. Bruce Young, associate director of the department of urban church, Chicago Presbytery, will speak to all women of the Community Presbyterian Church in Mount Prospect at 1 p.m. April 27.

Rev. Young is the representative from Presbytery to the Metropolitan Lay Ministry Training Program, and says, "It is quite possible we may hit on some revolutionary idea to help the poor and uneducated help themselves. For they must feel they are giving something to society as persons and not just receiving handouts and getting left in the despair of slum living."

THE CHURCH women will also meet from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and again from 7:30 to 9 p.m. to bake and do handiwork for a fund-raising fair planned by Christopher House, a settlement house in Chicago sponsored by the United Presterian Women's Association of the church.

Hostess Circle for the day will be Hannah Circle, with Evelyn Ericksen as chairman. House and hostess co-ordinator will be Kay Hoch. Sitter service will be provided all day.

Mrs. Betty Houchins is president of the women's group.(M

Camp Fire Finance Compromise Told

A compromise agreement has been reached between the Chicago Area Council board of directors and the Mount Prospect District committee of Camp Fire Girls covering a disagreement over the council's system of central financing.

Under the agreement a complete review of financial resources is to be made by the finance committee of the Chicago council, along with a review of operations of professional staff workers of Camp Fire Girls. Also under the agreement, long range plans will be made for the resident camp and for firm financial planning.

THE ONLY FUND raising activity that will be required of individual districts will be active participation in the annual spring candy sale and cooperation with local Combined Appeal drives.

The Mount Prospect District had been contending that only about $2,500 was being returned to the district, even though more than $9,000 was collected here through the Combined Appeal and candy sale.

Now the district will participate in central financing with a guarantee of funds for its requested budget. There also will be a five year plan to phase out budget items that are not included as budget expenses under the council's financial policies.

The Mount Prospect District will return its representative to the Chicago Area Board of Directors and participate in the 1966 Spring Candy Sale. Mrs. William Krampert, the district representative, had resigned from the board earlier this year.

THE AGREEMENT was made in order to maintain a program for the approximately 650 girls in the Mount Prospect Camp Fire Girls Council, which has been highly successful for the past 39 years, a Mount Prospect representative said.

At one time there was talk of pulling out of the Chicago district and forming a Mount Prospect District of Camp Fire Girls.

When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one.

So take the test.

Maybe you can tell us.

Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind they have in racers) gives you the feel of the road. You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on.

And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.)

When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one.
So take the test.
Maybe you can tell us.

Atcher Stresses Need For Area Leadership

Robert O. Atcher, candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator in the third Illinois senatorial district in Cook County, told a group of Wheeling Township Republicans last week he believes the northwest suburban area of Cook County to be the "hottest area for industrial development in the entire United States."

The Republican candidate, who is mayor of Schaumburg, is seeking the senatorial seat currently held by John A. Graham of Barrington. Atcher will face Graham in the Republican primary on June 14.

Atcher said "incredibly rapid" development is coming to the third district "whether we like it or not" and criticized the incumbent Graham for what he called "Graham's lack of leadership in preparing the area for the fast development that already has begun."

THE THIRD senatorial district, Atcher asserted, "vitally needs a plan of orderly development that allows each municipality to retain its own character and individuality and still meets the problems of the entire area."

He pledged to "work closely with representatives of the municipalities in this district to come up with a plan that allows each village to determine its own course and keeps each informed about the problems and progress of the others."

The trouble with area master plans, according to Atcher, "is that they too often fail to take the needs and interests of the individual communities into consideration. The communities then balk, and rightly so, and the vital problems of the area remained unsolved."

If elected as the next Republican state senator, Atcher pledged to make such a plan one of his "main objectives" in office.

Atcher declared that such a plan "also must have means to be implemented and I propose to see to it that these means are proposed, discussed and put into effect."

THE CANDIDATE also complained that the area's sanitary land fill program is now starting to cause seepage of contaminated water into ground water supplies and that incinerators are beginning to cause air pollution problems.

"These problems are representative of the areas of intense interest a state senator must make his business," Atcher asserted. "They're only a small part of the unfortunate lack of leadership the third district suffers from," Atcher said.

The third senatorial district consists of the townships of Wheeling, Hanover, Barrington, Elk Grove, Schaumburg, Palatine and portions of Maine and Northfield. (B-10

Expand Day Care Center At School

The Clearbrook Center for the Retarded, 3201 W. Campbell, Rolling Meadows, has expanded the area served by its day care center to include the entire city of Des Plaines. Previously children from Des Plaines were accepted only if their homes fell within Elk Grove Township.

Bus service will be extended as necessary to accommodate the additional enrollment.

This decision, made at the March meeting of the Board of Directors of the Center, affects primarily pre-school and school-age children. Young adults will be accepted as facilities and staff permit. B10

Woods Names Finance Aide

William I. Conway, attorney at 231 S. LaSalle, Chicago, has been named finance chairman for Joseph I. Woods, Republican candidate for county sheriff.

Candidate Woods and his finance chairman have several similarities in their backgrounds.

BOTH ARE former Federal Bureau of Investigation agents. Conway joined in 1928 and served until 1933. Woods served from 1951 to 1961.

Both worked on famous cases. Conway worked on the Lindberg baby kidnaping. Woods caught "most wanted" list criminals in 1951, 1954 and 1961.

Both have worked at digging into and exposing corruption. (B10

Randhurst Council To Hold PTA School

Final plans for the 1966 School of Instruction are now being made by the Randhurst Council of PTA's. The annual event, to take place on May 25, will be held at the South Community Baptist Church, 501 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect.

The School of Instruction trains PTA Executive Board members and is timed to follow the local PTAs' spring elections.

INCOMING LEADERS will be introduced to the various duties included in their new positions and instructed on how to fulfill them. Established leaders will aim at improving their leadership qualities.

Mrs. Charles Green, president of Randhurst Council, reports: "Our plans now include eight morning workshops, luncheon, and seven afternoon workshops. With this arrangement, those interested in attending more than one class will be able to do so. Registration will be held at 9 a.m. and the meeting will adjourn at 2:45 p.m."

Mrs. Green says that every local PTA must have trained officers and chairmen in order to function as an effective unit.

Pharmacy School Invites Students To Open House

High school students desiring a professional career are invited to attend an open house at the University of Illinois College of Pharmacy, 833 S. Wood St., Chicago, tomorrow (Friday) from 7 to 9 p.m.

Laboratory demonstrations will be given and new products will be on display.

Harris Pharmacy, 20 S. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, will answer any questions about the open house. (B-10

9 Months, and The Lords Have Made a 'Name'

Mark Abernathy, lead singer

by CAROLE CAMERON

With two of their members graduating from high school this spring, the Lords confess they "don't even think about" the future. "We'll work that problem out when it comes time, but until then we'll just keep on playing."

And play they have, since they got moving last fall, for groups of hundreds at the various area teen clubs: The Hut, and the Blue Umbrella in Des Plaines; Pink Panther in Deerfield; Rolling Stone in Glencoe; the Chandelier in Arlington Heights; the New Place in Palatine; regularly at the Bat Cave in Chicago; and finally, on April 4, at the Cellar in Arlington Heights, home of the Shadows of Knight.

IT TOOK THE Lords nine months to create an established name for themselves. When they started out last summer, there were only three — Phil Sinkovich, 18, and Doug Soderberg, 18, both on guitar, and Darryl Einhorn, 17, on bass guitar.

During the summer the three of them "messed around in someone's basement, trying to get a go at it and just having fun," said Doug.

In September they met up with Mark Abernethy, 16, and invited him in as lead singer. The four of them formed the Lords and, after weeks of practicing, had their first engagement at a Coke dance at Prospect High, where they're all in school.

The first dance wasn't the most successful, the combo struggling with troubles with their microphone equipment.

But by November the group was getting into the groove. After sitting in for awhile as drummer, Bruce Berkeland, 17, joined up to complete the combo, and the Lords set out to compete with the already well-established groups.

SINCE THAT TIME, their work in the "big leagues" has brought a change of attitude to the Lords, a cooperative effort.

"We might still quarrel, but instead of just fighting and clowning around, we take our work seriously," said Phil. "Although we still argue about how something should be played or sung, usually it turns out to be something minor. You can't achieve anything if you go at it half-heartedly."

Their individuality comes out in the outfits they wear for engagements — the five never dress the same, since each picks according to how he can play best. They appear on stage dressed in anything ranging from Bruce's shirt and tie to Doug's surfer shirt.

From the serious angle, the group receives a minimum of $50 a performance; investment for their equipment totals more than $5,000.

THE LORDS PLAY anything from the Byrds to the Rolling Stones. One of their managers, Dick Dodge of Universal Music Agency, agrees that they should become basically a folk-rock group, typical of the Byrds, and play a different variety of song material. Managing them with Dodge is Mike Seeling of Paddock Publications.

In addition to picking up songs already on the pop lists, the Lords also compose and arrange some of their own music. Phil and Mark together have written and arranged "And I'll Be Lonely." Doug has written "A Girl Like You," and Mark, who does most of the arranging, has redone "Long Time Gone," by Bob Dylan.

High School Highlights

Singers and Dancers Rehearse 'Oklahoma'

Beautiful mornings, fringed surreys, southern accents, and cowboys are all part of Arlington High School's operetta, "Oklahoma."

The musical will open Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30 at 8 p.m. in Arlington's Boys' Gym.

"Away We Go" was the original name of Rodgers and Hammerstein's first joint production. It is the musical adaptation of Lynn Riggs' "Green Grows the Lilacs."

Bostonian audiences during the second World War considered the unaffected story too dull, and "Away We Go" was a flop.

OPENING NIGHT on Broadway was an immediate success for the newly named priduction, "Oklahoma."

The setting is in Indian territory — now the state of Oklahoma — right after the turn of the century.

The basic theme centers around two love stories and their complications. Pride keeps farm girl Laurey and cowboy Curly apart.

Curly is played by senior Sam Cullison and Laurey is portrayed by Joanne Mayer and Georgia Miller, both seniors (double cast).

A SECOND LOVE entanglement involves the traditional triangle. Ado Annie Carnes is supposedly in love with two men, Ali Hakim and Will Parker.

Seniors Cindy Flodin and Sue Johnson are double cast as Annie, while Ali is played by Bruce Elliott. Will is portrayed by Bill Hazen.

The team of Joanne and Cindy will perform Friday night, while Georgia and Sue will portray Laurey and Annie Saturday night.

To complicate matters, Jud Fry (a mere hired hand) tries to captivate the interests of Laurey. He succeeds temporarily and Curly finds refuge in Gertie Cummings.

Senior Steve LeVan plays the rather crude Jud, and Kathy Rausch, senior, portrays the giggling Gertie.

LAUREY AND ANNIE have two doting relatives who add their own charm to this production. Laurey's Aunt Eller is played by junior Pam Fruehling, and Annie's father, Carnes, is portrayed by Jim Auld, senior.

The music is an extremely important portion of the show because Rodgers and Hammerstein reveal much of the plot in this manner.

"Oklahoma" opens with Curly's rendition of "Oh What a Beautiful Morning." He proceeds to invite Laurey to the social event of the year, the Box Social. She teasingly refuses on the grounds that Curly does not have adequate transportation for them.

CURLY RETORTS with his description of his rented buggy in song, "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top."

In the midst of Laurey and Curly's love problems, she decides that she doesn't care about Curley anymore. She describes her feelings in "Many a New Day."

Later she uses Egyptian smelling salts to solve her romantic trials. The magic elixir takes her into a dream world and she sings, "Out of My Dreams."

Apart from the love stories, there is a minor dispute between the farmers and the cowboys. Annie's father manages to quell a near riot by blasting forth with the "Farmer and the Cowman."

OTHER SONGS in the musical include, "Oklahoma," "People Will Say," "Kansas City," "I Caint Say No," and "Poor Jud is Daid."

Cast members playing minor roles are seniors Judy Kunkel, Terri Epperly, and Kent Wendorf.

Junior members include Linda Heffernan, Debbie Zonsius, Sue LeBeau, John Erickson, Paul Klinkey, Mike Moses, Dave Palmatier, Terry Gallagher, Rich Blomquist, Tom Ralph, and Ken Berggren.

The chorus cowboys are Paul Adams, Dick Larson, Bill Elsner, Dave Steele, Bob Westfall, John Sedor and Tim Gibler.

Cowgirls include Terry Malone, Diane Smith, Pat Van de Merkt, Eileen Hoehle, Linda Piepenbrink, Maureen Klassen, Becky Hollmeyer, and Sandy Snyder.

CHERYL DORITY. Joyce Wendorf, Nancy Douglas, Ellen Skoglund, Kris Larson, Sue Wood, Sheryl Anderson, and Jan Baughman complete the chorus.

Behind the scenes, Mrs. Vernon Doyle is in charge of all the crews. Larry Spaeth is the stage manager. Assisting him are Steve Busch and Tom Walsh.

Crew chairmen include: Carol McNeeley, costumes; Terry Epperly, tickets; Meg Safarik, make-up; Dave Ross, lighting; Randy Oppelt, properties; and Becky Hollmeyer, publicity.

Mr. Fredrick Schmoyer will direct the orchestra. Mr. Boyd White and Miss Maribeth Kirchhoff are co-directors of the show.

JIM AULD and Kathy Rausch are student directors.

Choreography is being handled by Miss Judith Whitney and Jim Karlow.

Dancers include Laura Hilton, Cindy Johnson, Linne Lindstrom, Shirley Owen, Nancy Palmatier, Jan Weber, Sue Stratton, and Judy Gruenes.

Male dancers are Jim Karlow, Jim Johanson, Nick Isaacs, and Roy Rettberg.

Tickets may be purchased from any Arlington High School music department member for $1. At the door, tickets are $1.50 for high school students and adults. (10Y

SENIOR BRUCE ELLIOTT as Peddler Ali Hakim sweeps Ado Annie (senior Cindy Flodin) off her feet in a romantic scene from Arlington High School's operetta, "Oklahoma." The production will be presented April 29 and 30 in the Boys Gym. Tickets may be purchased from any music department member for $1 or at the door for $1.50.

'Chalk Garden' Is Spring Production

"The Chalk Garden," a three-act contemporary play written by Emil Bagnol, will be presented on Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7, at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater of Wheeling High School.

Casting for this play is difficult in high school because the play covers an age range of from 16-year-old Laurel to 72-year-old Mrs. St. Maum.

In the play Miss Madrigal, played by Melinda Crabbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Crabbe, 1208 Wheeling Road, Mount Prospect, applies as a governess to a household of position in the country in England. She is interviewed and hired without references to look after the employer's granddaughter.

The grandmother gardens as an escape from old age. The conflict is built on what results from this situation.

THE CAST for "The Chalk Garden" includes Melinda Crabbe, Clark Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Anderson, 367 S. Sunset, Wheeling, as Maitland; Margie Rhein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rhein, 916 Valley Street, Wheeling, as the second applicant.

Melody Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Peterson, 4705 Forest View Dr., Northbrook, as the third applicant; and Carol Nekimken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elic Nekimken, 137 Meadowbrook, Wheeling, as Laurel.

The part of Mrs. St. Maum is played by Bev McSorley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Q. T. McSorley, 214 Sarah Court, Wheeling; the nurse is played by Karen Pruyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Pruyn, 409 Dorset Lane, Prospect Heights.

Olivia is played by Char Winfrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winfrey, 1010 Hemlock, Mount Prospect; and Steve Uhrik, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Uhrik, 313 Peachtree, Prospect Heights.

THE DIRECTOR of the play is David Stiles, with Karen Pruyn as a student director.

Tickets are 75 cents for students and $1 for adults. (10Y

Dancing Saturday

By LINDA OLSON

"A Rolling Meadows Cellar dance" is the description of the mixer to be held in the basement of Community Church (At Meadow) Saturday at 7:30 p.m. (for four hours).

Don't go to the trouble of breaking your piggy bank, only 100 are needed for a night of real fun.

You can wear anything that's comfortable, slacks or school clothes, and any teen can come. Refreshments will be offered.

AS A SPECIAL feature, The Five-Hundred (that's what the place is called), will give you a chance to vote for the band you prefer. The preferred band will return next month.

"We're trying to feature bands who are new to this sort of thing. Sort of give them their boost up to fame or a steady job," advisor Wall yOlson said.

The Unit Five (you may have heard of them from the Grotto) and the Shyres, two local groups are the first two combos to be featured at what promises to be a new trend in Saturday night entertainment. (10Y

Dancing Saturday

By LINDA OLSON

"A Rolling Meadows Cellar dance" is the description of the mixer to be held in the basement of Community Church (At Meadow) Saturday at 7:30 p.m. (for four hours).

Don't go to the trouble of breaking your piggy bank, only 100 are needed for a night of real fun.

You can wear anything that's comfortable, slacks or school clothes, and any teen can come. Refreshments will be offered.

AS A SPECIAL feature, The Five-Hundred (that's what the place is called), will give you a chance to vote for the band you prefer. The preferred band will return next month.

"We're trying to feature bands who are new to this sort of thing. Sort of give them their boost up to fame or a steady job," advisor Wall yOlson said.

The Unit Five (you may have heard of them from the Grotto) and the Shyres, two local groups are the first two combos to be featured at what promises to be a new trend in Saturday night entertainment. (10Y

Cast Polishes 'My Fair Lady'

In addition to regular studies, 150 students are straining muscles, memories and daylight hours toward making Fenton High School's third spring musical production a memorable experience by theater-goers.

Considered by many the greatest musical comedy of all times, Lerner and Loewe's "My Fair Lady" will be presented in the Blackhawk auditorium April 28, 29 and 30.

"We hope to make this a stunning show," said Robert Dahlstrom, drama director. "It is the most elaborate we have attempted."

Presenting a musical of this scope entails the co-ordination of many staffs. Members of the musical department are rehearsing 14 major musical numbers.

MRS. ROSLYN Trapp, director of choreography, has staged seven dances. Thirty-five costumes for the ladies of the Cockney chorus are being prepared by the costuming staff under the direction of Mrs. Dahlstrom.

An additional 32 gowns and 13 hats have been designed for the Ascot and Ballroom scenes.

Also under construction in the high school's metal shop is a 5½-foot chandelier for the ballroom scene.

SCHEDULING ALSO calls for rehearsal for 70 members of the cast. Behind the scenes, members of the stage crew are constructing a revolving stage set, complete with stairs and balcony.

The master set will allow 18 scene changes. Stage furniture, rugs and draperies have been ordered to complete the decor.

Color coordination is also a major undertaking in the play. Basic costumes are constructed so that, with a change of accessories, they may be used in several scenes.

The ladies and the gentlemen of the Ascot scene will be dressed in black, white and green. For the ballroom scene, shades of purple and lavender are to be used.

MEMBERS OF THE cast include Doug Drenk as Henry Higgins; Nancy Carlson and Kathy Wagner, alternates as Eliza Doolittle; Alan Rothmeeler as Alfie Doolittle; Leslie Waldrop, Mrs. Higgins; Harry Adams and Bruce Fetherolf, alternates as Freddie Eynsford-Hill.

Bruce Croxen, Colonel Pickering; Carol Krivanek, Mrs. Pierce; Stan Kucewicz, Zoltan Carpathy; Jack Williams and Willard Kight as Harry and Jamie.

Members of the a capella choir will be in the chorus.

Tickets are available from a capella choir members or at the main office. Show time is 7:30 p.m. on April 28 and 8 p.m. on April 29 and 30. (5Y

REHEARSING "A LITTLE Bit of Luck" from Fenton High School's production of "My Fair Lady" are (l. to r.) Jack Williams, Randall Best, Robert Reiland, Michael Kight (The Cockney Quartet). The production is April 28, 29, 30 at Blackhawk Junior High School auditorium.

'...Sorry About That...'

The third annual Variety show of St. Viator High School, entitled ". . . Sorry About That. . ." will be presented on Saturday and Sunday nights, April 23 and 24 at 7:30 p.m., in St. Viator's auditorium. There are some 20 acts, including a number of comedy, musical, and novelty acts.

Work on the show began several months ago when the call for volunteers was released and a series of auditions was arranged. The acts were heard by the directors of the show, seniors Jim Miller of Des Plaines and Tom Pitello of Arlington Heights and junior Jim Ryan of Mount Prospect. The faculty moderator of the project, the Rev. Eugene Mierzwinski, C.S.V., also was present.

FR. MIERZWINSKI and the directors criticized each act and drew up a schedule for rehearsals. With the information gained from these initial hearings, the directors also devised a theme for the show. Then came the long weeks of grooming the show and giving it a professional shine. This phase culminated in the dress rehearsal.

". . . Sorry About That. . ." is set in a nightclub, with two of the directors, Miller and Ryan, acting as emcees. Several bands are featured, including two popular local groups, the Hearts of Darkness and the Huns. Once again this year, St. Viator's "popular" all-male chorus line will present several numbers. In a more serious vein, a scene from "West Side Story" will be presented, featuring Seniors Dennis Wilkinson of Mount Prospect and Randy Mogytych of Arlington Heights. There are also folk music and classical music acts.

The Variety Show, in its third year, has traditionally helped to defray the expense of the Senior Prom. (Y

Wheeling Accepted By North Central

by CONNIE ANDREW

"It is indeed a real pleasure to notify you officially that Wheeling High School. . . was accepted for membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. . ."

So read the introduction of the official notification sent by Lowell B. Fisher, chairman of NCA.

The school was officially accepted for membership on March 29 by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and is now fully accredited.

Thomas Shirley, principal, attended the annual meeting of the Association March 27-31. At the meeting, WHS received the recommendation of the Illinois State Committee.

PREVIOUS TO this convention, Wheeling had been visited by a representative of the association. His evaluation of the school aided the NCA in its decision of whether or not the school met the standards of accreditation. Wheeling also submitted a copy of evaluation criteria, a form which covered every facet of school life.

As an accredited school, Wheeling will be able to graduate its senior class and the seniors will be eligible for entrance into any college. Membership in the association also denotes to other educational institutions and the general public the quality of Wheeling's educational program.

The NCA is a voluntary association which shares an interest in the improvement and extension of educational institutions. Its membership totals over four million students, both college and high school. (10Y

Eckert Attends Driver Training Workshop

Richard Eckert, Forest View High School driver education instructor, last week participated in a two-day workshop conducted by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

The workshop taught some 30 experienced driver education teachers how to plan and utilize a newer laboratory method for driver education. The method is called the multiple-car-plan or the multiple-car-range.

In the multiple-car-plan, instruction is given on an off-street driving facility called a range. Typically, one instructor teaches six to 12 students, each operating a car simultaneously. Experience indicates that one instructor can teach that number effectively if the size and design of the range are adequate.

WHEN THE STUDENTS have developed a degree of car control, they follow a predetermined traffic pattern, After the first lesson, one or more maneuver to the other members of the class.

As students become more competent, they progress to more complex maneuvers requiring higher degrees of proficiency. The nature and sequence of maneuvers practiced on the range depends upon its size and design.

It is required that the driving range experiences be supplemented with observation and actual driving in traffic on streets and highways. (10Y

METHOD ACTING? Well, not quite. But junior Charlotte Derwin as Bloody Mary and junior Robert Klopp as Luther Billis are shown rehearsing a scene from the musical "South Pacific," which the Forest View Players will present in the school theatre May 5, 6, and 7 at 8 p.m.

Bird Watching Competes With the Social Whirl

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298

Some day this reporter might learn to face a blank wall instead of her kitchen window while trying to write—and then her Sidelights opener might be more rational. Today there's distraction in bird-watching . . . are those gold finches or sparrows with bleach jobs flitting through the back yard? . . . no doubt about the ones out front—they're the blue-jeaned scavenger in an after-school hunt through the annual trash piles . . . and all over town there's red-nosed sneezers just back from Easter vacations. Aaaaah, spring!

The Dayton Browns' Easter vacation in Florida was all fun and sun, without any late-blooming head colds to mar pleasant memories. The family returned together to 603 N. Forrest last Wednesday, but went to the sunshine state in sections. Mrs. Brown and Jill left here early this month and were joined a week later by Mr. Brown and their collegiate daughter, Cindy, just arrived from Denver. Cindy's back in Colorado now, Jill is back at the books here and all the Browns marvel sadly at how time flies.

MR. AND MRS. Albert Goeppinger, Terry and Cheryl returned to 416 S. Dale early last week from a Florida vacation they thought might never begin. Motoring to Palm Beach they found detours and bumper-to-bumper traffic, and lost Goeppinger's brother, George! George and family of Palatine, motoring in their own car, were to accompany the local Goeppingers all the way to Florida but there was an unintentional parting of the ways in Indianapolis. The two families didn't cross paths, detours or no-vacancy signs again until they reunited in Palm Beach.

Despite this hectic beginning, the vacation behaved itself beautifully and so did the weather from that point on. The return trip was calm and gave all the Goeppingers every opportunity to appreciate the spring - is - busting - out - all - over scenery along the way.

The Goeppinger girls showed off their Florida-tanned complexions Saturday evening at a bridal shower in Chicago, feting a family member-to-be, Miss Lynn Walter of Hoffman Estates. Miss Walter and the junior Albert Goeppinger will be married next month. Saturday's pre-nuptial party, a linen shower, was given by Miss Walter's aunt, Mrs. Rosemary Gordon.

THE JOSEPH BRODY family of Flatrock, Mich., left here Tuesday after an Easter visit with Mrs. Brody's sister and family, the Malvin Ryghs, 215 S. Donald.

Greg Muench, 124 S. Ridge, was 12 last Wednesday and celebrated by hosting a pair of local buddies to dinner and a few lines of bowling. Sharing the gala evening with the young man were Mike Walsh and Jack Ernst; sharing a big part of the birthday cake with Greg and the boys was his brother, Robert, who will be 3 tomorrow. At this writing there were no plans for another birthday celebration. Robert's pretty young for a party, Dad is a busy doctor whose plans have to stay flexible and, as Mom said, "Bobby ate enough birthday cake last week to hold him quite awhile."

MR. AND MRS. Wallace Bolte, 105 S. Walnut, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their Arpil 12 wedding date with a festive party in their home Saturday evening. Sixty friends and relatives extended congratulations to the host couple, several of the family members coming from Rockford for the happy event. Here from New Buffalo, Mich., for the party and a weekend stay with her children in Des Plaines was Mrs. Bolte's sister, Mrs. Minnie Benson.

The Elmer Schmidts, 1209 N. Dunton, were part of a family celebration Sunday, marking the 51st wedding anniversary of Mrs. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Havlik of Mount Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Phillips and Cheryl, 226 S. Chestnut, came home Sunday from 25 days of summery sunshine and just a touch of Los Angeles smog to keep them from getting too spoiled about the weather. They spent a week in California's smog capital, sightseeing and visiting with a nephew in the Marines at Seal Island and an old friend in Hollywood. Next came a long-anticipated vacation in Honolulu, where the Phillipses were joined by their just-married daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Sargent. Ideal weather and luxurious laziness made the Hawaiian stay ideal. Returning Stateside, they spent two days in San Francisco and 3½ days in Las Vegas before coming home to wonder how a month could go so fast.

THE ROBERT BRADLES of 606 Dryden had a family dinner celebration on April 11 for their son, Edward's 21st birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Arnold and their son, John.

The Bradles and the Stanley Normans, 634 Dryden, went down to see "Barefoot in the Park." "Myrna Loy had a supporting lead and was wonderful in the role," said Mrs. Norman.

"A real fun weekend" is the way Mrs. Norman describes her Easter weekend. Son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Norman came in from Duluth, where he is interning. Daughter Judy and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fahlberg, were in from Neenah, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rook of St. Louis, parents of the young Mrs. Norman, were also guests.

They had a happy Easter together and open house on Saturday night. Some school friends dropped in, including Thomas Ocasek, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frank, Beth Michaels and the senior Ocaseks.

FORMER Arlington Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wood of 532 S. Belmont, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Paine of 519 Pine for a week from their new home in Minneapolis. Mrs. Paine had a coffee for their former neighbors.

A dinner party for the out-of-towners was given by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Daeschner, 310 E. Mayfair. The William Calders, present residents of the Wood home, were included. He is a radio announcer and disc jockey. Other guests were the Paines and the Robert Rowans.

Carol Paine celebrated her 13th birthday with the family April 1.

Laura Rettberg was home to visit parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rettberg, for her Easter vacation from Northern Illinois University, De Kalb.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Downs, Marge and Dick, former Scarsdale residents, visited former neighbors with their children, Vicky, Tim and Jenny. They now live in Penfield, N. Y.

JIM JEDD, son of the Jerry Jedds, 108 S. Brighton, went to Florida with members of his zoology class at the University of Illinois. The field ecology trip took them to the Florida Keys, Everglades and the Gulf coast.

Going to Lawrence University at Appleton, Wis., for Easter weekend was a reversal of the usual Easter vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tully of 311 Carlyle. The Tullys and Alice, a senior at Prospect High, visited Nan, a senior majoring in occupational therapy.

Bradford Godfrey will be visiting his parents, the C. K. Godfreys at 307 Carlyle, when he comes in from Corte Madera, Calif., on a business trip.

Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. A. Izard of Scarsdale and Mrs. Ned Underhill of Plum Grove Estates recently returned from a Florida vacation. Mr. Godfrey and William Pailey, 700 S. Belmont, were guests of Tom Coward, 410 N. Beverly, in Augusta, Ga., for the Masters Golf Tournament.

THE ED WILSONS, 304 Wilshire, flew to Dayton for an Easter weekend with their daughter, Ellen and her family, Capt. and Mrs. Ronald F. Prater, Rickey and Beth.

A spring vacation at Treasure Island, Fla., was great fun for the John Lanzillo family of 1101 Mayfair. With Tony, Patti and Kim, they visited the Circus Hall of Fame, the "Bounty," the ship used in the filming of Mutiny on the Bounty, many other points of interest and swam and fished. En route to Sarasota, they followed the tornado by 25 minutes and passed a trailer and car completely demolished on the Skyline Bridge.

Coming back by way of Kentucky, they spent Easter with Mrs. Lanzillo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Owen of Louisville. The senior Lanzillos are coming in from New York City for Mother's Day. (A

Clabaugh Pens Guide For Superintendents

Ralph E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Elementary School District 25, has had published his book entitled "School Superintendent's Guide: Principles and Practices for Effective Administration."

The book, published by the Parker Publishing Co., Inc., discusses such matters as board-superintendent relationships, instructional leadership, personnel administration, in-service administration and school building planning.

"It's an effort to do what the title says," explains Clabaugh, commenting on the book's content. He noted the book, which he was asked to write three years ago, is part of a series on professional education.

CLABAUGH wrote the 239-page volume entirely in longhand and later had manuscript pages typed. He dedicated the book to his wife, Ruth, who helped by listening to her husband read the manuscript aloud. aloud.

"She listened to it and said it's good," said Clabaugh, adding that the professional critics soon would make their own evaluations.

Most of the research for the text was drawn from Clabaugh's own experience, the school library and periodicals. He said some of the information was taken from sources in the Northwestern University library. (A

Bird Watching Competes With the Social Whirl

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298

Some day this reporter might learn to face a blank wall instead of her kitchen window while trying to write—and then her Sidelights opener might be more rational. Today there's distraction in bird-watching . . . are those gold finches or sparrows with bleach jobs flitting through the back yard? . . . no doubt about the ones out front—they're the blue-jeaned scavenger in an after-school hunt through the annual trash piles . . . and all over town there's red-nosed sneezers just back from Easter vacations. Aaaaah, spring!

The Dayton Browns' Easter vacation in Florida was all fun and sun, without any late-blooming head colds to mar pleasant memories. The family returned together to 603 N. Forrest last Wednesday, but went to the sunshine state in sections. Mrs. Brown and Jill left here early this month and were joined a week later by Mr. Brown and their collegiate daughter, Cindy, just arrived from Denver. Cindy's back in Colorado now, Jill is back at the books here and all the Browns marvel sadly at how time flies.

MR. AND MRS. Albert Goeppinger, Terry and Cheryl returned to 416 S. Dale early last week from a Florida vacation they thought might never begin. Motoring to Palm Beach they found detours and bumper-to-bumper traffic, and lost Goeppinger's brother, George! George and family of Palatine, motoring in their own car, were to accompany the local Goeppingers all the way to Florida but there was an unintentional parting of the ways in Indianapolis. The two families didn't cross paths, detours or no-vacancy signs again until they reunited in Palm Beach.

Despite this hectic beginning, the vacation behaved itself beautifully and so did the weather from that point on. The return trip was calm and gave all the Goeppingers every opportunity to appreciate the spring - is - busting - out - all - over scenery along the way.

The Goeppinger girls showed off their Florida-tanned complexions Saturday evening at a bridal shower in Chicago, feting a family member-to-be, Miss Lynn Walter of Hoffman Estates. Miss Walter and the junior Albert Goeppinger will be married next month. Saturday's pre-nuptial party, a linen shower, was given by Miss Walter's aunt, Mrs. Rosemary Gordon.

THE JOSEPH BRODY family of Flatrock, Mich., left here Tuesday after an Easter visit with Mrs. Brody's sister and family, the Malvin Ryghs, 215 S. Donald.

Greg Muench, 124 S. Ridge, was 12 last Wednesday and celebrated by hosting a pair of local buddies to dinner and a few lines of bowling. Sharing the gala evening with the young man were Mike Walsh and Jack Ernst; sharing a big part of the birthday cake with Greg and the boys was his brother, Robert, who will be 3 tomorrow. At this writing there were no plans for another birthday celebration. Robert's pretty young for a party, Dad is a busy doctor whose plans have to stay flexible and, as Mom said, "Bobby ate enough birthday cake last week to hold him quite awhile."

MR. AND MRS. Wallace Bolte, 105 S. Walnut, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their Arpil 12 wedding date with a festive party in their home Saturday evening. Sixty friends and relatives extended congratulations to the host couple, several of the family members coming from Rockford for the happy event. Here from New Buffalo, Mich., for the party and a weekend stay with her children in Des Plaines was Mrs. Bolte's sister, Mrs. Minnie Benson.

The Elmer Schmidts, 1209 N. Dunton, were part of a family celebration Sunday, marking the 51st wedding anniversary of Mrs. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Havlik of Mount Prospect.

Atom Demonstration Talk For Sacred Heart Students

A demonstration lecture sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission on atomic energy and its uses will be presented at Sacred Heart of Mary High School Monday.

The program, titled "This Atomic World," is designed to acquaint students with the basic principles of nuclear energy, its sources and role in industry, agriculture and medicine.

Michael Grossman will present the assembly program which breaks down into student terms topics including the structure of atoms, radiation, reactors, and fusion. Grossman has completed extensive training at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., facilities of the Atomic Energy Commission. He is a graduate of Loyola University, Chicago, and holds a bachelor of science degree.

Specially designed electronic equipment is used during the 40-minute program to show such things as sources of radiation, how nuclear energy is harnessed to furnish electric power for cities, the use of radioisotopes to aid in diagnosis and treatment of diseases and to learn more about life processes.

A BLACKBOARD talk to science classes, which deals more specifically with such topics as atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology, and careers in nuclear science, follows the assembly.

The program is operated by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies which handles the nationwide exhibits program for the Atomic Energy Commission. The Institute is a unit of Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non-profit educational and research corporation of 40 southern colleges and universities.

The "This Atomic World" program scheduled here is one of ten similar units appearing daily at high schools throughout the country. They are part of the AEC's extensive traveling exhibit program designed to bring the public a greater understanding of atomic energy and its uses. (15 Y

Junior Great Books Group Tackles 'Treasure Island'

Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island" was discussed in depth by Junior Great Books members of South Junior High School, Arlington Heights, recently.

These sixth and seventh grade students have been participating in the Great Books program since last fall. An adventure in reading enrichment, this activity is sponsored by the PTA.

The children read selected classics on their own time and share these books in a round table discussion guided by two trained leaders.

The club will hold its final meeting of the school year Wednesday night, April 27, at the South Junior High cafeteria from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Parents and other interested persons are invited to attend and observe the group in action. The children will discuss Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Books," and achievement awards will be presented at the close of the meeting.

MRS. BRUNO WAARA and Mrs. Ted Seiler have been discussion leaders for this group this past year. Mrs. Elton Herrick and Mrs. Robert Frederick have been leading a similar group of eighth graders. New volunteer leaders are being enlisted and trained to expand the program for next year.

The leaders' function is to ask questions which encourage examination of the books. Through an exchange of views in discussion youngsters arrive at their own understanding of the selection, find that there may be more than one valid way of interpreting a work and gain new respect for the opinions of others.

"Children are so refreshing to work with in a discussion situation," explained Mrs. Waara and Mrs. Seiler, "as there are no 'right' or 'wrong' answers and they can express their opinions freely."

Atom Demonstration Talk For Sacred Heart Students

A demonstration lecture sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission on atomic energy and its uses will be presented at Sacred Heart of Mary High School Monday.

The program, titled "This Atomic World," is designed to acquaint students with the basic principles of nuclear energy, its sources and role in industry, agriculture and medicine.

Michael Grossman will present the assembly program which breaks down into student terms topics including the structure of atoms, radiation, reactors, and fusion. Grossman has completed extensive training at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., facilities of the Atomic Energy Commission. He is a graduate of Loyola University, Chicago, and holds a bachelor of science degree.

Specially designed electronic equipment is used during the 40-minute program to show such things as sources of radiation, how nuclear energy is harnessed to furnish electric power for cities, the use of radioisotopes to aid in diagnosis and treatment of diseases and to learn more about life processes.

A BLACKBOARD talk to science classes, which deals more specifically with such topics as atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology, and careers in nuclear science, follows the assembly.

The program is operated by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies which handles the nationwide exhibits program for the Atomic Energy Commission. The Institute is a unit of Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non-profit educational and research corporation of 40 southern colleges and universities.

The "This Atomic World" program scheduled here is one of ten similar units appearing daily at high schools throughout the country. They are part of the AEC's extensive traveling exhibit program designed to bring the public a greater understanding of atomic energy and its uses. (15 Y

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koeneman, 908 N. Fernandez were guests at Pheasant Run on April 16, at a dinner dance in honor of James Cullen.

THE DICK GOERS saw their first grandchild, Lisa Marie, when their son, Bill Bendix and his wife, Michele, brought her with them for a visit at 1417 W. Elm. They arrived April 7 from Kessler AFB, in Biloxi, Miss., where Bill is an electronics instructor, and will be here until the first week in May.

The Bill Grohs, 912 N. Chicago, had dinner on Easter with her sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larson and Mrs. Sarah Mauritzen in Chicago. Their daughter Susan's finance, Jack Romme, home from Vincennes University, was also a guest. En route, they stopped at his home, where the family met his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Romme, and his grandparents, Mrs. Romme and Mr. and Mrs. Raedel of Wonder Lake, Wis.

Jan and Duane Kroll recently entertained his nephew, Seaman John Bartley, when he stopped at 918 N. Chicago en route from Friendship, Wis., to San Diego, where he boarded ship.

BOB AND KATE Waymen held a dinner in honor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wayman's 49th wedding anniversary on April 13. Arriving at 924 N. Ridge to congratulate them were their daughters, Myrtle and her husband, LeRoy Weaver of Palatine, Joyce and her husband, John Tudeman of Arlington Heights and their grandsons and their wives. Bob and Karen Weaver of Des Plaines and Jim and Eileen Weaver of Palatine.

It was such a happy occasion, but there was sadness the following day. Neighbors offered their condolences, as Bob's father died in his sleep that night.

The Newman Cryers, 1007 N. Kennicott, had their son, Paul, home for a visit during Easter vacation of Northern Illinois University in De Kalb. They also enjoyed a week's visit with Dorothy's father, E. R. Allen of St. Clair Shores, Mich., recently.

The Les Schranks of 908 N. Ridge had a get acquainted get-together at their home, when their son, Lee, and his fiance, Doris, were home during Easter vacation of the University of Wisconsin. The guest list included Doris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Reno, Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pfluger of Chicago, her aunt, and uncle, the Otto Schumachers of Hayward, Wis., and the Schumachers' daughter, Mrs. Lynda Hendley of Des Plaines.

PAT AND JIM Kunnen were kept busy with houseguests at 1016 N. Fernandez recently. Pat's mother, Mrs. J. E. Maxwell of Muncie, Ind., and her grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Thompson of Delphi, Ind., arrived for a weekend visit. When Pat's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Koontz of St. Joseph, Mich., were in Chicago for a vacation, their three children were with the Kunnens for a week.

On Easter, the Kunnen family took time out to enjoy brunch at Old Orchard Country Club.

The week after Easter the Robert Korte family drove to Fremont, Neb., to visit his family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Korte, returning to 1011 N. Princeton on April 14.

FROM SHERWOOD

Genie Sundstrom was a golf widow for two weeks, while Ed was at Pinehurst in South Carolina with three friends. He returned April 8, in time to spend Easter with his family at 1011 Burgoyne Road.

The John Auld family spent Easter with John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Auld in Sawyer, Mich.

While Ted Carlsen and his son, Alan, stayed up north in their cottage, Bernie entertained at 1314 N. Harvard on Easter. Their son, Richard and his wife, Nancy, were there with their baby, Pammy Lynn, giving Bernie's mother, Mrs. I. J. Spurgeon, visiting from Austin, Tex., a chance to get acquainted with her great-granchild. (A

Campers' Target Is Roadside Litter

"Operation Clean Sweep," an effort at highway beautification, will be held this Sunday by the National Campers Hikers Association.

The Wheel Go Camping Club of Arlington Heights and the Sundowners Camp Club of Elk Grove Village are local members of the association and will team up to pick up litter along both sides of Higgins Road between Route 53 and Route 59.

PERSONS interested in helping in the local highway beautification effort Sunday may contact Henry E. Inselberger Jr., president of Wheel Go Camping Club (CL 5-0089), or Harry R. Mikkelsen, president of The undowners Camp Club, (HE 7-0238).

Attorney Will Negotiate for Library Site

Arlington Heights trustees Monday authorized the village attorney to negotiate for the purchase of land for the new library property and, if negotiations fail, to file condemnation proceedings.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson told trustees that the village would not file for condemnation of property for the new library unless it became absolutely necessary, but that the attorney felt he needed the backing of the resolution.

Hanson also indicated that the attorney would report back to the village board before filing any suits for condemnation. (A

Speak at Thomas PTA

Robert T. Campbell, assistant superintendent of schools for District 25, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of Arlington Heights' Thomas Junior High School PTA to be held in the school at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, April 26.

Entitled "Fact of the Matter," this talk will deal with Thomas Junior High's expansion program, and future growth patterns in Arlington Heights and their effect on education.

PTA officers will be installed.

Pack 266 Holds Pinewood Derby

Arlington Heights Cub Scout Pack 266 held its annual Pinewood Derby at this month's regular meeting April 15.

The derby consisted of downhill races between wooden model race cars built by the cubs and fathers.

FIRST PRIZE for the fastest car went to Chris Burkhardt, 941 N. Ridge. Steve Klein, 1003 N. Kennicott won second prize and Bruce Finger, 705 N. Kaspar, got third.

The award for the best looking car was won by Don Barnak, 916 N. Fernandez. Awards were presented by Cubmaster Don Holtz. (A

Ridge Park–Sherwood

The William Klabes entertained her sisters, Grace and Anne Busalachi of Chicago, on Easter at 1108 W. Northwest Hwy.

The Len Sundquist family was was in Silver Lake, Wis., at the home of her mother, Mrs. Arthur Behnke, for Easter, instead of at home at 804 N. Fernandez.

The Henry Bellitos, 833 N. Patton, spent a few days of Easter vacation at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton, where they enjoyed bowling, swimming and just relaxing.

The George Wojkiewiczs, 920 N. Ridge, were guests of George's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johannsen in Chicago, on Easter.

AFTER BETSY Anderson's confirmation at First Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights on Easter, her parents, Marcy and Ray, served brunch at 933 N. Harvard to other confirmants, Anita Huysmanns and her family, the Fred Huysmanns, and Marianna Maver and her family, the Thomas Mavers.

Jim and Gloria Ringel and family, 722 N. Ridge, were guests of Jim's family, the Henry Ringels in Milwaukee, on Easter.

The Robert Cummings family arrived home at 1115 W. Elm on Easter, after spending nine days on a trip in the east. In Washington, D. C., where the cherry blossoms were in full bloom, they visited among other things, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Congress, the White House and President Kennedy's grave.

Other stops included were Gettysburg, Philadelphia, New York, Niagara Falls and in Harrisburg, Pa., they visited former Ridge Park residents, the John Harvells.

The Francis Egan's daughter, Elaine, celebrated her fourth birthday April 12. Guests arriving at 910 N. Princeton for the event were Jordy Ridel, Michael and Bruce Ball of Clarendon Hills and Sandi Karkow of Yorkville.

THE CLIFFORD Harrises had out-of-town guests at 937 N. Patton for Easter. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brown of Council Bluffs, Iowa, arrived Saturday to attend confirmation services at First Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights on Easter, at which their grandson, Greg, was confirmed. After church the family and their guests had brunch at the Carousel Restaurant. In the evening, Greg's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Armour, were their guests. The Browns stayed on to visit until Wednesday.

The Richard Ekstrands, 914 N. Princeton, were joined by her father, Charles Bertschinger of Chicago, when they flew to St. Petersburg, Fla., for a vacation. From their base at North Reddington Beach, they kept busy by doing some deep sea fishing, catching almost 40 fish in one day, golfing, swimming and sightseeing. They visited the Ringling Bros. Circus in Saratoga, a porpoise show at the Aquatorium and the Busch Gardens. Other highlights of the trip were celebrating her father's birthday April 10 and Richard's, April 11.

BEVERLY AND John Galandak spent Easter with their family at 801 N. Patton. Sitting down at the table for the holiday dinner were their daughter and family, the Bob Petersens of Itasca, Beverly's sister and her family, the Bill Schuesslers of La Grange and their daughter and son-in-law, Karen and Ted Cazel of Chicago, and Mrs. Clara Larsen of Arlington Heights.

The Martin Klinkeys were in the audience when the Monmouth College Choir sang at the First Presbyterian Church recently, especially because their daughter, Janet, a junior at Monmouth, was in the choir. She was also home at 808 N. Ridge for Easter. Her father and brother were camping in Florida, near Tampa, and returned home on Easter, in time to see Janet. Besides camping, they saw an underwater show at Wichi-Wachi which Paul was invited to join.

The C. A. Klipperts, 1003 N. Fernandez, were guests of her sister-in-law, the Wesley Kentzels, for Easter dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koeneman, 908 N. Fernandez were guests at Pheasant Run on April 16, at a dinner dance in honor of James Cullen.

THE DICK GOERS saw their first grandchild, Lisa Marie, when their son, Bill Bendix and his wife, Michele, brought her with them for a visit at 1417 W. Elm. Notes from Arlington Acres

A welcome to Arlington Acres is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nelson, now at home at 412 S. Prindle, formerly the Thomas McNulty home. The Nelsons, Carol and Arnie, moved here from Chicago. He is with Mutual Trust Insurance in the Loop.

Although it was the Gust Hermansons, 437 S. Forrest, who were hosts to the Wendell Swenson family of Murray Hill, N. J., last weekend, they were forced to share their company with all of the neighbors who welcomed them back in their midst. Margaret and Lisa arrived Thursday from Duluth, where they were visiting Margaret's parents, and were joined here by Swede with Paul and Tommy, while Wendy was winding up the Easter vacation with a friend in Baltimore. The Swensons made many close friends before they moved from the area and were urged to make their next visit longer.

MR. AND MRS. Harold Schultz, 528 S. Waterman, returned last week from Bradenton, Fla., where they spent Easter with Norma's parents, the Rex Garretts of Windsor, Ill., who have a winter home there. The Schultzes were accompanied by their children, Connie, Janet and Stevie, who enjoyed the days spent on the beach as well as visits to Cypress Gardens, Jungle Gardens and the Aquatarium. For Mr. Schultz, a deep sea fishing excurstion disappointingly produced no more than a suntan and a day of relaxation.

A busy weekend for the Ken Knutsen family, 432 S. Prindle, started Friday evening, with a dinner in honor of Konnie's fifth birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Huber in Chicago.

The family party was followed on Saturday afternoon by friends, Scott Moller, Dean Briscoe, Frankie Gryzik, Alan Cerva, Debby May and Kelly Donovan. Party refreshments over, the guests joined in party games under the direction of Konni's sisters, Margi, Kristi and Kari.

SUNDAY EVENING Ken and Lynne enjoyed attending an unusual reunion, that of Lynne's class. The affair, held at the Golden Platter in Chicago, started with a cocktail hour, followed by dinner and an evening of dancing.

Lynne reports that many classmates came from out of state and the reunion was so well attended that plans are under way for another one in five years. The Knutsens have already set the date aside.

Three area couples, the L. Q. Yowells and the James Bradys of South Forrest and the Frank Jenkos of South Prindle, with the Bruce Cowans of Park Ridge, spent a most enjoyable Friday evening in Chicago. They had dinner at the Blackhawk and attended a performance of "Hello, Dolly." The Gust Hermansons, too, are members of the brige playing group which plans a periodic night out, but because of houseguests were unable to join the party, and the Jenkos attended in their place.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Keith Knudson, 413 S. Phelps, started celebrating his April 18 birthday at lunchtime Saturday, when he invited Tommy Busby, Mark Bayuk, Randy Fritz and Billy Stark to join him and his brother, Kevin, for a birthday lunch and an afternoon of games.

Before the excitement had time to wear off, Keith was honored at a family party Sunday evening, when close to two dozen guests, including grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wollschlaeger of Chicago, and a host of aunts, uncles and cousins were present to serenade Keith, when his mother carried in his "Batman" birthday cake.

The happy occasion celebrated by the Birthday Club Wednesday of last week was the April 8 birthday of Mrs. Burton Soderberg, 436 S. Phelps, and the locale was the home of Mrs. James Butkus, 429 S. Phelps. Although spring had not yet put in an appearance outdoors, indoors it had already arrived in Joan's decorating theme. Cake and coffee were served and Lorraine was presented with a gift.

Plans for a formal celebration of the April 17 birthday of Pat Beem were held up because Pat and a friend were engrossed in the completion of a science project for school. However, the project was finished in time for his grandparents, the Donald Rues of Mount Prospect, to join the family Sunday evening for cake and coffee.

Pat is the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beem, 412 S. Waterman.

LINDA RICHARDSON, daughter of the Howard Richardsons, 520 S. Phelps, chose to observe her 12th birthday by inviting a close friend, Nancy Roman of Mount Prospect, to have dinner with them and to stay over Friday night. Most of the evening the girls spent in a favorite pastime, playing records.

Another area 12-year-old, Jimmy Brady, 508 S. Forrest, was wished a happy birthday at a family dinner Saturday by his parents, Jim and Fawn, and brothers, David and Paul.

Best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dombrow, 428 S. Prindle, who were married 24 years April 18. A phone call from their son, Greg, at Ft. Sill, and a visit from Greg's fiancee, Marjorie Andrews, marked an otherwise quiet day. (A

Critic's Corner

Wild animals never kill for sport. Man is the only one to whom the torture and death of his fellow-creatures is amusing in itself. — James Anthony Froude.

Sortor to Chair Panel

Harold Sortor, president of Elementary District 25 school board, has been named to head a panel discussion at the National School Boards Association national meeting in Minneapolis Saturday through Tuesday.

Accompanying Sortor at the meeting will be District 25 board members Howard Sjogren, Theodore Seiler, Mrs. Marian Malcolmson and Supt. R. E. Clabaugh. They will be among about 8,000 school board members and superintendents from across the nation attending the meeting.

HIGHLIGHTING the featured speakers will be Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Also addressing the meeting will be Dr. Harold Howe, U. S. commissioner of education, Terry Sanford, director of study on American states at Duke University, and Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League.

The panel led by Sortor will probe the topic, "Evaluation of Instructional Personnel," before an expected audience of 215. Theme of the convention is "School Boards Chart a New Course." (A

HOW TO AVOID A PREMATURE DEATH

Medical researchers agree that excessive overeating, drinking and smoking are taking years off many people's lives. Constantly worrying and irregular hours all shorten the lives of many people.

If you can't stop a bad habit, they advise, give your body a chance for longer survival by consulting a physician at least once every year. He will examine your body and if he finds some developing trouble will help you try to correct it. And, you will be more successful if the diagnosis is early, before the problem becomes acute. We can cooperate by supplying any medication prescribed.

Notes from Arlington Acres

A welcome to Arlington Acres is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nelson, now at home at 412 S. Prindle, formerly the Thomas McNulty home. The Nelsons, Carol and Arnie, moved here from Chicago. He is with Mutual Trust Insurance in the Loop.

Although it was the Gust Hermansons, 437 S. Forrest, who were hosts to the Wendell Swenson family of Murray Hill, N. J., last weekend, they were forced to share their company with all of the neighbors who welcomed them back in their midst. Margaret and Lisa arrived Thursday from Duluth, where they were visiting Margaret's parents, and were joined here by Swede with Paul and Tommy, while Wendy was winding up the Easter vacation with a friend in Baltimore. The Swensons made many close friends before they moved from the area and were urged to make their next visit longer.

MR. AND MRS. Harold Schultz, 528 S. Waterman, returned last week from Bradenton, Fla., where they spent Easter with Norma's parents, the Rex Garretts of Windsor, Ill., who have a winter home there. The Schultzes were accompanied by their children, Connie, Janet and Stevie, who enjoyed the days spent on the beach as well as visits to Cypress Gardens, Jungle Gardens and the Aquatarium. For Mr. Schultz, a deep sea fishing excurstion disappointingly produced no more than a suntan and a day of relaxation.

A busy weekend for the Ken Knutsen family, 432 S. Prindle, started Friday evening, with a dinner in honor of Konnie's fifth birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Huber in Chicago.

The family party was followed on Saturday afternoon by friends, Scott Moller, Dean Briscoe, Frankie Gryzik, Alan Cerva, Debby May and Kelly Donovan. Party refreshments over, the guests joined in party games under the direction of Konni's sisters, Margi, Kristi and Kari.

SUNDAY EVENING Ken and Lynne enjoyed attending an unusual reunion, that of Lynne's class. The affair, held at the Golden Platter in Chicago, started with a cocktail hour, followed by dinner and an evening of dancing.

Lynne reports that many classmates came from out of state and the reunion was so well attended that plans are under way for another one in five years. The Knutsens have already set the date aside.

Three area couples, the L. Q. Yowells and the James Bradys of South Forrest and the Frank Jenkos of South Prindle, with the Bruce Cowans of Park Ridge, spent a most enjoyable Friday evening in Chicago. They had dinner at the Blackhawk and attended a performance of "Hello, Dolly." The Gust Hermansons, too, are members of the brige playing group which plans a periodic night out, but because of houseguests were unable to join the party, and the Jenkos attended in their place.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Keith Knudson, 413 S. Phelps, started celebrating his April 18 birthday at lunchtime Saturday, when he invited Tommy Busby, Mark Bayuk, Randy Fritz and Billy Stark to join him and his brother, Kevin, for a birthday lunch and an afternoon of games.

Before the excitement had time to wear off, Keith was honored at a family party Sunday evening, when close to two dozen guests, including grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wollschlaeger of Chicago, and a host of aunts, uncles and cousins were present to serenade Keith, when his mother carried in his "Batman" birthday cake.

The happy occasion celebrated by the Birthday Club Wednesday of last week was the April 8 birthday of Mrs. Burton Soderberg, 436 S. Phelps, and the locale was the home of Mrs. James Butkus, 429 S. Phelps. Although spring had not yet put in an appearance outdoors, indoors it had already arrived in Joan's decorating theme. Cake and coffee were served and Lorraine was presented with a gift.

Plans for a formal celebration of the April 17 birthday of Pat Beem were held up because Pat and a friend were engrossed in the completion of a science project for school. However, the project was finished in time for his grandparents, the Donald Rues of Mount Prospect, to join the family Sunday evening for cake and coffee.

Pat is the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beem, 412 S. Waterman.

LINDA RICHARDSON, daughter of the Howard Richardsons, 520 S. Phelps, chose to observe her 12th birthday by inviting a close friend, Nancy Roman of Mount Prospect, to have dinner with them and to stay over Friday night. Most of the evening the girls spent in a favorite pastime, playing records.

Another area 12-year-old, Jimmy Brady, 508 S. Forrest, was wished a happy birthday at a family dinner Saturday by his parents, Jim and Fawn, and brothers, David and Paul.

Best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dombrow, 428 S. Prindle, who were married 24 years April 18. A phone call from their son, Greg, at Ft. Sill, and a visit from Greg's fiancee, Marjorie Andrews, marked an otherwise quiet day. (A

Sortor to Chair Panel

Harold Sortor, president of Elementary District 25 school board, has been named to head a panel discussion at the National School Boards Association national meeting in Minneapolis Saturday through Tuesday.

Accompanying Sortor at the meeting will be District 25 board members Howard Sjogren, Theodore Seiler, Mrs. Marian Malcolmson and Supt. R. E. Clabaugh. They will be among about 8,000 school board members and superintendents from across the nation attending the meeting.

HIGHLIGHTING the featured speakers will be Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Also addressing the meeting will be Dr. Harold Howe, U. S. commissioner of education, Terry Sanford, director of study on American states at Duke University, and Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League.

The panel led by Sortor will probe the topic, "Evaluation of Instructional Personnel," before an expected audience of 215. Theme of the convention is "School Boards Chart a New Course." (A Signed this .... day of ...., 19........

(If applicant is a corporation, show office held by person signing)

License period from .... to ....

4.08.020—Person subject to license

Whenever in this code a license is required for the maintenance, operation or conduct of any business or establishment, or for doing business of engaging in any activity or occupation, any person or corporation shall be subject to the requirement, if by himself or through an agent, employee or partner, he holds himself forth as being engaged in the business or occupation; or solicits patronage therefor, actively or passively; or performs or attempts to perform any part of such business or occupation in the Village.

4.08.030—Forms

Forms for all licenses and permits, and applications therefor, shall be prepared and kept on file by the Village Clerk.

4.08.040—Signatures

Each license or permit issued shall bear the signatures of the President and the Village Clerk in the absence of any provision to the contrary.

4.08.050—Investigations

Upon the receipt of an application for a license or permit where ordinances of the Village necessitate an inspection or investigation before the issuance of such permit or license, the Village Clerk shall refer such application to the proper officer for making such investigation within forty-eight hours of the time of such receipt. The officer charged with the duty of making the investigation or inspection shall make a written report thereon, favorable or otherwise within ten (10) days after receiving the application or a copy thereof. The health officer shall make or cause to be made an inspection in regard to such licenses in the connection of the care and handling of food and the preventing of nuisances and the spread of disease for the protection of health; the building inspector shall make or cause to be made any inspections relative to the construction of buildings or other structures and the Fire Inspector shall make any inspections necessary to assure compliance with the local and State fire regulations. All other investigations, except where otherwise provided, shall be made by the Chief of Police or by some other Village Employee designated by the President.

4.08.060—Fees

In the absence of provision to the contrary, all fees and charges for licenses or permits shall be paid in advance at the time application therefor is made to the Village Clerk. When application for an annual license is made after the expiration of six months of the current license year, the license shall be issued for the remainder of the year upon the payment of half the license fee.

4.08.070—Termination of License

All annual licenses shall terminate on the last day of the fiscal year of the Village where they are issued, where no provision to the contrary is made. The Village Clerk shall mail to all licensees of the Village a statement of the time of expiration of the license held by the licensee, if an annual, three weeks prior to the date of such expiration. Provided, that a failure to send out such notice or the failure of the licensee to receive it shall not excuse the licensee from a failure to obtain a new license, or a renewal thereof, nor shall it be a defense in an action for operation without a license.

4.08.080—Building and premises

No license shall be issued for the conduct of any business, and no permit shall be issued for anything or act, if the premises and building to be used for the purpose do not fully comply with the requirements of the Village. No such license or permit shall be issued for the conduct of any business or performance of any act which would involve a violation of the zoning ordinance of the Village.

4.08.090—Change of location

The location of any licensed business or occupation, except liquor licenses, or of any permitted act, may be changed, provided, ten days' notice thereof is given to the Village Clerk, in the absence of any provision to the contrary; provided, that the building and zoning requirements of the ordinances have been complied with in their entirety.

4.08.100—Nuisances

No business, licensed or not, shall be so conducted or operated as to amount to a nuisance in fact.

4.08.110—Inspections

Whenever inspections of the premises used for or in connection with the operation of a licensed business or occupation are provided for or required by ordinance, or are reasonably necessary to secure compliance with any ordinance provision or to detect violations thereof, it shall be the duty of the licensee, or the person in charge of the premises to be inspected, to admit thereto for the purpose of making the inspection any officer or employee of the Village who is authorized or directed to make such inspection at any reasonable time that admission is requested.

Whenever an analysis of any commodity or material is reasonably necessary to secure conformance with any ordinance provision or to detect violations thereof, it shall be the duty of the licensee of the municipality whose business is governed by such provision to give to any authorized officer or employee of the Village requesting the same, sufficient samples of such analysis upon request.

In addition to any other penalty which may be provided, the president may revoke the license of any licensed proprietor of any licensed business in the Village who wrongfully refuses to permit any such officer or employee who is authorized to make such inspection or take such sample to make the inspection, or take an adequate sample of the said commodity, or who interferred with such officer or employee while in the performance of his duty in making such inspection. Provided, that no license shall be revoked for such cause unless written demand is made upon the licensee or person in charge of the premises, in the name of the Village, stating that such inspection or sample is desired at the time it is sought to make the inspection or obtain the sample and copies of reports noting violations shall be sent to the licensee by the reporting officer.

4.08.120—Revocation

Any license or permit for a limited time may be revoked by the President and Board of Trustees at any time during the life of such license or permit for any violation by the licensee or permittee of the ordinance provisions relating to the license or permit, the subject matter of the license or permit, or to the premises occupied; such revocation may be in addition to any fine imposed after due notice and a public hearing.

4.08.130—Posting License

It shall be the duty of any person conducting a licensed business in the Village to keep his license posted in a prominent place of the premises used for such business at all times.

4.08.140—License Fees required

It shall be unlawful to operate, use or permit the use of any business or vehicle herein operated in the Village without first having obtained a license from the Village Clerk. The business or vehicle and the annual license fee required are as hereinafter set forth in this chapter. A business license fee shall be required for each classification of business operated upon or from each premise.

4.08.150—Fees

The annual fee for the various classifications of licenses shall be as follows:

4.08.020—Person subject to license

Whenever in this code a license is required for the maintenance, operation or conduct of any business or establishment, or for doing business of engaging in any activity or occupation, any person or corporation shall be subject to the requirement, if by himself or through an agent, employee or partner, he holds himself forth as being engaged in the business or occupation; or solicits patronage therefor, actively or passively; or performs or attempts to perform any part of such business or occupation in the Village.

4.08.030—Forms

Forms for all licenses and permits, and applications therefor, shall be prepared and kept on file by the Village Clerk.

4.08.040—Signatures

Each license or permit issued shall bear the signatures of the President and the Village Clerk in the absence of any provision to the contrary.

4.08.050—Investigations

Upon the receipt of an application for a license or permit where ordinances of the Village necessitate an inspection or investigation before the issuance of such permit or license, the Village Clerk shall refer such application to the proper officer for making such investigation within forty-eight hours of the time of such receipt. The officer charged with the duty of making the investigation or inspection shall make a written report thereon, favorable or otherwise within ten (10) days after receiving the application or a copy thereof. The health officer shall make or cause to be made an inspection in regard to such licenses in the connection of the care and handling of food and the preventing of nuisances and the spread of disease for the protection of health; the building inspector shall make or cause to be made any inspections relative to the construction of buildings or other structures and the Fire Inspector shall make any inspections necessary to assure compliance with the local and State fire regulations. All other investigations, except where otherwise provided, shall be made by the Chief of Police or by some other Village Employee designated by the President.

4.08.060—Fees

In the absence of provision to the contrary, all fees and charges for licenses or permits shall be paid in advance at the time application therefor is made to the Village Clerk. When application for an annual license is made after the expiration of six months of the current license year, the license shall be issued for the remainder of the year upon the payment of half the license fee.

4.08.070—Termination of License

All annual licenses shall terminate on the last day of the fiscal year of the Village where they are issued, where no provision to the contrary is made. The Village Clerk shall mail to all licensees of the Village a statement of the time of expiration of the license held by the licensee, if an annual, three weeks prior to the date of such expiration. Provided, that a failure to send out such notice or the failure of the licensee to receive it shall not excuse the licensee from a failure to obtain a new license, or a renewal thereof, nor shall it be a defense in an action for operation without a license.

4.08.080—Building and premises

No license shall be issued for the conduct of any business, and no permit shall be issued for anything or act, if the premises and building to be used for the purpose do not fully comply with the requirements of the Village. No such license or permit shall be issued for the conduct of any business or performance of any act which would involve a violation of the zoning ordinance of the Village.

4.08.090—Change of location

The location of any licensed business or occupation, except liquor licenses, or of any permitted act, may be changed, provided, ten days' notice thereof is given to the Village Clerk, in the absence of any provision to the contrary; provided, that the building and zoning requirements of the ordinances have been complied with in their entirety.

4.08.100—Nuisances

No business, licensed or not, shall be so conducted or operated as to amount to a nuisance in fact.

4.08.110—Inspections

Whenever inspections of the premises used for or in connection with the operation of a licensed business or occupation are provided for or required by ordinance, or are reasonably necessary to secure compliance with any ordinance provision or to detect violations thereof, it shall be the duty of the licensee, or the person in charge of the premises to be inspected, to admit thereto for the purpose of making the inspection any officer or employee of the Village who is authorized or directed to make such inspection at any reasonable time that admission is requested.

Whenever an analysis of any commodity or material is reasonably necessary to secure conformance with any ordinance provision or to detect violations thereof, it shall be the duty of the licensee of the municipality whose business is governed by such provision to give to any authorized officer or employee of the Village requesting the same, sufficient samples of such analysis upon request.

In addition to any other penalty which may be provided, the president may revoke the license of any licensed proprietor of any licensed business in the Village who wrongfully refuses to permit any such officer or employee who is authorized to make such inspection or take such sample to make the inspection, or take an adequate sample of the said commodity, or who interferred with such officer or employee while in the performance of his duty in making such inspection. Provided, that no license shall be revoked for such cause unless written demand is made upon the licensee or person in charge of the premises, in the name of the Village, stating that such inspection or sample is desired at the time it is sought to make the inspection or obtain the sample and copies of reports noting violations shall be sent to the licensee by the reporting officer.

4.08.120—Revocation

Any license or permit for a limited time may be revoked by the President and Board of Trustees at any time during the life of such license or permit for any violation by the licensee or permittee of the ordinance provisions relating to the license or permit, the subject matter of the license or permit, or to the premises occupied; such revocation may be in addition to any fine imposed after due notice and a public hearing.

4.08.130—Posting License

It shall be the duty of any person conducting a licensed business in the Village to keep his license posted in a prominent place of the premises used for such business at all times.

4.08.140—License Fees required

It shall be unlawful to operate, use or permit the use of any business or vehicle herein operated in the Village without first having obtained a license from the Village Clerk. The business or vehicle and the annual license fee required are as hereinafter set forth in this chapter. A business license fee shall be required for each classification of business operated upon or from each premise.

School Bus Service Takes Some Lumps

Mrs. Leah Cummins, chairing a committee-of-the-whole meeting Monday night, reiterated her stand that there is something "very wrong" with the transportation set-up in High School District 214."

"People say that there is apparently dishonesty, incompetency or disinterest" in bus operations she went on. "If these things are involved, we should bring them out and clean them up."

THE QUALITY of Cook County Bus Co. service has been a question in the district for some months. Mrs. Cummins has charged the company is not living up to the contract, particularly in the area of credit adjustments for service not rendered.

At Monday's meeting she cited again a paragraph in the contract calling for a refund of "$12.50 for each bus run" not provided. This has been variously interpreted as meaning each bus that started late in the afternoon, that finished late in the morning, that operated only half a day or that didn't operate at all.

Until recently, the bus company had not supplied a full complement of busses to the district.

MRS. CUMMINS was tipped off to this by an anonymous caller. The situation has since been remedied.

Mrs. Cummins also questioned Monday why Business Mgr. Frank Coleman has only signed one tax exemption certificate for the school gasoline. She claimed a certificate should be signed each time a gasoline delivery is made or tires are purchased for the busses.

SUPERVISORS at the bus operation headquarters, paid by the school district, had been recommended, but Mrs. Cummins claimed they should not be necessary. "If the suppliers are educated as to how the high school district does business we shouldn't need monitors," she said.

School board attorneys, Mrs. Cummins said, protested her questions when she asked for an explanation of the bus contract. One attorney claimed that he was "wrestling" with the problem right now and another said that it had been "dumped in my lap" two weeks ago.

Mrs. Cummins asked why had it been dumped in his lap only two weeks ago when the contract had been in effect since September, after attorneys had "looked it over."

IN DEFENSE of the attorney, school board Pres. Hal Armstrong asserted that a lawyer should have an opportunity to research his answers first.

Produced at the meeting was a letter from the law firm stating that the contract could not be voided for non-performance because the bus company was now operating up to the contractual agreement. The school district might claim monetary damages but, according to the letter, this would be almost impossible to compute because of the bookkeeping procedures used.

Breaking the contract didn't seem necessary, Mrs. Cummins said.

SHE RECOMMENDED instead that the school board demand that the contract be met, that school gasoline be used only in school busses and that better records be maintained.

She also recommended that the business manager have some help, perhaps a purchasing agent and a transportation supervisor, citing a nearby elementary school district which has a business manager, a purchasing agent, and a principal functioning as transportation manager.

"After all, she said, "Frank can't do everything."

As a further check, she recommended that other bus companies be contacted and asked if they could provide service to the new Elk Grove High School.

Church Offices Burglarized Again

Officers of the St. Peter Lutheran Church, 111 W. Olive St., Arlington Heights, were burglarized for the third time in six weeks Monday night.

According to police, an estimated $1,500 to $2,000 in cash and checks was believed stolen from a file safe which was broken into in the school secretary's office.

The burglary was reported Monday morning by Ralph Taege, custodian of the building.

INVESTIGATING police said they found the building had been broken into from the west side at the ground level.

On the level where the school and church offices are located, rooms had been entered by breaking four-by-four inch window panes. About $16 in change was taken from the church secretary's office and papers were strewn on the floor.

Police said other rooms were broken into and disarranged but nothing else was taken.

Arlington Heights police arrested Walter J. Milke, 19-year-old McHenry youth on charges of burglary at the church on March 13 and April 10.

His case has been continued in Arlington Heights branch of the Circuit Court until May 16. (A

Oakton-State Traffic Signals Coming Soon

Another set of traffic signals is scheduled for installation on Arlington Heights Road this spring, this one at Oakton Street.

Bids for the installation of the signals will be opened in the village manager's office at 10 a.m. May 12. In the past year, the village has installed signals along the thoroughfare at Euclid, Miner and Sigwalt streets as well as at Northwest Highway and Kensington Road, using motor fuel tax funds.

Car Radio Taken At Auto Dealer

School Bus Service Takes Some Lumps

Mrs. Leah Cummins, chairing a committee-of-the-whole meeting Monday night, reiterated her stand that there is something "very wrong" with the transportation set-up in High School District 214."

"People say that there is apparently dishonesty, incompetency or disinterest" in bus operations she went on. "If these things are involved, we should bring them out and clean them up."

THE QUALITY of Cook County Bus Co. service has been a question in the district for some months. Mrs. Cummins has charged the company is not living up to the contract, particularly in the area of credit adjustments for service not rendered.

At Monday's meeting she cited again a paragraph in the contract calling for a refund of "$12.50 for each bus run" not provided. This has been variously interpreted as meaning each bus that started late in the afternoon, that finished late in the morning, that operated only half a day or that didn't operate at all.

Until recently, the bus company had not supplied a full complement of busses to the district.

MRS. CUMMINS was tipped off to this by an anonymous caller. The situation has since been remedied.

Mrs. Cummins also questioned Monday why Business Mgr. Frank Coleman has only signed one tax exemption certificate for the school gasoline. She claimed a certificate should be signed each time a gasoline delivery is made or tires are purchased for the busses.

SUPERVISORS at the bus operation headquarters, paid by the school district, had been recommended, but Mrs. Cummins claimed they should not be necessary. "If the suppliers are educated as to how the high school district does business we shouldn't need monitors," she said.

School board attorneys, Mrs. Cummins said, protested her questions when she asked for an explanation of the bus contract. One attorney claimed that he was "wrestling" with the problem right now and another said that it had been "dumped in my lap" two weeks ago.

Mrs. Cummins asked why had it been dumped in his lap only two weeks ago when the contract had been in effect since September, after attorneys had "looked it over."

IN DEFENSE of the attorney, school board Pres. Hal Armstrong asserted that a lawyer should have an opportunity to research his answers first.

Produced at the meeting was a letter from the law firm stating that the contract could not be voided for non-performance because the bus company was now operating up to the contractual agreement. The school district might claim monetary damages but, according to the letter, this would be almost impossible to compute because of the bookkeeping procedures used.

Breaking the contract didn't seem necessary, Mrs. Cummins said.

SHE RECOMMENDED instead that the school board demand that the contract be met, that school gasoline be used only in school busses and that better records be maintained.

She also recommended that the business manager have some help, perhaps a purchasing agent and a transportation supervisor, citing a nearby elementary school district which has a business manager, a purchasing agent, and a principal functioning as transportation manager.

"After all, she said, "Frank can't do everything."

As a further check, she recommended that other bus companies be contacted and asked if they could provide service to the new Elk Grove High School.

Church Offices Burglarized Again

Officers of the St. Peter Lutheran Church, 111 W. Olive St., Arlington Heights, were burglarized for the third time in six weeks Monday night.

According to police, an estimated $1,500 to $2,000 in cash and checks was believed stolen from a file safe which was broken into in the school secretary's office.

The burglary was reported Monday morning by Ralph Taege, custodian of the building.

INVESTIGATING police said they found the building had been broken into from the west side at the ground level.

On the level where the school and church offices are located, rooms had been entered by breaking four-by-four inch window panes. About $16 in change was taken from the church secretary's office and papers were strewn on the floor.

Police said other rooms were broken into and disarranged but nothing else was taken.

Arlington Heights police arrested Walter J. Milke, 19-year-old McHenry youth on charges of burglary at the church on March 13 and April 10.

His case has been continued in Arlington Heights branch of the Circuit Court until May 16. (A

YOUR TAX BILL

BY P. J. CULLERTON
COOK COUNTY ASSESSOR

What is the assessor's role in determining the real estate tax bill?

First, let us make it clear that the total amount of taxes to be collected is determined by the taxing bodies in each district. Each decides how much revenue it needs to provide the services requested by its constituents.

The tax rate is determined by dividing the total amount of revenue required by the total valuation of the property in the district. It is the assessor's function to place a valuation on the property for tax purposes so that the burden of the cost of local government falls fairly and equitably on each parcel of property. More accurately, therefore—as we mentioned in the first article—the assessor might be called an appraiser.

THOUGH THE statute says property should be assessed at fair market value, this is not the main concern of the assessor. His primary aim is to make sure that every parcel is appraised at the same level. If this goal is achieved—and we make every effort to do so—then every property owner will be billed for his fair share of the cost of government.

Appraisals are not set at 30 or 50 per cent of market value, for example, purposely. This may occur because with over 1,200,000 parcels of property to appraise in the county it is impossible to keep up with rising or falling of market values. What is important is that the appraisal of each parcel be "fair and equitable," on the same level. Then each property owner, as we mentioned above, will pay his "fair share" of the tax burden.

So how does the assessor make sure that each parcel of property is assessed "fairly and equitably?"

When a new home is built, a copy of the building permit is transmitted to the assessor's office. It is identified by a permanent real estate index number and grouped according to the township in which the parcel is located. It is this index number that appears on the tax bill.

ONE OF THE assessor's field appraisers visits the new property to obtain all information needed for valuation. He then turns this data back into the office where the actual valuation is determined. Approxiproximately 60,000 to 70,000 building permits are received by the assessor each year.

Buildings and land are valued separately.

The building is measured and the square foot area computed. A unit price is determined according to size, type and features of construction. The unit price is then multipled by the number of square feet. The figure obtained is known as the assessor's basic cost of the building. Thus it will be seen that the important factors in this process are the area of the building and the unit price.

The unit price depends on the type of building and is set by reference to the "Assessor's Manual." In it are found scores of combinations of construction types and features, and their relative values. The field man's work is carefully supervised and his determination must be in accord with the "Assessor's Manual." This guarantees uniformity for all taxpayers.

THE "ASSESSOR'S Manual" is revised from time to time after lengthy consultation with representatives of all segments of the community such as builders, architects, realtors, appraisers, mortgage houses and any other interested parties. It is the product of all the best real estate, government and technical talent that can be secured, and is designed to reflect the "real" costs which go into a building.

One more step before arriving at the assessed valuation is to take into account depreciation due to age on a systematic and equitable basis. In technical language this is called the "final condition factor."

The "final condition factor" works this way. The assessor's basic cost of the building is multiplied by a figure anywhere from 20 per cent to 90 per cent, depending upon the age of the building. These percentages are taken from a depreciation table, also prepared after consulation with groups of real estate and community leaders, and is revised periodically.

A NEWLY completed structure has a final condition factor of 90 per cent of basic cost. On the other hand, a house 72 years old or older, as long as it remains standing and occupied, will have a final condition factor of 20 per cent of basic cost. Thus, as buildings get older the assessed valuation is reduced to compensate for average wear and tear. The average depreciation is one per cent per year — from 90 to 20 per cent in 70 years, assuming the building is still standing and occupied.

Now for an example:

Assume we have a newly completed home of 1,200 square feet, constructed of brick and having a combination of construction features and accessories which would produce, after checking through the manual a unit price of $5 per square foot.

The basic cost would be $6,000 (1200 square feet x the unit price per square foot of $5). Taking 90 per cent (final condition factor for a building one year old or less) of $6,000 would reduce the final assessed valuation to $5,400. If the same house were 38 years old it would have a final condition factor of 58 per cent and an assessed valuation of $3,480.

LAND VALUATIONS are prepared by experts of long experience in the field. Each township is carefully studied by these experts, who also hold consultations with local public representatives. The conclusions are recorded on official land maps which cover every parcel of real estate in Cook county and are available for public inspection as are all of the public records under control of the assessor.

Values vary from several thousand dollars per front foot in downtown Chicago to as little as $10 a front foot in some of the unincorporated residential areas of the county. Many factors are taken into consideration such as presence or absence of utilities zoning, access to transportation and even the condition of the ground and substratum.

In order to keep up with changing values, state law provides that property be inspected and appraised every four years. This is called the quadrennial re-assessment which is published when each township is completed. To spread the work load a portion of the townships are covered each year. There are eight townships in Chicago alone and 30 outside of the city.

A SOMETIMES confusing part of the taxing process is the state equalization factor introduced by the state department of revenue. It is required by law in an effort to equalize, as between all the various counties of the state, the percentage that assessed valuation for tax purposes bears to actual dollar market value of the property.

The assessor in each county has tried to assess each property to make the tax bill equal based on value. The state equalization factor attempts to make all counties of the state equal to each other. It has no effect on the amount of property tax you pay.

Remember that the tax rate is found by dividing the revenue needed by the valuation of all property. The state factor affects all property equally thus makes no tax change on an individual piece of property.

Although the state factor has no effort on the tax you pay it is important to the state government in allocating state aid funds to counties.

It's Now Harper College

Junior College District 301's number is up.

The junior college board, tired of numerical identification, gave its two-year institution a name last week.

The name — William Rainey Harper College — was selected after weeks of wrangling among board members. The district institution's class one status. later this spring will receive a new number when the State Junior College Board gives final acknowledgement of the But to residents of the district the institution still will be called William Rainey Harper College.

HARPER WAS the first president of the University of Chicago. He is regarded as the father of the junior college movement.

At 14 he received his B.A. degree and five years later earned a Ph.D degree from Yale. He was named president of the University of Chicago at 34.

The board approved the name with a dissenting vote from member Paul O'Dea. O'Dea had been pushing for adoption of the name Adlai E. Stevenson College.

Commenting on the name selected, O'Dea said, "I don't think it has any relevance to the citizens of this community college district."

THE BOARD also voted to open the College in the fall of 1967. Classes would be conducted temporarily in High School District 214 facilities until the college could move to its permanent campus.

Dr. Robert P. Lahti, junior college president, said the high school facilities to be used will be decided on "after much research and discussion" with District 214 officials. (B10

Hanover GOP Exec. Board Endorses Three Candidates

Two incumbents and a newcomer were endorsed last week by the Hanover Township Regular Republican Organization's executive board.

They are Sen. John Graham, (R-Barrington), in a three way race for the GOP nomination for that post;

REP. EUGENE F. Schlickman, (R-Arlington Heights), an incumbent member of the Illinois House of Representatives, and Robert L. Hesse of Palatine, one of three other GOP hopefuls for two nominations to the Illinois house.

Graham is being opposed by Robert O. Atcher, Schaumburg village president, and William Davies, Streamwood attorney, a resident of Hanover Township.

The five-way battle for two house seats is being waged by Schlickman, Hesse, David J. Regner of Mount Prospect; William Means of Buffalo Grove and William Moore of

The Organization made the endorsement by a more than two-thirds vote as required by its by-laws.

COMMITTEEMAN Eugene Devitt said, "The reason for these endorsements is the precinct captains and organization officers feel they were the best qualified of the candidates interviewd."

The election is set for June 14. The township is one of eight represented in the newly formed 3rd house and senate district.

Other townships are Barrington, Palatine, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Wheeling, half of Northfield and a portion of Maine.

YOUR TAX BILL

BY P. J. CULLERTON
COOK COUNTY ASSESSOR

What is the assessor's role in determining the real estate tax bill?

First, let us make it clear that the total amount of taxes to be collected is determined by the taxing bodies in each district. Each decides how much revenue it needs to provide the services requested by its constituents.

The tax rate is determined by dividing the total amount of revenue required by the total valuation of the property in the district. It is the assessor's function to place a valuation on the property for tax purposes so that the burden of the cost of local government falls fairly and equitably on each parcel of property. More accurately, therefore—as we mentioned in the first article—the assessor might be called an appraiser.

THOUGH THE statute says property should be assessed at fair market value, this is not the main concern of the assessor. His primary aim is to make sure that every parcel is appraised at the same level. If this goal is achieved—and we make every effort to do so—then every property owner will be billed for his fair share of the cost of government.

Appraisals are not set at 30 or 50 per cent of market value, for example, purposely. This may occur because with over 1,200,000 parcels of property to appraise in the county it is impossible to keep up with rising or falling of market values. What is important is that the appraisal of each parcel be "fair and equitable," on the same level. Then each property owner, as we mentioned above, will pay his "fair share" of the tax burden.

So how does the assessor make sure that each parcel of property is assessed "fairly and equitably?"

When a new home is built, a copy of the building permit is transmitted to the assessor's office. It is identified by a permanent real estate index number and grouped according to the township in which the parcel is located. It is this index number that appears on the tax bill.

ONE OF THE assessor's field appraisers visits the new property to obtain all information needed for valuation. He then turns this data back into the office where the actual valuation is determined. Approxiproximately 60,000 to 70,000 building permits are received by the assessor each year.

Buildings and land are valued separately.

The building is measured and the square foot area computed. A unit price is determined according to size, type and features of construction. The unit price is then multipled by the number of square feet. The figure obtained is known as the assessor's basic cost of the building. Thus it will be seen that the important factors in this process are the area of the building and the unit price.

The unit price depends on the type of building and is set by reference to the "Assessor's Manual." In it are found scores of combinations of construction types and features, and their relative values. The field man's work is carefully supervised and his determination must be in accord with the "Assessor's Manual." This guarantees uniformity for all taxpayers.

THE "ASSESSOR'S Manual" is revised from time to time after lengthy consultation with representatives of all segments of the community such as builders, architects, realtors, appraisers, mortgage houses and any other interested parties. It is the product of all the best real estate, government and technical talent that can be secured, and is designed to reflect the "real" costs which go into a building.

One more step before arriving at the assessed valuation is to take into account depreciation due to age on a systematic and equitable basis. In technical language this is called the "final condition factor."

The "final condition factor" works this way. The assessor's basic cost of the building is multiplied by a figure anywhere from 20 per cent to 90 per cent, depending upon the age of the building. These percentages are taken from a depreciation table, also prepared after consulation with groups of real estate and community leaders, and is revised periodically.

A NEWLY completed structure has a final condition factor of 90 per cent of basic cost. On the other hand, a house 72 years old or older, as long as it remains standing and occupied, will have a final condition factor of 20 per cent of basic cost. Thus, as buildings get older the assessed valuation is reduced to compensate for average wear and tear. The average depreciation is one per cent per year — from 90 to 20 per cent in 70 years, assuming the building is still standing and occupied.

Now for an example:

Assume we have a newly completed home of 1,200 square feet, constructed of brick and having a combination of construction features and accessories which would produce, after checking through the manual a unit price of $5 per square foot.

The basic cost would be $6,000 (1200 square feet x the unit price per square foot of $5). Taking 90 per cent (final condition factor for a building one year old or less) of $6,000 would reduce the final assessed valuation to $5,400. If the same house were 38 years old it would have a final condition factor of 58 per cent and an assessed valuation of $3,480.

LAND VALUATIONS are prepared by experts of long experience in the field. Each township is carefully studied by these experts, who also hold consultations with local public representatives. The conclusions are recorded on official land maps which cover every parcel of real estate in Cook county and are available for public inspection as are all of the public records under control of the assessor.

Values vary from several thousand dollars per front foot in downtown Chicago to as little as $10 a front foot in some of the unincorporated residential areas of the county. Many factors are taken into consideration such as presence or absence of utilities zoning, access to transportation and even the condition of the ground and substratum.

In order to keep up with changing values, state law provides that property be inspected and appraised every four years. This is called the quadrennial re-assessment which is published when each township is completed. To spread the work load a portion of the townships are covered each year. There are eight townships in Chicago alone and 30 outside of the city.

A SOMETIMES confusing part of the taxing process is the state equalization factor introduced by the state department of revenue. It is required by law in an effort to equalize, as between all the various counties of the state, the percentage that assessed valuation for tax purposes bears to actual dollar market value of the property.

The assessor in each county has tried to assess each property to make the tax bill equal based on value. The state equalization factor attempts to make all counties of the state equal to each other. It has no effect on the amount of property tax you pay.

Remember that the tax rate is found by dividing the revenue needed by the valuation of all property. The state factor affects all property equally thus makes no tax change on an individual piece of property.

Although the state factor has no effort on the tax you pay it is important to the state government in allocating state aid funds to counties.

It's Now Harper College

Junior College District 301's number is up.

The junior college board, tired of numerical identification, gave its two-year institution a name last week.

The name — William Rainey Harper College — was selected after weeks of wrangling among board members. The district institution's class one status. later this spring will receive a new number when the State Junior College Board gives final acknowledgement of the But to residents of the district the institution still will be called William Rainey Harper College.

HARPER WAS the first president of the University of Chicago. He is regarded as the father of the junior college movement.

At 14 he received his B.A. degree and five years later earned a Ph.D degree from Yale. He was named president of the University of Chicago at 34.

The board approved the name with a dissenting vote from member Paul O'Dea. O'Dea had been pushing for adoption of the name Adlai E. Stevenson College.

Commenting on the name selected, O'Dea said, "I don't think it has any relevance to the citizens of this community college district."

THE BOARD also voted to open the College in the fall of 1967. Classes would be conducted temporarily in High School District 214 facilities until the college could move to its permanent campus.

Dr. Robert P. Lahti, junior college president, said the high school facilities to be used will be decided on "after much research and discussion" with District 214 officials. (B10

Hanover GOP Exec. Board Endorses Three Candidates

Two incumbents and a newcomer were endorsed last week by the Hanover Township Regular Republican Organization's executive board.

They are Sen. John Graham, (R-Barrington), in a three way race for the GOP nomination for that post;

REP. EUGENE F. Schlickman, (R-Arlington Heights), an incumbent member of the Illinois House of Representatives, and Robert L. Hesse of Palatine, one of three other GOP hopefuls for two nominations to the Illinois house.

Graham is being opposed by Robert O. Atcher, Schaumburg village president, and William Davies, Streamwood attorney, a resident of Hanover Township.

The five-way battle for two house seats is being waged by Schlickman, Hesse, David J. Regner of Mount Prospect; William Means of Buffalo Grove and William Moore of

The Organization made the endorsement by a more than two-thirds vote as required by its by-laws.

COMMITTEEMAN Eugene Devitt said, "The reason for these endorsements is the precinct captains and organization officers feel they were the best qualified of the candidates interviewd."

The election is set for June 14. The township is one of eight represented in the newly formed 3rd house and senate district.

Other townships are Barrington, Palatine, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Wheeling, half of Northfield and a portion of Maine.

Many thousands of dollars have been paid to professional planning firms for municipal development and redevelopment of area suburbs. Is it worth it?

This is a question village officials an dtaxpayers, who must bear at least part of an expensive planning bill, have been asking themselves. The federal government, through the Housing and Home Finance Administration, will pay for up to 66 per cent of planning costs.

Opinions differ on the value of professional planning. Some swear by it. Others swear about it.

Dan Congreve, Mount Prospect village president, explains his skepticism of professional planning stems from a 1958 comprehensive plan, costing more than $20,000, which never was adopted.

"JUST TO spend $20,000 to have some pretty pictures is a waste," he remarks.

The village has since hired Tec Search, Inc. for $20,000 to prepare a master plan which is scheduled for completion in November. Federal funds will help meet expenses.

"Essentially what a private planning firm does for a community," says Congreve, "is to give it a crutch to lean on." He claims the professionals' role is limited to putting down on paper the ideas already conceived by the plan commission.

Congreve is especially skeptical of downtown improvement plans. He maintains they are impractical because Mt. Prospect and most northwest suburbs are not ready for, nor do they need, urban renewal.

THE GREATEST need planners can help meet, he emphasizes, is the development of areas on community perimeters.

"I would think that the money could be better spent," concluded Congreve. "You need planning and you need experts but once you have some plan, I think a devoted citizens committee could do a much better job."

Elk Grove Village Trustee George Mullen leveled similar criticism, saying, "I think the biggest problem these fellows have is that they sell themselves for something they are not." Mullen says the complexity of planning problems is so great that it is tough for anyone to be an expert.

Elk Grove also has contracted Tec Search to prepare a comprehensive municipal plan for an estimated $27,000, again with federal help.

"THE THING that upsets me is the village boards and planners who accept what these guys say as gospel," continues Mullen. He agrees with criticism that too often professional planners merely put into writing concepts thought out by village leaders. Such service, he asserts, amounts to nothing more than that of a "high-priced stenographer."

Somewhat milder criticism is leveled by another Elk Grove trustee, Thomas Garrity.

"I think in an ideal situation, they serve a very useful purpose," he comments. But he quickly adds, "I'm not convinced in my own mind that their services are necessary in Elk Grove."

Basic planning should be done by the local community, Garrity recommends, with professionals serving as consultants "to keep abreast of current trends."

MOST CRITICS maintain that too often planners merely prepare designs. that are nothing more than a rehash of a plan used in another community.

An Arlington Heights plan commission member, who declined to be identified, regards such criticism as justifiable in some cases, but noted that plans used in other communities can be valuable to particular local needs. He said he considered the $30,000 downtown improvement plan now being prepared by Tec Search as good a job as done by any other firm.

The plan, for which the government is paying a $20,000 share, includes a thoroughfare plan recommending dramatic traffic flow improvements, such as depressing the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks.

But the plan commission member added, "I would say from what I have seen that it is not as original, not as fully documented, not as well researched as the 1959 plan." The older plan was a comprehensive project proposal prepared by planner Eugene Baughman.

"I CAN VERY easily say it isn't worth the $30,000," he explains. "But I think we have to consider that I or no one else can objectively answer that question. Who can know what benefit will be derived?" It is at least, he says, "a starting point."

Efforts by the professional are not without praise. Wilbert Nottke, Itasca village president, considers the $8,000 paid to Carl Gardner and Associates in 1959 well worth the comprehensive development plan the firm prepared.

"We have used this plan as a development authority," explains Nottke. Even the recently-approved Itasca "greenbelt" park plan is an outgrowth of the 1959 design, he explains.

But Nottke maintains that federal subsidies have encouraged planning firms to boost their fees. A plan today like the 1959 version, paid completely with local funds, would cost double or triple the $8,000 fee, he asserts.

A PROPOSAL to have the 1959 plan revised was scrapped because lowest estimates for the job were around $15,000, according to Nottke.

Also using older plans as basic municipal development guides are Palatine and Schaumburg. Schaumburg Village Pres. Robert O. Atcher explains that the bulk of a 1961 master plan was prepared by the local plan commission. The firm of Everett Kincaid and Associates, Inc. were retained in later stages of planning to add the finishing touches.

"Our principal need was to finalize the terminology of the plan," explains Atcher.

Palatine has based municipal development on a 1955 master plan. The village plan commission revised it in 1961. Thomas Moody, chairman of the plan commission, says the revised plan is a good one. Both villages paid for their plans with local funds.

MATTHEW ROCKWELL, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission and once a private planner, blames communities for much of the alleged inadequacy of municipal plans. The planner, stresses Rockwell, should be given the same professional independence enjoyd by a doctor or lawyr. If a community already has conceived a master plan and claims to know exactly how to go about implementing it, what need is there for the professional, Rockwell asks?

"If you're buying a rubber stamp," he warns, "don't waste your money." Planning is a job requiring continuous updating and revision, continues Rockwell.

"I don't think a nickel of public money should be spent unless the community wants a continuing service," he emphasizes. By the time a final plan comes back from the printer, there already are changes that will have to be made, according to Rockwell.

But Rockwell maintains that municipal planning is not making the professionals rich. "From the planners' point of view, doing a comprehensive plan can never be a lucrative field," he remarks.

ROLF CAMPBELL, assistant vice president of Tec Search, Inc., also defended planning firm fees.

"Yes, the fees have gone up," admits Campbell, "But they have gone up because planning has become more complicated and because planners are doing a better job." He noted that planning requires more education than ever before.

Campbell admitted that much of the criticism of planners is justified. He himself criticized the practice of formulating a plan without any guidelines for its implementation.

But he adds, "You're going to have different qualities of planners as in any profession." Campbell stresses that a good planner will lay most importance to his role as a consultant in implementing his product.

ASKED IF professional planning was worth money, Campbell replied, "Every dollar spent is going to be returned to the community ten-fold."

Donald LaVine, manager of Carl L. Gardner and Associates, claims the availability of federal funds has not pushed up planning prices. Rather, he says, strict federal controls have kept costs down.

Much of the criticism of planners stems from the public's misconception that the professionals are the answer to all its development problems, according to LaVine. (A15

4-H Members Put on 24 Demonstrations

Twenty-four northwest suburban 4-H Club members presented demonstrations at the county level contest held last week in Arlington Heights. The judge was Dalton Gray, a member of the University of Illinois cooperative extension service staff from Chicago.

Three demonstrations received excellent ratings. They were presented by Steve Levean, Roselle, "How to Graft Apples;" Keith Heyen, Mount Prospect, "How to Transplant;" Tim Cantwell, Barrington, "The Principles of a 4-Cycle Engine."

Thirteen demonstrations were rated good. They were: Laura Graf and Margaret Huff, Palatine, "How to Wash a Saddle;" Larry Larson and Brian DeKoatz, Mount Prospect, "Outdoor Lighting;" Tom Frey, Palatine, "Making a Rock Garden;" Beverly Levan, Roselle, "How to Make a Terrarium;" Theresa Burns, Wheeling, "How and Why to Train a Dog;" Hugh Frey, Palatine, "How to Prune a Tree;" Chris Lonze, Palatine, "Rabbit Raising;"

Kay Weber, Arlington Heights, "Proper Care of a Dog;" Gail Huenerberg, Elgin, "Transplanting a Plant;" Phyllis Frey, Palatine, "Growing Annuals;" Charles Huff, Palatine, "The Bridle;" Connie Brown, Rolling Meadows, "Grooming Your Dog;" Jeffry Trochuck, Mount Prospect, "How to Seed a Flat."

Fair ratings were awarded to eight demonstrations presented by: Mark Ewald, Palatine, "How to Identify a Rock or Mineral;" Richard Reese, Roselle, "How to Shoot a Bow;" Kathy Senne, Palatine, "Health;" Ted Frey, Palatine, "Laying Out a Vegetable Garden;" Laurelle Lonze, Palatine, "Egg Candling;" Jim Blechl, Mount Prospect, "Tools and Care of Tools;" Linda Senne, Palatine, "How to Plant Vegetables;" Eddie Senne, Palatine, "Gladiola Bulbs." 8 Men Finish Police Course At Night School

Eight area policemen have completed a basic police science course offered through the adult evening school at Maine West Township High School.

They are Palatine officers Stan Korbal, Raymond Smyk, Terry Watson, Norman Beacham and John Setzer, and policemen Ronald Schilke, William Lucansky and Raymond Cox of Glendale Heights. The course was offered to first and second year officers of various suburban police departments, and covered a period of 10 weeks.

William J. Overman, 164 Hillcrest Court, Hoffman Estates, headed the sessions, which covered public relations, departmental discipline, basic patrol, communications, laboratory aids, fundamentals of investigation, arrest, search and seizure, and crowd control and mob tactics.

Overman, for 10 years a special agent of the FBI, is currently polygraph examiner for Central Watch Service of Chicago. (A-15

The plan, for which the government is paying a $20,000 share, includes a thoroughfare plan recommending dramatic traffic flow improvements, such as depressing the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks.

But the plan commission member added, "I would say from what I have seen that it is not as original, not as fully documented, not as well researched as the 1959 plan." The older plan was a comprehensive project proposal prepared by planner Eugene Baughman.

"I CAN VERY easily say it isn't worth the $30,000," he explains. "But I think we have to consider that I or no one else can objectively answer that question. Who can know what benefit will be derived?" It is at least, he says, "a starting point."

Efforts by the professional are not without praise. Wilbert Nottke, Itasca village president, considers the $8,000 paid to Carl Gardner and Associates in 1959 well worth the comprehensive development plan the firm prepared.

"We have used this plan as a development authority," explains Nottke. Even the recently-approved Itasca "greenbelt" park plan is an outgrowth of the 1959 design, he explains.

But Nottke maintains that federal subsidies have encouraged planning firms to boost their fees. A plan today like the 1959 version, paid completely with local funds, would cost double or triple the $8,000 fee, he asserts.

A PROPOSAL to have the 1959 plan revised was scrapped because lowest estimates for the job were around $15,000, according to Nottke.

Also using older plans as basic municipal development guides are Palatine and Schaumburg. Schaumburg Village Pres. Robert O. Atcher explains that the bulk of a 1961 master plan was prepared by the local plan commission. The firm of Everett Kincaid and Associates, Inc. were retained in later stages of planning to add the finishing touches.

"Our principal need was to finalize the terminology of the plan," explains Atcher.

Palatine has based municipal development on a 1955 master plan. The village plan commission revised it in 1961. Thomas Moody, chairman of the plan commission, says the revised plan is a good one. Both villages paid for their plans with local funds.

MATTHEW ROCKWELL, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission and once a private planner, blames communities for much of the alleged inadequacy of municipal plans. The planner, stresses Rockwell, should be given the same professional independence enjoyd by a doctor or lawyr. If a community already has conceived a master plan and claims to know exactly how to go about implementing it, what need is there for the professional, Rockwell asks?

"If you're buying a rubber stamp," he warns, "don't waste your money." Planning is a job requiring continuous updating and revision, continues Rockwell.

"I don't think a nickel of public money should be spent unless the community wants a continuing service," he emphasizes. By the time a final plan comes back from the printer, there already are changes that will have to be made, according to Rockwell.

But Rockwell maintains that municipal planning is not making the professionals rich. "From the planners' point of view, doing a comprehensive plan can never be a lucrative field," he remarks.

ROLF CAMPBELL, assistant vice president of Tec Search, Inc., also defended planning firm fees.

"Yes, the fees have gone up," admits Campbell, "But they have gone up because planning has become more complicated and because planners are doing a better job." He noted that planning requires more education than ever before.

Campbell admitted that much of the criticism of planners is justified. He himself criticized the practice of formulating a plan without any guidelines for its implementation.

But he adds, "You're going to have different qualities of planners as in any profession." Campbell stresses that a good planner will lay most importance to his role as a consultant in implementing his product.

ASKED IF professional planning was worth money, Campbell replied, "Every dollar spent is going to be returned to the community ten-fold."

Donald LaVine, manager of Carl L. Gardner and Associates, claims the availability of federal funds has not pushed up planning prices. Rather, he says, strict federal controls have kept costs down.

Much of the criticism of planners stems from the public's misconception that the professionals are the answer to all its development problems, according to LaVine. (A15

4-H Members Put on 24 Demonstrations

Twenty-four northwest suburban 4-H Club members presented demonstrations at the county level contest held last week in Arlington Heights. The judge was Dalton Gray, a member of the University of Illinois cooperative extension service staff from Chicago.

Three demonstrations received excellent ratings. They were presented by Steve Levean, Roselle, "How to Graft Apples;" Keith Heyen, Mount Prospect, "How to Transplant;" Tim Cantwell, Barrington, "The Principles of a 4-Cycle Engine."

Thirteen demonstrations were rated good. They were: Laura Graf and Margaret Huff, Palatine, "How to Wash a Saddle;" Larry Larson and Brian DeKoatz, Mount Prospect, "Outdoor Lighting;" Tom Frey, Palatine, "Making a Rock Garden;" Beverly Levan, Roselle, "How to Make a Terrarium;" Theresa Burns, Wheeling, "How and Why to Train a Dog;" Hugh Frey, Palatine, "How to Prune a Tree;" Chris Lonze, Palatine, "Rabbit Raising;"

Kay Weber, Arlington Heights, "Proper Care of a Dog;" Gail Huenerberg, Elgin, "Transplanting a Plant;" Phyllis Frey, Palatine, "Growing Annuals;" Charles Huff, Palatine, "The Bridle;" Connie Brown, Rolling Meadows, "Grooming Your Dog;" Jeffry Trochuck, Mount Prospect, "How to Seed a Flat."

Fair ratings were awarded to eight demonstrations presented by: Mark Ewald, Palatine, "How to Identify a Rock or Mineral;" Richard Reese, Roselle, "How to Shoot a Bow;" Kathy Senne, Palatine, "Health;" Ted Frey, Palatine, "Laying Out a Vegetable Garden;" Laurelle Lonze, Palatine, "Egg Candling;" Jim Blechl, Mount Prospect, "Tools and Care of Tools;" Linda Senne, Palatine, "How to Plant Vegetables;" Eddie Senne, Palatine, "Gladiola Bulbs." 8 Men Finish Police Course At Night School

Eight area policemen have completed a basic police science course offered through the adult evening school at Maine West Township High School.

They are Palatine officers Stan Korbal, Raymond Smyk, Terry Watson, Norman Beacham and John Setzer, and policemen Ronald Schilke, William Lucansky and Raymond Cox of Glendale Heights. The course was offered to first and second year officers of various suburban police departments, and covered a period of 10 weeks.

William J. Overman, 164 Hillcrest Court, Hoffman Estates, headed the sessions, which covered public relations, departmental discipline, basic patrol, communications, laboratory aids, fundamentals of investigation, arrest, search and seizure, and crowd control and mob tactics.

Overman, for 10 years a special agent of the FBI, is currently polygraph examiner for Central Watch Service of Chicago. (A-15

District 301 To Vote On $7,375,000 Bond

Taxpayers in Junior College District 301 will be asked to approve a $7,375,000 bond issue in June as their share in construction of a $29,500,000 campus.

The junior college board last Thursday night approved the referendum figure, which represents 25 per cent of total project costs. The remaining 75 per cent would be sought from the state.

THE BOARD ALSO approved an estimated price tag of $18,888,000 for the first phase of the project. The first stage, scheduled for completion by 1970, would meet full-time equivalent enrollment needs of 2,800 students.

Based on current and projected figures in the district's four townships, the new college would cost taxpayers 6.7 cents per $100 of asessed valuation. This tax figure would decrease, according to estimates, to 3.5 cents per $100 valuation by 1975.

Before approving cost estimates, the board heard Ed Finlay, project manager for the architectural firm Caudill, Rowlett & Scott. Finlay explained that estimates were based on preliminary reports from Arthur D. Little Inc., educational consultants.

FINLAY SAID he was confident construction costs would not increase significantly to affect estimates by the time bids were opened next spring. He stressed, however, there is no way of predicting what changes building prices will undergo between then and 1980.

The junior college district must go ahead with plans to build the campus despite uncertainty on state levels over the amount of money available, junior college president Robert P. Lahti said. State officials have reported that the $22 million now budgeted for junior colleges is inadequate.

Lahti said current funds will be divided among six class-one institutions in which District 301 is included. Board members apparently agreed that the district would not ask taxpayers for more than 25 per cent of cost.

BOARD MEMBER James Hamill said, "We are expecting from the state enough money to complete at least phase one."

Estimates are based on all expense sources, including construction, land acquisition, and site development. A breakdown of over-all costs in Finlay's report showed the following: buildings, $18,766,000; movable equipment, $2,251,000; site development, $2,252,000; fees, $1,396,000; project contingency, $2,093,000 and site cost, $1,241,000.

The total 853,000 square feet of the project would include an administration and data-processing center, learning resources center, student center, auditorium and fine arts center, engineering and technology facilities, physical education and health facilities, a physical plant and a general classroom complex. Cost per square foot was set at $22. The completed first phase would cover 519,000 square feet.

LAHTI SAID the 1980 projected enrollment figures may be revised in final Arthur D. Little reports. But if enrollment estimates exceed 8,000, Lahti explained, other steps, such as plans for another campus, will have to be taken when the time comes.

"These revisions would not necessarily affect this project," he said.

The board went into a closed meeting following the regular session to discuss site acquisition. Attorney Frank Hines told the board earlier that appraisers, hired to make three detailed evaluations of 90 acres of the Tri-Color farm owned by George Jayne, would have reports by te next meeting. The junior college district has an option to buy 81 acres of a 171-acre site at Roselle and Algonquin Roads. Negotiations to nail down a price for the land owned by Jayne have been under way for the past month.

In other action the board adopted a resolution giving District 301 status as a class-one institution. The classification entitles the district to state funds for 75 per cent of building costs and for $11.50 per semester-hour enrollment subsidies.

Junior College Names 2 Deans

The William Rainey Harper College board (District 301) has approved appointments of the institution's first dean of student affairs and dean of instructional affairs.

Appointed under three-year contracts were Dr. Herbert Pankratz, 48, as dean of instructional affairs and Dr. L. James Harvey, 36, as dean of student affairs. Contracts become effective July 1. Pankratz will receive $18,000 annually. Harvey's annual salary is $17,000.

Pankratz, currently chairman of humanities and music at Wright Junior College in Chicago, has taught at Todd School for Boys, North Park College and Northern Baptist Theological Seminary. He holds two master's degrees, one from the University of Chicago in mathematics and another from Northwestern University in music, and a Ph.D degree in music from Northwestern.

HARVEY IS NOW dean of arts and science and assistant professor at Inter American University in Aguadilla, Puerto Rico.

Formerly, he served as director of counseling at Grand Rapids Junior College, Grand Rapids, Mich. and as assistant professor of education at Hope College in Holland, Mich.

He earned a B.A. degree in political science from Hope College and M.A. and Ph.D degrees from Michigan State University in educational administration.

Pankratz will supervise the instructional program, including staffing, at Harper College. Harvey will be in charge of establishing the office of admissions and registration. Major responsibilities include administration of affairs relating to students.

The college board also has established the position of director of data processing and institutional projects. The director will aid in the business office, propose institutional projects eligible for state and federal grants and design related educational programs.

Film on Property Values, Race Set

A film titled "Property Values and Race" will be shown at the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee's membership meeting next Wednesday evening.

The Congregational United Church of Christ, Kirchoff and Kennicott, will be the scene of the 8 p.m. meeting.

Produced by the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, the film tells results of a massive study — covering 10,000 sales of homes in neighborhoods where non-whites were among purchasers.

Finding of the study, made by a University of California researcher, was that in six out of seven cases property values did not decline when non-whites moved into the area.

"I hope anyone who's concerned about his home values will come see this film," Mrs. William Dempsey said. "It is a fitting answer to that old myth that property values fall when Negroes move into the area."

Mrs. Dempsey is program chairman for the human relations group.

THE SLATE of nominees for next year's human relations committee board will also be announced at the meeting. The slate was proposed by a five-member committee that included Nicholas Shuman, retiring president; Will Gallagher, Mrs. Dieter Burkhardt, Mrs. Russell Gardner and Mrs. R. J. Schlott.

Election of officers will take place at the human relations group's May 26 meeting. (AE

Film Tells Story Of Drug Addiction

A film on drug addiction will be shown at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) at Kingswood Methodist Church, 813 E. Dundee Road, (one mile west of Buffalo Grove Road), Arlington Heights. The showing is sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Entitled "The Story of Mark Demelon," the film relates how a boy was dared into smoking a marijuana cigarette and moved on to heroin and addiction.

It was released by the Cook County Sheriff's office. A speaker from the sheriff's police will be on hand at the showing to discuss problems of drug addiction.

The film will also be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday, April 24 by the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

THE GYMNASIUM at Fremd High School was the scene for a recent test of a portable plastic "clean room" which will be used for sensitive jet-age work where dust must be excluded. The "clean room" is made by Standard Safety Equipment Co., Palatine.

League of Women Voters Annual Meeting Thursday

Next year's local study items will be chosen by members of the local League of Women Voters next Thursday at their annual meeting in the Arlington House Restaurant.

Recommended for re-adoption by the 100-member LWV are two current studies—work on a "This Is Arlington Heights" publication and a study of metropolitan problems and the future of local governments.

Reservations for the dinner which will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. should be made with Mrs. Russell Gardner, CL 9-2757, by April 22. A cocktail hour will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. The business meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

OTHER BUSINESS at the annual meeting will include choosing a slate of officers. Nominations are Mrs. William Trevor, second vice president; Mrs. Ernest Beal, secretary; Mrs. Joseph McIntyre, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Korte, two-year director; and Mrs. John Muller, Mrs. Tom Lunak and Mrs. W. F. Marier, one-year directors.

The budget and by-laws changes will also be voted upon.

Mrs. Frank Moore, president of the League, will be in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Gardner is organization chairman.

Final discussion locally of a state wide League study of Illinois revenue needs—and ways to meet them—took place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at unit meetings in Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

Local LWV agreement on what should, and should not, be included in a revenue amendment to provide adequate and equitably-levied state revenues will be pooled with similar conclusions reached within the 75 other Illinois leagues.

The statewide League consensus will provide a basis for LWV support or opposition to revenue measures, including the proposed revenue amendment to be voted on in November.

Regional Planning Parley Set by LWV

The Arlington Heights League of Women Voters will be hosts on Wednesday, May 11, to a regional program planning meeting that will be attended by women from a dozen other northwest-area Leagues.

Leaguers from Des Plaines, Palatine, and Park Ridge units of the non-partisan organization will be among those attending the all-day meeting in Faith Lutheran Church.

It is the first time that the 10-year-old Arlington Heights LWV has hosted a state-meeting.

A delegation of state LWV officers headed by Mrs. Ezra Levin of Champaign, state League president, will be in charge of the meeting.

THE OFFICERS and state board members who attend will also include Mrs. Andrew J. Koller of Palatine, state secretary, and Mrs. John B. Mullen of Barrington, legislation and revenue chairman.

Mrs. Ernest Beal of Mount Prospect is in charge of local arrangements. Assisting her will be other women from the 100-member Arlington Heights LWV which draws its membership from six communities in Wheeling and Elk Grove townships.

Registration for the regional meeting is set for 9:30 a.m. From 10:15 a.m. till noon League leaders from throughout the northwest suburbs will attend workshops on six areas of LWV work — equal housing opportunities, finance, local study items, membership, voter service and welfare.

There will also be a workshop for newly-elected LWV treasurers.

A 12:30 p.m. luncheon will feature a panel discussion on open occupancy legislation.

The meeting will coincide with first League work on a fair housing study chosen at the Illinois LWV convention in Springfield last year. (ACME

Scholarship Honors Tom Drury's Memory

The Eastern Illinois University Foundation has established a memorial scholarship honoring former Arlington High School teacher, Tom Drury.

Drury, who was audio-visual coordinator at Arlington High during the 1963-64 school year, was killed last June in an automobile accident in Missouri.

At the time of his death he was assistant coordinator o finstructional resources of the St. Louis (Mo.) County Junior College.

CANDIDATES for the annual scholarship will be Eastern Illinois University graduate students interested in a career in audio - visual education.

The scholarship was developed by a committee of "alumni and friends of Tom Drury." Headed by Vernon L. Heath, Robinson, it includes a Mount Prospect man, Lewis A. Crane, 1226A Boxwood Drive.

TOM DRURY

Drury, a native of Dupo, Ill., received both his bachelor and master's degrees from Eastern.

Choir to Sing Sunday

"Til The Whole World Knows" is the theme of a concert to be presented by the Wheaton Academy Choir at 7 p.m. Sunday, at the Meadows Baptist Church, 2401 Kirchoff Road, Rolling Meadows.

The concert consists of familiar hymns, classical sacred anthems and oratorio numbers, all built around a missionary emphasis.

The Wheaton Academy Choir is well known in the Chicago area by way of frequent appearances in local churches. It also travels during the school's spring vacation. It recently toured the Denver-Colorado Springs area, New York and Washington, D.C. This year the choir will tour parts of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

THE CHOIR IS directed by Thomas D. Fulghum, a graduate of Wheaton College. Fulghum has attended several Arizona schools since receiving a B.A. degree. During the summer of 1965 he atttended two Fred Waring workshops in Delaware Water Gap, Pa.

The Academy Gospel Team toured the southwestern states under his direction, also in 1965. The summer of 1966 will find the same team touring eastern camps and Word of Life Camps in South America.

Wheaton Academy is a non-denominational, independent preparatory school with grades 9 - 12. It is located six miles west of Wheaton. (AKP

Postpone Purchase

Approval of a $1,000,000 surety bond for E. C. McAuliff, Wheeling Township treasurer of schools, was postponed Monday after one township school trustee urged acceptance of the highest of three bids.

Trustee Gust Stavros of rural Wheeling urged acceptance of Ken Gallagher's high bid of $1,469 because, he said, "the cheapest is not always the best."

LOW BIDDER was Taft Lowell Insurance Company, with American Motorists Insurance coverage with a two - year surance had provided numerous other bonds for the treasurer, covering various bond issues.

Noting that the $1,000,000 coverage, required by the county superintendent of schools, will premium price of $1,086. The other bidder was Griffith Insurance Company at $1,298.44.

McAuliff noted that Lowell Innot expire until June 30, the trustees voted to table the matter until they can example sample bonds and financial statements of the companies.

A special meeting of the trustees will be called later to consider the bond.

Past special meetings have been unannounced, but McAuliff said he would in the future provide the public with announcements of these meetings, too. (ACM

Diabetic Talk Open to Public

All adult diabetics and parents of diabetic children are invited to hear a talk, "Heredity and Diabetes Mellitus," by John Levitsky, M.D., associate professor of medicine at the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

The program will be given Wednesday, May 4, at 8 p.m. at Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Demster, Park Ridge.

THIS MEETING is sponsored by the Diabetes Association of Greater Chicago as a health service for the community.

Mrs. James Payne, 520 Brynhaven, Elk Grove Village, was active in planning program, which is open without charge to everyone interested in the health and welfare of the diabetic. A questions and answer period will follow Dr. Levitsky's talk. (AMC-E

Schlickman Names 2 Campaign Aides

Eugene F. Schlickman of Arlington Heights, incumbent state representative seeking re-election, and candidate for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman, announced this week the appointment of his Mount Prospect citizens co-chairmen.

They are Harold D. Gulliksen, 510 N. Russel St., and Barbara Todd, 310 MacArthur Drive. Assisting them as coffee chairman is Delores Skarr, 802 W. Gregory St.

In accepting their appointments, Gulliksen and Mrs. Todd jointly stated: "We know that Gene Schlickman is a man with proven leadership ability. He demonstrated this as a village trustee for five years in Arlington Heights and as one of the outstanding legislators this past year in Springfield."

GULLIKSEN IS sales engineer for Weil-McLain Company and immediate past president of the men's brotherhood at St. Mark's Lutheran Church. He serves as chairman of the special education committee of the Fairview School PTA, and as a member of the Northwest Suburban Lutheran Committee on Scouting.

Mrs. Todd is active in the Mount Prospect Art League and the Foreign Student Exchange Council. She is a past vice president of the Young Republican organization of Elk Grove Township and legislative chairman of the Fairview School PTA.

The Mount Prospect appointments by Schlickman complete the organization of his citizens' committees through the township. Previously appointed chairmen are: Jack Walsh, an Arlington Heights village trustee, for Arlington Heights; Tom Miller, former village trustee and Rotary vice-president, for Wheeling; Jim Pfister, charter president of the Buffalo Grove Jaycees, Buffalo Grove; and Hal Fichte, vice-president of the Bank of Chicago and a long-time active Republican, for the Prospect Heights area. George Harris of Arlington Heights and Jack Keefer of Mount Prospect serve as finance co-chairmen.

Those interested in helping in the Schlickman campaign in Mount Prospect can contact Gulliksen at CL3-0595, or Mrs. Todd, CL5-1457. (ACM

Clearbrook Panel's Topic Is Planning

A panel discussion on "The Importance of Advance Planning" will follow the business meeting Tuesday of the Parent Auxiliary of the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded.

Parents included on the panel, scheduled to begin at 9 p.m., are Ray Munro, representing parents of children in the Day Care Center, and Mrs. Dennis Mitchell speaking for the mothers and fathers of young adults in the workshop activity. Other members of the panel will be Miss Evadeen Watts, a social worker employed by the center, and Robert Gillespie, director of the workshop. Byrn Witt, executive director of the center, will serve as moderator.

THE BUSINESS meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will be held in the multipurpose room of the Clearbrook Center building at 3201 W. Campbell, Rolling Meadows. The public is invited to attend.

The auxiliary is composed of parents of children attending the center and other persons in the community interested in serving the cause of mental retardation.

The Clearbrook Center building was completed in the fall of 1965. It currently provides services for 48 preschool and school age children in its day care program, and 17 adults in a sheltered workshop and vocational guidance program. An addition to the present building is planned in the near future to provide needed space for children on the center's waiting list.

"I hope anyone who's concerned about his home values will come see this film," Mrs. William Dempsey said. "It is a fitting answer to that old myth that property values fall when Negroes move into the area."

Mrs. Dempsey is program chairman for the human relations group.

THE SLATE of nominees for next year's human relations committee board will also be announced at the meeting. The slate was proposed by a five-member committee that included Nicholas Shuman, retiring president; Will Gallagher, Mrs. Dieter Burkhardt, Mrs. Russell Gardner and Mrs. R. J. Schlott.

Election of officers will take place at the human relations group's May 26 meeting. (AE

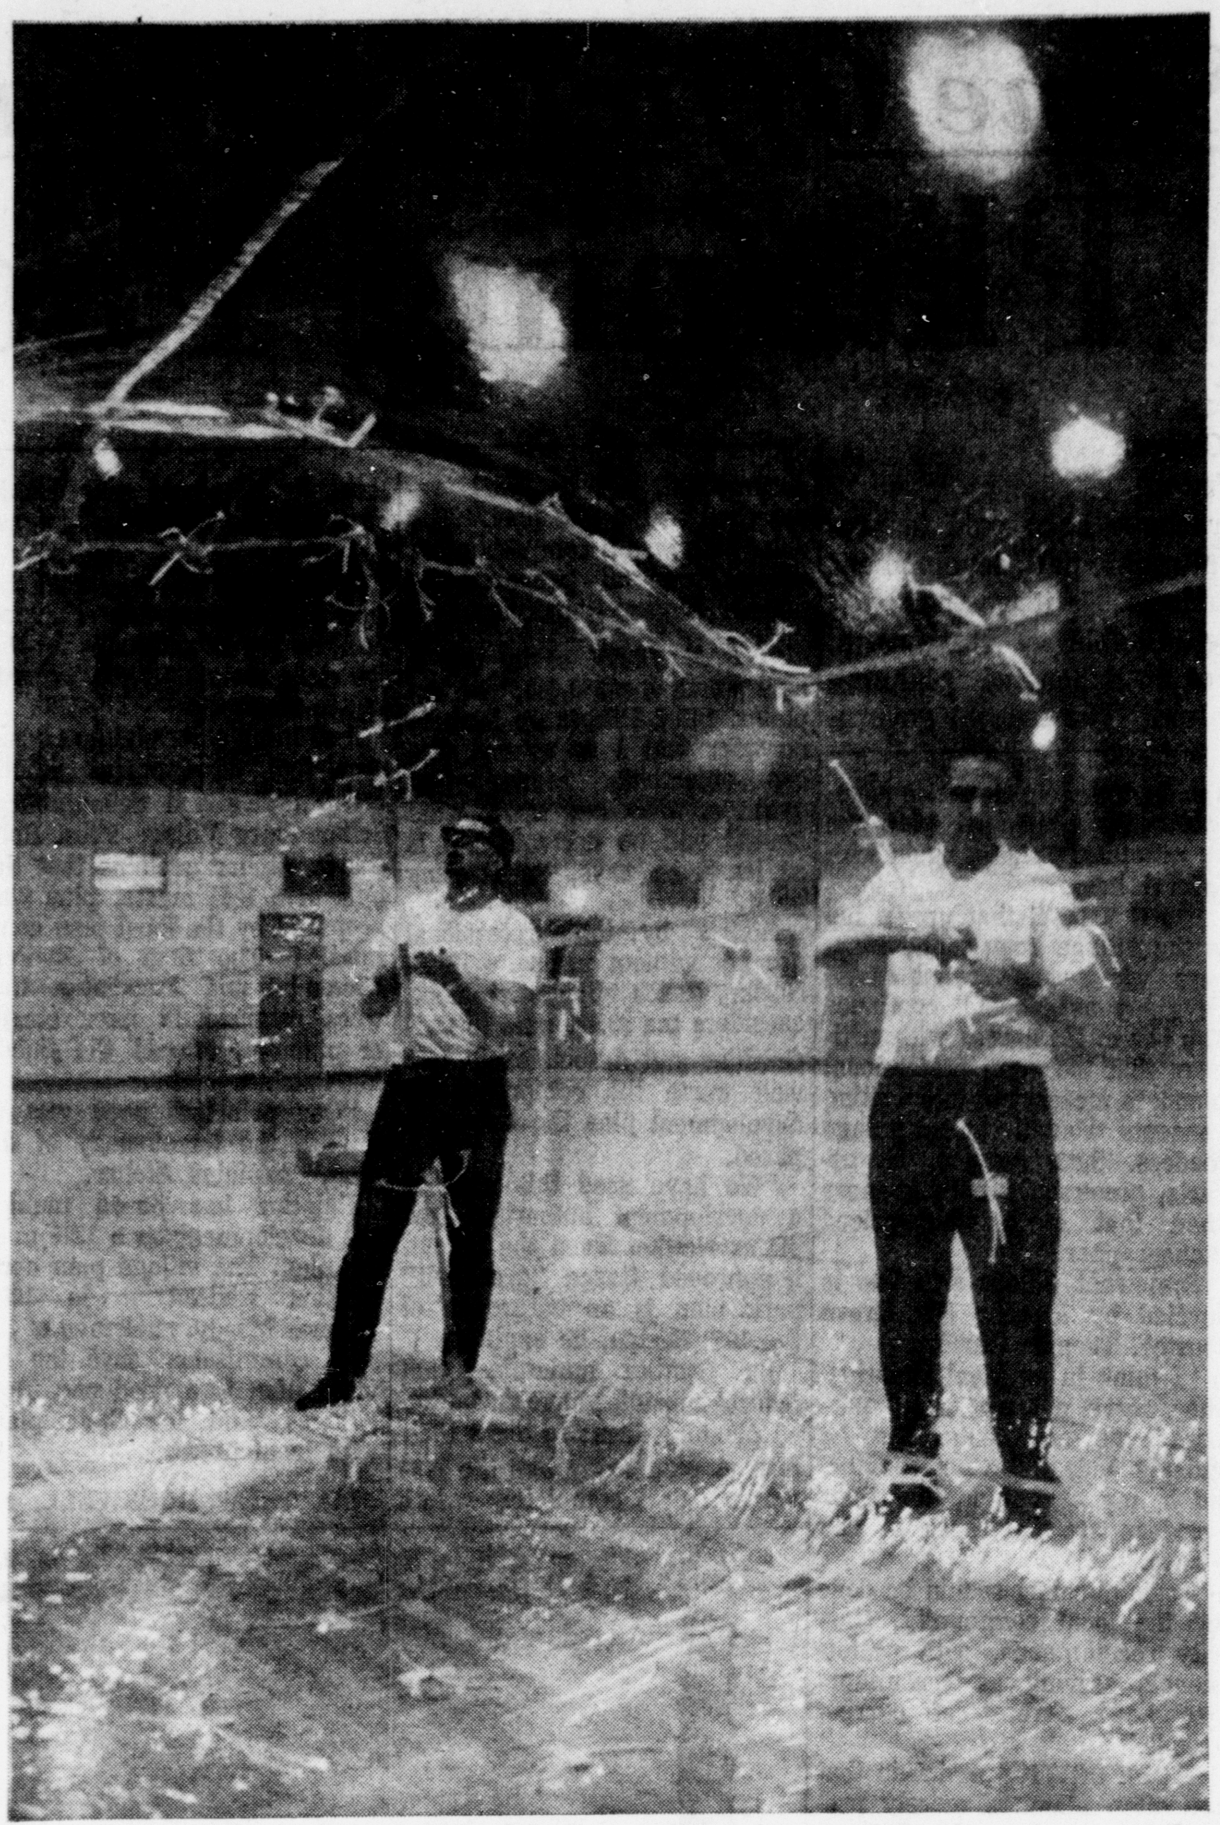
Film Tells Story Of Drug Addiction

A film on drug addiction will be shown at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) at Kingswood Methodist Church, 813 E. Dundee Road, (one mile west of Buffalo Grove Road), Arlington Heights. The showing is sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Entitled "The Story of Mark Demelon," the film relates how a boy was dared into smoking a marijuana cigarette and moved on to heroin and addiction.

It was released by the Cook County Sheriff's office. A speaker from the sheriff's police will be on hand at the showing to discuss problems of drug addiction.

The film will also be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday, April 24 by the Methodist Youth Fellowship.



THE GYMNASIUM at Fremd High School was the scene for a recent test of a portable plastic "clean room" which will be used for sensitive jet-age work where dust must be excluded. The "clean room" is made by Standard Safety Equipment Co., Palatine.

League of Women Voters Annual Meeting Thursday

Next year's local study items will be chosen by members of the local League of Women Voters next Thursday at their annual meeting in the Arlington House Restaurant.

Recommended for re-adoption by the 100-member LWV are two current studies—work on a "This Is Arlington Heights" publication and a study of metropolitan problems and the future of local governments.

Reservations for the dinner which will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. should be made with Mrs. Russell Gardner, CL 9-2757, by April 22. A cocktail hour will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. The business meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

OTHER BUSINESS at the annual meeting will include choosing a slate of officers. Nominations are Mrs. William Trevor, second vice president; Mrs. Ernest Beal, secretary; Mrs. Joseph McIntyre, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Korte, two-year director; and Mrs. John Muller, Mrs. Tom Lunak and Mrs. W. F. Marier, one-year directors.

The budget and by-laws changes will also be voted upon.

Mrs. Frank Moore, president of the League, will be in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Gardner is organization chairman.

Final discussion locally of a state wide League study of Illinois revenue needs—and ways to meet them—took place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at unit meetings in Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

Local LWV agreement on what should, and should not, be included in a revenue amendment to provide adequate and equitably-levied state revenues will be pooled with similar conclusions reached within the 75 other Illinois leagues.

The statewide League consensus will provide a basis for LWV support or opposition to revenue measures, including the proposed revenue amendment to be voted on in November.

Regional Planning Parley Set by LWV

The Arlington Heights League of Women Voters will be hosts on Wednesday, May 11, to a regional program planning meeting that will be attended by women from a dozen other northwest-area Leagues.

Leaguers from Des Plaines, Palatine, and Park Ridge units of the non-partisan organization will be among those attending the all-day meeting in Faith Lutheran Church.

It is the first time that the 10-year-old Arlington Heights LWV has hosted a state-meeting.

A delegation of state LWV officers headed by Mrs. Ezra Levin of Champaign, state League president, will be in charge of the meeting.

THE OFFICERS and state board members who attend will also include Mrs. Andrew J. Koller of Palatine, state secretary, and Mrs. John B. Mullen of Barrington, legislation and revenue chairman.

Mrs. Ernest Beal of Mount Prospect is in charge of local arrangements. Assisting her will be other women from the 100-member Arlington Heights LWV which draws its membership from six communities in Wheeling and Elk Grove townships.

Registration for the regional meeting is set for 9:30 a.m. From 10:15 a.m. till noon League leaders from throughout the northwest suburbs will attend workshops on six areas of LWV work — equal housing opportunities, finance, local study items, membership, voter service and welfare.

There will also be a workshop for newly-elected LWV treasurers.

A 12:30 p.m. luncheon will feature a panel discussion on open occupancy legislation.

The meeting will coincide with first League work on a fair housing study chosen at the Illinois LWV convention in Springfield last year. (ACME

Scholarship Honors Tom Drury's Memory

The Eastern Illinois University Foundation has established a memorial scholarship honoring former Arlington High School teacher, Tom Drury.

Drury, who was audio-visual coordinator at Arlington High during the 1963-64 school year, was killed last June in an automobile accident in Missouri.

At the time of his death he was assistant coordinator o finstructional resources of the St. Louis (Mo.) County Junior College.

CANDIDATES for the annual scholarship will be Eastern Illinois University graduate students interested in a career in audio - visual education.

The scholarship was developed by a committee of "alumni and friends of Tom Drury." Headed by Vernon L. Heath, Robinson, it includes a Mount Prospect man, Lewis A. Crane, 1226A Boxwood Drive.

TOM DRURY

Drury, a native of Dupo, Ill., received both his bachelor and master's degrees from Eastern.

Choir to Sing Sunday

"Til The Whole World Knows" is the theme of a concert to be presented by the Wheaton Academy Choir at 7 p.m. Sunday, at the Meadows Baptist Church, 2401 Kirchoff Road, Rolling Meadows.

The concert consists of familiar hymns, classical sacred anthems and oratorio numbers, all built around a missionary emphasis.

The Wheaton Academy Choir is well known in the Chicago area by way of frequent appearances in local churches. It also travels during the school's spring vacation. It recently toured the Denver-Colorado Springs area, New York and Washington, D.C. This year the choir will tour parts of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

THE CHOIR IS directed by Thomas D. Fulghum, a graduate of Wheaton College. Fulghum has attended several Arizona schools since receiving a B.A. degree. During the summer of 1965 he atttended two Fred Waring workshops in Delaware Water Gap, Pa.

The Academy Gospel Team toured the southwestern states under his direction, also in 1965. The summer of 1966 will find the same team touring eastern camps and Word of Life Camps in South America.

Wheaton Academy is a non-denominational, independent preparatory school with grades 9 - 12. It is located six miles west of Wheaton. (AKP

Postpone Purchase

Approval of a $1,000,000 surety bond for E. C. McAuliff, Wheeling Township treasurer of schools, was postponed Monday after one township school trustee urged acceptance of the highest of three bids.

Trustee Gust Stavros of rural Wheeling urged acceptance of Ken Gallagher's high bid of $1,469 because, he said, "the cheapest is not always the best."

LOW BIDDER was Taft Lowell Insurance Company, with American Motorists Insurance coverage with a two - year surance had provided numerous other bonds for the treasurer, covering various bond issues.

Noting that the $1,000,000 coverage, required by the county superintendent of schools, will premium price of $1,086. The other bidder was Griffith Insurance Company at $1,298.44.

McAuliff noted that Lowell Innot expire until June 30, the trustees voted to table the matter until they can example sample bonds and financial statements of the companies.

A special meeting of the trustees will be called later to consider the bond.

Past special meetings have been unannounced, but McAuliff said he would in the future provide the public with announcements of these meetings, too. (ACM

Diabetic Talk Open to Public

All adult diabetics and parents of diabetic children are invited to hear a talk, "Heredity and Diabetes Mellitus," by John Levitsky, M.D., associate professor of medicine at the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

The program will be given Wednesday, May 4, at 8 p.m. at Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Demster, Park Ridge.

THIS MEETING is sponsored by the Diabetes Association of Greater Chicago as a health service for the community.

Mrs. James Payne, 520 Brynhaven, Elk Grove Village, was active in planning program, which is open without charge to everyone interested in the health and welfare of the diabetic. A questions and answer period will follow Dr. Levitsky's talk. (AMC-E

Schlickman Names 2 Campaign Aides

Eugene F. Schlickman of Arlington Heights, incumbent state representative seeking re-election, and candidate for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman, announced this week the appointment of his Mount Prospect citizens co-chairmen.

They are Harold D. Gulliksen, 510 N. Russel St., and Barbara Todd, 310 MacArthur Drive. Assisting them as coffee chairman is Delores Skarr, 802 W. Gregory St.

In accepting their appointments, Gulliksen and Mrs. Todd jointly stated: "We know that Gene Schlickman is a man with proven leadership ability. He demonstrated this as a village trustee for five years in Arlington Heights and as one of the outstanding legislators this past year in Springfield."

GULLIKSEN IS sales engineer for Weil-McLain Company and immediate past president of the men's brotherhood at St. Mark's Lutheran Church. He serves as chairman of the special education committee of the Fairview School PTA, and as a member of the Northwest Suburban Lutheran Committee on Scouting.

Mrs. Todd is active in the Mount Prospect Art League and the Foreign Student Exchange Council. She is a past vice president of the Young Republican organization of Elk Grove Township and legislative chairman of the Fairview School PTA.

The Mount Prospect appointments by Schlickman complete the organization of his citizens' committees through the township. Previously appointed chairmen are: Jack Walsh, an Arlington Heights village trustee, for Arlington Heights; Tom Miller, former village trustee and Rotary vice-president, for Wheeling; Jim Pfister, charter president of the Buffalo Grove Jaycees, Buffalo Grove; and Hal Fichte, vice-president of the Bank of Chicago and a long-time active Republican, for the Prospect Heights area. George Harris of Arlington Heights and Jack Keefer of Mount Prospect serve as finance co-chairmen.

Those interested in helping in the Schlickman campaign in Mount Prospect can contact Gulliksen at CL3-0595, or Mrs. Todd, CL5-1457. (ACM

Clearbrook Panel's Topic Is Planning

A panel discussion on "The Importance of Advance Planning" will follow the business meeting Tuesday of the Parent Auxiliary of the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded.

Parents included on the panel, scheduled to begin at 9 p.m., are Ray Munro, representing parents of children in the Day Care Center, and Mrs. Dennis Mitchell speaking for the mothers and fathers of young adults in the workshop activity. Other members of the panel will be Miss Evadeen Watts, a social worker employed by the center, and Robert Gillespie, director of the workshop. Byrn Witt, executive director of the center, will serve as moderator.

THE BUSINESS meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will be held in the multipurpose room of the Clearbrook Center building at 3201 W. Campbell, Rolling Meadows. The public is invited to attend.

The auxiliary is composed of parents of children attending the center and other persons in the community interested in serving the cause of mental retardation.

The Clearbrook Center building was completed in the fall of 1965. It currently provides services for 48 preschool and school age children in its day care program, and 17 adults in a sheltered workshop and vocational guidance program. An addition to the present building is planned in the near future to provide needed space for children on the center's waiting list.

Fourth Annual Boat Show Opening Today

by BEVERLY AIRTH

Could it be possible that the last snowflake of the season has touched the ground? Finally, after much snow, ice, subzero weather, short days, cold winds, it is possible Spring could be here at last? I still can't believe it!

Sometimes I think that there is still a chance for the "last" snow storm of the season. However, things are looking up - the grass is greener, the weather is warmer, and the trees are budding. That time of the year has come to bring out the bar-b-quer, start spring clean-up, wash the windows and take down the storms. The forthcoming days are the ones we have "longed for" all winter.

WHAT IS MORE "longed for" than warm weather? It is the day the boat owner can hitch his boat to the car and head for a body of water. What's more fun than a day on the water .. . soaking up sunshine . . . enjoying the scenic view . . .water skiing until you're just too tired . . . enjoying a picnic lunch . . . looking for lake view mansions . . . fishing from your own pier . . . diving off the boat deck! Just think, all of this can be done from a boat!

Each year more and more people are either buying their first boat or buying a larger boat! If you are not a boat owner, the thought has probably entered our mind many times. Have you ever tried to go someplace on Friday or Sunday evenings during the summer The highways are filled with autos hauling boats making their way almost anywhere and everywhere where there is water or coming back from a weekend or day of sport, hobby, or just plain ol' fun!

MAYBE YOU ARE looking for a larger boat, husband wants a row boat for fishing trips, junior would like a canoe for river trips, and mother is interested in a nice little runabout to add a little more pleasure to those weekends. There is an opportunity for the entire family to pick out the individual boat that they would like. Randhurst is presenting its fourth annual Boat Show on the mall. The show will be held today through 5 p.m., Sunday, April 24. The 1966 Randhurst Boat Show will present boats of all sizes and classes - runabouts, cruisers, racers, inboards, outboards, sailboats, yachts, row boats, and canoes. Over 70 different boats will be on display on the mall. Bring the entire family! Visit our giant display [illegible]. See the latest in boats and boating equipment.

This fine selection of boats is presented at Randhurst through the courtesy and cooperation of Nelson Marine in Des Plaines, Boat City in Stone Park, St. Charles Marina, Route 31 in St. Charles, Montgomery Ward in Randhurst, and Smith Marine of Berwyn. Plus all of these fine boats will be special displays from Mercury and Johnson Motors. Come on over early and [illegible] grocery shopping and boat shopping under the same

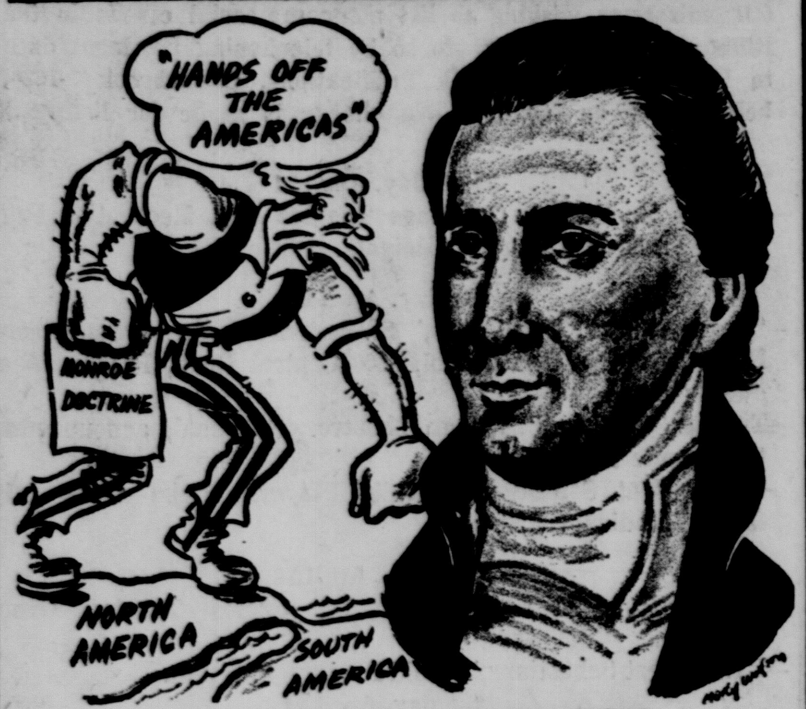
Greatest Events In American History—No. 16



MONROE CONTRIBUTES A SIGNIFICANT DOCTRINE TO OUR DEVELOPMENT

On Dec. 2, 1823, our fifth President, James Monroe, made one of the most famous—and most important—statements in our history.

He said no foreign nation should try to seize any part of North, Central or South America then, or at any time in the future.

This statement became known as the Monroe Doctrine and it turned out to be one of the most effective decrees ever issued because it did keep foreign countries out of the Americas, and prevented wars here.

It's interesting to note that of the first five Presidents of the U.S., four were from Virginia—Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe.

Each of these so-called "Virginia Regime" Presidents contributed much to our country. And James Monroe will be remembered for his contribution of the Monroe Doctrine.

High Mason Honor Made To Morgan

Mark Clifford Morgan of 16 N. Lonnquist Blvd., Mount Prospect, has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour, highest honorary degree in the York Rite of Freemasonry.

Morgan becomes one of about 400 of the over 4¼ million Freemasons in North America and the Philippines to qualify this year. The degree is conferred only on members who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the York Rite.

Morgan served as Master of Theodore Roosevelt Lodge of Masons in 1965; High Priest of Wiley M. Egan Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1931; Master of Palestine Council, Royal and Select Masters, in 1948; and Commander of Apollo Commandery, Knights Templar, in 1963. He has also served as Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Illinois. (M

On Dec. 2, 1823, our fifth President, James Monroe, made one of the most famous—and most important—statements in our history.

He said no foreign nation should try to seize any part of North, Central or South America then, or at any time in the future.

This statement became known as the Monroe Doctrine and it turned out to be one of the most effective decrees ever issued because it did keep foreign countries out of the Americas, and prevented wars here.

It's interesting to note that of the first five Presidents of the U.S., four were from Virginia—Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe.

Each of these so-called "Virginia Regime" Presidents contributed much to our country. And James Monroe will be remembered for his contribution of the Monroe Doctrine.

Six Artists to Demonstrate Techniques During Festival

ONE OF SIX artist-craftsmen who will demonstrate their techniques during the two-day Countryside Arts Festival this weekend is Christine Siegfried of Arlington Heights, shown working in her home studio. Mrs. Siegfried, a painter, has her work represented at Countryside Gallery. (Bill

Six artist-craftsmen will be presenting demonstrations in art techniques at the Spring Arts Festival Saturday and Sunday at Pioneer Park Fieldhouse, 500 S. Fernandez, Arlington Heights. The Festival encompasses an extensive art exhibit, musical performances and special displays by cultural groups in this area.

Christine Siegfried of Arlington Heights will demonstrate technique in painting. A member of Countryside Art Center, Mrs. Siegfried has been represented at Countryside Gallery for four years, serving for one year as a gallery director. In order to exhibit at Countryside Gallery, an artist is required to submit his work to an annual art jury. If his or her work is chosen from the many entries, then the artist may participate in the sales and rental aspect of the gallery for one year.

Another artist represented by the Gallery, Sue Kehe of Arlington Heights, whill show how an original print is made. One of the founding directors of Countrsyide Gallery, Mrs. Kehe is also represented by the Chicago Art Institute Sales and Rental Gallery. Her prints, paintings and collage constructions have been exhibited widely in the Chicago area.

ETHEL WAGNER of Plum Grove Estates is to show the fascinating skill of "throwing on the wheel," the term given to creating pottery on a revolving surface. For many years Mrs. Wagner has been firing her ceramic work in her own studio kiln, and several of her completed pieces will be on display.

Reflecting the new interest in the old technique of papier mache', Virginia Volid of Palatine will show what can be created from glue, paper, string, paints and lacquer. The artist also is skilled in sculpture and stitchery.

Gilbert Armstrong will perform glass blowing techniques. Coming to Paltine from England three years ago, Armstrong has presented demonstrations in glass blowing on television and at last year's arts festival.

PORTRAIT SKETCHES will be created by Dorothy Roberta Kruse. Mrs. Kruse is currently exhibiting in the art corner of the Des Plaines National Bank. She has received awards in Illinois and Wisconsin exhibitions.

The Festival program for Saturday, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.: art demonstration in painting, printmaking and papier mache'; musical performances by the Arlington Squares dance group, Arlington Civic Symphony Brass Ensemble and the Mid-Town Travelers folk music duo.

Sunday, 1 to 7 p.m.: art deomonstrations in painting, papier mache' and potter's wheel; musical performances by the Palatine High School Madrigal Singers, Arlington Civic Symphony String Ensemble and Arlington Squares dance group.

ON BOTH DAYS visitors to the festival may observe glass blowing and portrait sketching.

Awards will be presented in art by Robert Borchard and George Buehr. Both Borchard and Buehr are artists and teachers and well known in Chicago art circles. The exhibition of paintings, prints, sculpture and crafts is expected to number approximately 300 pieces. Most art works will be available for purchase.

Exhibits will also be presented by the Arlington Heights Garden Club, Junior Women's Club and the Questors.

A CHILDREN'S Creative Corner will be available with supervised painting and storytelling. Also a children's art exhibit of work completed in the Countryside Art Center's classes.

Refreshments will be available.

Those attending will be asked for a nominal donation to the art scholarship fund. (Bill

'Never Too Late'

"Never Too Late," the recent Broadway hit comedy success lately filmed in Hollywood, with stars Paul Ford and Maureen O'Sullivan, will open at Country Club Theatre in Mount Prospect Wednesday, April 27.

Produced during the summer stock season of 1963 at Chicagoland's Salt Creek Theatre under the title of "Cradle and All" as a pre-Broadway try-out and featuring Dennis O'Keefe, Helen Malone and others, this family comedy finally made the New York scene for a successful run of nearly two years. Will Haas, Country Club Theatre's resident director who staged the original production, will again be at the directorial helm.

HELEN MALONE, stage, radio and TV personality has been engaged to portray again the lead role of Edith Lambert opposite Frank Loverde, currently starring in Country Club Theatre's comedy, "Mary, Mary." Featured amongst others in the cast will be Norman Rice, Kent More and Tom Laidlaw.

A ROMANTIC INTERLUDE between free-for-alls with a household of dogs is enjoyed by Dean Jones and Suzanne Pleshette in Walt Disney's Technicolor feature, "The Ugly Dachshund," starting tomorrow (Friday) at the Catlow. Charlie Ruggles also stars in the hilarious comedy.

'Seven Nuns' Opens Third Year for St. James Group

When the curtain rises on "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas" this weekend, it will mark the beginning of the third season of theatre activities for St. James Theatre Group of Arlington Heights.

The play is being given tomorrow (Friday), Saturday and Sunday evenings at Sacred Heart of Mary High School, 2800 Central Road, Rolling Meadows. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all performances.

Previous productions by the St. James players have included "Harvey," "The Third Best Sport" and "The Man Who Came to Dinner." The theatre group has tried to follow its motto: "To put on suitable entertainment for the community while bringing us closer to each other and to God."

FEATURED IN the lead role of Sister Felicitas will be Maria Ptak of 1345 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, one of the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ptak. With the threatre group about a year, she wrote and acted in a skit in the original review, "Idiot Box Blackouts," presented by the group last spring.

Supporting Maria are Jane Kelly, 1416 N. Vail, as the arthritic-ridden Sister Columba; Darlene Raupp, 404 N. Haddow as Sister Edna, the robust Convent cook; Karen Dailey, 901 E. Marion as Sister Marie, a pious nun always sprinkling everything and everyone with holy water; Barbara Kurp, 416 S. Waterman as Sister Anne, the carefree and fun loving nun; Marie Kertay, 816 N. Dunton as Sister Frances, the sidekick of Sister Anne, and Juliana Alm, 823 N. Dunton, as the serious Sister Rose.

The cast also includes Charles Willwerth, 226 S. Evanston as Mr. Edelman, the irate Las Vegas nightclub owner; three chorus girls, Rosemary Splitt of 320 N. Carlyle (Peaches), Mary Willwerth of 226 S. Evanston (Baby) and Marilyn Ostrowski of 635 N. Hickory (Boots) with John Kavanagh, 525 E. Frdederick as Father Ignatius and Marie Ptak as Reverend Mother.

MARIA PTAK

THE PLAY is under the direction of the Rev. Robert Strzelecki, spiritual adviser of the group. Ralph Elwart of 819 N. Pine is producer.

Tickets for "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas" may be purchased at the door the nights of the performances or by calling Mrs. Al Walters, 392-8648, or Mrs. Thad Ostrowski, 255-6187. Seats are not reserved. (Bill

Costumes a Challenge To Guild Committee

A committee of three assigned to outfit 18 actors with apparel in the style of the 1940's is no easy task declared Mrs. Donald Swangren, costumes chairman for Guild Players production of "The Great Sebastians".

Bazaars, attics, resale clothing shops and rental agencies have all been canvassed by Mrs. Charles Schnarel, Mrs. Dick Kelly and Mrs. Swangren in search of the needed costumes.

With the Guild Players in their final week of rehearsals, all behind-the-scenes activity is in high gear. Crew members are constructing the sets previously designed by Mr. and Mrs. Joe McAuliff of Weathersfield. The three interiors have been created so time allotted to scene changes would be minimal.

FURNITURE chairman Jan Boutelle has acquired the properties for set decor through Mr. and Mrs. Otis Schmidt of Lexington Fields.

Performances of "The Great Sebastians" are tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Lake Park High School, Medinah. Tickets may be reserved by calling 529-2848.

Campus Capers

THE FOUR SEASONS BUFFET

We asked our Chef to scour the market baskets of the world to assemble, for your pleasure, the finest and the unusual, in superb foods.

He has recommended that our guests might enjoy — Native Prime Ribs of Beef, Bay of Boston Seafood Platter, Sweet-Sour Back Ribs of Pork, Deviled French Turbot, Tom Turkey fresh off the farm, Potatoes O'Brien au gratin, Baltimore Crab Cakes, Barbecued Chicken Breast Monterey, Baby Prawns Polynesian, Pork Loin Teriaki, Bavarian Cream Pies, Camembert Cheese Assortment, Curried Lobster Hawaiian, Baked Ham from the Smokehouse, Crisp Vegetables Canton, Prosciutto Antipasto, and Frosted Fresh Fruit Aspic.

These traditional favorites and unusual taste sensations, plus many, many more — are available every Sunday from the Four Seasons Buffet, served 1 p.m. 'til 7:30 o'clock.

The value of this buffet is shockingly expensive, but its cost is only $3.75 for adults, $1.95 for children, and as usual, no charge for toddlers.

NEWSPAPER BINGO 73

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS

Each week pick up your Free Bingo Cards from any of the sponsors (adults only, please). Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. You may, however, make as many visits as you wish. The more cards you play the better your chances of winning!

HOW TO PLAY

To play, merely check the ads in the Sunday Suburbanite on Sunday, or the Thursday editions of Paddock Publications. Different set of numbers each Sunday and each Thursday means two different games with the same card. Many ads contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the Bingo Bug (shown above). Other numbers, most of them in this symbol, will be scattered throughout the paper. On the want ad pages the numbers will be included in special type with the notation of "Newspaper Bingo Bug Sez." If you can match all 24 numbers on any one of your Bingo cards (see example of a winning card) with those appearing in either the Sunday Suburbanite, or the Thursday editions of Paddock Publications (but not both), you have a "Bingo" and you are a winner.

$100 WEEKLY!!

Winners will share a weekly cash prize of $100. If there is only one winner, he gets all $100. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share equally. If there are no winners any week, the $100 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund!

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER

Each Sunday Suburbanite game is complete within one issue of the Sunday Suburbanite; each Paddock Thursday game is complete within one issue of the Thursday editions of Paddock Publications. You cannot use numbers from both issues for the same game. A new set of numbers will appear in the Sunday Suburbanite each Sunday, plus another new set of numbers in the Paddock Thursday editions. A new color Bingo card will be available each week at the participating stores. To be a winner, you must use a Bingo Card of the correct color for that week's games. The color card for each week's games will be announced each week in the newspaper.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER . . .

If you have a winning Bingo Card, all 24 numbers of which appear in either the Sunday Suburbanite or your Thursday edition of Paddock Publications, write your name, address, phone number and from which store you procured the card on the back, and drop in the mail to Paddock office. Envelope must be postmarked by Friday of that week; or bring your card in to the office of Paddock Publications at 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights by 9 a.m. of the following Monday morning.

RULES OF THE GAME:

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY

There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at office of Paddock Publications as well as public libraries and at sponsors' stores. You can play as many cards as you wish — they're free. Get additional cards, one at a time, from the friendly sponsors listed below. (Adults only, please.)

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK

The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must use a Bingo Card of the correct color for that week. Mutilated cards will not be honored. All 24 numbers must be covered to win.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS

Bingo numbers will be drawn at random from a Bingo Number cage at 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights.

Some duplication of Bingo Numbers may exist in certain sponsors' ads due to a newspaper production problem. This duplication in No Way affects the total number of Bingo numbers drawn. All numbers Drawn at Random from our Bingo Cage Appear Somewhere In Each Issue Of the Newspapers.

Employees of Paddock Publications and their families are not eligible to win any cash prizes.

Softer Water Solves 'Scum Ring' Problem

What is the easiest and surest way of avoiding that scum ring around the bathtub? Take showers!

This is a clever answer to the question. . . but not to the problem. It may keep the tub clean, but it won't keep your skin and hair free of the same duling film that makes for a bathtub ring.

If the water you use does cause a ring, you are using hard water with chemical impurities. These combine with soaps and detergents to leave a film or deposit on yourself even when you shower, on your hair when you shampoo and on your face when you wash it.

GREAT grandmother knew what she was doing when she caught rainwater in a barrel to wash her hair. That water had no mineral impurities that would combine with soap to leave a dulling film on her skin and hair. She knew that it was rinsing that determined whether results would be bright or dull; soft and fluffy or hard; totally clean or almost clean when washing anything.

While great grandmother's efforts to collect rainwater in a barrel were well worth the efforts, no one suggests that modern homemakers hunt up a barrel to put by the downspout.

Still we can take a hint from great grandmother who realized that rainwater was close to ideal for personal grooming. Plenty of pure, soft water, moderately hot and a little mild soap -the cleaner the water, the less soap is required and the water need not be uncomfortably hot or irritating. this is the closest thing today to her way to a beauty treatment with water.

Water conditioning equipment manufacturers who provide quality water the modern way point out that this equipment provides fully soft water far more readily, in greater amounts and with even greater cleansing action than water from the rain barrel.

"REGARDLESS of the effects of special soaps, detergents and shampoos, water is the basic ingredient whenever we bathe, wash our hands and face and shampoo our hair, "declares J. L. Bruner, president of the Water Conditioning Foundation, Glenview, Illinois.

He adds, "Our studies confirm the belief many have that they feel better and their hair looks better, when they wash, bathe and shampoo with soap and soft water. The reason: soft water not only washes away dirt but also does not leave detergent deposits or soap scum on the skin and the hair."

Bruner points out that water conditioning equipment can be bought or rented. Home soft water service also is available from some manufacturers. Water softener dealers or plumbers listed in the yellow pages of the telephone book can give you the details. (RE

NI-Gas Revenue Tops $200 Million

For the first time in its history, Northern Illinois Gas Co.'s annual revenues have exceeded the $200 million mark.

NI-Gas chairman and president Marvin Chandler reported that for the 12-month period ended February 28, 1966, the utility's revenues totaled $201,602,372.

"THE NEW HIGH," Chandler said, "reflects the spectacular growth the company has had, and represents more than a three-fold gain in just 12 years." In 1954, the year the company was founded, revenues were $62 million.

NI-Gas is currently distributing natural gas to 908,000 customers in 416 communities in northern Illinois outside Chicago, and is planning to extend service to another 85 communities — many along the Mississippi River — before the year is over. (BB

Softer Water Solves 'Scum Ring' Problem

What is the easiest and surest way of avoiding that scum ring around the bathtub? Take showers!

This is a clever answer to the question. . . but not to the problem. It may keep the tub clean, but it won't keep your skin and hair free of the same duling film that makes for a bathtub ring.

If the water you use does cause a ring, you are using hard water with chemical impurities. These combine with soaps and detergents to leave a film or deposit on yourself even when you shower, on your hair when you shampoo and on your face when you wash it.

GREAT grandmother knew what she was doing when she caught rainwater in a barrel to wash her hair. That water had no mineral impurities that would combine with soap to leave a dulling film on her skin and hair. She knew that it was rinsing that determined whether results would be bright or dull; soft and fluffy or hard; totally clean or almost clean when washing anything.

While great grandmother's efforts to collect rainwater in a barrel were well worth the efforts, no one suggests that modern homemakers hunt up a barrel to put by the downspout.

Still we can take a hint from great grandmother who realized that rainwater was close to ideal for personal grooming. Plenty of pure, soft water, moderately hot and a little mild soap -the cleaner the water, the less soap is required and the water need not be uncomfortably hot or irritating. this is the closest thing today to her way to a beauty treatment with water.

Water conditioning equipment manufacturers who provide quality water the modern way point out that this equipment provides fully soft water far more readily, in greater amounts and with even greater cleansing action than water from the rain barrel.

"REGARDLESS of the effects of special soaps, detergents and shampoos, water is the basic ingredient whenever we bathe, wash our hands and face and shampoo our hair, "declares J. L. Bruner, president of the Water Conditioning Foundation, Glenview, Illinois.

He adds, "Our studies confirm the belief many have that they feel better and their hair looks better, when they wash, bathe and shampoo with soap and soft water. The reason: soft water not only washes away dirt but also does not leave detergent deposits or soap scum on the skin and the hair."

Bruner points out that water conditioning equipment can be bought or rented. Home soft water service also is available from some manufacturers. Water softener dealers or plumbers listed in the yellow pages of the telephone book can give you the details. (RE

For the first time in its history, Northern Illinois Gas Co.'s annual revenues have exceeded the $200 million mark.

NI-Gas chairman and president Marvin Chandler reported that for the 12-month period ended February 28, 1966, the utility's revenues totaled $201,602,372.

"THE NEW HIGH," Chandler said, "reflects the spectacular growth the company has had, and represents more than a three-fold gain in just 12 years." In 1954, the year the company was founded, revenues were $62 million.

NI-Gas is currently distributing natural gas to 908,000 customers in 416 communities in northern Illinois outside Chicago, and is planning to extend service to another 85 communities — many along the Mississippi River — before the year is over. (BB

Higher Interest, Tighter Terms Seen in Home Loans

Borrowers able to meet tighter terms for home purchases will find adequate funds in most sections of the country, although interest rates for conventional loans — already about one-half percentage point higher than they were last September — will hold firm or rise during the next three months, according to the spring mortgage market study of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The report, prepared by the NAREB Department of Research for the Committee on Real Estate Economics and Research, notes also that the current decline in savings in thrift institutions, coupled with the heavy demand for money from industry for plant expansion, presents "A grim tone to the outlook for potential home buyers and small businessmen." The report is based on data submitted by a panel of 185 Realtors representing market areas throughout the country.

These experts reported that for an existing home in a good neighborhood, a charge of six per cent is common in 55 per cent of the nation, while 6¼ per cent is usual in 15 per cent of the country, 6½ per cent is the common rate in 12 per cent, and over 6½ per cent prevails in four per cent of the nation. An interest rate of 5¾ per cent is average in 10 per cent of the areas and of 5½ per cent or less in four per cent. The pattern of rates for conventional financing of new homes is relatively similar, with interest costs slightly lower in a few places, the report notes.

"A comparison to six months ago shows the sharp rise," the report says. For a loan on an existing home, a rate of 5¾ per cent or less — more frequently 5½ per cent — was common in 51 per cent of the areas, contrasting with 14 per cent today.

THE REPORT continues that average rates above six per cent were confined to 11 per cent of the areas six months ago. Currently, this share of the national market has nearly trebled and represents 31 per cent.

The relationship between demand for credit for home mortgage financing and the supply available for conventional loans has changed dramatically in recent months, the study of the mortgage market reports. "This stringency does not mean that funds are unavailable, but that applications in many areas exceed resources and that greater selectivity is being exercised. Although few areas report a tight supply of funds for conventional home financing, the marked difference in accessibility is reflected in the high percentage of areas that have shifted from an ample to a moderate supply."

The supply of funds for conventional loans to purchase existing houses in good neighborhoods is ample in 49 per cent of the country, moderate in 42 per cent, and tight in nine per cent. In September, 1965, the supply was ample in 89 per cent of the country, moderate in nine per cent, and tight in only two per cent. Financing for new home purchases has shown a similar pattern.

"Credit requirements have become more restrictive as applications for conventional home loans exceed the volume of capital seeking placement in the market," adds the NAREB report. "In some areas lenders are described as having a 'wait and see' attitude as they continue loan approval to top credit risks. A more conservative view on maximum loan to value and greater security of applicants is rather general."

EXPECTEDLY, the supply of credit for acquisition of an existing home in a neglected neighborhood has tightened and interest rates have risen, the survey reports. Currently, an ample supply is limited to 20 per cent of the nation, compared with 43 per cent six months ago. Availability is moderate in 29 per cent, and tight in 45 per cent. In the remaining six per cent of the areas, funds are reported to be unavailable.

Interest rates continue to be predominantly six per cent in 39 per cent of the nation, often because of legal limitations. A charge of over 6½ per cent is reported for 29 per cent of the country, a 6½ per cent rate for nearly a quarter of the areas, and a 6¼ per cent rate is predominant in eight per cent of the nation.

The report, which was based on data collected before the most recent increase in the FHA and VA interest rate, declares "the outlook for buyers and sellers whose transactions depend on government underwritten loans is less encouraging." The February one-quarter per cent increase in the FHA and VA interest rate ceiling was insufficient to permit these mortgages to compete with other securities. The April 11 increase should narrow the gap, although they will still not be fully competitive.

THE REPORT notes that last year four out of five FHA-insured home mortgages were on existing properties and observes that nearly half of the FHA existing home buyers were less than 35 years old.

"They are families whose ability to make a down payment may be modest, but whose income outlook is bright. An FHA interest rate compatible with the average conventional mortgage charge would appear preferable to a contracting market which is inevitable unless the seller is willing to pay a major cost of the buyer's credit." Arlington Realty Sets Sales Record

Sales increases of more than 50 per cent in home sales for the first quarter of 1966 were reported this week by Arlington Realty, Inc., of Arlington Heights and announced by Herb Carl for the firm.

Sixty-one homes with a sales volume exceeding $1.7 million set an all-time record high for the quarter ending March 31. Last year, the previous high, sales totaled 39 homes and a volume of $1.1 millions.

Exclusive listings were up 24 per cent from the previous year, and Arlington Heights exclusives are up 31 per cent for the first quarter. There have been 56 "exclusives" this year compared with 45 for the first three months of 1965.

The average sales price so far this year is $28,000 compared with $26,200 for 1965.

ONE OF THE oldest names in the area, Arlington Realty, is owned and managed by four local Realtors: Herb Carl, Al Cinquini, Bill Kleiner and Elmer Zilen.

Carl and Cinquini opened a second office in June, 1964, located at 550 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights. The other office is at 535 S. Arlington Heights Road, also in Arlington Heights.

The two offices are members of M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service, local, state and national Real Estate Boards and exclusive representatives of the area for Homerica, the largest and oldest Nationwide Home Referral Service.

Over the past five years the company has doubled then redoubled its sales volume, and has grown from four to 14 licensed salesmen and brokers.

Harris Joins C. M. Behrens Sales Staff

Robert E. Harris, 115 S. Westover Court, Schaumburg, was recently welcomed as a new member of the sales staff of C. M. Behrens Co., a long established Realtor located at 2 Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

ROBERT E. HARRIS

Prior to joining Behrens, Harris was associated with United Motors Service, a division of General Motors Corp., working in the Chicago area for seven and a half years.

Harris was born in Avon Park, Fla., has lived in Michigan and moved to Illinois in 1947. He and his wife, Judith, have a married son, Robert Jr., presently in the Navy serving aboard the USS Sierra. (RE

Higher Interest, Tighter Terms Seen in Home Loans

Borrowers able to meet tighter terms for home purchases will find adequate funds in most sections of the country, although interest rates for conventional loans — already about one-half percentage point higher than they were last September — will hold firm or rise during the next three months, according to the spring mortgage market study of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The report, prepared by the NAREB Department of Research for the Committee on Real Estate Economics and Research, notes also that the current decline in savings in thrift institutions, coupled with the heavy demand for money from industry for plant expansion, presents "A grim tone to the outlook for potential home buyers and small businessmen." The report is based on data submitted by a panel of 185 Realtors representing market areas throughout the country.

These experts reported that for an existing home in a good neighborhood, a charge of six per cent is common in 55 per cent of the nation, while 6¼ per cent is usual in 15 per cent of the country, 6½ per cent is the common rate in 12 per cent, and over 6½ per cent prevails in four per cent of the nation. An interest rate of 5¾ per cent is average in 10 per cent of the areas and of 5½ per cent or less in four per cent. The pattern of rates for conventional financing of new homes is relatively similar, with interest costs slightly lower in a few places, the report notes.

"A comparison to six months ago shows the sharp rise," the report says. For a loan on an existing home, a rate of 5¾ per cent or less — more frequently 5½ per cent — was common in 51 per cent of the areas, contrasting with 14 per cent today.

THE REPORT continues that average rates above six per cent were confined to 11 per cent of the areas six months ago. Currently, this share of the national market has nearly trebled and represents 31 per cent.

The relationship between demand for credit for home mortgage financing and the supply available for conventional loans has changed dramatically in recent months, the study of the mortgage market reports. "This stringency does not mean that funds are unavailable, but that applications in many areas exceed resources and that greater selectivity is being exercised. Although few areas report a tight supply of funds for conventional home financing, the marked difference in accessibility is reflected in the high percentage of areas that have shifted from an ample to a moderate supply."

The supply of funds for conventional loans to purchase existing houses in good neighborhoods is ample in 49 per cent of the country, moderate in 42 per cent, and tight in nine per cent. In September, 1965, the supply was ample in 89 per cent of the country, moderate in nine per cent, and tight in only two per cent. Financing for new home purchases has shown a similar pattern.

"Credit requirements have become more restrictive as applications for conventional home loans exceed the volume of capital seeking placement in the market," adds the NAREB report. "In some areas lenders are described as having a 'wait and see' attitude as they continue loan approval to top credit risks. A more conservative view on maximum loan to value and greater security of applicants is rather general."

EXPECTEDLY, the supply of credit for acquisition of an existing home in a neglected neighborhood has tightened and interest rates have risen, the survey reports. Currently, an ample supply is limited to 20 per cent of the nation, compared with 43 per cent six months ago. Availability is moderate in 29 per cent, and tight in 45 per cent. In the remaining six per cent of the areas, funds are reported to be unavailable.

Interest rates continue to be predominantly six per cent in 39 per cent of the nation, often because of legal limitations. A charge of over 6½ per cent is reported for 29 per cent of the country, a 6½ per cent rate for nearly a quarter of the areas, and a 6¼ per cent rate is predominant in eight per cent of the nation.

The report, which was based on data collected before the most recent increase in the FHA and VA interest rate, declares "the outlook for buyers and sellers whose transactions depend on government underwritten loans is less encouraging." The February one-quarter per cent increase in the FHA and VA interest rate ceiling was insufficient to permit these mortgages to compete with other securities. The April 11 increase should narrow the gap, although they will still not be fully competitive.

THE REPORT notes that last year four out of five FHA-insured home mortgages were on existing properties and observes that nearly half of the FHA existing home buyers were less than 35 years old.

"They are families whose ability to make a down payment may be modest, but whose income outlook is bright. An FHA interest rate compatible with the average conventional mortgage charge would appear preferable to a contracting market which is inevitable unless the seller is willing to pay a major cost of the buyer's credit." Arlington Realty Sets Sales Record

Sales increases of more than 50 per cent in home sales for the first quarter of 1966 were reported this week by Arlington Realty, Inc., of Arlington Heights and announced by Herb Carl for the firm.

Sixty-one homes with a sales volume exceeding $1.7 million set an all-time record high for the quarter ending March 31. Last year, the previous high, sales totaled 39 homes and a volume of $1.1 millions.

Exclusive listings were up 24 per cent from the previous year, and Arlington Heights exclusives are up 31 per cent for the first quarter. There have been 56 "exclusives" this year compared with 45 for the first three months of 1965.

The average sales price so far this year is $28,000 compared with $26,200 for 1965.

ONE OF THE oldest names in the area, Arlington Realty, is owned and managed by four local Realtors: Herb Carl, Al Cinquini, Bill Kleiner and Elmer Zilen.

Carl and Cinquini opened a second office in June, 1964, located at 550 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights. The other office is at 535 S. Arlington Heights Road, also in Arlington Heights.

The two offices are members of M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service, local, state and national Real Estate Boards and exclusive representatives of the area for Homerica, the largest and oldest Nationwide Home Referral Service.

Over the past five years the company has doubled then redoubled its sales volume, and has grown from four to 14 licensed salesmen and brokers.

Harris Joins C. M. Behrens Sales Staff

Schultz Named to Airlines Sales Post

Joseph G. Schultz, 33, has been named supervisor of passenger sales for Trans World Airlines in the Chicago area.

Schultz moves to Chicago from Nashville where he had been district sales supervisor since summer of last year.

He attended Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa, and was a part time disc jockey there before joining TWA in 1953 as a reservations agent in Los Angeles. In 1954 he became a reservations service agent in Kansas City.

IN 1956 Schultz opened TWA's Tulsa office as agent in charge of reservations. Three years later he became general transportation agent at Tulsa Airport and in 1962 moved to Oklahoma City as a sales representative. In 1963 he was promoted to senior sales representative.

Schultz was honored as TWA's first salesman of the month in June, 1963, and later was named the airlines' first salesman of the year. In 1964 he became the honorary mayor of Oklahoma City for his work in directing the mayor's committee on international relations.

He, his wife Martha and their two adopted children have moved to Elk Grove Village. (BB

Kolstedt Promoted By Western Electric

Robert H. Kolstedt, 407 Wesley Drive, Addison, was promoted to assistant superintendent at Western Electric this month.

He will direct a group of 140 people associated with telephone electronic switching systems at the Hawthorne product Engineering Control Center at the Hawthorne Works, Cicero Avenue and Cermak Road.

Kolstedt and his group will be responsible for the basic equipment design and computer development of Western Electric engineering information for the company's regional engineering, manufacturing, and installation units.

He joined the company's equipment engineering branch in 1955. He was assigned to computer development in 1957, and transferred to the computer development staff at Newark, N. J.

HE BECAME A department chief in 1963 and moved to the electronic switching systems group in Chicago in 1964.

Kolstedt has a bachelor of science degree in education from Concordia College, River Forest. He has been working towards his master's at DePaul University.

He and his wife, Carol, have three children attending St. Paul's Lutheran School in Addison. They are: Wendy, 11; Robert Jr., 9, and Candice, 5.

Kolstedt is a member of the Church Council and is chairman of the board of education at St. Paul's. He has also been active in numerous community fund drives in Addison. (BB

Nelson Sales Quota Reflects Confidence in Local Home Market

Robert L. Nelson Realtors of Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine have geared their sales quota to 500 home sales in 1966.

This quota is realistically based on present and future home market which, according to Bob Nelson, will continue to remain active.

Nelson cites many reasons for this sales outlook, mainly the entiusiastic desire of home buyers to live in the Northwest Suburban area and also, the increase in home property values in the area.

As an example, the Nelson organization has enjoyed a 50% sales increase in the first quarter period of 1966 over the same period in 1965.

"We are certain this trend in buying and selling will be maintained throughout the year and beyond," says Robert L. Nelson.

Mrs. Holderman on Miller Realty Staff

J. S. Young Speaks to Engineers

J. S. Young, 21 Joyce Lane, Addison, a group supervisor at Automatic Electric's switching systems laboratory, Northlake, recently presented a scientific paper in New York City.

He addressed the 1966 International Convention of The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. Subject of the paper was "Four-Wire Switching of Private Networks, Using the Series 100 Director."

Young discussed how four-wire telephone switching provides better transmission than the conventional two-wire method, and how it is used with special telephone switching equipment called the Director, which solves switching and trunking problems that arise from telephone area growth.

NI-Gas Man Marks 25th Anniversary

Arthur Moldenhauer, a meter repairman for Northern Illinois Gas Company, observed a 25-year service anniversary with the company.

The utility veteran started his career in 1941 and has been employed in various assignments in the production and meter shop—departments at Waukegan, Oak Park and La Grange.

MOLDENHAUER

A resident of Long Grove, Moldenhauer lives with his wife, Ethel, on Arlington Heights Road. They have one son, Arthur, who is a Lake County deputy sheriff.

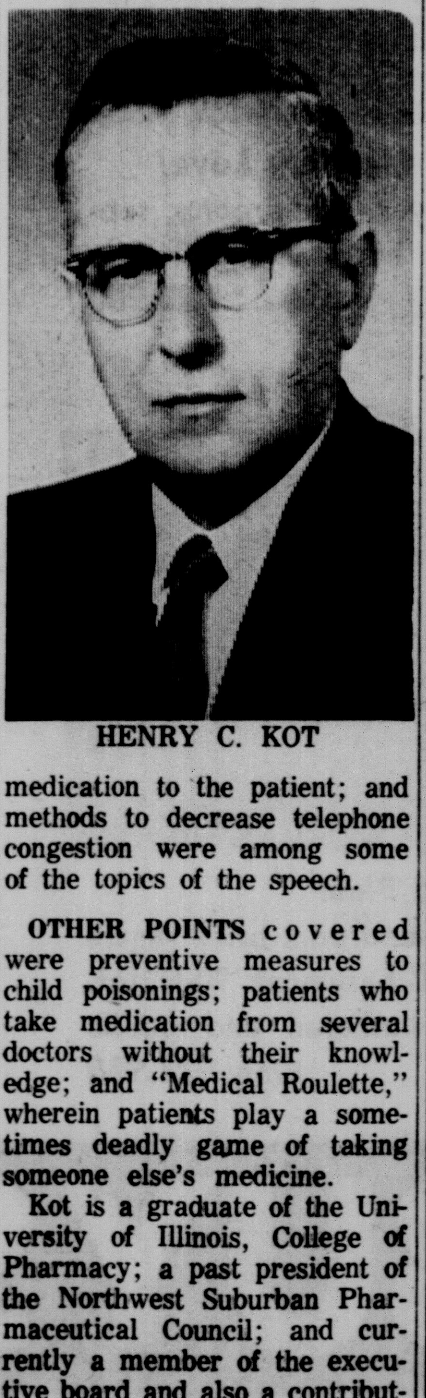
Moldenhauer enjoys woodworking as a hobby during his leisure hours at home. During the summer season he enjoys camping, hunting and fishing.

Henry Kot Talks to Pharmacists

Henry C. Kot, a registered pharmacist with Harris Pharmacy, 20 S. Dunton St., Arlington Heights, was the guest speaker Wednesday evening, April 13, at the regular monthly meeting of the Northwest Branch of Chicago Medical Assistants held at the Rolling Meadows Bank Building.

His talk dealt with proposals to improve certain cooperative techniques between the doctor's office and the pharmacy in the interest of more efficiently serving the patient.

Telephone prescription reading; scanning the different weights and measures systems used in pharmacy; how to decrease the delays in getting medication to the patient; and methods to decrease telephone congestion were among some of the topics of the speech.



HENRY C. KOT

OTHER POINTS covered were preventive measures to child poisonings; patients who take medication from several doctors without their knowledge; and "Medical Roulette," wherein patients play a sometimes deadly game of taking someone else's medicine.

Kot is a graduate of the University of Illinois, College of Pharmacy; a past president of the Northwest Suburban Pharmaceutical Council; and currently a member of the executive board and also a contributing editor of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association. (BB

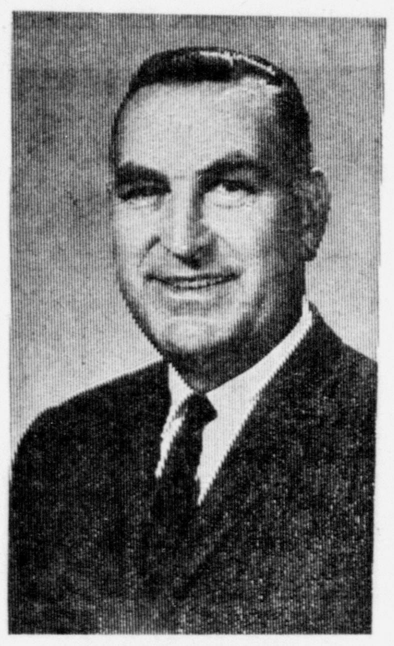
Arthur Moldenhauer, a meter repairman for Northern Illinois Gas Company, observed a 25-year service anniversary with the company.

The utility veteran started his career in 1941 and has been employed in various assignments in the production and meter shop—departments at Waukegan, Oak Park and La Grange.



MOLDENHAUER

A resident of Long Grove, Moldenhauer lives with his wife, Ethel, on Arlington Heights Road. They have one son, Arthur, who is a Lake County deputy sheriff.

Moldenhauer enjoys woodworking as a hobby during his leisure hours at home. During the summer season he enjoys camping, hunting and fishing.

Henry Kot Talks to Pharmacists

Henry C. Kot, a registered pharmacist with Harris Pharmacy, 20 S. Dunton St., Arlington Heights, was the guest speaker Wednesday evening, April 13, at the regular monthly meeting of the Northwest Branch of Chicago Medical Assistants held at the Rolling Meadows Bank Building.

His talk dealt with proposals to improve certain cooperative techniques between the doctor's office and the pharmacy in the interest of more efficiently serving the patient.

Telephone prescription reading; scanning the different weights and measures systems used in pharmacy; how to decrease the delays in getting medication to the patient; and methods to decrease telephone congestion were among some of the topics of the speech.

HENRY C. KOT

OTHER POINTS covered were preventive measures to child poisonings; patients who take medication from several doctors without their knowledge; and "Medical Roulette," wherein patients play a sometimes deadly game of taking someone else's medicine.

Kot is a graduate of the University of Illinois, College of Pharmacy; a past president of the Northwest Suburban Pharmaceutical Council; and currently a member of the executive board and also a contributing editor of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association. (BB

At Meeting on Child Vision

Dr. Conrad E. Mazeski and Dr. James M. Reilly, optometrists of 325 W. Prospect Ave., Mount Prospect, recently attended a seminar at the University of Chicago Center for Continuing Education.

The seminar was concerned with the development of children's vision. Principal speaker was Dr. Darell Boyd Harmon, Austin, Tex., the author of "The Coordinated Classroom." This publication revolutionized the schoolrooms by bringing in "green" chalkboards and movable and adjustable desks.

The meeting was sponsored by the Committee on Vision Development of the Illinois Optometric Association.)bb

HIGHLY TRAINED CREW at work on a Green Meadows home.

New Techniques Cut Home Building Costs

You can buy much more home for the dollar because of the revolutionary building techniques recently adopted by the Green Meadows Construction Co., announced Edwin Dato, the firm's president.

Conventional home building methods have been abandoned in favor of a completely automated system, stated Dato. Home sections are shipped to each home site and are permanently assembled by highly trained crews. Using this system, fourteen men can erect eight homes in one day, he said.

Home quality is actually higher than a home built by standard construction methods, because each home section, trusses, sidewalls and other components are all pre-engineered for each home. And since engineering and construction of each home unit takes place away from the construction site, higher quality control standards can be applied to each model.

EACH GREEN Meadow home is constructed in approximately one half the time it takes to build a home with ordinary methods, resulting in enormous labor savings, which are passed on to the buyer, said Dato. "The price of a Green Meadow home is far below the price for standard-built homes of comparable size and features," he said.

All Green Meadows homes are hand finished by a team of carpenters, using the finest kiln dried lumber available.

Three, four, five and six bedroom homes at Green Meadows start at $15,990. And the purchase of a Green Meadows home includes membership in the community's exclusive country club. Monthly payments at Green Meadows can be as low as $89.00 a month, including principal and interest.

HOME STYLES include a 1½ story Colonial, 4 large split foyer models, a contemporary ranch, and a stunning tri-level. Maintenance free masonry and metal siding comprise each home's exterior.

On Wednesday, March 16, a public demonstration of modular construction was held at Green Meadow. Before the eyes of fascinated onlookers, the shells of eight homes were erected, one per hour. "The purpose of the demonstration," said Dato, "was to prove that our Modular Construction is a more practical, more efficient method than standard construction, and that it produces better built homes."

Green Meadows is located 1½ miles south of the Northwest Tollway on Barrington Road in Streamwood. (REL

Talks on Inflation

Illinois retailers will focus on the subject of inflation at the evening banquet session of the Illinois Retail Merchants Asso- Wednesday, April 27, at the Hotel Knickerbocker, Chicago.

Dr. William Tongue, professor of economics at Chicago Circle campus, and William J. Korsvik, vice president, of the First National Bank of Chicago, will speak to retailers from throughout Illinois on the subject "Inflation — How Much, How Soon."

THE 9 A.M. to 9 p.m. annual meeting will include morning sessions on retail advertising, a luncheon program featuring a "Presidents' Panel," afternoon presentation by Ira Hayes, National Cash Register Co., split sessions on merchandising, personnel, and control, and the evening banquet.

Meeting reservations are necessary and should be made through the Illinois Retail Merchants Association, 36 S. Wabash, Chicago 60603. (BB

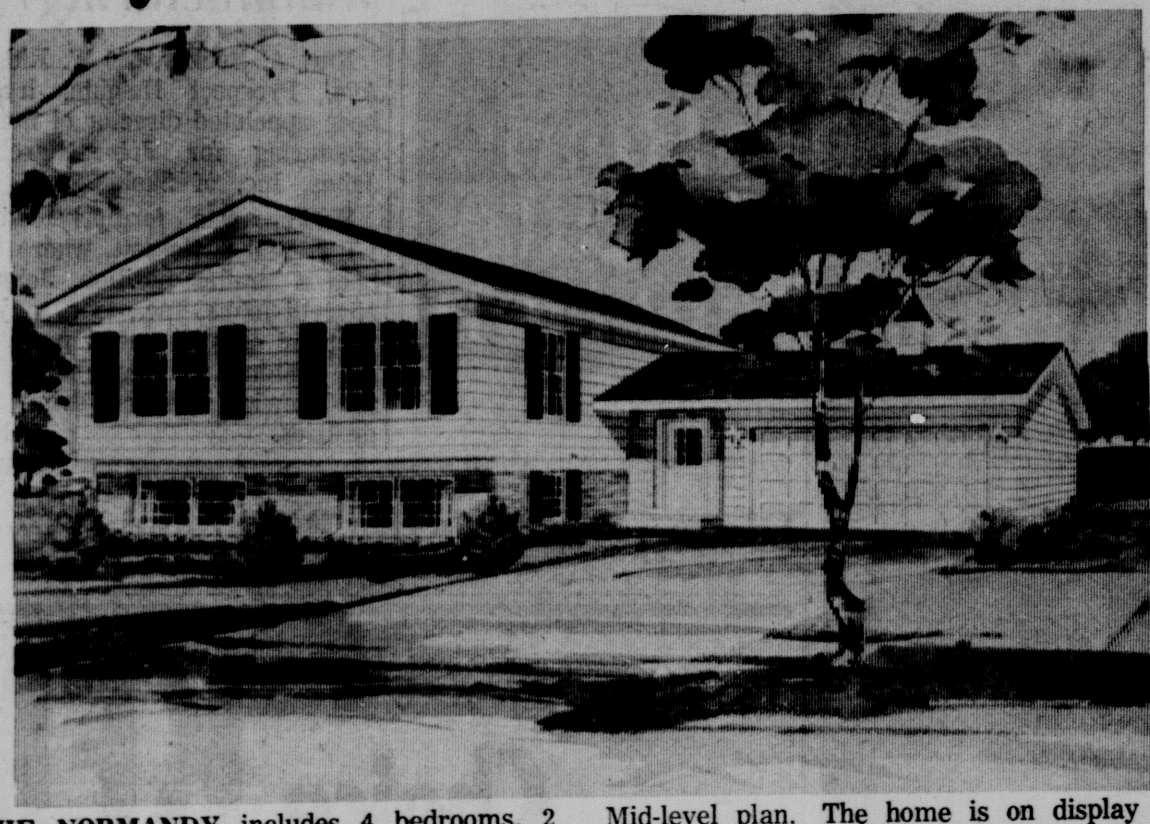
'Normandy' Geared To Modern Needs



THE NORMANDY includes 4 bedrooms, 2 full baths, paneled family room, and attached garage, and provides a unique separate suite arrangement in its distinctive L-shape Mid-level plan. The home is on display in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights, and is priced at $26,490. (Rel

"The unique pressures and problems characteristic of modern living, so divergent from those of our parents and grandparents, have created a whole new concept of housing needs," according to 3-H Homes, creators of Berkley Square in Arlington Heights.

For example, homes with "separate quarters" are greatly in demand by families where golden-age grandparents share the home, where working mothers bringing in a second income require sleep-in space for household help, where teenagers and young adults crave greater privacy.

WITH THESE specific requirements in mind, 3-H Homes has created the 4-bedroom, 2-bath Normandy, an unusual L-Shape, Mid-Level home that features a complete-suite arrangement on the lower level.

Just a few stairs down from the entry foyer one finds this house-within-a-house, including a big finished bedroom with wall-to-wall closet, a full bath with tub and shower, laundry-utility room, plus a large paneled family room.

But, that's not all. In addition, 3-H Homes have included an extra partitioned bonus room which may be converted to a fifth bedroom, den, sewing room, or home-office.

The upstairs is a model of work saving convenience with living room, dining area, kitchen, three bedrooms and full bath all on one step-saving level. The spacious master bedroom boasts an exclusive built-in powder-bar vanity plus a "his" and "hers" wall-to-wall closet.

THE ROOMY kitchen provides a large eating area and is deluxe equipped with custom cabinets, counter level range with hood, formica counters and easy-clean stainless steel sink.

Both baths are luxurious with marble-top vanities and colorful plumbing and the master bath has an unusual partition-for-privacy which separates bath and commode from basin and vanity table.

The Normandy sprawls with a spacious 2754 square feet of living space plus integral 2-car garage and presents a handsome exterior of bold brick wainscot and masonite siding. A distinctive cupola is poised above the garage and entries are flanked by smart coach lights. The Normandy is priced at $26,490.

The model is on display with 5 other furnished moueels, on Arlington Heights Road, ¼ mile north of Rand Road, in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights. (REL

RECENTLY ADDED to the homes being shown by Colonial Heights, in Mount Prospect, is the "Salem." The well-planned split-level has 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, large family-rec room and laundry-utility room. It is one of the several pleasing models now on display at the community—located on Busse Road, three blocks north of Golf Road (Route 58).

'Salem' Offers Change of Pace in Design Features

Currently attracting the compliments of visitors to Colonial Heights—located on Busse Road, three blocks north of Golf Road, in Mount Prospect—is a three-bedroom split-level, the "Salem." With one-and-a-half baths, large lower-level family room, a separate laundry-utility room, and two-car garage, the home is priced at $29,900.

Among the change-of-pace features of the "Salem" are the liberal touches of unexpected novelty found in both exterior concept and floor plan.

The novelty of design is immediately apparent in the home's front elevation. This presents two definite wings, divided by a wide outside entry area set well back underroof. Further protection is afforded on each side by the walls of the attached garage and the main living wing of the house. The outer entry area also has plenty of room for an outside planter or other decorative device.

EXTERIOR face brick and siding are offered in a choice of eye-catching color combinations.

Inside, colorful slate flooring accents the front entry. Here, there is a direct entrance from the garage, while, to the other side, is the entrance to the living room. This measures 22' long by over 14' wide, and connects with the adjacent dining room in the popular open "el" arrangement. Across the front of both rooms is a wide view window, which takes up nearly the entire front wall of the home.

Floor planning in the "Salem" is highly practical. The stairs to upper and lower levels are centered in the home's over-all layout, allowing quick distribution of traffic to all parts of the house.

In the kitchen, built-in appliances and work areas are set in a step-saving L-arrangement, with cabinets, counter tops and oven and range in a choice of matching colors. Rear entrance to the house is in a corner of the kitchen.

The three bedrooms and family bath take up the upper level. They open off a large rectangular hallway, with a linen closet at the head of the stairs. The bathroom is attractively color - keyed in ceramic tile, with a private entrance from the Master Bedroom.

ON THE LOWER level are the family room — nearly 21' x 19½' in size, and a separate laundry-utility room. There is a convenient storage closet at the foot of the stairs. The powder room is at one corner, while sliding glass doors open onto a concrete patio area at the rear of the house.

The "Salem" and other models are on display every day in Colonial Heights, from 10 a.m. till dusk. The attractive Mount Prospect community is directly across from Mount Prospect Country Club, on Busse Road, three blocks north of Golf Road.

WITH THESE specific requirements in mind, 3-H Homes has created the 4-bedroom, 2-bath Normandy, an unusual L-Shape, Mid-Level home that features a complete-suite arrangement on the lower level.

Just a few stairs down from the entry foyer one finds this house-within-a-house, including a big finished bedroom with wall-to-wall closet, a full bath with tub and shower, laundry-utility room, plus a large paneled family room.

But, that's not all. In addition, 3-H Homes have included an extra partitioned bonus room which may be converted to a fifth bedroom, den, sewing room, or home-office.

The upstairs is a model of work saving convenience with living room, dining area, kitchen, three bedrooms and full bath all on one step-saving level. The spacious master bedroom boasts an exclusive built-in powder-bar vanity plus a "his" and "hers" wall-to-wall closet.

THE ROOMY kitchen provides a large eating area and is deluxe equipped with custom cabinets, counter level range with hood, formica counters and easy-clean stainless steel sink.

Both baths are luxurious with marble-top vanities and colorful plumbing and the master bath has an unusual partition-for-privacy which separates bath and commode from basin and vanity table.

The Normandy sprawls with a spacious 2754 square feet of living space plus integral 2-car garage and presents a handsome exterior of bold brick wainscot and masonite siding. A distinctive cupola is poised above the garage and entries are flanked by smart coach lights. The Normandy is priced at $26,490.

The model is on display with 5 other furnished models, on Arlington Heights Road, ¼ mile north of Rand Road, in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights. (REL

RECENTLY ADDED to the homes being shown by Colonial Heights, in Mount Prospect, is the "Salem." The well-planned split-level has 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, large family-rec room and laundry-utility room. It is one of the several pleasing models now on display at the community—located on Busse Road, three blocks north of Golf Road (Route 58).

'Salem' Offers Change of Pace in Design Features

Currently attracting the compliments of visitors to Colonial Heights—located on Busse Road, three blocks north of Golf Road, in Mount Prospect—is a three-bedroom split-level, the "Salem." With one-and-a-half baths, large lower-level family room, a separate laundry-utility room, and two-car garage, the home is priced at $29,900.

Among the change-of-pace features of the "Salem" are the liberal touches of unexpected novelty found in both exterior concept and floor plan.

The novelty of design is immediately apparent in the home's front elevation. This presents two definite wings, divided by a wide outside entry area set well back underroof. Further protection is afforded on each side by the walls of the attached garage and the main living wing of the house. The outer entry area also has plenty of room for an outside planter or other decorative device.

EXTERIOR face brick and siding are offered in a choice of eye-catching color combinations.

Inside, colorful slate flooring accents the front entry. Here, there is a direct entrance from the garage, while, to the other side, is the entrance to the living room. This measures 22' long by over 14' wide, and connects with the adjacent dining room in the popular open "el" arrangement. Across the front of both rooms is a wide view window, which takes up nearly the entire front wall of the home.

Floor planning in the "Salem" is highly practical. The stairs to upper and lower levels are centered in the home's over-all layout, allowing quick distribution of traffic to all parts of the house.

In the kitchen, built-in appliances and work areas are set in a step-saving L-arrangement, with cabinets, counter tops and oven and range in a choice of matching colors. Rear entrance to the house is in a corner of the kitchen.

The three bedrooms and family bath take up the upper level. They open off a large rectangular hallway, with a linen closet at the head of the stairs. The bathroom is attractively color - keyed in ceramic tile, with a private entrance from the Master Bedroom.

ON THE LOWER level are the family room — nearly 21' x 19½' in size, and a separate laundry-utility room. There is a convenient storage closet at the foot of the stairs. The powder room is at one corner, while sliding glass doors open onto a concrete patio area at the rear of the house.

The "Salem" and other models are on display every day in Colonial Heights, from 10 a.m. till dusk. The attractive Mount Prospect community is directly across from Mount Prospect Country Club, on Busse Road, three blocks north of Golf Road.

Illinois Bell Opens Employment Center

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has announced the opening of an area employment center in Arlington Heights, effective this week.

Personnel in the new center, 44 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, will interview potential male and female employes for the Arlington Heights, Barrington, Wheeling, and Elk Grove areas.

Mrs. Mary Sarro, Elgin, and Miss Barbara Andrews, Mundelein, have been appointed interviewers for the new center.

Mrs. Cynthia Thompson, Des Plaines, has been named employment representative for the area. Mrs. Thompson will work with all schools, civic groups, and social or fraternal organizations to provide information on opportunities in the telephone industry.

APPLICANTS will be interviewed for positions as operators, service representatives, and salesmen.

The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Appointments may be made by calling 392-6600.

"Opportunities are available for qualified high school graduates and those with some college experience who would like to be part of the growing communications business," Mrs. Sarro said. "Progress in the telephone business is based on individual merit and opportunities are unlimited. We are opening this employment center in order to better serve the northwest Suburban Area." (BB

Bank Hikes Interest to 4½ Per Cent

The board of directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of Des Plaines last week voted to increase the interest paid on savings to 4½ per cent retroactive to Jan. 1, 1966.

J. A. Eagleson, president of the association, said. "The action of the directors emphasizes the long known fact that it really pays to save at First Federal Savings of Des Plaines," he said.

The association is a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. and of the Federal Home Loan Bank System.

The First Federal building is at 749 Lee St., in Des Plaines.

Realcoa Appoints Staff Decorator

As a special service to their home-buyers, Realcoa, the Realty Company of America, has appointed a staff interior designer. Ginna O'Connor will be available as a consultant to all Realcoa home purchasers to aid in choices of color and other interior design. Part of Realcoa's intensified Post-sales Program," this decorating counseling is provided without charge.

Mrs. O'Connor, a graduate of New Rochelle College in New Rochelle, N. Y., has a bachelor of arts degree and for many years has operated her own interior design business in Crystal Lake.

Mother of seven children ond veteran of many interior designs, both in the Chicago area and in the East, she has definite ideas on how a house should be color coordinated and styled.

She says, "All too often, enchanted by a new home, the lady of the family goes off into flights of fancy that bear no relationship to the way in which the family is going to live. This is often true in households with growing children. What we try to do is let our patrons know what is practical as well as attractive and charming. For example, pastel colors can be lovely, but they don't stand up under dirty hand prints and crayon marks very well. Wallpaper accents have a special charm all their own, but unless they are used sparingly to bring out an entire decorative scheme, they can result in a great deal of added expense per room. Our job is to help our homeowners end up with a lovely place to live, which fits not only their personality, but their family pattern."

GINNA O'CONNOR

WILLIAM ALTER, president of Realcoa, has always been strong on well-furnished, tastefully-decorated model homes.

"After all," he says, "nobody can tell what a home really looks like when they just look at the bare walls. We try to furnish the home in a way that reflects its basic living pattern potential, and the personality of the people we think would be happy in the particular model. Mrs. O'Connor takes our highly styled interior decoration a full step further as far as our purchasers are concerned. Many of them, while thrilled by what we present, realize that it is not practical for them, and want to make modifications. The majority of home purchasers just want guide lines and advice. They don't intend to make a big spashy decoration project out of their new house. So, rather than have them cast about, and try to talk to the painter contractor themselves, we felt an obligation to our buyers. Mrs. O'Connor will furnish expert advice to our home buyers, assuring them the professional touch that they deserve."

Mrs. O'Connor's talents will be available to home purchasers at Realcoa's Airy Trace on State Road (Arlington Heights Road) just north of Golf Road in Arlington Heights; and Windsor Trails, in southwest Hickory Hills, at 87th and Kean Avenue. Her services are part of a program to insure complete satisfaction on the part of all Realcoa home buyers. (REL

Colonial Heights
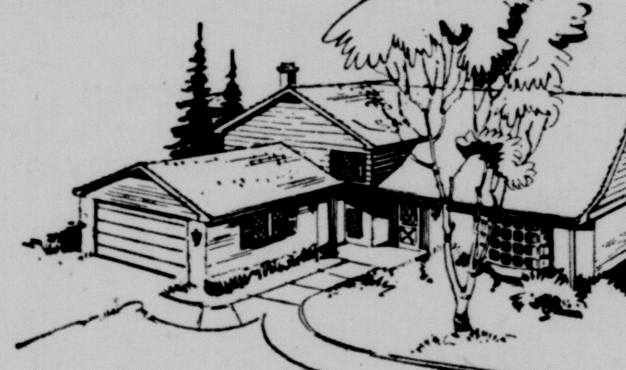
A New Height in Country-Club Living

If we had more space in this home, we wouldn't know what to do with it.

Neither would you.



■ This architectural plan is a Cape Cod adaptation, featuring 3 bedrooms—plus a giant 25'6"x15'0" dormitory (great hobby room or play room, etc.!) . . . 2½ bathrooms, family room, separate living and dining rooms, attached 2-car garage, etc., etc. It is priced at $35,000. Excellent conventional financing available. Other models, too!—a 4-bedroom ranch home . . . and a 4-bedroom split-level.

We call this luxurious home simply—"architectural plan number 6446." Perhaps that's not saying enough. However, we assume that by now you've come to recognize the distinctive features and quality construction that always go into Regent Park's homes. We're guessing, too, that with its location in an ideal section of Arlington Heights, this home already speaks for itself. So we'll stop now...and hope you stop by—soon!

Regent Park in Arlington Heights

To see Regent Park's models, take Rand Road (Rt. 12) or Elmhurst Rd. (Rt. 83) to Kensington (Foundry Rd.) at Randhurst Shopping Center, then west ½-mile on Kensington. Regent Park is adjacent to Kensington Grade School and Prospect High School in Arlington Heights. Open daily 11 A.M. 'til dark.

Realcoa Appoints Staff Decorator

As a special service to their home-buyers, Realcoa, the Realty Company of America, has appointed a staff interior designer. Ginna O'Connor will be available as a consultant to all Realcoa home purchasers to aid in choices of color and other interior design. Part of Realcoa's intensified Post-sales Program," this decorating counseling is provided without charge.

Mrs. O'Connor, a graduate of New Rochelle College in New Rochelle, N. Y., has a bachelor of arts degree and for many years has operated her own interior design business in Crystal Lake.

Mother of seven children ond veteran of many interior designs, both in the Chicago area and in the East, she has definite ideas on how a house should be color coordinated and styled.

She says, "All too often, enchanted by a new home, the lady of the family goes off into flights of fancy that bear no relationship to the way in which the family is going to live. This is often true in households with growing children. What we try to do is let our patrons know what is practical as well as attractive and charming. For example, pastel colors can be lovely, but they don't stand up under dirty hand prints and crayon marks very well. Wallpaper accents have a special charm all their own, but unless they are used sparingly to bring out an entire decorative scheme, they can result in a great deal of added expense per room. Our job is to help our homeowners end up with a lovely place to live, which fits not only their personality, but their family pattern."

WILLIAM ALTER, president of Realcoa, has always been strong on well-furnished, tastefully-decorated model homes.

"After all," he says, "nobody can tell what a home really looks like when they just look at the bare walls. We try to furnish the home in a way that reflects its basic living pattern potential, and the personality of the people we think would be happy in the particular model. Mrs. O'Connor takes our highly styled interior decoration a full step further as far as our purchasers are concerned. Many of them, while thrilled by what we present, realize that it is not practical for them, and want to make modifications. The majority of home purchasers just want guide lines and advice. They don't intend to make a big spashy decoration project out of their new house. So, rather than have them cast about, and try to talk to the painter contractor themselves, we felt an obligation to our buyers. Mrs. O'Connor will furnish expert advice to our home buyers, assuring them the professional touch that they deserve."

GINNA O'CONNOR

Mrs. O'Connor's talents will be available to home purchasers at Realcoa's Airy Trace on State Road (Arlington Heights Road) just north of Golf Road in Arlington Heights; and Windsor Trails, in southwest Hickory Hills, at 87th and Kean Avenue. Her services are part of a program to insure complete satisfaction on the part of all Realcoa home buyers. (REL

HOW To Make The
When Buying
A Home

What will it cost you each year to maintain a home? You should determine this before you buy. All homes, including new ones, require maintenance. Some kinds of construction require more than others. Exterior painting is less for a brick home, but initial cost is usually higher.

In addition to these, there are taxes and insurance, the rates for which vary in different locations.

Estimates of all these costs should be obtained before you buy, and your local Realtor is the one who can guide you on learning all there is about the home you want.

Especially for Women

A LITTLE BIT OF NONSENSE, some imagination and a whole lot of fun went into the making of the Easter bonnet modeled by Miss Gwen Ewert, daughter of the William Ewerts of Mount Prospect. Miss Ewert, a sophomore at Concordia Teachers College, was chosen by the American Red Cross to model more than 200 bonnets made by hospitalized GI's at Hines Veterans Administration Hospital.

Slate Full Evening For St. James Guild

St. James Women's Guild will combine business with pleasure at tonight's (Thursday) meeting at 8:15 in the school hall, N. State Road, Arlington Heights.

On the agenda is an election of new officers and reports by various committee chairmen, and following the business portion Mrs. Glad Applegate will entertain the guild with reviews of several light-hearted books by Mrs. Goulding Smith.

MRS. SMITH is the wife of Robert Paul Smith, who wrote the best seller, "Where Did You Go. Out. What Did You Do. Nothing."

The reviewer, Mrs. Applegate, is a graduate of Northwestern University School of Speech and reviews for numerous groups throughout the state.

Religious articles for parish members are on sale in the home of Mrs. John Roth, who may be called at CL 3-3734. She will also sell items after all masses on May 1. (S

Coffee Meeting

It will be coffee time when women of First Presbyterian Church, Arlington Heights, hold their women's association meeting in Fellowship Hall of the church at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 27.

Rev. L. A. Armstrong from Northwestern University will address the women telling them of his "campus ministry." Mrs. Bentsen Christian. education secretary, is the program chairman and Mrs. Paul Stumpf will lead devotions.

Reservations for the coffee are due in the church office by April 25. (S

Farm Adviser Is Club Speaker

The Home and Garden Group of the Arlington Heights Newcomers Club will present as its guest speaker this month, Richard H. DeLano, Assistant Farm Adviser in Cook County. His topic will be "Trees for Northern Cook County."

The meeting is set for Wednesday, April 27, 8 p.m. in the North Room at Pioneer Park.

Mr. De Lano is a member of a family that has engaged in horticulture in the Netherlands for generations. He received a bachelor degree in horticulture work at Colorado State. He earned a masters degree at Michigan State in 1959. A TV personality, he was appointed assistant radio and TV editor at Pennsylvania State University in 1963. He has appeared frequently on the Mal Belair Show, Tie Line, Coffee Break, the Jim Conway Show and the Lee Phillip Show.

For this particular meeting, Mrs. Joseph Braun, chairman of the Home and Garden Group, has invited the men. The meeting is also open to the public.

For further information regarding the club and its activities, newcomers may call the membership chairman, Mrs. Walter Donahue, 392-9198. (S

Mrs. Wayland Heads Mt. Prospect PEO

At a recent chapter meeting, new officers were elected for Chapter JM, PEO Sisterhood of Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Ewing T. Wayland, immediate past president, installed the following: Mrs. Carl DeKoatz, president; Mrs. Virgil Livingston, vice president; Mrs. Lour C. Dodge, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald K. Neal, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard E. Lambert, treasurer; Mrs. Melville J. Coolbaugh, chaplain; Mrs. Stowe H. Allen Jr., guard.

ON SATURDAY evening, 30, Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Neal will be hosts for the annual BIL get-together. A steak fry is planned. Co-hosts will be the junior Stowe H. Allens, Carl DeKoatzes, Richard E. Lamberts and junior G. Allan Julins.

The PEO Sisterhood is an international organization with thousands of chapters in the United States and Canada. Its purposes are educational and charitable, accomplished through three educational philanthropies with which the entire membership is concerned. These are the PEO Educational Fund, Cottey Junior College for Women and the International Peace Scholarship Fund. (S

Merrylee Auer Weds Amid White and Yellow Setting

A delicate color scheme of bridal white with yellow surround the wedding ceremony on March 19 which united Merrylee Auer of Arlington Heights and Pvt. Chester Malanowski of Grayslake. The couple repeated their vows at 3 in the afternoon in St. Gilbert's Catholic Church in the groom's hometown, and following a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Auer, 202 S. Stratford Road, they left for Fort Leonard Woods, Mo. where the groom is stationed with the U. S. Army.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. K. Malanowski of Grayslake.

THE BRIDE WAS attired completely in white and carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids. Her attendants wore yellow floor-length chiffon dresses with empire bodices, the neckline trimmed with white and yellow Venice lace flowers. They carried yellow plumeria and white carnations.

Maid of honor Lynne Wright of Wheeling, a close friend of the bride, wore a headpiece of three yellow bells entwined with pearls, and the bridesmaids, Carol L. Auer, sister of the bride, and Alice Nokell of Morton Grove, wore headpieces fashioned of one large flower entwined with pearls.

THE BRIDE entered the sanctuary wearing a silk peau de soie gown with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and a fitted bodice embroidered with alencon lace appliques. The appliques were repeated on the bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel train.

A pillbox of peau embroidered in the same lace motif held the bride's elbow-length veil in place.

CHET COZY of Round Lake, an uncle of the groom, was his best man, while his two brothers, Walter and Lester Malanowski, served as ushers.

For the mid-afternoon wedding and 5 o'clock dinner reception in the Auer home, Mrs. Auer wore a pale pink 2-piece crepe suit with matching accessories and had a white orchid and stephanotis corsage. Mrs. Malanowski also wore a pink 2-piece suit, in a dusty shade of shantung, and she also had matching accessories and a white orchid and stephanotis corsage.

THE NEWLYWEDS will live in Waynesville, Mo., near Fort Leonard Wood, where the groom is a combat engineer.

The bride is an Arlington High School graduate and then attended American School of Beauty Culture. She was employed at Arlington Heights National Bank until her marriage.

The groom attended Grayslake High School and was employed at Busse Chevrolet in Round Lake until going into service last September. (S

Letters to the Editor

Cites Candidate's Record of Opposing Federal School Aid

Your subheadline and lead paragraph, Thursday, April 14, in the Hoffman Herald, relative to the outcome of School District 54's board election is erroneous, and your editorial manipulation of what should have been a straight news item is so blatantly without foundation that it can only be considered irresponsible journalism.

You are correct in your assumption that federal aid to education, as an issue, had little to do with the outcome of the election. However, since you have chosen to make a post-election issue of it, it is only fair to the candidates, as well as the readers, that the true facts be presented.

Mrs. Eleanor Thorsen, incumbent board member and undisputable front runner of the candidates, contrary to your conclusion, is, without doubt, the strongest advocate of locally controlled school policies and financing that can be found in District 54.

IF YOU WILL refer, as you should have, to the minutes of District 54's Board meeting dated January 6, (copy enclosed) when the issue of federal aid to education was first placed on the agenda, you will note that she is the only board member who voted no on all three titles of Public Law 89-10, including title 2, which was adopted by District 54; Mrs. Thorsen being the only objector. Furthermore, if you will refer to your own newspaper's account of the discussion relative to the matter, which includes remarks by a contingent of the general public, whose presence were for the specific purpose of forcing the issue to a positive vote, there can be little doubt as to Mrs. Thorsen's views.

The enclosed copy of Mrs. Thorsen's remarks relative to federal aid to education, taken from the manuscript of her campaign speech before the Hoffman Estates Home Owners Association, the Weathersfield Home Owners Association, and the District 54 PTA Council, that were presumably covered by your news reporter, further refutes your contention that she "has favored such aid."

IN CONCLUSION, the purpose of this letter is not to demand a retraction, which is unnecessary, since the people of the community your paper serves are well aware of Mrs. Thorsen's views and obviously agree with them, but to dramatically illustrate the fallacies of inaccurate news reporting, or an attempt to interject your philosophical doctrine where it has no right to be.

Mrs. Thorsen's successful re-election was not the result of her views on one particular issue. She won the election because she has devoted herself to the duties and reponsibilities of her office and truly deserves the praise that your competitor, "The Record," saw fit to publish editorially before the election (copy enclosed).

Prods Precinct Captains on 2nd Endorsement

Incredible as it may seem, the Republican precinct captains of Wheeling Township have been unable, thus far, to find more than one candidate to endorse for state representative.

Even in the absence of a regular committeeman, one might normally think that somewhere, somehow, they should have been able to dredge up another name to fill out the ballot. The third district is after all, nationally known to be a powerhouse of Republican strength and vitality. Four other candidates have filed for the position. But the captains have tried them all — and from the looks of things, found all wanting. Alas!

SINCE, BY THEIR non-endorsement, the Wheeling captains have made clear that they do not believe there is more than one Republican fit for the job, they might do well to consider which of the two Democrats they'd most like to see in Springfield.

Mrs. Chapman should get the nod — perhaps as their favorite daughter. She lives in the township. She would add even more blue-ribbon class to their ticket. If she hasn't been an active Republican very long, that should not be held against her. Neither have most of the Wheeling captains.

Oddly enough, other township organizations in the district do not share in the Wheeling captains' singular enthusiasm for their boy — except in Palatine. There the captains have endorsed Schlickman and Hesse and soon will be working to develop votes for both.

THIS MEANS THAT the Palatine people have met a basic obligation — to support a full slate of candidates for important state positions. But what will happen when the favor is not returned is anybody's guess. Barring endorsement in Wheeling Township, the Palatine candidate seems unlikely to win. Barring an old fashioned backroom deal, he seems unlikely to get the endorsement.

In not finding . . . and actively backing . . . a second candidate for this key position, our local Republican organization is falling down on a basic obligation to the supporters it is supposed to represent. It is, again, unbelievable that they are unable to find and support a second man — more than one man to fill three slots on the ballot. Or is it? The next few weeks will tell.

Suggests Posting Lookouts to Stop Vandalism

Schaumburg Jaycees Pres. Caple's recent letter in your paper was well written and pointed out a problem common to many communities. Unfortunately, 95 per cent of the letter dealt with the complaint, and only five per cent was devoted to its solution. And it was a passive one at that. It said, in effect, "If you see vandalism committed, report it."

I regret to inform Mr. Caple that residents will see and report no more acts of vandalism after having read his letter than before. This is not meant to minimize or discourage the commendable civic spirit and hard work of Mr. Caple and others. Rather, it is a sincere attempt to urge a more positive approach to the problem.

There is certainly little sense in repairing the same signs repeatedly, thus providing the vandals with bright new targets. It does nothing to solve the problems, and is a waste of time, energy and civic funds.

What should be done? Let these same Jaycees whose efforts were scorned by the vandals organize themselves into teams and post watches to observe the more frequent targets.

They could utilize private autos, buildings and even "Walkie-Talkie' two-way radios. Most vandalism is committed between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., so that is when to expect them (unless they read this letter). The culprits could then be observed, apprehended and detained for arrest by the police (citizen's arrest), or the police could be notified. Be sure that the police are aware of your activities, or you may be arrested on suspicion!

The foregoing is called positive action, and is the kind that gets results.

Schlickman's Scout Work Wins Praise

Recently in your publication appeared a story that I consider most unfair as it pertains to Mr. Eugene Schlickman and his performance as a Scout Master for Troup 66 at St. James Catholic Church.

Since there are usually two sides to every story and because I served on one of the committees before and during Mr. Schlickman's term as Scout Master, I feel it only fair to drop you this note.

To my knowledge, while Mr. Schlickman served as Scout Master, he was always most willing to cooperate with the various committees and perform his duties to the best of his ability in order to provide a progressive and interesting program for the boys of Troup 66.

I feel that because Gene Schlickman accepted the responsibility of Scout Master at a time when we were having a most difficult time replacing another good Scout Master, Gene should be complimented and not criticized.

Joan Lorenson Story on Blood Plan Praised

I am writing to thank you and your fine newspaper for your support of our community blood assurance program.

I want to particularly commend Joan Lorenson for the outstanding article written about blood banking and particularly this program.

As you know, the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan has been designed to assist blood banks generally in meeting their public responsibility, and to help the patient in solving some of the problems created by the need for blood transfusions.

Miss Lorenson fully described how members of your community can provide protection for themselves and their families by making a simple blood donation.

We cannot help but feel that we owe a debt of gratitude to your newspaper for helping us to inform the public how a blood donation today can protect them tomorrow through the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan, a civic blood program.

Thank you.

Sees No Conflict in Two Mental Health Programs

As a resident of Arlington Heights and President of the Mental Health Association of Greater Chicago, I join with Mr. Leroy Marks, President of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association, in desiring to do everything possible to have the citizens of this area understand the difference between our two organizations.

The Mental Health Association of Greater Chicago is the official chapter of the National Association for Mental Health. It is our National office which conducts Mental Health Week activities each year throughout the country. We carry on our fund-raising campaign in this week as part of the total program of the National Association for Mental Health.

Mr. Marks, in his "Letter to the Editor" of your newspaper, spoke of education and research as being the program activities of our association. In addition to education and research, we also carry on activities in the fields of service, planning and action.

One of our most important service programs is the Work Experience Program. At present, we have 12 trainees in the association's office.

These people, who have suffered from mental illness, come from communities throughout Metropolitan Chicago. In our program they regain their confidence and their skills and in most cases secure regular employment upon completion of the program.

The association has also been extremely active in supporting legislation to improve services and facilities for the mentally ill. We gave major leadership to the successful bond issue in 1960. These funds are building the new zone centers - Read and Madden.

In the planning area, we are concerned about the need for new facilities and also about using existing facilities in the most effective manner.

The Mental Health Association of Greater Chicago is 100 per cent behind the excellent program provided by the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic. We know that this program is of great service to the citizens in that area. We hope they will support it generously just as we hope they will support the program of the Mental Health Association of Greater Chicago.

In our judgment, the two programs do not conflict in any way, but together they enable us to carry on essential activities on behalf of the mentally ill.

James J. Brice

Dimensions Added By Use of Glass

Space-age technology, when applied to living conditions faced daily in the home or at the office, helps minimize the undesired effects of closed environments.

The recent ventures into space and under the ocean have helped develop a more perfect understanding of factors influencing behavior during periods of confinement.

Observations made during these intervals confirm earlier studies which indicated that feelings of uneasiness caused by confinement are related to structural form and color of the environment.

And when prolonged periods must be spent in closed areas, designers recommend the use of visual diversions to help break the monotony and give dimension to the environment.

Combining these findings with the psychological theory that people are happier and work with less strain when surrounded by the proper atmosphere, builders are incorporating these principles into the design of their homes. The boxed-in feeling which comes from four barren walls is being eliminated by opening work and living areas to the outside with generous use of glass.

KITCHENS with large picture windows become a bright and cheerful place in which to work. Roy W. Anderson, product specialist at Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, suggests the use of Parallel-O-Plate glass in such windows because of its quality, clarity and freedom from distortion.

Opening the inside to the natural colors and spaciousness of the outside reduces the feeling of confinement. Viewed from a bedroom or other place of relaxation, stately trees and rolling landscape blend into the room's decor. Glass becomes a medium of psychological relaxation when it brings in the relaxing freshness of the outside.

LIVING ROOMS can be decorated with a tasteful blend of furniture and color, using glass to gain a feeling of space and through a wall of Thermopane insulating glass, the living area is protected against excessive heat gain in the summer and heat loss in the winter.

Decorated with taste and using glass as a medium to blend in the complementary beauty of natural surroundings, rooms can be designed to eliminate the undesirable features of a closed environment. Such designs gives psychological comfort and relaxation to a busy life. (O

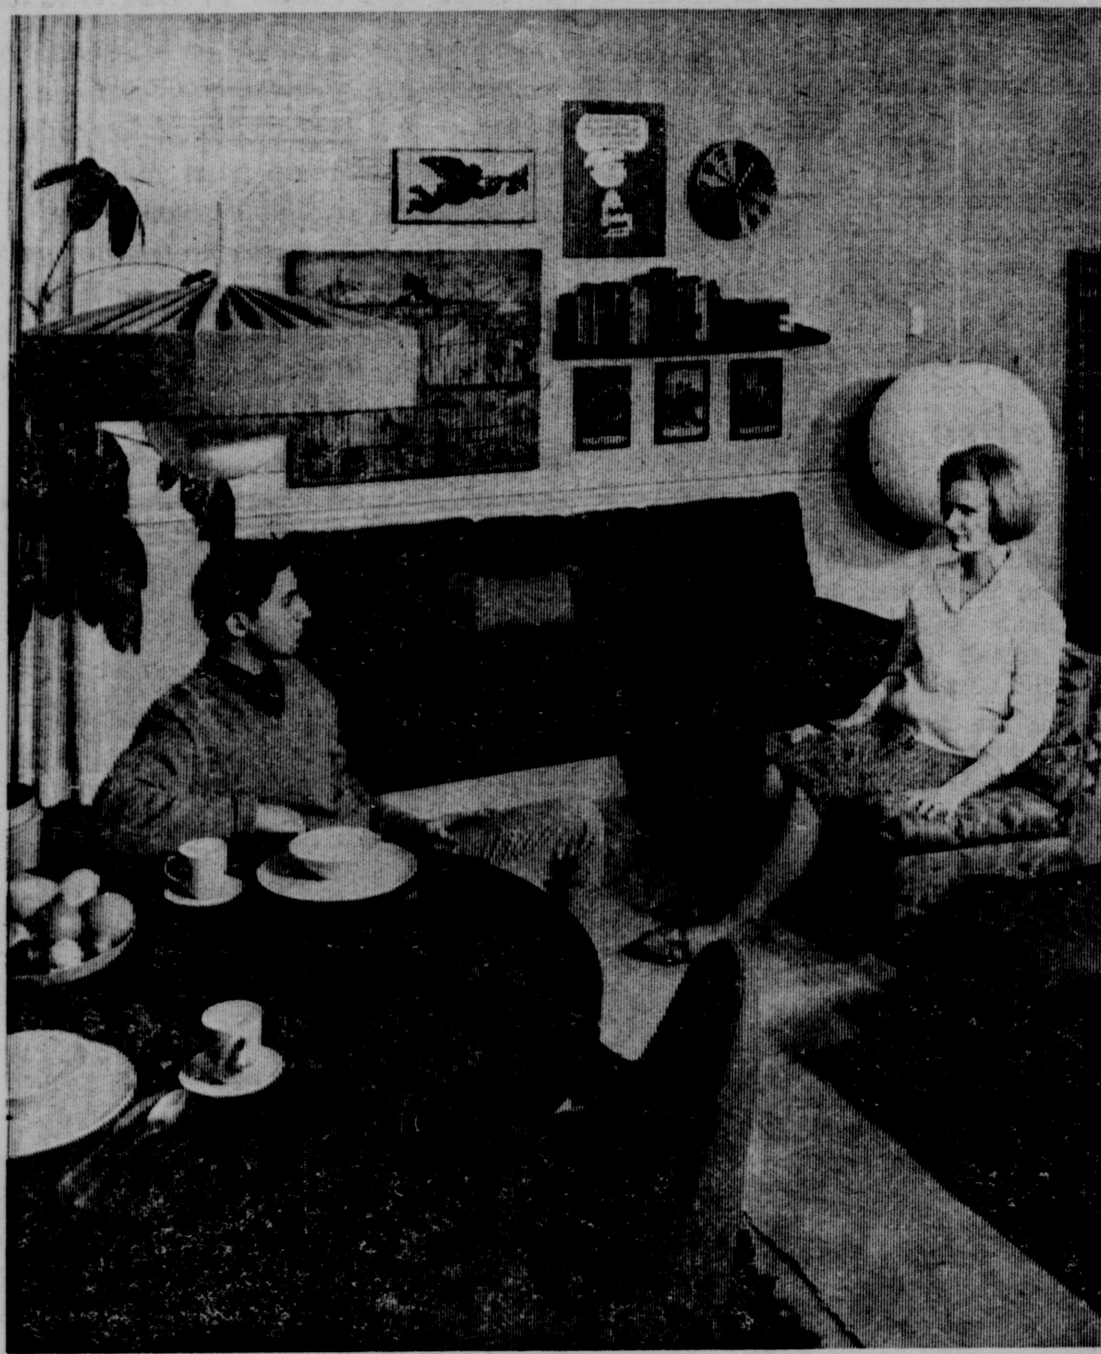
Imaginative Room Settings on Display



Something old, something new. Something borrowed, some thing. . . any color? Sound familiar? This description also accurately describes the theme of a spring promotion at The Designer's Shop of Petersen Interiors, Inc. in the Elms Shopping Center.

The event, called "Design Directions," is highlighted by a series of eight completely detailed room settings which dramatically demonstrate the latest look in interiors: Mix them up.

Matched suites and rooms that are style-coordinated down to the last picture frame are old hat. Rather rooms which mix up various styles and elements from various cultures, from different periods, in fact almost everything from paisley to Picasso, are very much "in fashion" these days — and are apt to remain so for some time to come. It seems furniture designers and interior decorators have settled down at the moment — to take a sort of second look.

"TODAY'S INTERIOR reflects a certain maturity of design, a coming of age," further explains Arthur E. Petersen, Jr., vice president of the store. These designers are advocating creative expression in the home through mixing within the rooms these various elements. "Nor do these elements derive strictly from western Europe, where, until recently, most of them have come. In the last few years designers have explored cultures from such parts of the world as southern Europe, Africa, India and South America."

The room settings, which will be on view through Saturday, May 14, dramatize how these various accents can be combined.

Created by the store's interior design staff, the rooms illustrate many innovational ideas in room arrangements and functions as well as decorating.

Since the store is known in the Chicagoland area as one of the largest sources for contemporary furnishings, contemporary furniture is the focal point of the settings. But combined with the contemporary is Mexican, English traditional, French provincial, rural Spanish, African and even a bit of Victoriana.

One of the most imaginative of the settings is called "A Room for Fun." It is an informal living room full of fun, fresh color and a unique arrangement of the seating pieces. Designed to show that furniture need not be lined up around the walls, the room features an "H" seating layout which provides for two conversation groups.

AN ORANGE chair on a center platform that acts as a sort of divider between the two conturned around to face the game table on one side. As shown by an alternate floor plan, the seating units can be rearranged in several other ways as the occasion demands.

The unique modular seating pieces in this room, highlighted by a down-to-the-floor "fur" covered lounge chair, are from designer Milo Baughman's new collection called "New Concept." Mixed in with these modern designs in the room are Far Eastern wicker accent pieces and traditional accessories. (See photo.)

In contrast, there is also a very formal living room with several conversation pieces including a down - to - the - floor plushy sofa in silver and black, a large slab-top cofnee table with a chrome steel base and a large slab-top coffee table it, a shaggy wool rug from Greece.

THE ROOM IS a mixture of various modern styles, from straight-line architectural, supplemented by Oriental and other traditional accents.

On display is also a master bedroom, luxuriously and confortably designed as a sort of "hideaway" for parents. Nor is the teenager overlooked. For the teenage girl is a bedroom furnished with fun, fresh color, imaginative accessories and very good looking as well as practical furniture in an unusual lacquer finish called "bayberry," a sort of grayed golden olive color.

There are two kinds of dining rooms to choose from — one is formal with a classic modern oval table and traditional dining chairs which are authentic reproductions. The other is informal, in Scandinavian and provincial accents, with a fabulous 60-inch round teak table that seats eight when closed and up to a dozen with the two leaves added.

Finally, there is a different kind of den which serves as a guest room with its convertible Scandinavian sofa and also as a room to display family interests and to indulge in family nostalgia. The eighth room setting in "Design Directions" is titled "A Manly Retreat" and is a place where the man of the house can do his homework in comfort and luxury. (O

Noise Plumbing Can Be Remedied

In every home there are certain "built in" noises and the sounds from a plumbing drainage system can prove to be annoying at times.

According to the Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute there are these typical residential noises:

. . .pipe contraction and expansion when cold and hot waters are flushed through them.

. . . vibrations in the drainage, waste and vent piping caused by turbulent downward flow of drainage materials.

. . . water rushing in or out of a fixture such as a bathtub, a sink or a lavatory, the sounds of which are amplified by poor materials that tend to reflect and amplify them.

THE INSTITUTE, in its observations about "built in" noises in residences, makes these main points:

1. Of all of the metallic materials used in plumbing drainage systems, cast iron soil pipe has the lowest rate of expansion and contraction caused by heat or cold. Its joint systems are designed to accommodate this action.

2. Turbulent flow takes place after the velocity of drainage materials reaches more than two feet per second, usually in a vertical pipe.

This faster velocity tends to set up vibration in the pipe and the sound is transmitted according to the characteristics of the pipe materials.

Cast iron transmits sound more slowly than steel or copper.

3. The use of resilient pads with some materials has been helpful in reducing noises in the plumbing drainage system of a home, particularly where a pipe was connected with a wall member. They are needed with copper pipe, but not with steel or plastic, nor with cast iron soil pipe. Cast iron is heavy and with either the historic lead and oakum joint, the new CI No-Hub joint, or the new compression joints, the vibrations are isolated and are not transmitted to the other end of the pipe.

The Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute pointed out that some sounds are actually from the potable water system. These sounds include the "hammer" noise that comes from a quick closing valve, pump noises, poor design of the water system where piping is too small in diameter and the velocity of the water becomes excessively high, or from excessively high water pressures.

None of these sounds have anything to do with the home's plumbing drainage system. (O

Lawn Care Heads Spring Chore List

Home gardeners who will have picture lawns are the ones who are busy at work right now, says Jack Caffrey, owner of the A to Z Rental Center at 210 E. Rand Road, Mount Prospect.

According to Caffrey, lawn care heads the list of early spring chores, and properly so, since a good stand of verdant turf provides a pleasing backdrop for trees, shrubs, flowers and the house itself.

Established lawns should be thoroughly raked to grub out heavy thatch twigs and other winter debris and to set the stage for fertilizing and bolster-seeding of thin spots.

"ONE OF THE best ways to accomplish this is by using a power lawn comber like the 4.5 or 6 h.p. models available at the lawn care department of our rental center," Caffrey said.

Using the correct technique when mowing for the first time is also recommended. Power mowers, which can be rented at nominal cost, should have blades set low. This will remove leaves browned by winter, and make the new, green shoots visible immediately. It also reduces the insulating effect of the sod against warming of the soil and lets the sun's rays reach deeply into the lawn to quicken growth.

Fertilizing and seeding, says Caffrey, should also be done right now.

"Don't hesitate to fertilize or spread seed even if the soil is frozen," he says. "Actually, this is one of the most convenient and efficient ways to do the job. We've found that the spreaders we rent run easily over the hard ground without compacting the soil, and subsequent freezing and thawing action tends to settle the nutrients and seeds into the soil."

PREPARATION AND seeding of new lawns, however, must be delayed until weather permits working the soil into fine tilth. Here, rental of equipment can be a real blessing to the average homeowner, with a wide selection of tractors, tillers and rollers available at moderate cost.

Seeds, herbicides, insecticides and other supplies that will be needed should be stocked immediately because once the soil becomes tillable, the gardener's time will be at a premium. Equipment such as sprayers, dusters, cultivators, pruning saws, trimmers, and lawn sweepers all can be rented as the need arises.

Spring is also the time of year to begin thinking about weed control. Crabgrass, the most prevalent and pernicious type of weed, can be attacked early by spreading a chemical barrier on the surface. This holds true of other early spring weeds such as dandelion, chickweed and buckhorn. (O

Time for Action on Fire Hazards

With spring in the air, it's time to spring into action on fire hazards.

Whether your home stays free from dangerous and destructive fire this year may very well depend on what steps you take right now, the National Fire Protection Association points out.

Here's a five-point program guaranteed to remove most of the common causes of fires in homes.

1. Clean out any stacks of newspapers and magazines, discarded clothing, mattresses, old furniture and lamp shades, draperies — all the clutter that collects in attics, basements and closets.
2. DO THE SAME clean-up job in the home workshop, too — shavings, scraps, oily rags, old paints must go.
3. Don't forget about the trash accumulating in the garage, and get rid of dead grass and brush around and near the house.
4. Repair defective electrical cords and plugs, check over appliances and call a competent electrician if they need attention.
5. Have your furnace, chimney and stoves inspected and cleaned.

Fire danger lurks in every one of these spots, says the NFPA. (O

Don't Transplant Yourself to Sickbed

"Gardening can be most enjoyable and free of injury if you work at it the right way," advises Dr. Noah H. Sloan, medical director of the Allstate Life Insurance Co.

"But if you're an office worker and then turn to a full day of hard manual labor on a weekend, you could transplant yourself into the sick bed," Dr. Sloan points out. "Instead take it slow and easy during your gardening sessions, and don't overdo it."

CUTS, SCRATCHES and bruises, the unescapable fate of most gardeners, usually are not serious, but they should not be ignored, warns Dr. Sloan. Clean minor cuts with warm water and soap and cover with a bandage. Since tetanus is present in soil, a booster shot of tetanus toxoid is recommended for all gardeners who have not kept their immunization records up to date.

"To prevent blisters, it's wise to wear gloves when digging or pruning for some time," Dr. Sloan advises. "When pruning shrubs or trees wear a hat and glasses to prevent eye injury."

All power tools should be handled with respect. Safety instructions usually accompany power tools and should be read and followed carefully. Youngsters should not be allowed to operate them.

MISUSE AND improper storage of pesticides can lead to serious accidents, Allstate's medical expert warns. "Carefully read the instructions on all pesticide packages, follow their safety instructions and always keep them away from children."

He also cautions gardeners to keep an eye open for poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac. "Look for the three leaf sprigs that make poison ivy and poison oak. If you're unsure, consult a botany handbook or garden encyclopedia. You can remove poison ivy from your yard by digging it out, roots and all, being careful not to touch it. If you are unlucky enough to get a poison ivy rash, your doctor can suggest soothing medications to ease the itching and discomfort while healing progresses." (O

Commuter Schedule Changes Announced

Improvements in service which will include additional service to several suburbs on the Chicago and North Western Railway's Wisconsin division will be placed into effect coincident with the change to Daylight Saving Time on Sunday, according to H. A. Lenske, director of the road's commuter services.

Lenske said that Park Ridge will receive additional express service by a Chicago-bound morning train which will stop at Park Ridge at 7:48 a.m., for an arrival in Chicago at 8:11 a.m.

Another morning express train will give new faster service to Mount Prospect where it will stop at 8:18 a.m., with an 8:50 a.m. arrival in Chicago. This train will replace one now stopping at Mount Prospect at 8:11 a.m., and arriving in Chicago at 8:51 a.m.

ADDITIONAL morning service will also be available at Dee Road which will receive a new express train stop at 8:17 a.m., with a Chicago arrival at 8:47 a.m.

Trains from Chicago will give Fox River Grove and Cary riders new 50-53 minute express service with a train departing from Chicago at 4:42 p.m., arriving in Fox River Grove at 5:32 p.m. and Cary at 5:35 p.m. These stops will replace those formerly made at these two stations by a train leaving Chicago at 4:39 p.m., and which will also permit six-minute faster service for riders destined to Crystal Lake.

The 4:59 p.m. rush-hour train on the Wisconsin division will henceforth leave at 4:58 p.m., one minute earlier than at present, to permit more efficient operation of the rush-hour train fleet. The 5:42 p.m. train from Chicago on this division will also have its schedule speeded up so that it will arrive in Crystal Lake at 7 p.m., five minutes earlier than at present.

Remarriage Is Parents Topic

The next meeting of Northwest Suburban Chapter 168 of Parents Without Partners, Inc. will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the Bank of Rolling Meadows, 3250 W. Kirchoff Road, at 8:15 p.m.

The program will be a small-group discussion under trained member-leaders on the subject, "Remarriage and Its Effects in the Single-Parent Home." Refreshments will be served afterwards.

Membership in PWP, Inc. is oepn to all single parents (widowed, separated, divorced), both men and women. For further information write PWP, Inc., P.O. Box 472, Palatine.

MOW Faster Electrically
New Sunbeam ELECTRIC MOWERS

HERE'S HOW SUNBEAM'S CENTRIFUGAL BLOWER ACTION WORKS
The housing of the mower is designed to work like a "wind tunnel" with blades curved down to create a vacuuming effect as they whirl. The sides of the housing are designed to keep the air from "spilling out." This combination of housing and blade design results in ● maximum vacuuming effect . . . for clean-sweep mowing ● high velocity blowing effect through a large discharge chute . . . for best bagging action.

Lawn Care Heads Spring Chore List

Home gardeners who will have picture lawns are the ones who are busy at work right now, says Jack Caffrey, owner of the A to Z Rental Center at 210 E. Rand Road, Mount Prospect.

According to Caffrey, lawn care heads the list of early spring chores, and properly so, since a good stand of verdant turf provides a pleasing backdrop for trees, shrubs, flowers and the house itself.

Established lawns should be thoroughly raked to grub out heavy thatch twigs and other winter debris and to set the stage for fertilizing and bolsterseeding of thin spots.

"ONE OF THE best ways to accomplish this is by using a power lawn comber like the 4.5 or 6 h.p. models available at the lawn care department of our rental center," Caffrey said.

Using the correct technique when mowing for the first time is also recommended. Power mowers, which can be rented at nominal cost, should have blades set low. This will remove leaves browned by winter, and make the new, green shoots visible immediately. It also reduces the insulating effect of the sod against warming of the soil and lets the sun's rays reach deeply into the lawn to quicken growth.

Fertilizing and seeding, says Caffrey, should also be done right now.

"Don't hesitate to fertilize or spread seed even if the soil is frozen," he says. "Actually, this is one of the most convenient and efficient ways to do the job. We've found that the spreaders we rent run easily over the hard ground without compacting the soil, and subsequent freezing and thawing action tends to settle the nutrients and seeds into the soil."

PREPARATION AND seeding of new lawns, however, must be delayed until weather permits working the soil into fine tilth. Here, rental of equipment can be a real blessing to the average homeowner, with a wide selection of tractors, tillers and rollers available at moderate cost.

Seeds, herbicides, insecticides and other supplies that will be needed should be stocked immediately because once the soil becomes tillable, the gardener's time will be at a premium. Equipment such as sprayers, dusters, cultivators, pruning saws, trimmers, and lawn sweepers all can be rented as the need arises.

Spring is also the time of year to begin thinking about weed control. Crabgrass, the most prevalent and pernicious type of weed, can be attacked early by spreading a chemical barrier on the surface. This holds true of other early spring weeds such as dandelion, chickweed and buckhorn. (O

With spring in the air, it's time to spring into action on fire hazards.

Whether your home stays free from dangerous and destructive fire this year may very well depend on what steps you take right now, the National Fire Protection Association points out.

Here's a five-point program guaranteed to remove most of the common causes of fires in homes.

1. Clean out any stacks of newspapers and magazines, discarded clothing, mattresses, old furniture and lamp shades, draperies — all the clutter that collects in attics, basements and closets.

2. DO THE SAME clean-up job in the home workshop, too — shavings, scraps, oily rags, old paints must go.

3. Don't forget about the trash accumulating in the garage, and get rid of dead grass and brush around and near the house.

4. Repair defective electrical cords and plugs, check over appliances and call a competent electrician if they need attention.

5. Have your furnace, chimney and stoves inspected and cleaned.

Fire danger lurks in every one of these spots, says the NFPA. (O

Don't Transplant Yourself to Sickbed

"Gardening can be most enjoyable and free of injury if you work at it the right way," advises Dr. Noah H. Sloan, medical director of the Allstate Life Insurance Co.

"But if you're an office worker and then turn to a full day of hard manual labor on a weekend, you could transplant yourself into the sick bed," Dr. Sloan points out. "Instead take it slow and easy during your gardening sessions, and don't overdo it."

CUTS, SCRATCHES and bruises, the unescapable fate of most gardeners, usually are not serious, but they should not be ignored, warns Dr. Sloan. Clean minor cuts with warm water and soap and cover with a bandage. Since tetanus is present in soil, a booster shot of tetanus toxoid is recommended for all gardeners who have not kept their immunization records up to date.

"To prevent blisters, it's wise to wear gloves when digging or pruning for some time," Dr. Sloan advises. "When pruning shrubs or trees wear a hat and glasses to prevent eye injury."

All power tools should be handled with respect. Safety instructions usually accompany power tools and should be read and followed carefully. Youngsters should not be allowed to operate them.

MISUSE AND improper storage of pesticides can lead to serious accidents, Allstate's medical expert warns. "Carefully read the instructions on all pesticide packages, follow their safety instructions and always keep them away from children."

He also cautions gardeners to keep an eye open for poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac. "Look for the three leaf sprigs that make poison ivy and poison oak. If you're unsure, consult a botany handbook or garden encyclopedia. You can remove poison ivy from your yard by digging it out, roots and all, being careful not to touch it. If you are unlucky enough to get a poison ivy rash, your doctor can suggest soothing medications to ease the itching and discomfort while healing progresses." (O

Commuter Schedule Changes Announced

Improvements in service which will include additional service to several suburbs on the Chicago and North Western Railway's Wisconsin division will be placed into effect coincident with the change to Daylight Saving Time on Sunday, according to H. A. Lenske, director of the road's commuter services.

Lenske said that Park Ridge will receive additional express service by a Chicago-bound morning train which will stop at Park Ridge at 7:48 a.m., for an arrival in Chicago at 8:11 a.m.

Another morning express train will give new faster service to Mount Prospect where it will stop at 8:18 a.m., with an 8:50 a.m. arrival in Chicago. This train will replace one now stopping at Mount Prospect at 8:11 a.m., and arriving in Chicago at 8:51 a.m.

ADDITIONAL morning service will also be available at Dee Road which will receive a new express train stop at 8:17 a.m., with a Chicago arrival at 8:47 a.m.

Trains from Chicago will give Fox River Grove and Cary riders new 50-53 minute express service with a train departing from Chicago at 4:42 p.m., arriving in Fox River Grove at 5:32 p.m. and Cary at 5:35 p.m. These stops will replace those formerly made at these two stations by a train leaving Chicago at 4:39 p.m., and which will also permit six-minute faster service for riders destined to Crystal Lake.

The 4:59 p.m. rush-hour train on the Wisconsin division will henceforth leave at 4:58 p.m., one minute earlier than at present, to permit more efficient operation of the rush-hour train fleet. The 5:42 p.m. train from Chicago on this division will also have its schedule speeded up so that it will arrive in Crystal Lake at 7 p.m., five minutes earlier than at present.

The Way We See It

Lopsided Result Is Voters Fault

Newspapers habitually preach the importance of voting. Too often the preaching is done in abstract terms. Perhaps this is the reason preaching fails to reform the neglectful voter; perhaps the task is hopeless.

Anyway, one aspect of last Saturday's school elections threw light on the problem and therefore is worth citing.

Of the nine precincts in Elk Grove School District 59, one of them alone cast about 35 per cent of the total vote. Not surprisingly both successful candidates were from that precinct, the Des Plaines area of District 59.

Since a similar phenomenon took place in District 59 voting two years ago, a majority of the school board now come from this single precinct.

This does not mean these members are narrow or parochial, concerned with the selfish interest of their own precinct at the expense of the district as a whole. There is no evidence this has been the case or ever will be. But experience does show that in big districts school boards speak with more authority if they are broadly representative of the different geographical areas.

Certainly, Des Plaines voters and candidates cannot be blamed for the lopsided situation. Citizens who are deeply interested in school affairs and believe they can contribute have a duty to become candidates. Likewise, everyone has a duty to vote. The Des Plaines precinct did its duty; the rest of the district did not.

The largest part of the real estate tax dollar goes to schools. In most suburban areas, it is usually 7-80 cents or more of the dollar. The quality of education is a vital factor in the future success of our children. Indifference to school affairs and election absenteeism cannot be justified.

Any prolonged voter display of indifference is bound to have adverse effects on the school system. Almost every school crisis has its origins, at least in part, in past public indifference. The big voter turnouts are apt to come at time of crisis, as a belated attempt to get a solution to some serious school problem.

Isn't it a lot more sensible for everyone to do his part by voting each year in school elections?

Northwest Suburbs Discover Culture

Cultural activity in our suburban area is running at a high level.

The proof can be found in last week's paper. News stories in the Paddock Billboard told of St. James Theatre Group offering the area premiere of a play, Village Theatre making plans to produce "Gideon," Countryside artists in a Northbrook show, a presentation of Menotti's one-act comic opera "The Telephone," the Guild Players casting their forthcoming play "The Great Sebastians," a concert by the Metropolitan Opera baritone Theodor Uppman, an art exhibit in a bank, and plans for Countryside Art Center's second annual Spring Arts Festival.

The High School Highlights pages provided even more news of drama and music. Wheeling High is producing "Pajama Game." The cast for "South Pacific" has been chosen at Forest View. "One Foot in Heaven" is on the Lake Park stage, Fremd students produced two comedies, Palatine High is rehearsing "A Thurber Carnival" an dFenton High School presents its annual festival of bands.

Many readers may be surprised at this variety of dramtaic, musical and artistic offerings right in their own backyards.

Many of them would be even more surprised at the high quality of these productions, including those put on by the high school students.

The Loop has some great shows, it's true. But sometimes you can travel 30 miles, pay high prices for dinner and theatre tickets, get back home very late at night—all without seeing anything even as good as the local stage offers.

If you have looked down your nose at our amateur productions, it's time to buy a ticket and find out how wrong you have been!

Tribute to Dirksen Is Well-Deserved

Tributes to politicians must be taken with several grains of salt, but the three-day tribute starting Sunday for U.S. Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen has more merit than most such affairs.

The abused adjective "distinguished" is appropriate when applied to Dirksen's 40 years in public office, beginning as finance commissioner of Pekin in 1926 and leading to Republican leadership in the U.S. Senate.

Certainly we have not always agreed with the positions taken by Sen. Dirksen. Perhaps no one has been in total agreement with him.

Yet, Sen. Dirksen is the sort of man who easily retains the friendship of those he disagrees with, or who disagree with him. This is the basis for his successful Senate leadership and many other political successes.

It is a talent all aspiring politicians should try to acquire, if only for the selfish reason of succeeding themselves. American voters have shown they prefer candidates free of malice, self-righteousness or fanatical convictions. Such a man is Sen. Dirksen.

Behind the Headlines

Selecting Auditors

By DAN PRIBILSKI
Staff Writer

"It's common knowledge that some auditing firms are good and others are not so good," commented a finance officer of one of the northwest suburban municipalities.

He was answering this question: how are auditing firms chosen?

In a spot check of firms hired in northwest Cook County and northern DuPage County, the same names repeat.

The finance officeer, who preferred to remain anonymous, said that what separates or makes one auditing firm good and another not so good is the experience a firm has with municipal finances.

PRIBILSKI

"SOME DON'T have as competent men, and to hire them is to let the taxpayer give them the training they need," the finance officer said.

Each year by law a municipality must have an audit of its finances.

The audit can be as general or as thorough as the auditor thinks it should be once he is hired.

"There's nothing a village or anyone can tell them they can't do," commented James King, finance officer of Mount Prospect. "But at the same time they do try to be realistic and work within the framework of the village."

GENERALLY, the present cost of an audit for a northwest suburb is $4,000 to $7,500, depending on the size of the village, its financial complexity, and how long the audit takes. Auditing firms do not make bids. They do give per diem charges, however, and will upon urging of a village board give estimates of what the cost will be.

The area municipalities have varied in their choice and method of choosing an auditor.

Many communities have had the same auditors for years, if not decades.

FOR INSTANCE, Hoffman Estates has had the same auditors since its incorporation 10 years ago. In Bensenville, where it was discovered recently the village treasurer had bilked the village of possibly $30,000 in sales tax funds, the auditing firm had served the village for at least 17 years. It had missed the shortages in a regular audit check.

Other communities, such as Palatine, have had several auditors.

In making a choice of an auditor, Palatine this year used as one of its guides "Municipal Finance Administration," a book put out by the International City Managers' Assn.

This book recommends that "fresh blood" be introduced periodically by having a new auditor check the finances.

THIS IS not to say auditors should be changed each year. The book also comments it is wise to have a regular auditor because such a practice allows for greater familiarity on the part of the auditor and can assure a better report.

The Palatine officials like their present auditing firm because it will do "highlight" or surprise checks during the year and not just when the audit is expected.

Trustee George Coney of Elk Grove Village and former treasurer of that village commented that "an auditing firm is expected to do a reasonable amount of work which in its opinion is sufficient to give an opinion on the state of finances."

Cummins Comments

The Reliability of Recall

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

Lawyers have often complained about the short memory of witnesses and their unpredictability on the stand. They are right.

Recently I read a delightful news item from Alpine, Texas, supplied by Associated Press. Here it is:

"Myrtle Brick has a cat named Sonny who likes to climb on the roof of her house but can't get back down. After borrowing a ladder several times Miss Brick decided to get one of her own to rescue her climbing kitty. When she went to a store to purchase an aluminum ladder for $8.88, she registered for a c door prize and won a television set.'

CUMMINS

I showed this to several of my friends and all of them chuckled. The next day I had the idea of testing the memory of my "witnesses" and asked them to retell the story. The results were amazing.

JACK A. SAID: "Well, there was this lady down in Texas who climbed up on the roof to fix her television antenna and couldn't get back down. So her cat trotted over to the hardware store and meowed until the proprietor—maybe he was the lady's boyfriend — realized something was wrong and followed the cat home and rescued her."

Randy W. told this story: "This lady was on television. I guess it was some show like 'Beat the Clock.' She had to chase this cat up a stepladder. Well, she did it and won an all-expense vacation in Texas."

I got this version from Elmer G.: "Sonny was a cat who learned to climb stepladders. He got so good at it that he won many prizes, appeared on television, and made a personal appearance tour of hardware stores in Texas."

STANLEY K. remembered it somewhat differently: "There was this cat that used to like to watch television. So the lady who owned him, Miss Brick, would have to go to the neighbor's house to see programs that the cat didn't like. Then she got tired of doing this so . . . so she exiled the cat . . . put it up on the roof or something, then watched television in peace."

Sidney S. gave me this version: "This lady in Texas won a cat as a door prize from a hardware store in Texas. She took it home but it was always climbing up on the roof, so she took it back to the hardware store and asked if she could trade it for an aluminum stepladder. The hardware proprietor said 'Why not?,' so they swapped and everyone was happy."

TERRY B. told me this: "Down in Texas there was a lady who ran a hardware store. Or was it a pet store? Let me see . . . no, it was a hardware store and she had all these aluminum ladders that weren't selling so she made a TV commercial . . . a commercial with a cat — showing how you use the ladder to rescue cats from trees . . . and from roofs. And she sold out the ladders for $8.88 each."

So now I know what the lawyers are talking about. At my next trial I'm going to forget about calling witnesses. I'll simply throw myself on the mercy of the court.

Critic's Corner

Nation Needs Depression

by KEN KNOX
Staff Writer

What this country needs is a good depression.

I hasten to accent "good" depression, to distinguish it from the kind that spawns the somber panorama of bread lines and leaps from windows.

What we need is a positive depression, a little dispensation of hardship to club us over the heads with an understanding of what's really important in life, to give us a respect for our money instead of a passion for it.

Because an insight into economic undulations is one of the voids in my background, I don't know how that could be arranged. But if it were to benevolently settle across our land, it might clear out one of our monumental problems.

Money—acquiring it and spending it—is what's wrong with us. We produce it and spray it around in such torrents that it's become a monster, sucking out our more noble sentiments.

WITH MOST OF us—even if we don't realize it or admit it — money dominates our thinking. It's the big concern in life, the end. Not to be teeming in riches, because most of us still have the sense to realize the futility of that, but to keep a steady stream of cash flowing through our fingers.

There was a time, I have been told by wise elders, when what a man did was important, when his work was much of his life, when it was a part of his person. It should still be true, because how many things in a man's waking hours are more meaningful than what he does with his hands and mind?

But that's not the concern anymore. For individuals—and how many times have you heard this — it's the question: How much are they paying you? For labor unions it's a petty insistence that the workers get an ever-increasing "living wage," without defining that, or bringing up the matter of good workmanship. And for our plump businesses, there's a wail that the unions are led by the James brothers, while the profits are dispensed in six-figure executive salaries and invested in other plump businesses.

KNOX

THERE WAS also a time, I have learned from some 19th century books, when men had the ability to stop, to settle back, to rotate their heads slowly in observation of their human and natural environment.

But who today has the time or the willingness to take a walk, or smell a flower, or read a book, or catch a fish or even make a friend?

Things have become so casual, so sophisticated, so quick-paced that we don't even have time to walk to our trash cans, so we dump our refuse wherever we're standing or driving.

So what have we reaped?

THE LOSSES include all but the last shreds of perspective about what is important: doing things for the love of them, keeping some meaning in our human relationships, lending appreciation to our natural surroundings.

As it is, we do things for their value, even if it afflicts us with discontent or misery. Conviviality has become hanging on a bar, or sharing martinis and affected conversation with people you really don't know, or want to. And things underfoot and overhead become trampled and abused, so our land is scraped, our water is fouled and our air clouded. And who cares?

What matters is the big buy and the big sell; inflated prices on cans of soup; radio jingles that liltingly promise "Money, money, money" to keep the system going; professional athletes who absurdly demand fortunes for their services, while the moguls who created the system piously insist they're being held up; paying an engaging young lady $50,000 to sing to us for one evening, and heaping wealth and honor on scruffy teens who cavort in the name of art.

IT'S ALL NONSENSE and there seems no end to it, whatever sterile government statistics warn us about inflation and devalued dollars. There's no end to it because there is no one left able to stand up in the rushing torrent and cry, "Stop! This is ridiculous!"

We're all a little too sophisticated or a little too busy or a little too greedy to worry much about it, or what's to follow.

You can draw it into focus by reflecting on one of the problems besetting Mary Poppins, who did have some understanding of what matters, and what doesn't. Miss Poppins was concerned because there were not enough people with the compassion or generosity to give tuppence to feed the pigeons on a certain cathedral's steps.

Today, that annoying social ill could be solved by the formation of a committee, and by giving it the appropriation to get rid of the pigeons.

Citizens who are deeply interested in school affairs and believe they can contribute have a duty to become candidates. Likewise, everyone has a duty to vote. The Des Plaines precinct did its duty; the rest of the district did not.

The largest part of the real estate tax dollar goes to schools. In most suburban areas, it is usually 7-80 cents or more of the dollar. The quality of education is a vital factor in the future success of our children. Indifference to school affairs and election absenteeism cannot be justified.

Any prolonged voter display of indifference is bound to have adverse effects on the school system. Almost every school crisis has its origins, at least in part, in past public indifference. The big voter turnouts are apt to come at time of crisis, as a belated attempt to get a solution to some serious school problem.

Isn't it a lot more sensible for everyone to do his part by voting each year in school elections?

Northwest Suburbs Discover Culture

Cultural activity in our suburban area is running at a high level.

The proof can be found in last week's paper. News stories in the Paddock Billboard told of St. James Theatre Group offering the area premiere of a play, Village Theatre making plans to produce "Gideon," Countryside artists in a Northbrook show, a presentation of Menotti's one-act comic opera "The Telephone," the Guild Players casting their forthcoming play "The Great Sebastians," a concert by the Metropolitan Opera baritone Theodor Uppman, an art exhibit in a bank, and plans for Countryside Art Center's second annual Spring Arts Festival.

The High School Highlights pages provided even more news of drama and music. Wheeling High is producing "Pajama Game." The cast for "South Pacific" has been chosen at Forest View. "One Foot in Heaven" is on the Lake Park stage, Fremd students produced two comedies, Palatine High is rehearsing "A Thurber Carnival" an dFenton High School presents its annual festival of bands.

Many readers may be surprised at this variety of dramtaic, musical and artistic offerings right in their own backyards.

Many of them would be even more surprised at the high quality of these productions, including those put on by the high school students.

The Loop has some great shows, it's true. But sometimes you can travel 30 miles, pay high prices for dinner and theatre tickets, get back home very late at night—all without seeing anything even as good as the local stage offers.

If you have looked down your nose at our amateur productions, it's time to buy a ticket and find out how wrong you have been!

Tribute to Dirksen Is Well-Deserved

Tributes to politicians must be taken with several grains of salt, but the three-day tribute starting Sunday for U.S. Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen has more merit than most such affairs.

The abused adjective "distinguished" is appropriate when applied to Dirksen's 40 years in public office, beginning as finance commissioner of Pekin in 1926 and leading to Republican leadership in the U.S. Senate.

Certainly we have not always agreed with the positions taken by Sen. Dirksen. Perhaps no one has been in total agreement with him.

Yet, Sen. Dirksen is the sort of man who easily retains the friendship of those he disagrees with, or who disagree with him. This is the basis for his successful Senate leadership and many other political successes.

It is a talent all aspiring politicians should try to acquire, if only for the selfish reason of succeeding themselves. American voters have shown they prefer candidates free of malice, self-righteousness or fanatical convictions. Such a man is Sen. Dirksen.

Selecting Auditors

By DAN PRIBILSKI
Staff Writer

"It's common knowledge that some auditing firms are good and others are not so good," commented a finance officer of one of the northwest suburban municipalities.

He was answering this question: how are auditing firms chosen?

In a spot check of firms hired in northwest Cook County and northern DuPage County, the same names repeat.

The finance officeer, who preferred to remain anonymous, said that what separates or makes one auditing firm good and another not so good is the experience a firm has with municipal finances.

PRIBILSKI

"SOME DON'T have as competent men, and to hire them is to let the taxpayer give them the training they need," the finance officer said.

Each year by law a municipality must have an audit of its finances.

The audit can be as general or as thorough as the auditor thinks it should be once he is hired.

"There's nothing a village or anyone can tell them they can't do," commented James King, finance officer of Mount Prospect. "But at the same time they do try to be realistic and work within the framework of the village."

GENERALLY, the present cost of an audit for a northwest suburb is $4,000 to $7,500, depending on the size of the village, its financial complexity, and how long the audit takes. Auditing firms do not make bids. They do give per diem charges, however, and will upon urging of a village board give estimates of what the cost will be.

The area municipalities have varied in their choice and method of choosing an auditor.

Many communities have had the same auditors for years, if not decades.

FOR INSTANCE, Hoffman Estates has had the same auditors since its incorporation 10 years ago. In Bensenville, where it was discovered recently the village treasurer had bilked the village of possibly $30,000 in sales tax funds, the auditing firm had served the village for at least 17 years. It had missed the shortages in a regular audit check.

Other communities, such as Palatine, have had several auditors.

In making a choice of an auditor, Palatine this year used as one of its guides "Municipal Finance Administration," a book put out by the International City Managers' Assn.

This book recommends that "fresh blood" be introduced periodically by having a new auditor check the finances.

THIS IS not to say auditors should be changed each year. The book also comments it is wise to have a regular auditor because such a practice allows for greater familiarity on the part of the auditor and can assure a better report.

The Palatine officials like their present auditing firm because it will do "highlight" or surprise checks during the year and not just when the audit is expected.

Trustee George Coney of Elk Grove Village and former treasurer of that village commented that "an auditing firm is expected to do a reasonable amount of work which in its opinion is sufficient to give an opinion on the state of finances."

The Reliability of Recall

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

Lawyers have often complained about the short memory of witnesses and their unpredictability on the stand. They are right.

Recently I read a delightful news item from Alpine, Texas, supplied by Associated Press. Here it is:

"Myrtle Brick has a cat named Sonny who likes to climb on the roof of her house but can't get back down. After borrowing a ladder several times Miss Brick decided to get one of her own to rescue her climbing kitty. When she went to a store to purchase an aluminum ladder for $8.88, she registered for a c door prize and won a television set.'

CUMMINS

I showed this to several of my friends and all of them chuckled. The next day I had the idea of testing the memory of my "witnesses" and asked them to retell the story. The results were amazing.

JACK A. SAID: "Well, there was this lady down in Texas who climbed up on the roof to fix her television antenna and couldn't get back down. So her cat trotted over to the hardware store and meowed until the proprietor—maybe he was the lady's boyfriend — realized something was wrong and followed the cat home and rescued her."

Randy W. told this story: "This lady was on television. I guess it was some show like 'Beat the Clock.' She had to chase this cat up a stepladder. Well, she did it and won an all-expense vacation in Texas."

I got this version from Elmer G.: "Sonny was a cat who learned to climb stepladders. He got so good at it that he won many prizes, appeared on television, and made a personal appearance tour of hardware stores in Texas."

STANLEY K. remembered it somewhat differently: "There was this cat that used to like to watch television. So the lady who owned him, Miss Brick, would have to go to the neighbor's house to see programs that the cat didn't like. Then she got tired of doing this so . . . so she exiled the cat . . . put it up on the roof or something, then watched television in peace."

Sidney S. gave me this version: "This lady in Texas won a cat as a door prize from a hardware store in Texas. She took it home but it was always climbing up on the roof, so she took it back to the hardware store and asked if she could trade it for an aluminum stepladder. The hardware proprietor said 'Why not?,' so they swapped and everyone was happy."

TERRY B. told me this: "Down in Texas there was a lady who ran a hardware store. Or was it a pet store? Let me see . . . no, it was a hardware store and she had all these aluminum ladders that weren't selling so she made a TV commercial . . . a commercial with a cat — showing how you use the ladder to rescue cats from trees . . . and from roofs. And she sold out the ladders for $8.88 each."

So now I know what the lawyers are talking about. At my next trial I'm going to forget about calling witnesses. I'll simply throw myself on the mercy of the court.

Nation Needs Depression

by KEN KNOX
Staff Writer

What this country needs is a good depression.

I hasten to accent "good" depression, to distinguish it from the kind that spawns the somber panorama of bread lines and leaps from windows.

What we need is a positive depression, a little dispensation of hardship to club us over the heads with an understanding of what's really important in life, to give us a respect for our money instead of a passion for it.

Because an insight into economic undulations is one of the voids in my background, I don't know how that could be arranged. But if it were to benevolently settle across our land, it might clear out one of our monumental problems.

Money—acquiring it and spending it—is what's wrong with us. We produce it and spray it around in such torrents that it's become a monster, sucking out our more noble sentiments.

WITH MOST OF us—even if we don't realize it or admit it — money dominates our thinking. It's the big concern in life, the end. Not to be teeming in riches, because most of us still have the sense to realize the futility of that, but to keep a steady stream of cash flowing through our fingers.

There was a time, I have been told by wise elders, when what a man did was important, when his work was much of his life, when it was a part of his person. It should still be true, because how many things in a man's waking hours are more meaningful than what he does with his hands and mind?

But that's not the concern anymore. For individuals—and how many times have you heard this — it's the question: How much are they paying you? For labor unions it's a petty insistence that the workers get an ever-increasing "living wage," without defining that, or bringing up the matter of good workmanship. And for our plump businesses, there's a wail that the unions are led by the James brothers, while the profits are dispensed in six-figure executive salaries and invested in other plump businesses.

KNOX

THERE WAS also a time, I have learned from some 19th century books, when men had the ability to stop, to settle back, to rotate their heads slowly in observation of their human and natural environment.

But who today has the time or the willingness to take a walk, or smell a flower, or read a book, or catch a fish or even make a friend?

Things have become so casual, so sophisticated, so quick-paced that we don't even have time to walk to our trash cans, so we dump our refuse wherever we're standing or driving.

So what have we reaped?

THE LOSSES include all but the last shreds of perspective about what is important: doing things for the love of them, keeping some meaning in our human relationships, lending appreciation to our natural surroundings.

As it is, we do things for their value, even if it afflicts us with discontent or misery. Conviviality has become hanging on a bar, or sharing martinis and affected conversation with people you really don't know, or want to. And things underfoot and overhead become trampled and abused, so our land is scraped, our water is fouled and our air clouded. And who cares?

What matters is the big buy and the big sell; inflated prices on cans of soup; radio jingles that liltingly promise "Money, money, money" to keep the system going; professional athletes who absurdly demand fortunes for their services, while the moguls who created the system piously insist they're being held up; paying an engaging young lady $50,000 to sing to us for one evening, and heaping wealth and honor on scruffy teens who cavort in the name of art.

IT'S ALL NONSENSE and there seems no end to it, whatever sterile government statistics warn us about inflation and devalued dollars. There's no end to it because there is no one left able to stand up in the rushing torrent and cry, "Stop! This is ridiculous!"

We're all a little too sophisticated or a little too busy or a little too greedy to worry much about it, or what's to follow.

You can draw it into focus by reflecting on one of the problems besetting Mary Poppins, who did have some understanding of what matters, and what doesn't. Miss Poppins was concerned because there were not enough people with the compassion or generosity to give tuppence to feed the pigeons on a certain cathedral's steps.

Today, that annoying social ill could be solved by the formation of a committee, and by giving it the appropriation to get rid of the pigeons.

Baby Week Is April 24-30

Needy Infants Get Extra Attention

by MARIANNE SCOTT
Women's Editor

Bird watchers reported a slack season last year as far as storks were concerned. In fact, the legendary bird made fewer flights to the nation's homes than he has in the past 11 years.

Back in 1954 the birth roll topped 4 million for the first time and then increased each year to an all-time high of 4,268,000 in 1961. Since 1961, stork flights have been decreasing, nestling at an estimated 3,800,000 last year.

One reason for the fall-off, according to experts, is that there have been 11 per cent fewer women of child bearing age. However, all signs point to an upswing in stork visits, probably beginning next year as the boom crop of world War II babies begins to marry.

THE CHICAGO area will focus attention on this popular feathered friend by celebrating Baby Week April 24-30. Originated in the Chicago area in 1914 by the Chicago Infant Welfare Society, Baby Week received national recognition in 1932. The Society instigated Baby Week as a means of calling attention to the needs of underprivileged babies and now has 51 area centers who work closely with the Society by raising funds and devoting hundreds of hours at the various Centers helping doctors and nurses.

Three of these Centers are area groups, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Palatine.

Although the greater percentage of the nation's babies are born in hospitals, hundreds are still born at home. For these home deliveries, teams of doctors and nurses associated with the Infant Welfare Society are always on hand to assist.

THE CHARITY also provides pre-natal care for needy mothers, professional care for babies and children up to school age and staffs the Society's Child guidance Center.

Two of the area Centers have scheduled fund-raisers for the weekend of June 3-4. First of these is the annual Post and Paddock Party sponsored by the Arlington Heights group. The gala affair will be held this year on Friday, June 3, and will again include an afternoon of racing and an evening of cocktails, dinner and dancing.

The annual party was the first affair for which the exclusive Post and Paddock Club at Arlington Park opened its doors to a local benefit group. One of the highlights of the season, the benefit includes an elaborate buffet of gourmet foods prepared by the Post and Paddock maitre d'.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Center was chartered in 1960 and last year turned over $4,000 to the Society.

The evening of Saturday, June 4, the Palatine Center will sponsor a "Cotton Blossom Ball" in Inverness Country Club. With a "Showboat" theme, guests will board the "ship" by gang-plank. At the dinner dance affair, members will honor their teenage and college daughters and sons, who along with their mothers, have helped raise funds for the Society. The young girls will be wearing gowns reminiscent of those worn by the southern belles of "Showboat" days.

Entertainment will include the BOB Players singing favorites from "Showboat," and tentatively, a group of banjoists.

THE PALATINE Center, chartered in 1958, staged a "Welcome Dolly" fashion show and luncheon in Rolling Green Country Club last October. Total donated to the Society topped $3,000 for 1965.

"Jet Age Fashions" was the most recent fund-raiser sponsored by the Mount Prospect Center. Held in Itasca Country Club, it attracted more than 400 area women who lunched and viewed a parade of the latest spring and summer fashions from the Hope Chest in Arlington Heights. This group turned over $2,500 to the Society last year.

Although December is still months away, the Mount Prospect Center is already planning its festive Christmas Ball, which also will be held in Itasca Country Club. In the immediate offing is a husband and wife party planned for June 25.

ALTHOUGH.. such parties are not fund-raisers, each of the three area Centers holds at least one of these parties each year. They serve to acquaint the husbands with each other and also to thank the menfolk for the many hours of baby sitting and dozens of other ways in which they help members with their fund-raising.

All three Centers joined other Centers in the Chicago area last November in presenting the Royal Marines Tattoo in the International Amphiteatre. From England, the entertainment combined music and pageantry and was the first appearance of Tattoo in America. Billed as the world's largest and most famous military pageant, Tattoo netted more than $60,000 for the Infant Welfare Society.

YEARS AGO the only record of a baby's birth might be found in the family Bible, but today with the aid of the Infant Welfare Society, records of babies born at home become part of the nation's statistics. Such minute records are kept that a mother-to-be can almost predict the likely hours when Mr. Stork will arrive.

In Pennsylvania, for instance, a study showed that 5 a.m. was the most popular visiting hour, and the next most popular was 3 a.m.

There is nothing like an early start in life!

WELL-ACQUAINTED with babies and their needs are members of area Infant Welfare Centers, many of whom have babies of their own. Newest member of Arlington Heights Infant Welfare "family" is 2-month-old Elizabeth Lattof whose mother, Mrs. Warren Lattof, holding baby, introduces her to Mrs. Ed Carpenter, Mrs. Elton Herrick and Mrs. Paul Knott. Members met recently to make plans for Baby Week.

It's Shopper Vs. Inflation In Supermarket Skirmish

by MARY B. GOOD

En garde housewives of suburbia!

You've got the message from LBJ about inflationary spending; now grab those coupons, the empty soda pop bottles, your add-it clicker-counter, your weights and measures chart, your specs and all other necessary battle equipment and go-go out and slay that proverbial dragon.

But don't be surprised if one of Lady Bird's relatives—the Watch Bird—is stationed behind a display of that high-priced spread, taking everything in as you sweep through the supermarket.

CAREFUL when you roughly disengage that shopping cart out of the tangle of interlocked carts. You might send it sailing into a display of ammonia bottles. The carts mangle easily and cost $35 apiece, you know. Of course, you won't be buying a shop ping cart. (At least not today.) Sorry about that ammonia display though.

And watch that little amateur shoplifter you've just settled conveniently in the seat of your shopping cart. He has a bad habit of grabbing those luxury items that the idiot box keeps relaying to his brain center, like soapy sudsy or breakfast chokeable oaties.

Did you see that? Your neighbor just walked by you with a cart full of prime beef! No wonder she didn't say "hello"—she undoubtedly saw your campaign button, "Cheaper Meats Make Better Eats," which you display proudly on your collar.

JUST LET her try to check out with that London broil, those porterhouse steaks or beef tenderloin. You can head her off at the service desk, tete and distract her long tet and distract her long enough to maneuver a secret-agent type cart switcheroo. Imagine the look on her face when she tries to make tripe au vin, or filet of ground beef, or wined ox-tails on a skewer! Touche! You've won the first round.

On to the produce section, if Lady Bird can avoid high-priced vegetables, so can you. You can have radishes, rutabagas, onions—oh, what a lovely salad. And then there's fruit—bananas, and . . . uh . . . and uh . . . Oh, oh, check junior, he just threw in some out of season nectarines.

LET'S SEE what you've got in your basket, St. George—powdered milk, margarine, canned vegetables, low-priced "specials" diet cola, radishes, canned luncheon meat. The war on high-priced merchandise is going to do wonders for your waistline.

Say, what's that greasy kid stuff junior is sitting on? You know, the item the checker thinks you're trying to walk off with? Ah, yes, a pound of butter! Now how did that get in your cart? You must have knocked it in when you were reaching for the cream cheese.

Women Voters Plan Evening 'Coffee'

A third coffee for new village residents will be hosted by Arlington Heights League of Women Voters Tuesday, April 26, in the home of Mrs. W. F. Marier, 437 S. Windsor Drive, Arlington Heights.

The 8 p.m. coffee will be the first one planned for an evening.

"We hope the evening hour will be more convenient for women with small children, or with a husband who doesn't leave the car at home," Mrs. Marier said.

Local government, Arlington Heights style, will be the meeting subject, planned specifically to answer problems and questions of new residents.

Mrs. Marier, voter service chairman for the local LWV, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Korte, also of Arlington Heights.

THE NON-PARTISAN LWV has 100 members here, residents of six villages in Elk Grove and Wheeling townships. Membership is open to any woman interested in the League purpose of "encouraging better informed citizen participation in government."

Those interested in attending the coffee or learning more about the LWV may call Mrs. Marier, 392-5648.

Does It Pass the Ear Test?

Names Are for Keeps!

Once a baby is born, parents have 48 hours in which to file his name on a birth certificate. That name is something which, like the ears on his head, baby will have to live with for life. Names are for keeps!

That is why many parents file the birth certificate with the name left blank: they simply have not been able to make up their minds, despite the time they've had to mull it over.

THINK OF all the factors involved when it comes to choosing a name. Long forgotten Uncle Cyril or Great Uncle Cuthbert telegraph a gentle hint that baby will be just the person to perpetuate their names—and of course. they hint at the possibility of a little legacy, just by way of inducement!

Or there's the problem of being fair to both sides of the family. So, baby emerges with a bundle of incompatible names strung together like wash on the line.

Or Dad has a hero (in sport, or politics, literature, music, the movies or history) whom he wishes to honor-to the life-long misery of the poor boy or girl.

NO WONDER some children learn to hide those embarrassing names with an initial and slyly pretend it stands for something else! Who knows when Dwight (Eisenhower), Lyndon (Johnson), Hubert (Humphrey) or Barry (Goldwater) may sound "old hat" or awkward to the ambitious young man when he heads for the big leagues on his own one day?

But there will always be fashions in names. And those fashions will change, like the seasons. Puritan names like Humility and Hope are rarities now; Priscilla and Charity seem to have run their course for the present; and gardening derivatives like Daffodil, Dahlia, Daisy and Lotus also appear to be out of season.

IT DOESN'T need much imagination to predict there will be a large crop of girls named Julie (Andrews), Lolita (named, like Lorna Doone, after the title of a book), and boys named Rex (Harrison) or Richard (Burton or Boone). Then, too, the Beatles are likely to live on in the nation's memories with a rash of Ringo's.

Yet back of the fads and fancies, the standard and "ordinary" names go on. Take John, for example. It was good enough for a president (Kennedy) and an astronaut (Glenn), and it's likely to fill the bill for many a boy called Jones or Smith. The same goes for a girl's name like Joan—Joan of Arc answered to it and so does American folk singer Baez.

ONE REASON for the timelessness of some names is the fact that they derive from the very beginnings of our civilization. Elizabeth, for instance, is traced from the Hebrew Elisheba, which is said to mean "one who is consecrated to God." Today in the United States, Elizabeth ranks second only to Mary in popularity as a girl's name.

Mary, too, is said to derive from Miriam, the sister of Aaron and Moses. The true meaning of Mary is obscure, and it may mean either "bitter" or "beautiful." Marie Antoinette, queen of France at the time of the French Revolution, is one of the more familiar historical figures bearing the name.

JACQUELINE, which is increasingly popular nowadays, is the feminine form of the French Jacques, which is the equivalent of our Jacob and James. They derive ultimately from the Hebrew name Yaakob, by way of the Latin Jacobus. It's estimated there are over a quarter of a million Jacquelines in the United States today.

History, however, is no reason for naming a baby by any old name. There are other criteria. The ear test, for one. How does it sound with the family name? It's better that the baby's name trips off the tongue, than that it trips him up in life.

IT'S ALSO good to steer clear of those "famous namesake combinations." Sure there was a latterday George Washington who developed instant coffee, but he was an exception!

And avoid initials which spell something, like M.U.G., D.O.P.E., C.A.D.

Choosing the name is a big responsibility for parents.

MRS. EM KRUEGER, left, Mrs. Myrtle Grosvenor and Mrs. Lucy Smith were honored members at the 35th anniversary celebration of the Bloomingdale Units, Homemakers Extension Asosciation, April 15 at St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Bloomingdale. The unit's first meeting in 1931 was held at Mrs. Krueger's home. Mrs. Smith, like Mrs. Krueger a charter member, has served as the unit's secretary for 33 years.

CAREFUL when you roughly disengage that shopping cart out of the tangle of interlocked carts. You might send it sailing into a display of ammonia bottles. The carts mangle easily and cost $35 apiece, you know. Of course, you won't be buying a shop ping cart. (At least not today.) Sorry about that ammonia display though.

And watch that little amateur shoplifter you've just settled conveniently in the seat of your shopping cart. He has a bad habit of grabbing those luxury items that the idiot box keeps relaying to his brain center, like soapy sudsy or breakfast chokeable oaties.

Did you see that? Your neighbor just walked by you with a cart full of prime beef! No wonder she didn't say "hello"—she undoubtedly saw your campaign button, "Cheaper Meats Make Better Eats," which you display proudly on your collar.

JUST LET her try to check out with that London broil, those porterhouse steaks or beef tenderloin. You can head her off at the service desk, tete and distract her long tet and distract her long enough to maneuver a secret-agent type cart switcheroo. Imagine the look on her face when she tries to make tripe au vin, or filet of ground beef, or wined ox-tails on a skewer! Touche! You've won the first round.

On to the produce section, if Lady Bird can avoid high-priced vegetables, so can you. You can have radishes, rutabagas, onions—oh, what a lovely salad. And then there's fruit—bananas, and . . . uh . . . and uh . . . Oh, oh, check junior, he just threw in some out of season nectarines.

LET'S SEE what you've got in your basket, St. George—powdered milk, margarine, canned vegetables, low-priced "specials" diet cola, radishes, canned luncheon meat. The war on high-priced merchandise is going to do wonders for your waistline.

Say, what's that greasy kid stuff junior is sitting on? You know, the item the checker thinks you're trying to walk off with? Ah, yes, a pound of butter! Now how did that get in your cart? You must have knocked it in when you were reaching for the cream cheese.

Women Voters Plan Evening 'Coffee'

A third coffee for new village residents will be hosted by Arlington Heights League of Women Voters Tuesday, April 26, in the home of Mrs. W. F. Marier, 437 S. Windsor Drive, Arlington Heights.

The 8 p.m. coffee will be the first one planned for an evening.

"We hope the evening hour will be more convenient for women with small children, or with a husband who doesn't leave the car at home," Mrs. Marier said.

Local government, Arlington Heights style, will be the meeting subject, planned specifically to answer problems and questions of new residents.

Mrs. Marier, voter service chairman for the local LWV, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Korte, also of Arlington Heights.

THE NON-PARTISAN LWV has 100 members here, residents of six villages in Elk Grove and Wheeling townships. Membership is open to any woman interested in the League purpose of "encouraging better informed citizen participation in government."

Those interested in attending the coffee or learning more about the LWV may call Mrs. Marier, 392-5648.

Does It Pass the Ear Test?

Names Are for Keeps!

Once a baby is born, parents have 48 hours in which to file his name on a birth certificate. That name is something which, like the ears on his head, baby will have to live with for life. Names are for keeps!

That is why many parents file the birth certificate with the name left blank: they simply have not been able to make up their minds, despite the time they've had to mull it over.

THINK OF all the factors involved when it comes to choosing a name. Long forgotten Uncle Cyril or Great Uncle Cuthbert telegraph a gentle hint that baby will be just the person to perpetuate their names—and of course. they hint at the possibility of a little legacy, just by way of inducement!

Or there's the problem of being fair to both sides of the family. So, baby emerges with a bundle of incompatible names strung together like wash on the line.

Or Dad has a hero (in sport, or politics, literature, music, the movies or history) whom he wishes to honor-to the life-long misery of the poor boy or girl.

NO WONDER some children learn to hide those embarrassing names with an initial and slyly pretend it stands for something else! Who knows when Dwight (Eisenhower), Lyndon (Johnson), Hubert (Humphrey) or Barry (Goldwater) may sound "old hat" or awkward to the ambitious young man when he heads for the big leagues on his own one day?

But there will always be fashions in names. And those fashions will change, like the seasons. Puritan names like Humility and Hope are rarities now; Priscilla and Charity seem to have run their course for the present; and gardening derivatives like Daffodil, Dahlia, Daisy and Lotus also appear to be out of season.

IT DOESN'T need much imagination to predict there will be a large crop of girls named Julie (Andrews), Lolita (named, like Lorna Doone, after the title of a book), and boys named Rex (Harrison) or Richard (Burton or Boone). Then, too, the Beatles are likely to live on in the nation's memories with a rash of Ringo's.

Yet back of the fads and fancies, the standard and "ordinary" names go on. Take John, for example. It was good enough for a president (Kennedy) and an astronaut (Glenn), and it's likely to fill the bill for many a boy called Jones or Smith. The same goes for a girl's name like Joan—Joan of Arc answered to it and so does American folk singer Baez.

ONE REASON for the timelessness of some names is the fact that they derive from the very beginnings of our civilization. Elizabeth, for instance, is traced from the Hebrew Elisheba, which is said to mean "one who is consecrated to God." Today in the United States, Elizabeth ranks second only to Mary in popularity as a girl's name.

Mary, too, is said to derive from Miriam, the sister of Aaron and Moses. The true meaning of Mary is obscure, and it may mean either "bitter" or "beautiful." Marie Antoinette, queen of France at the time of the French Revolution, is one of the more familiar historical figures bearing the name.

JACQUELINE, which is increasingly popular nowadays, is the feminine form of the French Jacques, which is the equivalent of our Jacob and James. They derive ultimately from the Hebrew name Yaakob, by way of the Latin Jacobus. It's estimated there are over a quarter of a million Jacquelines in the United States today.

History, however, is no reason for naming a baby by any old name. There are other criteria. The ear test, for one. How does it sound with the family name? It's better that the baby's name trips off the tongue, than that it trips him up in life.

IT'S ALSO good to steer clear of those "famous namesake combinations." Sure there was a latterday George Washington who developed instant coffee, but he was an exception!

And avoid initials which spell something, like M.U.G., D.O.P.E., C.A.D.

Choosing the name is a big responsibility for parents.

MRS. EM KRUEGER, left, Mrs. Myrtle Grosvenor and Mrs. Lucy Smith were honored members at the 35th anniversary celebration of the Bloomingdale Units, Homemakers Extension Asosciation, April 15 at St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Bloomingdale. The unit's first meeting in 1931 was held at Mrs. Krueger's home. Mrs. Smith, like Mrs. Krueger a charter member, has served as the unit's secretary for 33 years.

SCHAUMBURG JUNIORS Mrs. David Kalmbach and Mrs. Raymond Kessell, visit Schaumburg Library to show Librarian Mrs. Gordon Amundson one of the tickets to their fashion show which will benefit the library. "Fashions A-Go-Go" will be held Tuesday, April 26, in Golden Acres Country Club, with fashions from the Lual Shop.

La Leche Meets

La Leche mothers will meet at 8:30 p.m. Monday, April 25, in the Weathersfield home of Mrs. D. Angell, 626 Braintree Drive. Area women interested in the club may call Mrs. B. Stoesser of Roselle at LA 9-6015, Mrs. J. Lantz of Elk Grove at HE 9-2614, or Mrs. Angell at 529-7365 for further information regarding the group. (SSD

Rose Expert Is Club Speaker

"Everything's Coming up Roses" will be the topic of Russell J. Ward, 132 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, when he speaks at 8 p.m. Monday, April 25, in Pioneer Park to Arlington Heights Garden Club.

Mr. Ward, vice president of the Chicago Regional Rose Society, will discuss new and old rose varieties, proper planting and pruning, dry root versus potted roses, spraying versus dusting, feeding, mulching, exhibition of roses and various types of winter protection. His program is slanted for both the newcomer to gardening and the old-timer.

The club invites area men and women to attend the meeting. There will be a nominal guest fee. (S

Book Aids Teenagers

The teenager is often as much a problem to himself as he is to his bewildered parents. He doesn't know why he flies into sudden rages, why he is often close to tears at the slightest reprimand, why he suddenly finds his parents intolerably square. He wonders about his sanity, wonders whether others his age are beset by as many problems.

A new booklet, "How Serious Are Your Problems," may help bewildered adolescents gain insight into the problem of growing up.

Obtainable for 25 cents plus 10 cents for postage and handling from The Child Study Association of America, 9 E. 89th St., New Hork, N. Y., it may provide just the reassurance and support virtually every teenager needs at some time or other.

Hospital Tour For Nurses

Rolling Meadows Nurses' Club will tour the new St. Alexian Hospital in Elk Grove Village on Wednesday. April 27.

The nurses will assemble in the parking lot of the Bank of Rolling Meadows at 7:30 p.m. and drive to the hospital together.

Following the tour, they will have a business meeting and refreshments in the home of Mrs. Robert Rink, 3003 Martin Lane, Rolling Meadows. (S

Planning Tea

Mrs. Jerome Killoren of Mount Prospect is one of the co-chairmen for a Reciprocity and Silver Tea planned for Sunday, April 24, by Northwest Catholic Woman's Club. The tea beings at 2 p.m. at Ramada O'Hare Inn, 3939 Mannheim Road, Schiller Park.

Past presidents will be honored during the afternoon event. Mrs. Eugene Ebrom of Sauganash is current president.

Madame President

She's Learned New Skills

by JUDY TREMORE

The president of Wood Dale Junior Woman's Club is an avid believer in do-it-yourself learning and has put her belief to work by teaching herself to knit, crochet, sew and play the piano.

Mrs. Frank Fichter of Wood Dale says she likes to be busy with different things. She bakes her own rye and white bread, sews all her own clothes and some of her daughters', makes slipcovers and drapes, reads and, in her spare time, completes crossword puzzles.

Hanging in her living room is a burlap yarn picture of her own design, and just recently she made a can-can costume to wear as a member of the chorus line in the Juniors' dance last Saturday night.

PRIOR TO her one-year term as president which expires in June, Mrs. Fichter was vice president, ways and means chairman and chairman of the Park Ridge School for Girls Committee for the Juniors. She enjoys being involved with the woman's club and will continue active after her term as president is over.

As past president, she will be a member of the board and will take over the "Chitchat Hour," the club's monthly newspaper.

The Fichters have five children: Christine, 16; Kathy, 13; Patty Ann, 11; David, 8, and Susan, 7. Mr. Fichter, a building contractor, operates his own business. The family has been in Wood Dale for six years and before that lived four years in Algonquin. Wood Dale isn't a new home for them, however; they had lived there before the Algonquin move.

DEVIL'S LAKE near Baraboo, Wis., is one of the Fichter's favorite places. The family goes there several times each year, pitching a tent for a week's stay or a long weekend.

On her list of "going-to-do's" Mrs. Fichter puts helping her husband with the business' office work and possibly going to broker's school. She says her husband is all for the idea, but she'll let it wait until she gets a little less involved with the Juniors. (SSD

STRONG ON DO-IT-YOURSELF, Wood Dale Juniors' president Mrs. Frank Fichter has taught herself to crochet along with a number of other housewifely skills such as sewing and knitting. Once her work with the Juniors tapers off, she'd like to attend broker's school, she says. (Staff Photo) (SSD

GOP Women to Hear Senate Candidates

Three candidates for state senator from the third senatorial district will speak at the next meeting of the Wheeling Township Women's Republican Club. The meeting will be held at GOP headquarters, Mount Prospect Plaza, Thursday, April 28, at 8:15 p.m.

The candidates are John Graham, Barrington; Robert Atcher, Schaumburg and William Davies, Streamwood. Each will have a few minutes to make his presentation and then speakers will answer questions from the floor.

GOP headquarters will be the scene of a rummage sale Friday, April 22, from noon to 9 p.m. Headquarters will be open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons preceding the sale of receiving and sorting rummage. Mrs. Charles Mihalek, LE 7-0888, is in charge of the sale.

MRS. RONALD Phillippo, president, announced at the last meeting of the board, that Mrs. Fred Reimann would be newsletter chairman.

The April 28 meeting will be open to the public. (S

Burp Significant

A New York psychotherapist claims that mothers and experienced nurses can foretell the future personality of an infant by the way it burps. Strong, determined infants who hold back burps until a loud and clear one pops out become leaders, he claims. The slow, soft burpers make up the "masses."

Home Ec Workshops Planned

Mrs. Helen Ahern Muha, assistant home adviser for the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, is beginning a series of workshops for young homemakers in DuPage County.

Mrs. Muha, a graduate of Mundelein College, did postgraduate work at Loyola University and Northwestern University. Prior to her present affiliation she was field home economist for Farley Manning Associates, a national public relations organization.

She was a dietitian with General Foods Corp. for four years, working with schools, hospitals, hotels and restaurants, as well as consumer problems. She also was a United States Department of Agriculture Area Home Economist, serving as a consultant to state school lunch directors in the Midwest for a number of years.

She has managed restaurants and large scale catering services for several years as an instructor in the Quartermaster Subsistence School in Chicago, teaching Army, Navy and Marine officers.

Mrs. Muha will aid in guiding the activities of the young homemakers workshops to be organized for the more than 1,100 women in adult home economics education units and 1,250 boys and girls in the Home Economics 4-H Clubs in DuPage.

The engagement of Miss Janet Margaret Gunther to Alan B. Chidley, son of the Keith Chidleys, 777 N. Hicks Road, Palatine, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gunther of Bartonville, a suburb of Peoria.

They plan a June 25 wedding.

Miss Gunther is a senior at Illinois State University. Her fiance, a graduate of Palatine High School and the University of Illinois, is employed as an engineer with John Deere Dubuque Tractor Works in Iowa.

Kathy Metz

A June 25 wedding is planned by Miss Kathy Metz of Arlington Heights and Charles Lemke of Grayslake, according to an announcement by Miss Metz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Metz, 421 N. Carlyle.

Miss Metz will be graduated from Bradley University, Peoria, in June, and her fiance is also a Bradley graduate. The son of the Harold Lemkes of Grayslake, he is now a machine designer for American Can Co., Barrington.

Susan Lamey

Miss Susan Lamey's engagement to Michael Barton, son of the Charles Bartons of 321 S. Windsor, Arlington Heights, is announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. William Lamey of Glenview.

Miss Lamey, a graduate of Regina High School, Wilmette, is now a dental and laboratory technician.

Her fiance did undergraduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Chicago where he will receive his economics degree. He is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity.

The couple will be married June 18 in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Glenview, and will reside in St. Louis where Mr. Barton will work on his doctorate at Washington University, studying under a National Defense Education grant. (Jenart)

Barbara Rasmussen

A Christmastime wedding is planned by Miss Barbara Ann Rasmussen of Chicago, daughter of the H. Bruce Rasmussens, 432 S. Waterman, Arlington Heights, and C. David Howell, son of the Chauncey D. Howells of Easton, Pa. The couple's engagement was announced during an Easter visit here by Mr. Howell from his graduate studies at Villanova University School of Law in Philadelphia. He will receive his LL.B. degree there in June.

Miss Rasmussen is an Arlington High School and DePauw University graduate, receiving her degree in economics and spending her junior year at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark. She has been working for Arthur Young & Co., accountants, and studying for her CPA and master's degree at Northwestern University.

Her fiance is a graduate of Blair Academy in Blairtown, N. J., and has a degree in political science at the University of Virginia. He also spent two years at Tulane University School of Law in New Orleans.

Cassandra Lewandowski

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Lewandowski of 1407 Norman Drive, Palatine, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Cassandra, to John Louis Pazour, son of Mrs. Louis Pazour of Marion, Iowa.

No wedding date has been set.

A graduate of Palatine High School, Miss Lewandowski is a junior at Northern Illinois University. Her fiance has his degree from the University of Chicago and is now doing graduate work there in the school of business.

Talk on Herbs For Palanois Park Gardeners

Mrs. Bernard Moore of Hinsdale appeared at last Thursday evening's meeting of Palanois Park Garden Club to speak on herbs, their history, climate for growth and their use in cooking.

The meeting took place in Mrs. Robert Jacobi's home in Palatine, with Mrs. Eldon Naffziger as co-hostess.

THE COMMITTEE responsible for the club's entry in the recent World Flower and Garden Show at McCormick Place was recognized for its award of a blue ribbon in the class entitled "Pilgrim's Feet." The exhibit featured an authentic boot buckle from the pilgrim era which is from a collection of Mrs. Carroll Ball's father. Mrs. Ball was on the show committee, along with Mrs. Jack Sylvester, chairman, Mrs. Alfred Wedow, Mrs. John Hayes and Mrs. Roy Greenfield.

Palanois Park club's annual plant sale has been set for May 12 in Mrs. Wedow's home.

Beef Dinner

The Ladies Aid of St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Schaumburg will hold its annual beef dinner Sunday, April 24, in the school gym on Schaumburg Road.

Included in the menu will be mashed potatoes, sweet-sour beans, corn, jello molds and assorted homemade pies, all served family style between noon and 3 p.m. (S

May Day Tea to Mark Opening Of Pink Lady's New Quarters

A tea and formal opening of the Pink Lady Gift Shop in the new addition of the Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Hospital, Arlington Heights, will be held Sunday, May 1, from 2 to 5 p.m. "Everyone is welcome, so please bring husbands and friends," Mrs. James Mason of Arlington Heights, volunteer manager of the Pink Lady, has requested. Her assistant manager is Mrs. Neil Hawkins of Arlington Heights; secretary is Mrs. Paul Glick of Mount Prospect; treasurer is Mrs. Elden Simpson of Barrington.

Chairman of the gift cart is Mrs. Charles Swingley of Palatine. Mrs. Robert Rich of Mount Prospect is in charge of the display counters and Mrs. Edna Campbell makes all the floral arrangements under the pseudonym of Ande'.

The Pink Lady Gift Shop now has larger facilities and a selection from around the world is available from inexpensive to prestige items. This includes wrought iron, brass, silver, wood, glass and ceramics, elegantly boxed soaps and perfumes, paper hostess sets for entertaining, jewelry and toys and games offering a wide selection suitable for all ages and occasions.

A COMPLETE service for prospective brides is also offered. The wedding ensemble includes a selection of announcements, invitations and enclosures, thank you notes, napkins, bags for the cake, engraved sterling silver wedding cake knives and the traditional bride and groom champagne glasses with etched names of initals optional.

Brides may choose the entire ensemble or as many items as they desire from the samples on display. "In ordering," said Mrs. Mason, adequate time should be allowed for delivery."

Bridal garters, hankies and sachets are additional items that can be used as shower presents, a tuck-in gift or to adorn packages. Proceeds from the Pink Lady are applied to the auxiliary's new pledge to the hospital of $150,000. (S

April 28 Is Date Of Hospital Lunch

A short business session will precede the April 28 spring luncheon for the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital, and a program from the Talent bank of Best Off Broadway Players will follow the meal.

Mrs. Albert Boeck of Arlington Heights is program chairman. The event begins with cocktails at 11:30 a.m. at Old Orchard Country Club, to be followed by a 12:30 luncheon.

"RESERVATIONS must be in this week," comments Mrs. Robert W. Rich of Mount Prospect, hospitality chairman. She is assisted by Mrs. Donald E. Wilson of Arlington, who is encouraging members to bring guests to this event, which will carry a "My Fair Lady" theme.

Among special guests will be Mrs. John Foley of Arlington, president of Holy Family Hospital Auxiliary, and Mrs. Robert Buckley, her executive vice president. Northwest Community Hospital Administrator Alan Campbell and his wife have also been invited. (S

Sandwich Art

All ladies of the community are invited to attend a sandwich demonstration, "Tricks with Bread," by Mrs. Lillian Sanders at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 26, in Lutheran Church of the Cross, 2025 Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights.

A small donation is requested and refreshments will include the sandwiches prepared by Mrs. Sanders, who is turning the proceeds over to the church for kitchen equipment. (S

Helping Youth Is Unit Topic

"Adults Can Help Youth Face Today's Problems" will be the lesson given by local leaders Mrs. C. E. Hill and Mrs. J. A. Larsen, at 1 p.m. Thursday, April 28, for members and friends of Arlington Heights Homemakers. The meeting is being held in Arlingon Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association Building, with Mrs. G. A. Moudry and Mrs. O. Adam as hostesses.

Wednesday, the group met with the Elk Grove Unit to tour and lunch at the Goodwill Industries in Chicago. On April 13, Mrs. E. P. Jannusch held a Craft Day in her home where clown dolls were made and sewing was done for Cook County Hospital.

The Unit's next meeting has been set for May 26 and visitors are welcome. (S

St. Paul Lunch

Colorful spring flowers will decorate the tables Wednesday, April 27, when the ladies of St. Paul United Church of Christ, Palatine, sponsor their annual spring luncheon. To be held in the church's Fellowship Hall, serving will be from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door by calling Mrs. W. A. Webb at 358-9563. Chairman is Mrs. I. Stabelfeldt. (S

Progress Reports Made on Northwest Hospital Ball

Decorations evoked the most comment at a meeting of the executive committee of the Northwest Community Hospital Benefit Ball, held last week in the new cafeteria of the hospital.

With the May 14 ball just one month away, Mrs. Robert Rich, co-chairman of the decorations committee, reported she and her co-chairman, Mrs. Edna Campbell, had completed 96 of the 156 bows to be used as centerpieces for the tables.

The committee also will make flower boxes for the stage at the Arlington Park Jockey Club where the first annual benefit ball for the hospital will be held. She and her husband have made a backdrop for the stage, a super-large facsimile of the hospital emblem, Mrs. Rich reported.

MRS. WILLIAM Pailey, co-chairman of the social committee which is arranging the dance, told the executive committee that the reservations committee, headed by Mrs. Steve Jurco, already has received reservations for 300.

Table assignments are being made on a "first come, first served basis," Mrs. Pailey said, and the reservations committee is trying its best to seat people at the table they request.

Tickets to the ball are $15 each or $30 a couple. Anyone wishing to be listed as a patron and have his name in the special souvenir book that will be printed can do so by sending an additional check for $50 by Friday, April 29.

A COMBO will entertain ball guests during the cocktail and dinner hour from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Lou Breese and his band wiill play for dancing following dinner until 12:30 a.m. Between dances veteran race track announcer Phil Gerogeff will conduct a racing game for the guests.

An attendance of 2,000 is expected. (S

CHARLOTTE ASLANOFF holds his white coat while Ted Small dusts it off in preparation for the upcoming Northwest Community Hospital Benefit Hall at Arlington Park Jockey Club May 14. Dress is optional for the gala affair. Suburbanites wishing to attend are urged to purchase tickets as soon as possible for best table reservations.

Bethel 103 Grand Officers Honored by 'Journey's End'

"Journey's End" was the theme chosen for the entertainment given by Bethel 103, Job's Daughters, Arlington Heights, last Saturday evening. The occasion was the official visit of Mrs. Carol Schaetzlein, of 4 N. Wilshire Lane, Arlington Heights, grand guardian, and Louis Mohler, of Alton, associate grand guardian of the International Order of Job's Daughters of the State of Illinois. Mrs. Schaetzlein's and Mr. Mohler's terms of office will end at the annual grand session to be held in Chicago at the Conrad Hilton Hotel the weekend of April 29 to May 1.

Mrs. Schaetzlein is also a past guardian of Bethel 103. She received a miniature auto charm to remind her of travelling to the official visits of Bethels throughout the state.

THE BACKGROUND on the stage consisted of a painting of a red automobile and a jet plane, both heading toward a sign which read, "Journey's End."

Also honored were Mrs. Mildred Heilig, grand chaplain and guardian of Bethel 103; Miss Rollie Banta, honorary state recorder; Miss Diane Sharp, grand representative to California; and Miss Marva Jean Huizenga, junior past honored queen of Bethel 103.

At the close of the meeting, the stage was quickly set for the show as a capacity audience joined in the festivities. The entertainment consisted of skits from each of the past receptions which Bethel 103 had given to honor Mrs. Schaetzlein. A large picture frame was placed at the front of the stage and each act stepped through it. Miss Chris Nolan was the narrator, and seated in a rocking chair, represented Mrs. Schaetzlein years from now, reading a book of memories.

Following the entertainment, a buffet supper was served in the dining hall. Table decorations were miniature autos, planes and suitcases.

Miss Sue Heilig, honored queen, reminded members that Bethel 103 will exemplify initiatory work for members of the Arlington Heights Masionic Lodge No. 1162, Thursday, April 21. Joseph Meisl, associate guardian of Bethel 103, is worshipful master of the Lodge. (S

April 27 Craft Day For Palatine Unit

Urgent Need for Homes

Ceremony Planned May 4 To Honor Foster Mothers

Public attention will be focused on the need for foster mothers when 15 private child welfare agencies join with the Cook County Department of Public Aid in honoring foster mothers at the 1966 Cook County Foster Mother of the Year awards ceremony.

Nominations for this honor are being made now by these agencies.

A panel of judges will select one of those nominated to be Cook County's 1966 Foster Mother of the Year, and she and all the others will be honored at a special ceremony in the Sherman House May 4.

THE PROGRAM serves two purposes, according to Raymond M. Hilliard, director of the Cook County Public Aid Department. It honors all foster mothers and it points up the urgent need for additional foster mothers.

Hilliard said there was need for a minimum of 1,000 foster homes right now, and the problem, he added, is of crisis proportions.

"There are many excellent reasons, beyond the obvious humanitarian ones, why we must find good homes in which these children can grow up," said Hilliard.

"First, it is much less expensive to care for a homeless child in a good foster home than in an institution.

"SECOND, it is much better for infants and smaller children to be reared in a foster home than in an institution.

"And third, rearing homeless children in fine foster homes will make them far less vulnerable to delinquency and to emotional disturbances which would make them a burden on society when they grow up."

Agencies which will participate in the May 4 ceremony include Bensenville Home Society, Catholic Charities, Central Baptist Children's Home, Chicago Child Care Society, Child and Family Services, Juvenile Court of Cook County, Evangelical Child Welfare Agency, Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, Illinois Lutheran Welfare Association, Jewish Children's Bureau, Lake Bluff Children's Home, Lutheran Child Welfare Association, Lutheran Social Service and St. Mary's Home for Children. Over 1,000 Women Expected

19th Regional Conference for AAUW

Arlington Heights Branch and Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women will be well represented at the 19th biennial regional conference, to be held at the Sherman House in Chicago May 6-7. Over a thousand AAUW members from all parts of the 5-state Northwest Central Region are expected to attend.

More than 20 members of Arlington Heights branch will serve as conference pages, posted at the registration desk, at the exhibit area, in the dining room and at the general sessions to run errands, deliver messages and be of general assistance to state officers and delegates.

THE PAGES will be guided by Mrs. Charles Toot, who is chairman of pages, assisted by Mrs. Charles Aldag. A meeting of all pages for final briefings will be held April 26 at 8 p.m. in Mrs. Toot's home, 901 N. Princeton, Arlington Heights.

Representing the Arlington branch as voting delegates will be the president, Mrs. Paul F. Davis, and board members, Mrs. B. E. J. Waring, Mrs. Fred Riedl, Mrs. James L. Andrew, Mrs. Howard Rice, Mrs. Toot and Mrs. Aldag.

ON THURSDAY, May 5, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Aldage, Mrs. Toot and branch secretary, Mrs. Lewis Ross, will assist in registering members as they arrive at the Sherman House.

Mrs. R. C. Cooper of Mount Prospect, a member of the Northwest Suburban branch, will direct the AAUW choral group who will provide musical entertainment after the banquet on Friday evening. Dr. Althea Hottel, newly elected president of the International Federation of University Women and a former national AAUW president, will be the banquet speaker. Hostesses will be members of Northwest Suburban branch.

Mrs. E. G. Bailey of Arlington Heights, a member of Northwest Suburban branch, will act as special hostess to holders of AAUW fellowships who attend the banquet.

Among the 10 voting delegates from the above branch will be Mrs. Bruce C. Graham, Arlington Heights; Mrs. E. V. Carlson, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Lee Gunter Jr., Mount Prospect; Mrs. G. W. Hrbek, Arlington Heights.

SATURDAY MORNING the 5-state divisions—Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin—will hold separate meetings, and the entire conference will reconvene for luncheon to hear an address by Mrs. Esther Peterson, Assistant Secretary of Labor.

Following closely on the heels of the conference is another area event, an annual spring workshop for activities chairmen of the entire AAUW northern Illinois district. The workshop is slated May 14 at Maine Township High School East and is open to all branch members.

Registration and a coffee hour begin at 8:30 a.m. Northwest Suburban branch members will serve as hostesses.

Mrs. E. V. Carlson of Prospect Heights, active in the Northwest Suburban branch and state division representative of the Science, a creative discipline committee, will conduct the science workshop at this all-day session. (S

Decorations evoked the most comment at a meeting of the executive committee of the Northwest Community Hospital Benefit Ball, held last week in the new cafeteria of the hospital.

With the May 14 ball just one month away, Mrs. Robert Rich, co-chairman of the decorations committee, reported she and her co-chairman, Mrs. Edna Campbell, had completed 96 of the 156 bows to be used as centerpieces for the tables.

The committee also will make flower boxes for the stage at the Arlington Park Jockey Club where the first annual benefit ball for the hospital will be held. She and her husband have made a backdrop for the stage, a super-large facsimile of the hospital emblem, Mrs. Rich reported.

MRS. WILLIAM Pailey, co-chairman of the social committee which is arranging the dance, told the executive committee that the reservations committee, headed by Mrs. Steve Jurco, already has received reservations for 300.

Table assignments are being made on a "first come, first served basis," Mrs. Pailey said, and the reservations committee is trying its best to seat people at the table they request.

Tickets to the ball are $15 each or $30 a couple. Anyone wishing to be listed as a patron and have his name in the special souvenir book that will be printed can do so by sending an additional check for $50 by Friday, April 29.

A COMBO will entertain ball guests during the cocktail and dinner hour from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Lou Breese and his band wiill play for dancing following dinner until 12:30 a.m. Between dances veteran race track announcer Phil Gerogeff will conduct a racing game for the guests.

An attendance of 2,000 is expected. (S

CHARLOTTE ASLANOFF holds his white coat while Ted Small dusts it off in preparation for the upcoming Northwest Community Hospital Benefit Hall at Arlington Park Jockey Club May 14. Urgent Need for Homes

Ceremony Planned May 4 To Honor Foster Mothers

Public attention will be focused on the need for foster mothers when 15 private child welfare agencies join with the Cook County Department of Public Aid in honoring foster mothers at the 1966 Cook County Foster Mother of the Year awards ceremony.

Nominations for this honor are being made now by these agencies.

A panel of judges will select one of those nominated to be Cook County's 1966 Foster Mother of the Year, and she and all the others will be honored at a special ceremony in the Sherman House May 4.

THE PROGRAM serves two purposes, according to Raymond M. Hilliard, director of the Cook County Public Aid Department. It honors all foster mothers and it points up the urgent need for additional foster mothers.

Hilliard said there was need for a minimum of 1,000 foster homes right now, and the problem, he added, is of crisis proportions.

Bohemian Style Duckling Is Served with Sauerkraut

Drippings Used to Flavor Sauerkraut

By LOIS SEILER

Roast Duckling served Bohemian style with sauerkraut and dumplings is a great favorite in the Norbert J. Hruby household.

And it's no wonder, for Mrs. Hruby has a knack for preparing duck which is never greasy, yet is tender and has a crispy skin.

She places a small apple in the cavity of a duckling and roasts it for four hours, pricking the skin with a fork every 20 to 30 minutes to release the fat.

"The apple serves to sweeten the duck," Mrs. Hruby explained, "and I also sprinkle caraway seeds on the skin for extra flavor."

"Not only does pricking the skin help to eliminate the fat in the duck, but as it runs off it helps to brown the skin," she continued.

WHILE THE DUCK is roasting, Dolores Hruby cooks her sauerkraut, seasoning it with sugar and onion. When the duck is done, she removes it to a warm platter and pours off most of the grease in the pan, leaving 4 to 6 tablespoons. Then she adds the sauerkraut to the pan, stirring up the pan drippings into the sauerkraut. This gives it a delicious flavor, and she accompanies the tasty duck and kraut with potato dumplings.

The family has two other favorite dinners which they especially enjoy. One is Beef Goulash; the other a tasty Meat Ball Casserole.

"The casserole recipe was sent to me by my sister, who lives in England," Mrs. Hruby explained.

The meat balls are well-seasoned with onion and bread crumbs which have been sauteed in garlic-flavored bacon fat. Oregano is also used as a seasoning.

AFTER THE meat balls are browned, they are turned into a casserole and topped with a sauce made of mushroom soup, sherry and mushrooms. Crisply-fried bacon bits are sprinkled over all.

As the casserole bakes, it makes its own rich gracy, which is delicious served over boiled rice.

"The recipe can easily be doubled or tripled, and is ideal for a buffet supper for a large group," Mrs. Hruby said.

She suggests a vegetable and salad or relishes as accompaniments.

This dish may also be made in advance, and it freezes well, too.

Her Goulash recipe is a combination of two recipes which she put together with pleasing results. Mrs. Hruby uses beef stew, which she browns well. Onions, garlic, caraway seeds and catsup are added for zest, and the ingredients are simmered in bouillon. Then the gravy is thickened.

THE GOULASH is served with buttered noodles, and the caraway seeds give it a different and distinctive flavor.

In addition to her culinary and homemaking endeavors, Mrs. Hruby is active in several organizations and also teaches music at the Divine Providence School in Westchester. She is a member of the Community Concert Association and is membership chairman of the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee.

The Hrubys live at 618 W. Campbell in Arlington Heights. They have three children: a son, Michael, 21, and two daughters, Monica, 16, is a sophomore at Carmel High School, and Patty, 14, a freshman at Arlington High.

BOHEMIAN DUCKLING AND SAUERKRAUT

1 4 to 5 pound duckling
Salt and pepper
1 small apple
1 teaspoon caraway seeds

Salt and pepper the duck and stuff the apple into the cavity. Sprinkle caraway seeds on the skin.

Bake in a 300-degree oven for four hours, pricking the skin with a fork every 20 to 30 minutes to release the fat from the duck.

In the meantime, prepare the sauerkraut.

1 large can sauerkraut
1 onion, chopped
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup water

Combine the ingredients and cook for 45 minutes, until flavors are mixed and onion is softened.

When the duck is done, remove from roasting pan. Pour off all fat except 4 to 6 tablespoons. Add the sauerkraut to the roasting pan and stir into the drippings, loosening all the brown, crusty bits and mixing them into the kraut. Serves 4.

MEAT BALL CASSEROLE

4 slices bacon
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic
¼ cup dry bread crumbs
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 pound ground beef
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can cream of mushroom soup
½ cup water
3 tablespoons sherry
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sauteed

Cook bacon until crisp and drain. In a little of the bacon fat, cook onion and garlic over low heat. Add bread crumbs and cook three minutes longer. Remove garlic and mix the sauteed ingredients with egg, beef, and seasonings. Shape into 12 balls and brown on all sides in bacon fat.

Place meat balls in a casserole. Mix mushroom soup, water and sherry together and pour over meat balls. Add mushrooms.

Sprinkle crumbled bacon on top, cover and bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes. Serves 4 generously.

BEEF GOULASH

1½ pounds beef stew
1 large onion, chopped
1 or 2 cloves garlic
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
1 tablespoon paprika
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon catsup
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 can beef broth or consomme

Brown meat in bacon fat. Add onions and brown. Add remaining ingredients; simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Remove garlic and thicken gravy with a flour-water paste. Serve with buttered noodles. Serves 4.

Dieting? Try These Low Calorie Grapefruit Treats

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS THURS., APR. 21, 1966

If you're in the process of cinching those inches, consider the delicious eating enjoyment offered by fresh grapefruit low-calorie desserts.

To prepare grapefruit halves, cut fruit in half; remove core if desired. Cut around each section loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire edge of fruit.

To section oranges, cut slice from top, then cut off peel in strips from top to bottom, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane, then cut slice from bottom. Or cut off peel round and round, spiral fashion. Go over fruit again, removing any remaining white membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section, over bowl to retain juice from fruit.

PREPARE AS FOLLOWS:

Orange Sections with Maraschino Cherry Half: For each grapefruit half, arrange 6 orange sections on grapefruit half and top with a maraschino cherry half. 96 calories per half.

Frosted Grapes: For each grapefruit half, wash and dry 3 purple grapes. Dip in egg white, then roll in 1 teaspoon sugar. Arrange on grapefruit half. 79 calories per half.

Yogurt with Orange Section: For each grapefuit half, mound ¼ cup yogurt in center and top with 1 orange section. 86 calories per half.

Orange Juice Concentrate: For each grapefuit half, mound 1 tablespoon frozen orange juice concentrate in center of half. 76 calories per half.

Broiled Grapefuit: Sprinkle 1 teaspoon brown sugar on each grapefruit half and dot with 1 teaspoon butter. Broil, 4 inches from heat, about 5 minutes or until golden and heated. 100 calories per half.

Oven Toasted Coconut: For each grapefruit half, place 1 tablespoon flaked coconut in metal pan or on aluminum foil and bake in 350 degree F. oven about 5 minutes or until golden brown. Sprinkle over grapefruit half. 72 calories per half.

We reserve the right to limit quantities. Prices effective thru Saturday, April 23, 1966.

Bohemian Style Duckling Is Served with Sauerkraut

Drippings Used to Flavor Sauerkraut

By LOIS SEILER

Roast Duckling served Bohemian style with sauerkraut and dumplings is a great favorite in the Norbert J. Hruby household.

And it's no wonder, for Mrs. Hruby has a knack for preparing duck which is never greasy, yet is tender and has a crispy skin.

She places a small apple in the cavity of a duckling and roasts it for four hours, pricking the skin with a fork every 20 to 30 minutes to release the fat.

"The apple serves to sweeten the duck," Mrs. Hruby explained, "and I also sprinkle caraway seeds on the skin for extra flavor."

"Not only does pricking the skin help to eliminate the fat in the duck, but as it runs off it helps to brown the skin," she continued.

WHILE THE DUCK is roasting, Dolores Hruby cooks her sauerkraut, seasoning it with sugar and onion. When the duck is done, she removes it to a warm platter and pours off most of the grease in the pan, leaving 4 to 6 tablespoons. Then she adds the sauerkraut to the pan, stirring up the pan drippings into the sauerkraut. This gives it a delicious flavor, and she accompanies the tasty duck and kraut with potato dumplings.

The family has two other favorite dinners which they especially enjoy. One is Beef Goulash; the other a tasty Meat Ball Casserole.

"The casserole recipe was sent to me by my sister, who lives in England," Mrs. Hruby explained.

The meat balls are well-seasoned with onion and bread crumbs which have been sauteed in garlic-flavored bacon fat. Oregano is also used as a seasoning.

AFTER THE meat balls are browned, they are turned into a casserole and topped with a sauce made of mushroom soup, sherry and mushrooms. Crisply-fried bacon bits are sprinkled over all.

As the casserole bakes, it makes its own rich gracy, which is delicious served over boiled rice.

"The recipe can easily be doubled or tripled, and is ideal for a buffet supper for a large group," Mrs. Hruby said.

She suggests a vegetable and salad or relishes as accompaniments.

This dish may also be made in advance, and it freezes well, too.

Her Goulash recipe is a combination of two recipes which she put together with pleasing results. Mrs. Hruby uses beef stew, which she browns well. Onions, garlic, caraway seeds and catsup are added for zest, and the ingredients are simmered in bouillon. Then the gravy is thickened.

THE GOULASH is served with buttered noodles, and the caraway seeds give it a different and distinctive flavor.

In addition to her culinary and homemaking endeavors, Mrs. Hruby is active in several organizations and also teaches music at the Divine Providence School in Westchester. She is a member of the Community Concert Association and is membership chairman of the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee.

The Hrubys live at 618 W. Campbell in Arlington Heights. They have three children: a son, Michael, 21, and two daughters, Monica, 16, is a sophomore at Carmel High School, and Patty, 14, a freshman at Arlington High.

BOHEMIAN DUCKLING AND SAUERKRAUT

1 4 to 5 pound duckling
Salt and pepper
1 small apple
1 teaspoon caraway seeds

Salt and pepper the duck and stuff the apple into the cavity. Sprinkle caraway seeds on the skin.

Bake in a 300-degree oven for four hours, pricking the skin with a fork every 20 to 30 minutes to release the fat from the duck.

In the meantime, prepare the sauerkraut.

1 large can sauerkraut
1 onion, chopped
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup water

Combine the ingredients and cook for 45 minutes, until flavors are mixed and onion is softened.

When the duck is done, remove from roasting pan. Pour off all fat except 4 to 6 tablespoons. Add the sauerkraut to the roasting pan and stir into the drippings, loosening all the brown, crusty bits and mixing them into the kraut. Serves 4.

MEAT BALL CASSEROLE

4 slices bacon
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic
¼ cup dry bread crumbs
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 pound ground beef
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can cream of mushroom soup
½ cup water
3 tablespoons sherry
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sauteed

Cook bacon until crisp and drain. In a little of the bacon fat, cook onion and garlic over low heat. Add bread crumbs and cook three minutes longer. Remove garlic and mix the sauteed ingredients with egg, beef, and seasonings. Shape into 12 balls and brown on all sides in bacon fat.

Place meat balls in a casserole. Mix mushroom soup, water and sherry together and pour over meat balls. Add mushrooms.

Sprinkle crumbled bacon on top, cover and bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes. Serves 4 generously.

BEEF GOULASH

1½ pounds beef stew
1 large onion, chopped
1 or 2 cloves garlic
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
1 tablespoon paprika
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon catsup
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 can beef broth or consomme

Brown meat in bacon fat. Add onions and brown. Add remaining ingredients; simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Remove garlic and thicken gravy with a flour-water paste. Serve with buttered noodles. Serves 4.

Doctor in the Kitchen

by Dr. W. W. Bauer

People occasionally ask me if they should alter their diets for fear of cholesterol.

I take it they are being influenced by publicity they've seen that suggests fats in the diet, particularly those containing cholesterol, may be a cause of heart disease.

Well, they may be one cause of some heart disease. There's a good deal of evidence that suggests this. But the evidence is far from conclusive. There are other factors, too, that are implicated in heart diseases. There is no reason to panic and we need some fats in our diet.

THE WHOLE scientific controversy swirling around cholesterol concerns whether too much of it in your blood can in fact cause a heart attack, or set up conditions that in turn make a heart attack more likely. While a lot of evidence points that way, the fact remains there are people with high blood cholesterol levels who never have a heart attack. And there are people with low blood cholesterol levels who do. The body makes its own cholesterol. A proper level of cholesterol in the blood is normal.

The medical profession is not in full agreement about cholesterol. Meantime, we do know there are very good reasons for not tampering needlessly with the basic American diet that has rendered so many health benefits to our population Also, we know heart disease probably has multiple causes. It is generally agreed that lack of exercise, heredity, smoking, obesity and high blood pressure are involved as much or more than diet. So are dietary factors other than fats, including starches and sugars.

YOU CAN'T do much about heredity since it isn't given to us to choose our parents. But if there's a history of heart disease in your family, you should take this into consideration. You can follow medical advice about how to live.

You can do something about exercise. So can you, if you have enough will power, do something about smoking. High blood pressure and obesity? You should see your doctor about these, unless your overweight is not that serious. One can lose some excess weight by simply eating less of everything.

But don't tamper with your diet in terms of trying to effect delicate changes in the amounts and kinds of fats you eat. You've heard of animal fats and vegetable fats—also polyunsaturated, monounsaturated and saturated fatty acids? See your doctor about these. If he thinks your risk of a heart attack is such that your diet should be modified, he'll say so. And he will know how to do it, taking into account all sorts of other things he knows about your general health or special problems you may have.

BESIDES, WITHOUT guidance you would probably fail to effect any significant change in your blood cholesterol level. This is the opinion of authorities who are experienced in such things. And also remember, as we said earlier, no one really knows the exact role of cholesterol in your blood in relation to your heart Your doctor is the man to see about these things. Don't attempt to be your own medical man, or your neighbor's. (SSD

Symphony Woman's Group to Have Tea

The first prospective member tea to be given by the Woman's Association of the Northwest Symphony will be held Sunday, May 1, according to Mrs. Edward Matthews Jr., president of the Association.

The afternoon tea will be from 3 to 5 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Guziec, 2721 Briarwood, Arlington Heights. Guests will meet members of the board of directors and learn about the Association's work.

THE WOMAN'S Association was organized in September, 1964, by Mrs. Matthews, a playing member of the orchestra, and Perry Crafton, symphony conductor. The organization acts in conjunction with the already-established symphony association in stimulating community interest and assisting the orchestra.

Membership in the Woman's Association of the Northwest Symphony is open to women of the northwest communities who share an interest in music and the symphony orchestra.

For additional information Mrs. Matthews may be called at 827-2745. (S

Decorating Forum Set at Randhurst

Pointers on how to educate oneself on interior design and a discussion of color planning, presented by two women who are nationally known in the field of home furnishings and decorating, will open a three-day lecture series beginning next Tuesday in the Town Hall of Randhurst Shopping Center.

The "Decorating Ideas Forum," conducted by the Illinois Chapter of the National Home Fashions League Inc., will comprise three two-hour sessions, according to Mrs. Nancy Walker, program vice president. Each program will be presented twice, at 1 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. the same day.

Series tickets for either afternoon or evening sessions are available, and individual tickets may be purchased at the door prior to any session. Proceeds of the Forum will benefit the National Home Fashions League Scholarship Fund, Mrs. Walker noted.

LECTURE dates are Tuesday, April 26; Thursday, April 28, and Friday, April 29.

Letitia Baldridge, head of Letitia Baldridge Enterprises and former social secretary to the White House, is scheduled to speak Tuesday. Her subject is "Self-Education of Interior Design." She will be followed by Margaret Hutchison, color stylist for Martin Senour Paints, whose topic is "Color Planning."

Thursday's program will be devoted entirely to "The Flooring Story," Mrs. Walker announced. The first speaker will be Leona Kinane, sales representative to architects and decorators for the American Biltrite Rubber Co. She will discuss latest styles and technical developments in resilient or hard-surface flooring for use in various areas of the home.

MARIE BERUBE, midwestern manager of Modern Floor Coverings Magazine, will follow on the program with information on rugs and carpeting.

The final Forum will deal with "Fabrics and Window Treatments" and "Furniture Facts." First speaker for the Friday sessions will be Judith-ann Collings, who lectures widely as national director of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

The concluding talk will be given by Mrs. Alice Alexander, who recently developed a comprehensive home furnishings educational program for high schools in her capacity of public relations director of Kroehler Mfg. Co.

"QUESTION - and - answer periods will be included in each illustrated Forum program," Mrs. Walker said. "Homemakers — and husbands, too — are urged to bring up special decorating problems for general discussion."

IFWC Slates 71st Annual Convention

"The 71st Annual Convention of the IFWC to be held at the Sherman House, Chicago, May 3, 4 and 5, offers an opportunity for every club, large or small, to take part in forming and adopting future policy, and this year many state offices are to be filled," says Mrs. Halbert Dodd of Elmwood Park, convention chairman. The convention committee, which includes 19 members of Seventh District, has been working since summer to make this year's convention the finest she explained.

At the convention, Seventh District will endorse candidates, both of Arlington Heights, for state office. Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson will be nominated for president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Currently serving as first vice-president, Mrs. Hendrickson has served seven years on state level, including terms as Park Ridge School for Girls chairman and vice president from Northern Region.

RECEIVING THE nomination for the top office in the junior organization will be Mrs. Gordon Beckley. Currently, as Northern Region Junior Director, Mrs. Beckley has been an active participant on a Federation panel which has met with club leaders throughout northern Illinois. "Her presentation of the role of junior clubs in Federation has revealed her enthusiasm for organized volunteer service," commented Mrs. Dodd.

In recent board elections of the 11th District, Mrs. A. W. R. Oswald of Naperville was elected chairman of the arts class and contests division, while Mrs. Carolyn Haag of Lombard was elected as credentials chairman.

The opening day, Mrs. John Whitehurst, former general federation president, will deliver the keynote address, "Obligation for Tommorrow." Dr. Harry Sands, program director of the Epilepsy Association of America will tell of the work of his organization.

A NEW FEATURE this year is the candlelight breakfast honoring state board members on Wednesday morning. Awards fill be presented at this time. Also new is the Wednesday afternoon leadership training course designed for the many delegates assuming the office of president of their respective clubs. Conducting the group will be Mrs. William Collins, registered parliamentarian with the National Association of Parliamentarians and Professor Victor R. Harnack of the Department of Speech and Theatre at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle. Other instructors will also participate.

Grant C. Butler, who is rated as one of the 10 best speakers in America, will address the group Thursday. Mr. Butler is author of the best-selling book "Kings and Camels" for which he received the Memorial Award of Merit from the American Academy of Political Affairs. (SSD

Michael Stoffel Takes Bride

Relatives and friends of Michael Scott Stoffel traveled from Arlington Heights to Boca Raton, Fla. to witness his marriage March 12 to Betty Louise Logonov of that city. Held in Boca Raton's first Presbyterian Church, the double ring service was followed by a reception for 75 in Schrafft's Restaurant.

The bride is the daughter of the Vladimir W. Logonovs of Boca Raton, and the groom is the son of the Harold Stoffels, 133 S. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights.

Rev. Albert Shiphorst officiated at the 3 o'clock candlelight service in a setting of altar flowers. Mr. Logonov gave his daughter in marriage.

For her marriage, the bride chose a white sheath of embroidered lace with peau de soie train, and embroidered lace mantilla with French illusion veiling. A white gardenia cascade with baby breath and ivy completed her ensemble.

MISS DIXIE Lee Joyner of Plantation, Fla. was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Sharon Gleason of Delray Beach Fla. Both wore identical floor-length gowns of light blue crepe with Romance blue chiffon bodices. Their flowers were cascades of pink glamellias.

Eight-year-old Ann Kravcisin, cousin of the bride from Fort Lauderdale, was flower girl and wore a long white gown with blue bodice and carried a cascade of sweetheart roses.

Best man was Durwood Brockman of Arlington Heights and ushers were the bride's brother, Walter Logonov of Boca Raton, and the groom's brother, Ricky Stoffel of Arlington Heights.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother wore an aqua crepe dress with aqua ribbon lace on the bodice and golden cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Stoffel chose a cream colored lace suit with pink cymbidiums. Among the out-of-town guests were the Vern Hagenbrings of Arlington Heights.

The couple honeymooned for a week en route from Florida to Wisconsin where the groom is manager of the Sears Roebuck Store in Fort Atkinson. The groom, grandson of long-time Arlington Heights residents the Richard Boegers, was graduated from Arlington High School. His bride studied at the Dental Hygiene School of Palm Beach Junior College and also at Barry College in North Miami Shores. (S

Hanover GOP Club Plans Card Party

Plans for their annual card party were finalized this week when Hanover Township Republican Women met in the home of Mrs. Charles Witham. Date of the party is Saturday evening, April 23, and place is Turner Hall in Elgin.

The refreshment committee chairman, Mrs. Ed Hecht, reports that free coffee, sandwiches and chips will be served and other beverages will be available. Mrs. Charles Witham, Mrs. LeRoy Collard and Mrs. Robert Busch are in charge of prizes. Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Paul Ahlgrim, Mrs. William Werner, Mrs. Robert Busch, Mrs. Malcolm Fisher, Mrs. Paul Lenzini and Mrs. Dale Dickmann.

AN ADDED attraction will be the appearance of candidates for various state and county offices, Mrs. Malcolm Fisher, co-chairman of the publicity committee, reported that the following candidates would be present; Sen. John Graham, candidate for re-election; Bob Atcher, candidate for state senator; Homer Field, candidate for Cook County assessor; Robert Hanrahan, candidate for county superintendent for public shcools and Joseph Woods, candidate for sheriff. Eugene Devitt, Hanover Township Republican Committeeman, will also be present.

Tickets are available from members of the Republican Women's Club as well as other Republican organizations or at the door the night of the party.

PILES OF CHIPS are being counted out in preparation for the "Las Vegas Night" party of Elk Grove Junior Woman's Club, slated for Saturday, April 30, at Salt Creek Country Club. "Bankers" Mrs. Robert Meyers and Mrs. Edward Kenna are on the planning committee, Mrs. Kenna in charge of tickets. Proceeds from the event will go to Elk Grove Village Library. (Staff photo)

Investments, Election Head Elk Grove Juniors' Agenda

"Every woman should have an idea of how to handle money outside the home and that's where the stock market comes in" said James Beatty, account executive of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., at the April meeting of Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club.

Mr. Beatty told the women that the stock market is not new to the female sex, as today 51 per cent of the shareholders are women. These women have grasped the basic investment fundamentals and applied them effectively to their own needs for safety, income or growth. He went on to tell the women where they could get advice and guidance and how to go about finding a good broker.

THE PROGRAM also included Kermit Williamson and Harold Kehrer of W. L. Kunkel & Co. Realtors, Des Plaines, who spoke on "New and Used Homes" and "Real Estate as an Investment."

Mrs. George Mullen was elected president for the 1966-67 term; Mrs. Roger Kantola, first vice president; Mrs. George Majoros, second vice president; Mrs. R. Craig Sallenback, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Lea, recording secretary; Mrs. William Sobaski, treasurer.

ELECTED AS board members were Mrs. Norman Jacobs, program; Mrs. Arnold Shaw, ways and means; Mrs. George Petras, hospitality; Mrs. Jerome Biedka, publicity; Mrs. David Roller, revisions; Mrs. Alan Antonik, philanthropy.

Plans were announced for the April 30 "Las Vegas Night" to be held at Salt Creek Country Club. The benefit is open to the public, with proceeds going to the village library. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the club or by calling Mrs. Edward Kenna, ticket chairman, at 437-1534. (S

Sorority Activities

Area High School Girls to Attend Sorority Information Tea Sunday

PANHELLENIC

Information, please? Information pleases! That's the considered opinion of Chicago Northwest Suburban Area Panhellenic Association. And giving information to college-bound high school seniors and their mothers will be the primary goal on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p.m. at the association's annual Sorority Information Party in Maine Township High School West cafeteria.

High school girls from Barrington, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling, Conant, Sacred Heart of Mary, Maine East and Maine West have received invitations and booklets entitled "Speaking of Sororities" by mail recently and should have many questions for Mrs. Burton S. Pearsall, nationally known sorority woman and guest speaker.

COLLEGE AND studies go hand in hand and are well known to both mothers and daughters, but the mechanics of living away from home present questions that the Panhellenic Association and Mrs. Pearsall hope to answer, questions regarding rushing rules, pledging, sorority, and college life in general. Alumnae from various colleges and sororities will be on hand to act as hostesses and to answer additional questions.

Another feature of the party, arranged by Mrs. Robert Bierbaum of Arlington Heights and representing Pi Beta Phi, will be a display of sorority pins and publications from some of the 29 National Panhellenic Conference sororities.

Mrs. Russell Oller of Des Plaines, representing Kappa Delta and general chairman of the party, invites interested girls who have not received an invitation to call her at 827-6309.

As Chicago Northwest Suburban Area Panhellenic Association would like to effect an exchange of information, the young women attending the party will be urged to fill out the cards covering scholarship standing and school activities needed for the Panhellenic file. This information will be available to northwest suburban area alumnae wishing to recommend girls to their collegiate chapters for next year's rushing.

MRS. OLLER is being assisted by many women from the northwest suburban area. Mrs. Thomas McCormick of Mount Prospect and representing Alpha Gamma Delta, is co-chairman of the party. Mrs. John Freiburg of Arlington Heights, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma, and her co-chairman, Mrs. William Dickison of Des Plaines and Sigma Kappa, together with their committee addressed 1000 invitations. When the girls and their mothers arrive they will be greeted by Mrs. D. M. Lee of Mount Prospect representing Delta Zeta, Mrs. Robert Green of Palatine and Gamma Phi Beta, and their committee members.

Program arrangements were made by Chi Omega alumna Mrs. Verne Whitnell of Arlington Heights. The committees of Mrs. Clifford Cooper of Mount Prospect, Delta Delta Delta, and Mrs. Robert Obenhouse of Barrington, Phi Mu, will assist with refreshments and decorations.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Northwest Suburban Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae expect to be especially popular with their husbands this month. Sunday evening, April 24, they have invited their favorite beaus for 5 o'clock cocktails, dinner and the theatre at Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect.

With the arrival of the vacation season Gamma Phi husbands will also be interested in the program for Wednesday April 27, meeting at 8 p.m. in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. Robert Dieterich. "How To Take The Lug Out of Luggage" will be demonstrated by TWA representative, Mrs. Russell Lundstrom of Palatine," commented Mrs. Allan Edwards of Mount Prospect.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Northwest Suburban Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi will hold a spring rummage sale Friday, April 22nd, from 3 until 8 p.m. at the West Park Fieldhouse, Des Plaines. Proceeds will go to the Illinois Children's Hospital School for the benefit of educable handicapped children.

Anyone, not yet contacted, who wishes to donate time and or rummage is asked to call Mrs. John Holmes at 392-6640.

SIGMA KAPPA

Northwest Suburban Sigma Kappas will meet for a salad luncheon Monday, April 25, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Roy Davis, 1532 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Davis, a former air line stewardess, will present the program which will include some of the highlights of her recent trip to London.

Further information may be had by calling Mrs. David Crockatt, CL 3-2474.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Mrs. Guy Buswell of Mount Prospect will be installed as vice president of Zeta Tau Alpha's West Suburban Alumnae cahpter when the group meets at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 28, in the Lombard home of Mrs. James Lovett, the new president.

Chicago area Zetas will be attending their 11th annual spring luncheon Saturday, April 23, in the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel. Proceeds will benefit the Cerebral Palsy Foundation National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta alumnae will receive help with decorating problems and get new ideas when an interior decorator-consultant from Sears, Roebuck & Co. addresses the Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta on April 25 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. T. Sorority Activities

Area High School Girls to Attend Sorority Information Tea Sunday

PANHELLENIC

Information, please? Information pleases! That's the considered opinion of Chicago Northwest Suburban Area Panhellenic Association. And giving information to college-bound high school seniors and their mothers will be the primary goal on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p.m. at the association's annual Sorority Information Party in Maine Township High School West cafeteria.

High school girls from Barrington, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling, Conant, Sacred Heart of Mary, Maine East and Maine West have received invitations and booklets entitled "Speaking of Sororities" by mail recently and should have many questions for Mrs. Burton S. Pearsall, nationally known sorority woman and guest speaker.

COLLEGE AND studies go hand in hand and are well known to both mothers and daughters, but the mechanics of living away from home present questions that the Panhellenic Association and Mrs. Pearsall hope to answer, questions regarding rushing rules, pledging, sorority, and college life in general. Alumnae from various colleges and sororities will be on hand to act as hostesses and to answer additional questions.

Another feature of the party, arranged by Mrs. Robert Bierbaum of Arlington Heights and representing Pi Beta Phi, will be a display of sorority pins and publications from some of the 29 National Panhellenic Conference sororities.

Mrs. Russell Oller of Des Plaines, representing Kappa Delta and general chairman of the party, invites interested girls who have not received an invitation to call her at 827-6309.

As Chicago Northwest Suburban Area Panhellenic Association would like to effect an exchange of information, the young women attending the party will be urged to fill out the cards covering scholarship standing and school activities needed for the Panhellenic file. This information will be available to northwest suburban area alumnae wishing to recommend girls to their collegiate chapters for next year's rushing.

MRS. OLLER is being assisted by many women from the northwest suburban area. Mrs. Thomas McCormick of Mount Prospect and representing Alpha Gamma Delta, is co-chairman of the party. Mrs. John Freiburg of Arlington Heights, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma, and her co-chairman, Mrs. William Dickison of Des Plaines and Sigma Kappa, together with their committee addressed 1000 invitations. When the girls and their mothers arrive they will be greeted by Mrs. D. M. Lee of Mount Prospect representing Delta Zeta, Mrs. Robert Green of Palatine and Gamma Phi Beta, and their committee members.

Program arrangements were made by Chi Omega alumna Mrs. Verne Whitnell of Arlington Heights. The committees of Mrs. Clifford Cooper of Mount Prospect, Delta Delta Delta, and Mrs. Robert Obenhouse of Barrington, Phi Mu, will assist with refreshments and decorations.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Northwest Suburban Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae expect to be especially popular with their husbands this month. Sunday evening, April 24, they have invited their favorite beaus for 5 o'clock cocktails, dinner and the theatre at Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect.

With the arrival of the vacation season Gamma Phi husbands will also be interested in the program for Wednesday April 27, meeting at 8 p.m. in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. Robert Dieterich. "How To Take The Lug Out of Luggage" will be demonstrated by TWA representative, Mrs. Russell Lundstrom of Palatine," commented Mrs. Allan Edwards of Mount Prospect.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Northwest Suburban Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi will hold a spring rummage sale Friday, April 22nd, from 3 until 8 p.m. at the West Park Fieldhouse, Des Plaines. Proceeds will go to the Illinois Children's Hospital School for the benefit of educable handicapped children.

Anyone, not yet contacted, who wishes to donate time and or rummage is asked to call Mrs. John Holmes at 392-6640.

SIGMA KAPPA

Northwest Suburban Sigma Kappas will meet for a salad luncheon Monday, April 25, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Roy Davis, 1532 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Davis, a former air line stewardess, will present the program which will include some of the highlights of her recent trip to London.

Further information may be had by calling Mrs. David Crockatt, CL 3-2474.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Mrs. Guy Buswell of Mount Prospect will be installed as vice president of Zeta Tau Alpha's West Suburban Alumnae cahpter when the group meets at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 28, in the Lombard home of Mrs. James Lovett, the new president.

Chicago area Zetas will be attending their 11th annual spring luncheon Saturday, April 23, in the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel. Proceeds will benefit the Cerebral Palsy Foundation National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS
BY LINDA NORRIS

The popular trio, the Lettermen, follow their top-selling Hit Sounds of the Lettermen with a similar package containing their own hit sounds as well as songs made famous by several other acts including The Byrds, Elvis Presley, Bobby Vinton and the Beatles in an LP entitled More Hit Sounds of the Lettermen! With orchestra arranged and conducted by Jimmie Haskell, the Lettermen lend their lush sound to such contemporary favorites as Mr. Tambourine Man, Crying in the Chapel. Turn! Turn! Turn!, Blue Velvet, Yesterday, And I Love Her and six others . . . Each Lettermen is also given the opportunity to display his particular solo talent; Tony Butala does it on Yesterday; Jim Pike on And I Love Her and Bob Engemann on Blue Velvet.

One of Nancy Wilson's first hit album was an LP consisting of Broadway show tunes, Broadway-My Way . . . Now, for the first time since that debut LP, Nancy returns to Broadway for another tour in From Broadway With Love . . . This time, with orchestra arranged and conducted by Sid Feller, Nancy covers songs ranging from 1938 to 1966, including I'll Only Miss Him When I Think of Him, Makin' Whoopee, Somewhere, Hello, Dolly (natch!), I've Got Your Number, Young and Foolish, You'd Better Love Me, I Had a Ball, Here's That Rainy Day, He Loves Me, Hey There, and This Dream.

Available for the first time is "Nat King Cole at the Sands", a deluxe-package set that contains Cole's only onstage recording . . . Inside the LP, recorded several years ago at the Sands in Las Vegas, are stories and pictures of the late star's career . . . He does 11 songs, mostly standards, in his own inimitable style.

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: Winter injury to evergreens and shrubs cannot be assessed until the growing season begins. Where snow cover or mulches occur, roots should come through well. But shrubs, especially those tender and hybrid, and shallow rooted trees such as dogwoods already weakened may have a tougher time. Low temperatures cause root kill. Injury is more pronounced when temperatures drop suddenly after days of abnormally high temperatures than prolonged winter cold.

ITEM: Cordless electric battery-operated products are becoming increasingly popular. In one year, as many as nine million cordless electric clocks, two and one-half million cordless electric knives and $38 million worth of shavers were purchased. Batteries to operate them are becoming more sophisticated with rechargeable alkaline and sealed nickel-cadmium units joining the long-dominant carbon-zinc type.

ITEM: Fitted bottom sheets with elastic sewn into the corners wear longer than fitted sheets with noelastic corners. In a series of tests, sheets with elastic corners were used and washed for 52 weeks with no repair needed. The nonelastic sheets had to be repaired after 21 weeks of use.

ITEM: Where you put your heating thermostat is important to its correct function. For example, if it's on an outside wall, near a window or too close to the source of heat, it won't accurately register the temperature of the room. The best place for it is on an inside wall, about five feet from the floor.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER
Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS
Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED
Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE
Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY
Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

7. DON'T OVERLOOK OUR LOWER RATE FOR CONSECUTIVE INSERTIONS
You'll get the biggest parade of readers at the lowest price. Your Needs Satisfied thru Paddock Publications Classified.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS
BY LINDA NORRIS

The popular trio, the Lettermen, follow their top-selling Hit Sounds of the Lettermen with a similar package containing their own hit sounds as well as songs made famous by several other acts including The Byrds, Elvis Presley, Bobby Vinton and the Beatles in an LP entitled More Hit Sounds of the Lettermen! With orchestra arranged and conducted by Jimmie Haskell, the Lettermen lend their lush sound to such contemporary favorites as Mr. Tambourine Man, Crying in the Chapel. Turn! Turn! Turn!, Blue Velvet, Yesterday, And I Love Her and six others . . . Each Lettermen is also given the opportunity to display his particular solo talent; Tony Butala does it on Yesterday; Jim Pike on And I Love Her and Bob Engemann on Blue Velvet.

One of Nancy Wilson's first hit album was an LP consisting of Broadway show tunes, Broadway-My Way . . . Now, for the first time since that debut LP, Nancy returns to Broadway for another tour in From Broadway With Love . . . This time, with orchestra arranged and conducted by Sid Feller, Nancy covers songs ranging from 1938 to 1966, including I'll Only Miss Him When I Think of Him, Makin' Whoopee, Somewhere, Hello, Dolly (natch!), I've Got Your Number, Young and Foolish, You'd Better Love Me, I Had a Ball, Here's That Rainy Day, He Loves Me, Hey There, and This Dream.

Available for the first time is "Nat King Cole at the Sands", a deluxe-package set that contains Cole's only onstage recording . . . Inside the LP, recorded several years ago at the Sands in Las Vegas, are stories and pictures of the late star's career . . . He does 11 songs, mostly standards, in his own inimitable style.

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: Winter injury to evergreens and shrubs cannot be assessed until the growing season begins. Where snow cover or mulches occur, roots should come through well. But shrubs, especially those tender and hybrid, and shallow rooted trees such as dogwoods already weakened may have a tougher time. Low temperatures cause root kill. Injury is more pronounced when temperatures drop suddenly after days of abnormally high temperatures than prolonged winter cold.

ITEM: Cordless electric battery-operated products are becoming increasingly popular. In one year, as many as nine million cordless electric clocks, two and one-half million cordless electric knives and $38 million worth of shavers were purchased. Batteries to operate them are becoming more sophisticated with rechargeable alkaline and sealed nickel-cadmium units joining the long-dominant carbon-zinc type.

ITEM: Fitted bottom sheets with elastic sewn into the corners wear longer than fitted sheets with noelastic corners. In a series of tests, sheets with elastic corners were used and washed for 52 weeks with no repair needed. The nonelastic sheets had to be repaired after 21 weeks of use.

* * *

ITEM: Where you put your heating thermostat is important to its correct function. For example, if it's on an outside wall, near a window or too close to the source of heat, it won't accurately register the temperature of the room. The best place for it is on an inside wall, about five feet from the floor.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

Sharp Debut For Peterson . . .

Where Whitey Ford, Pedro Ramos, Bob Friend, and Al Downing failed, Fred (Fritz) Peterson succeeded.

The former Arlington High School pitcher checked the Baltimore Orioles with six hits last Friday in his first major league game and gave the New York Yankees their first victory of the season.

"I thought he was excellent," praised Yankee boss Johnny Keane. "Control is the key to pitching, and he has it. They can't wait on him because he gets the ball over."

"The ball's always moving for him," Yankee catcher Elston Howard added. "There aren't many kid pitchers who can get the curve over when they are behind the hitter. This boy can."

Peterson didn't walk a man over nine innings. He struck out three and only went to three balls on five batters.

The 24-year-old Peterson, who was brought up through the Mount Prospect Little League program before pitching for Arlington High, went into the final inning against Baltimore with a two-run lead, but he faced the tough part of the batting order.

With one out Frank Robinson tagged a Peterson delivery and drove it into the left-field seats to cut the Yankee lead to one run.

"I thought another one by Robinson was going out in the game," Peterson said later. "He hit a long one in the fourth inning, and I'm lucky the wind was blowing. Anyway, he did get his homer and it pleased the Baltimore crowd. That's what they came out to see. I didn't give it to him, but as long as it didn't hurt me, I'm glad he got it."

Peterson escaped additional trouble by getting dangerous Brooks Robinson on a fly to left and Boog Powell, the Orioles' 250-pound first baseman, on a tap to first base.

Keane, who was naturally pleased to see his Yankees post their first win, kept talking about Peterson's control and his fast ball. "The control is his strength. That and his fast ball."

The latter comes as a surprising statement because anyone who watched Peterson pitch at Arlington High School wasn't impressed by his fast ball.

Fritz is faster than he used to be, even though he is at a loss to explain this.

"Guys I've played with in in the minors tell me I'm faster," he says, "But it's not that I've done anything differently. I can't explain it, but if I'm faster, that's all right with me."

John Brunner, Arlington's record holder in the mile run, has joined the Marines and will report for basic training this month. Brunner earned All-State track honors for two years and his 4:20.8 in the mile is the best in school history. He graduated last June.

Two More Prep Stars Sign . . .

Two more area football stars have signed tenders with major colleges.

Pat Dunnigan of Forest View, an All-State halfback, will head for the University of Iowa and Big Ten competition, and Mark Frase of Arlington, an all-conference guard, will join the University of Kansas forces in the Big Eight.

New Iowa coach Ray Nagle is excited over the addition of Dunnigan to his football program, calling the fleet Falcon "one of the prizes in the state of Illinois."

The Iowa coaching staff is kicking around many possibilities for the 6-3, 180-pound Dunnigan. They can see him playing Big Ten football as an offensive back, flanker, split end, or even defensive back.

Dunnigan rushed for 654 yards as a senior and scored ten touchdowns. He ran for 256 yards in the opener with Downers Grove South. Pat also hit on 13 passes for 160 yards and two scores, did some punting, and averaged 13 tackles and intercepted ten passes from his defensive safety post.

Frase was a bulwark in the line for two seasons for Arlington's Cards, and the 5-11, 225-pounder was an outstanding blocker and team man. He was ready to play anywhere on offense and defense.

Southern Illinois University in Carbondale was also extremely interested in landing the services of Arlington's Frase.

Tom Lundgren pitched a one-hitter in his first start with the University of Missouri freshman team. Lundgren, who starred at Forest View High School and with the Arlington Heights American Legion team, struck out nine in his mound debut.

Area Boasts Mound Talent . . .

The assignments haven't been issued yet for the district baseball tournament, but if they follow the 1965 arrangement there should be some terrific mound duels in the area test.

Last year St. Viator, Prospect, Palatine, and Arlington hooked up in the Palatine District. Three of those clubs have fire-ballers this spring who give opponents fits.

St. Viator can lead with Jerry Donahue or Bob Stevens, the righty-lefty combination that was so effective in the march to second place in the state finals.

Prospect has big Dave Kingman, a junior who has impressed thus far in the 1966 campaign.

Palatine has Barry Yurtis, a right-hander who was so effective in legion baseball last summer and who is beginning to check in with some strong efforts this spring.

Only Arlington doesn't have that big-name pitcher, but Fran Somers still is equipped with some boys who could surprise by the time the district unfolds on Monday, May 9.

There may be some changes in this district alignment because Conan of Hoffman Estates has to be assigned and will probably go to the same tourney as Palatine.

Wheeling went to Highland Park's tourney last spring and could be headed that way again because of location. Forest View served as host of a district affair in 1965.

Those assignments should be coming out shortly.

Rich Bader, who holds the Arlington school marks of 9.9 in the 100 yard dash and 5.4 in the 50, is the head track and field coach at East Leyden High School in Franklin Park. Rich lives in Palatine.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington beat Maine in West Suburban baseball, 4-2, as Johnny Sujack fired a one-hitter, striking out eight . . . Hinsdale and Downers Grove edged the Cardinals by one run with Arlington committing seven errors behind pitchers Bob Getts and Al Smeby against Downers.

Golf Invitational Slated Saturday

Golden Acres Site of Links Feature; 12 Teams in Field

The largest prep golf tournament in the Chicago suburban area will unfold Saturday morning over 18 challenging holes at Golden Acres Country Club in Schaumburg.

Twelve schoolboy units, including 1965 state runnerup Rockford East, will vie for honors in the Fourth Annual Lake Park Invitational tourney.

The first group is scheduled to tee off at approximately 10 a.m.

BATTLING FOR two trophies and five medals will be entries from Rockford East, host Lake Park, Arlington, Palatine, Barrington, Crystal Lake, Elgin Larkin, Glenbard West, Glenbrook North Homewood-Flossmoor, Niles West, and St. Charles.

Glenbard West of the West Suburban Conference is the defending champion. The Hilltoppers fashioned a 330 last spring for a two-stroke advantage over runnerup Barrington.

Nine schools competed in the 1965 affair, but the field has been expanded to bring in Rockford East, Crystal Lake, and Palatine. The Pirates are back after an absence of one year.

ROCKFORD LOOMS as the team to beat. Coach Art Sadtler has four of his top seven boys back from the unit that bagged a 657 over 36 holes and second place in the state tournament last May in Champaign.

Host Lake Park, a seventh place finisher in the 1965 Invitational, could threaten. Coach Fred Risinger has the six boys back who figured in the Lancer total in last spring's Invitational.

Charlie Hodgin and Jim Rosenthal were the low Lancers in that tourney with identical 84s. Rosenthal went on to win the conference championship.

JOE BAUERLE, Greg Poupitch, Ray Nazlein, and Dick Bornack are also slated to tour the Golden Acres layout Saturday. Promising juniors Al Bartz and Jerry Fuller will be taking college exams.

Rick Price is the only Arlington golfer back who crashed the low five in the Lake Park Invitational last spring. Price had an 86 as a junior.

Cardinal coach Phil Stack, who had his outfit ready to launch the outdoor schedule this week, will be counting on Price, Roger Baer, and Jim Saflarski to be his leaders in the Invitational.

Scott Pickard, Mike Dixon, Tom Sloan, and Jim Theroux have been battling for the slots behind the experienced seniors.

PALATINE, THE third Paddock area unit in the Invitational, is back after sitting out one year. A Pirate entry was second in the 1964 Lake Park headliner.

Leonard Fiocca, an All-American golfer at Western Illinois University, is the new head man at Palatine, and he'll pick his tourney alignment Saturday from among Bob Doan, Doug Miller, Tim Nelson, Kerry Sullivan. Fritz Wenter, and Jeff Teach.

ST. VIATOR FIRST BASEMAN Bill Kaveney contributed two hits and scored one run last Friday afternoon in the Lions' 3-2 loss to visiting Holy Cross. Shown here as he slapped out an infield hit in the fifth inning, Kaveney has been a spark plug for two seasons on the Lion varsity nine. A slick glove man and dangerous leadoff hitter, Kaveney was an all-tournament selection last spring when the Lions finished second in the state. (Staff photo by Tom Grieger)

Falcon Thinclads To Invitational Saturday

by MICHAEL HESS

On April 23, 1564, William Shakespeare was born. Do you find that fact interesting? Okay, then try another.

On April 23, 1966, Forest View thinclads will enter the Lake Forest Invitational Track Meet. Find that interesting? Okay, then read on.

The LFITM will start with preliminaries at 10 a.m. on Saturday and finish with finals at 1:00 p.m. Competition will be on both varsity and frosh-soph levels.

Joining FV and the hosts in the meet will be teams from 10 other schools. They are Antioch, Barrington, Carmel, Deerfield, Dundee, Niles West, Grayslake, Mundelein, Woodstock and Zion-Benton.

LAST SPRING Mundelein rolled up 56 points and took away varsity honors. Second went to Deerfield with 47½ points while a 35 total put Barrington third and 32½ put Dundee fourth. The frosh-soph crown went to Zion-Benton on a total of 49 points.

This is the Falcons first time at Lake Park's invite.

Leading coach Dick Ohl's Forest View entry into thinclad action will be Pat Dunnigan. Like all individuals in the meet, Dunnigan's participation is limited to two events plus a relay. He'll compete in the 100 yard dash, a relay, and either the 180 yard low hurdles or the 220 yard dash.

Though FV has seen only limited outdoor competition this season, if Dunnigan's showing one year ago is any indication, he has a good chance for two firsts in the LFITM. On the track in 1965 Dunnigan posted a :09.9 in the 100, a :19.8 in the lows and a :21.4 in the 220. All three marks are below present meet record.

ANOTHER WHO should do well for the Falcons is Scott McDonald. He'll be in the hurdles where last year he was clocked in :16.8 for the highs and :20.4 for the lows.

Steve Leider, Ted Lambert and Craig Brown are also strong entries for Forest View. In the 440 Leider's best time has been a :52.8 while Lambert has a 2:02 in the 880 and Brown, the Mid-Suburban League cross country champ, has a 4:34 mile.

Pacing Ohl's forces in field events will be John Norberg and Spencer Derischarf. Norberg will go in the high jump where, though he's only five feet, seven inches tall, he went 5-11 once last year. The discus and shot will be Dreischarf's events.

Along with Dunnigan the other top individual in the Lake Forest meet will probably be Ron Zaeske of Deerfield. Zaeske was first in the low hurdles last year, in :20.7, and second in the highs, in :15.5. His best ever in the lows was a :15.0 while :19.9 was his best in the highs.

POINTS IN THE meet will be awarded on the basis of six for first, four for second, three for third, two for fourth and one for fifth in every event. Winning varsity and frosh-soph teams will receive trophys while medals at the upper level and ribbons at the lower will go to all individuals who place among the top five.

Admission for this fifth annual Lake Forest Invitational Track Meet will be $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students. The LF school is located at 1285 North McKinley Road in Lake Forest.

BLASTING BASE HITS has become the specialty of Wheeling diamond performer Tom Manderscheid. Through the 'Cats first four games of this season Manderscheid has five hits in 13 trips to the plate, a .385 average. In his most recent outing, last Friday, he had a single, double and triple, three RBI's and two runs scored to help his team tie Maine South 6-6. Manderscheid fills both second base and pitching slots in the Wheeling line-up.

Cardinal Golfers Triumph

Arlington's varsity golfers flashed late-season form Tuesday afternoon in their first meet of the season.

Coach Phil Stack's Cardinals toppled Glenbrook South, 159-163, in a nine-hole engagement at Golden Acres Country Club.

Roger Baier was the hottest Card as he fired a nifty 37 to finish three strokes ahead of teammates Jim Saflarski and Tom Sloan who came in at 40.

Rick Price and Scott Pickard authored 42s, Steve Johnson a 43, and Mike Dixon a 44.

Glenbrook South gained some revenge with a two-stroke, 174-176 frosh-soph win.

Doug Chaps was low for the Cardinals with a 41. Following Chaps were Steve Coy at 43, and Chris Buttenob and Bob Miller at 46.

11th Annual Headliner Slated for Weiss Field

by Bob Frisk

The gun is up. They're poised at the starting line.

Trackmen from eight high schools, including Paddock area entries Palatine and Arlington, will assemble at Weiss Field in Waukegan Saturday for the eleventh edition of the popular Lake Shore meet.

The Lake Shore spectacular, signalling the start of a series of outdoor attractions that will be staged for the next six Saturdays, will feature varsity and frosh-soph performers in two 14-event cards.

Competition will get under way at 12 noon at the field on Lewis avenue in Waukegan.

JOINING THE Paddock area schools will be Waukegan, Glenbrook North, North Chicago, Highland Park, Niles East, and Libertyville.

The area strength appears to be in different divisions.

Palatine, shooting for its fourth consecutive varsity championship, is loaded once again on a varsity level and looms as the team to beat.

Arlington's main strength is in the frosh-soph class.

SENIOR Steve Ewart will serve as the key man on the Arlington varsity contingent.

Ewart has been impressive in recent meets in the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes. Heading into a busy week of outdoor activity, Ewart had been credited with a :10.3 century, :22.6 furlong, and :51.8 quarter-mile.

Steve was third in the Lake Shore 220 yard dash as a junior.

Jim Kussow may work in someplace after his sparkling 52 flat 440 Tuesday against Prospect.

MARK SAYLOR could score in the 880 yard run as he has turned in a 2:02.6, and head coach Bruce Samoore will pick his mile entries from among Dave Schimpf (4:38.4), Tom Thornton (4:38.5), or Greg Busch.

Senior standout Bob Yeazel, fourth in the Lake Shore mile last spring, is on the sidelines with strained ligaments in his leg and may not be ready for at least three more weeks.

Bruce Hubbard and Cary Annen are expected to work in the two hurdle events.

Arlington's best threat in the field events may be junior Greg Zachwieja in the discus. He reached 146 feet three and one-quarter inches Tuesday in a dual meet with Prospect.

Junior Kim Markshausen has been flirting with 50 feet in the shot put.

Also expected to work for Samoore's Cardinal varsity are Tom Hahn in the high jump and broad jump, Jerry Enright in the broad jump, and Chip Douglas in the pole vault.

STEVE EWART
Cardinal Threat

PALATINE'S varsity didn't kick up much of a fuss when the season began, but Coach Joe Johnson has his outfit roaring right now.

Pacing the Palatine contingent is Bill Bahnfleth, a swift junior who streaked to fifth place in the state 440 as a soph. Bahnfleth appears headed for another big season as he clipped off a snappy :49.6 clocking in the quarter-mile last week.

Bahnfleth is expected to work in the 440 and 100 yard dash and anchor a mile relay quartet that already has dipped down to a sizzling 3:24.3, best in Illinois.

BARRY FITZGERALD will join Bahnfleth in the century, and John Ekeberg, who has a :22.5 to his credit, and Brian McCartney (:22.6) will vie for 220 yard dash honors.

Palatine's Johnson has a potent 1-2 punch in the 440 with John Blanchard joining Bahnfleth. Blanchard has a :51.5 outdoors this spring.

Cardinals Wallop Knight Thinclads

Arlington High School's frosh-sophs remained unbeaten in dual meet competition and the varsity scored its fourth victory in five meets Tuesday afternoon in track and field action with Prospect.

Coach Bruce Samoore's varsity Cardinals rolled to a 79-47 victory for their third straight success and the frosh-sophs coasted, 90-33.

Highlighting the varsity meet was a 1:59.4 clocking in the half-mile by Prospect's Jack Pollard, the fifth best effort in Illinois this spring.

Steve Ewart was a double winner for victorious Arlington. Ewart showed a 10.7 clocking in the 100 yard dash and 24.0 in the 220. He also had a second in the 440 behind teammate Jim Kussow.

Kussow flashed to a 52 flat effort in the quarter-mile headliner.

OTHER ARLINGTON winners were Dave Schimpf in the two-mile run (10:15.0), Greg Zachwieja in the discus (a career best of 146-3¼), Dewey Worsley in the pole vault (11-6), Tom Thornton in the mile run (4:41.0), Kim Markshausen in the shot put (45-4), and Tom Hahn in the high jump (5-6).

The Cards also took the 880 yard relay in 1:36.2.

Vaughn Pederson was a double winner for Dick Calisch's Knights as he covered the 120 yard high hurdles in 15.9 and the 180 yard lows in 20.9.

Leroy Rateike sailed 19 feet three and one-quarter inches for a first in the broad jump, and the Knights won the mile relay in 3:32.5.

BOB GRAHAM won four events to pace Arlington's frosh-sophs to their 57-point conquest.

Graham won the high hurdles in 17.7, the high jump at 5-2, the low hurdles at 22.2, and the broad jump at 17-2.

Other Cardinal winners were Jim Bergstrom in the two mile run (11:05), Dave Dieters in the 880 yard run (2:05.6), Brian Marilello in the shot put (37-6½), Terry Pitts in the 440 (55.2) and 220 (25.2), Rory Cassidy in the mile (4:43.1), and Chuck McGuffey in the discus (103-1¼).

Knight victors were Mike Corteen in the 100 yard dash (11.4 and Bruce Boult in the pole vault (9-6).

The teams split the relays. Prospect won the 880 in 1:42.4, and Arlington took the mile at 3:47.3.

Sharp Debut For Peterson . . .

Where Whitey Ford, Pedro Ramos, Bob Friend, and Al Downing failed, Fred (Fritz) Peterson succeeded.

The former Arlington High School pitcher checked the Baltimore Orioles with six hits last Friday in his first major league game and gave the New York Yankees their first victory of the season.

"I thought he was excellent," praised Yankee boss Johnny Keane. "Control is the key to pitching, and he has it. They can't wait on him because he gets the ball over."

"The ball's always moving for him," Yankee catcher Elston Howard added. "There aren't many kid pitchers who can get the curve over when they are behind the hitter. This boy can."

Peterson didn't walk a man over nine innings. He struck out three and only went to three balls on five batters.

The 24-year-old Peterson, who was brought up through the Mount Prospect Little League program before pitching for Arlington High, went into the final inning against Baltimore with a two-run lead, but he faced the tough part of the batting order.

With one out Frank Robinson tagged a Peterson delivery and drove it into the left-field seats to cut the Yankee lead to one run.

"I thought another one by Robinson was going out in the game," Peterson said later. "He hit a long one in the fourth inning, and I'm lucky the wind was blowing. Anyway, he did get his homer and it pleased the Baltimore crowd. That's what they came out to see. I didn't give it to him, but as long as it didn't hurt me, I'm glad he got it."

Peterson escaped additional trouble by getting dangerous Brooks Robinson on a fly to left and Boog Powell, the Orioles' 250-pound first baseman, on a tap to first base.

Keane, who was naturally pleased to see his Yankees post their first win, kept talking about Peterson's control and his fast ball. "The control is his strength. That and his fast ball."

The latter comes as a surprising statement because anyone who watched Peterson pitch at Arlington High School wasn't impressed by his fast ball.

Fritz is faster than he used to be, even though he is at a loss to explain this.

"Guys I've played with in in the minors tell me I'm faster," he says, "But it's not that I've done anything differently. I can't explain it, but if I'm faster, that's all right with me."

John Brunner, Arlington's record holder in the mile run, has joined the Marines and will report for basic training this month. Brunner earned All-State track honors for two years and his 4:20.8 in the mile is the best in school history. He graduated last June.

Two More Prep Stars Sign . . .

Two more area football stars have signed tenders with major colleges.

Pat Dunnigan of Forest View, an All-State halfback, will head for the University of Iowa and Big Ten competition, and Mark Frase of Arlington, an all-conference guard, will join the University of Kansas forces in the Big Eight.

New Iowa coach Ray Nagle is excited over the addition of Dunnigan to his football program, calling the fleet Falcon "one of the prizes in the state of Illinois."

The Iowa coaching staff is kicking around many possibilities for the 6-3, 180-pound Dunnigan. They can see him playing Big Ten football as an offensive back, flanker, split end, or even defensive back.

Frase was a bulwark in the line for two seasons for Arlington's Cards, and the 5-11, 225-pounder was an outstanding blocker and team man. He was ready to play anywhere on offense and defense.

Southern Illinois University in Carbondale was also extremely interested in landing the services of Arlington's Frase.

Tom Lundgren pitched a one-hitter in his first start with the University of Missouri freshman team. Lundgren, who starred at Forest View High School and with the Arlington Heights American Legion team, struck out nine in his mound debut.

Golf Invitational Slated Saturday

Golden Acres Site of Links Feature; 12 Teams in Field

The largest prep golf tournament in the Chicago suburban area will unfold Saturday morning over 18 challenging holes at Golden Acres Country Club in Schaumburg.

Twelve schoolboy units, including 1965 state runnerup Rockford East, will vie for honors in the Fourth Annual Lake Park Invitational tourney.

The first group is scheduled to tee off at approximately 10 a.m.

BATTLING FOR two trophies and five medals will be entries from Rockford East, host Lake Park, Arlington, Palatine, Barrington, Crystal Lake, Elgin Larkin, Glenbard West, Glenbrook North Homewood-Flossmoor, Niles West, and St. Charles.

Glenbard West of the West Suburban Conference is the defending champion. The Hilltoppers fashioned a 330 last spring for a two-stroke advantage over runnerup Barrington.

Falcon Thinclads To Invitational Saturday

by MICHAEL HESS

On April 23, 1564, William Shakespeare was born. Do you find that fact interesting? Okay, then try another.

On April 23, 1966, Forest View thinclads will enter the Lake Forest Invitational Track Meet. Find that interesting? Okay, then read on.

The LFITM will start with preliminaries at 10 a.m. on Saturday and finish with finals at 1:00 p.m. Competition will be on both varsity and frosh-soph levels.

Joining FV and the hosts in the meet will be teams from 10 other schools. They are Antioch, Barrington, Carmel, Deerfield, Dundee, Niles West, Grayslake, Mundelein, Woodstock and Zion-Benton.

LAST SPRING Mundelein rolled up 56 points and took away varsity honors. Second went to Deerfield with 47½ points while a 35 total put Barrington third and 32½ put Dundee fourth. The frosh-soph crown went to Zion-Benton on a total of 49 points.

This is the Falcons first time at Lake Park's invite.

Leading coach Dick Ohl's Forest View entry into thinclad action will be Pat Dunnigan. Like all individuals in the meet, Dunnigan's participation is limited to two events plus a relay. He'll compete in the 100 yard dash, a relay, and either the 180 yard low hurdles or the 220 yard dash.

Though FV has seen only limited outdoor competition this season, if Dunnigan's showing one year ago is any indication, he has a good chance for two firsts in the LFITM. On the track in 1965 Dunnigan posted a :09.9 in the 100, a :19.8 in the lows and a :21.4 in the 220. All three marks are below present meet record.

ANOTHER WHO should do well for the Falcons is Scott McDonald. He'll be in the hurdles where last year he was clocked in :16.8 for the highs and :20.4 for the lows.

Steve Leider, Ted Lambert and Craig Brown are also strong entries for Forest View. In the 440 Leider's best time has been a :52.8 while Lambert has a 2:02 in the 880 and Brown, the Mid-Suburban League cross country champ, has a 4:34 mile.

Pacing Ohl's forces in field events will be John Norberg and Spencer Derischarf. Norberg will go in the high jump where, though he's only five feet, seven inches tall, he went 5-11 once last year. The discus and shot will be Dreischarf's events.

Along with Dunnigan the other top individual in the Lake Forest meet will probably be Ron Zaeske of Deerfield. Zaeske was first in the low hurdles last year, in :20.7, and second in the highs, in :15.5. His best ever in the lows was a :15.0 while :19.9 was his best in the highs.

POINTS IN THE meet will be awarded on the basis of six for first, four for second, three for third, two for fourth and one for fifth in every event. Winning varsity and frosh-soph teams will receive trophys while medals at the upper level and ribbons at the lower will go to all individuals who place among the top five.

Admission for this fifth annual Lake Forest Invitational Track Meet will be $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students. The LF school is located at 1285 North McKinley Road in Lake Forest.

11th Annual Headliner Slated for Weiss Field

by Bob Frisk

The gun is up. They're poised at the starting line.

Trackmen from eight high schools, including Paddock area entries Palatine and Arlington, will assemble at Weiss Field in Waukegan Saturday for the eleventh edition of the popular Lake Shore meet.

The Lake Shore spectacular, signalling the start of a series of outdoor attractions that will be staged for the next six Saturdays, will feature varsity and frosh-soph performers in two 14-event cards.

Competition will get under way at 12 noon at the field on Lewis avenue in Waukegan.

JOINING THE Paddock area schools will be Waukegan, Glenbrook North, North Chicago, Highland Park, Niles East, and Libertyville.

The area strength appears to be in different divisions.

Palatine, shooting for its fourth consecutive varsity championship, is loaded once again on a varsity level and looms as the team to beat.

Arlington's main strength is in the frosh-soph class.

SENIOR Steve Ewart will serve as the key man on the Arlington varsity contingent.

Ewart has been impressive in recent meets in the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes. Heading into a busy week of outdoor activity, Ewart had been credited with a :10.3 century, :22.6 furlong, and :51.8 quarter-mile.

Steve was third in the Lake Shore 220 yard dash as a junior.

Jim Kussow may work in someplace after his sparkling 52 flat 440 Tuesday against Prospect.

MARK SAYLOR could score in the 880 yard run as he has turned in a 2:02.6, and head coach Bruce Samoore will pick his mile entries from among Dave Schimpf (4:38.4), Tom Thornton (4:38.5), or Greg Busch.

Senior standout Bob Yeazel, fourth in the Lake Shore mile last spring, is on the sidelines with strained ligaments in his leg and may not be ready for at least three more weeks.

Bruce Hubbard and Cary Annen are expected to work in the two hurdle events.

Arlington's best threat in the field events may be junior Greg Zachwieja in the discus. He reached 146 feet three and one-quarter inches Tuesday in a dual meet with Prospect.

Junior Kim Markshausen has been flirting with 50 feet in the shot put.

Also expected to work for Samoore's Cardinal varsity are Tom Hahn in the high jump and broad jump, Jerry Enright in the broad jump, and Chip Douglas in the pole vault.

The Cardinals could threaten in frosh-soph ranks with such talented performers as Terry Pitts, Dave Dieters, Rory Cassidy, Dave Steele, Bob Graham, Paul Tollefson, and Todd Somers.

STEVE EWART
Cardinal Threat

PALATINE'S varsity didn't kick up much of a fuss when the season began, but Coach Joe Johnson has his outfit roaring right now.

Pacing the Palatine contingent is Bill Bahnfleth, a swift junior who streaked to fifth place in the state 440 as a soph. Bahnfleth appears headed for another big season as he clipped off a snappy :49.6 clocking in the quarter-mile last week.

Bahnfleth is expected to work in the 440 and 100 yard dash and anchor a mile relay quartet that already has dipped down to a sizzling 3:24.3, best in Illinois.

BARRY FITZGERALD will join Bahnfleth in the century, and John Ekeberg, who has a :22.5 to his credit, and Brian McCartney (:22.6) will vie for 220 yard dash honors.

Palatine's Johnson has a potent 1-2 punch in the 440 with John Blanchard joining Bahnfleth. Blanchard has a :51.5 outdoors this spring.

Cardinals Wallop Knight Thinclads

Arlington High School's frosh-sophs remained unbeaten in dual meet competition and the varsity scored its fourth victory in five meets Tuesday afternoon in track and field action with Prospect.

Coach Bruce Samoore's varsity Cardinals rolled to a 79-47 victory for their third straight success and the frosh-sophs coasted, 90-33.

Highlighting the varsity meet was a 1:59.4 clocking in the half-mile by Prospect's Jack Pollard, the fifth best effort in Illinois this spring.

Steve Ewart was a double winner for victorious Arlington. Ewart showed a 10.7 clocking in the 100 yard dash and 24.0 in the 220. He also had a second in the 440 behind teammate Jim Kussow.

Kussow flashed to a 52 flat effort in the quarter-mile headliner.

OTHER ARLINGTON winners were Dave Schimpf in the two-mile run (10:15.0), Greg Zachwieja in the discus (a career best of 146-3¼), Dewey Worsley in the pole vault (11-6), Tom Thornton in the mile run (4:41.0), Kim Markshausen in the shot put (45-4), and Tom Hahn in the high jump (5-6).

The Cards also took the 880 yard relay in 1:36.2.

Vaughn Pederson was a double winner for Dick Calisch's Knights as he covered the 120 yard high hurdles in 15.9 and the 180 yard lows in 20.9.

Leroy Rateike sailed 19 feet three and one-quarter inches for a first in the broad jump, and the Knights won the mile relay in 3:32.5.

BOB GRAHAM won four events to pace Arlington's frosh-sophs to their 57-point conquest.

Graham won the high hurdles in 17.7, the high jump at 5-2, the low hurdles at 22.2, and the broad jump at 17-2.

Other Cardinal winners were Jim Bergstrom in the two mile run (11:05), Dave Dieters in the 880 yard run (2:05.6), Brian Marilello in the shot put (37-6½), Terry Pitts in the 440 (55.2) and 220 (25.2), Rory Cassidy in the mile (4:43.1), and Chuck McGuffey in the discus (103-1¼).

Knight victors were Mike Corteen in the 100 yard dash (11.4 and Bruce Boult in the pole vault (9-6).

The teams split the relays. Prospect won the 880 in 1:42.4, and Arlington took the mile at 3:47.3.

KNOX NOTES

THERE IS SURELY no sport more difficult or deceiving to prognosticate than high school baseball.

Good track teams, or cross country teams, or golf teams or tennis teams—where collections of individual performances mean so much—remain good track, cross country, golf and tennis teams. They are predictable, and only against equally good teams is there doubt.

It is similarly true of wrestling and gymnastics teams, where you can gauge outcomes in advance on the strength of individuals, but where an off performance by a stellar athlete can be slightly more harmful.

Basketball and football are in the same mold, though a little less predictable because of the close dependence on the blending of individual efforts into a unit performance.

But baseball, high school baseball!!! In nothing else is the unpredictable so paramount. In no other sport is the settlement so married to luck, breaks, lumpy ground, steps and half-steps, weather, intangibles and divine intervention.

With that preface thus implanted, it is time to herald the spring edition of the Paddock Predictions. Again, this area's reigning experts on the Mid-Suburban League—Michael Hess and this scribe of the Paddock sports staff—have deigned to delineate the denouement for those without the restraint to wait for May 21.

The MSL's baseball joust will terminate that day, and it is that joust that Michael and I will foretell for you. He has confessed to personal prejudice, insight and ignorance in framing his selections, while I will admit only to wisdom.

But enough of this. To the business at hand, the distillation of our cogitation, our picks:

HESS	KNOX
1. Prospect	1. Palatine (tie)
2 Forest View	1. Prospect (tie)
3 Palatine	3. Forest View
4. Wheeling (tie)	4. Conant
4. Maine West (tie)	5. Wheeling
6. Conant	6. Maine West

Since Michael's primary reporting responsibilites rest with the athletic endeavors of Prospect, Forest View and Wheeling, and mine with Palatine and Conant, you may justifiably suspect some unconscious bias, but we both devoutly assure you that is not so. Objective appraisals, even humility, guide the selections.

The capsulization of those appraisals follows, and in keeping faith with the tradition established in the football and basketball seasons, I will defer to Michael's order (though misguided) in the individual considerations.

PROSPECT: What do the Knights have that warrants such a high assessment by both seers? They have—in a league where good pitching and good defense will be the paramount necessities—good pitching. Some defensive lapses cost them in their 3-2 early season mark.

Headman Chuck Aldrich has back from last year's team (7-6-1 in the old MSL) six players who won varsity letters. Two of the standouts are both juniors: Dave Kingman and Tom Lundstedt.

Kingman will rank with the best on the mound in the MSL, author of two no-hitters and two one-hitters on the 1965 sophomore team, and 12 innings of no-run ball with the varsity. He started 1966 with a blanking of Arlington. Lundstedt is a catcher now, but also an infielder-outfielder-pitcher, and he can hit, with a .351 mark last season.

In J. D. Thorne, the Knights have the necessary second proven pitcher, and a hitter as well. There are two other mound possibilities, and an apparent new hitting find in infielder Maury Galliger.

Defensive lapses—slight ones—may hurt, but the Knights look strong, and I'd quarrel only to say they'll share the pinnacle.

FOREST VIEW: The question confronting Hal Sprehe is how to replace the super-hurler, southpaw Tom Lundgren? How well he does it is very much a key to the Falcons' success, and Michael thinks he'll have more fortune than I do in building a staff around key returnee Rick Henderson.

The Falcons—who won two straight after losing their first three—are a sound team defensively and well-coached. That's going to be among their saving features. They have not yet shown any potent hitting, though in outfielder Mike Holstrom they have a boy who hit .283 last season and .417 with a Forest View summer team, and in Henderson and infielder Bob Erlander two other boys who should be able to stroke the ball.

Some proof in hitting and the arrival of pitching will mean the difference between second and third.

PALATINE: Terry Gellinger's Pirates have shown good form in winning their first three exhibition games, getting their few hits when they were needed, getting signs of strong pitching, and playing fine defensive ball.

Like Forest View, they are well-drilled in fundamentals, and that will carry them a long way. With senior Barry Yurtis as the number one pitcher and junior Irv Hahnfeldt as number two, the potential there is good. The hitting is questionable, but with a very young team, it is taking time to come around. Those who have seen the Pirates think it will, and with the defense and an unusually-strong team attitude will make them formidable. I think formidable enough to get half the MSL's baubles, while Michael says: Show me.

WHEELING: The best hitting and the best all-around player in the league may belong to Wheeling, but Steve Chernicky's Wildcats have been sabotaged in pitching. Of last season's two leading hurlers, Jim Pavelle moved away and Skip Grandt lost his appendix on the eve of the season.

Much of the 'Cats burden will fall on Mark Newman, who will pitch and can play the infield or outfield. He hit .327 with last year's Wheeling team and .358 with Arlington's 42-6 American Legion team last summer, so he's loaded with experience.

At the plate, look for heavy support from Tom Manderscheid, an infielder-outfielder-pitcher who hit .346 in 1965, and Bob Krug, a catcher who batted .375.

But if Newman doesn't have a strong year and if Grandt doesn't heal fast, there'll be little on the mound, and a questionable defense behind it. The 'Cats, 0-3-1 in the early season going, need a strong reversal.

MAINE WEST: In 1965, Al Carstens' Warriors ruled the MSL, but times change, even Maine West times, as witness the 1965-66 basketball team.

The 1965 nine was almost totally ravaged by graduation, and Maine, though it did beat an average Evanston team 3-2, dropped four straight in the past week.

The Warriors have shown an exceedingly weak offense, and were even no-hit once, though their decisions have mostly been close ones. If anything makes the difference for them, it will likely be tradition and at least one good pitcher.

CONANT: The 17-0 debacle with Glenbrook North notwithstanding, the Cougars have prospects, though Michael may not agree. They have been hurt so far by erratic pitching, weak hitting and shaky defense, and that obviously cannot continue. It's meant a 2-3 mark so far.

In pitching, Lynn Crouch's nine received an impressive performance from Al Ramsey in the 2-1 beating of Ridgewood and a shutout from sophomore John Moffat over an admittedly weak Maryville team. The key is the return of hard-throwing senior Dave Sander to form.

A big difference, I think, will come in hitting, because the Cougars have been getting their bats on the ball, and the two most proficient returning hitters—Al Heiman and Dick Helmer—are just tuning up now.

Defense is a problem, because sometimes it's good and sometimes bad, and that can't be tolerated in the league chase.

The MSL, as it did in basketball, is likely to produce an interesting baseball race, and even the leaders are not likely to tower over the also-rans. None of the teams has been especially menacing against outside opposition, witness an 11-15-1 composite record as of Monday, but against each other, the tussles should be worthy. And for the outcomes, you've already been given the alternatives.

SWIFT JUNIOR Bill Bahnfleth will be among the Pirates leading the Palatine track team into this Saturday's Lake Shore Meet at Waukegan, where Palatine will defend the title it's won the past three years. Now stepping into strong form, Bahnfleth is shown here leading off for a mile relay team that ran a dazzling 3:24.3 against Niles North Saturday. He also ran a :49.6 quarter mile as Palatine pulverized the Vikings thinclads. (Staff photo by Bob Finch)

Track Feature

(Cont. from Preceding Page) and already has hit two minutes flat in the 880 yard run, will work with Rick Ortman in the half-mile. Ortman has a 2:02.1.

Dennis Denton (4:34.0) and Jerry Weyrich (4:48.0) will represent the Pirates in the mile run.

JOHNSON IS equipped with several talented hurdlers and will use four different boys over the high and low sticks. Bob Payne and Jerry Kissner have identical :15.4s, and they'll be entered in the highs. Bill Meister has reached 20 flat and Brian McCartney :20.1 in the lows.

The Pirates should put together two formidable relay teams although their primary strength is in the mile event where Bahnfleth, Blanchard, McWilliams, and Ortman have achieved the best mark in Illinois this season.

Ernie Quigel, Ekeberg, Meister, and McCartney will work in the 880 yard relay with a season best of 1:32.9.

In the field events the Pirates show their most class in the shot put where Duane Hosimer has hit 54-3 and in the high jump where Wayne Render has cleared 6-1.

Joe Coffaro (49-0) will join Hosimer in the shot, and Al Bisantz is expected to work in the high jump.

Rounding out the field events for Palatine will be Quigel (19-10) and Bill Gill (19-6) in the broad jump, Rick Johnston (11-6) and Art Zajonc in the pole vault, and Tom Coffaro (141-2¾) and Hosimer (139-8½) in the discus.

Arlington Ball Tryouts Resume

The search for talent to bolster Major League rosters in the Arlington Heights Boys Baseball League will resume Saturday, April 23, as league managers continue to review the skills of young baseball players in the final session of tryouts.

Paul Morong will head registrations and assignments for the south side American League at Pioneer Park. North side boys are to meet at Miner Junior High School field where Jack Meyerhoff will direct trials for the National League.

Tryouts are again scheduled for 12:30 p.m. for ten year olds, and 1:30 p.m. for boys in the 11-12 year old bracket. Boys are to bring their own gloves.

Saturday's activities mark the second phase of the 1966 baseball program. According to Administrator Mert Taylor, the record turnout of eight and nine year olds will result in the Junior League fielding a total of 36 teams.

Prospect Splits

A split was gained by Prospect's lower level baseball teams in competition with New Trier

The Knights sophs pushed across two runs in the top of the sixth to edge NT 3-2. Gary Andrews, Marv Hope and Steve Shawhan hurled for the winners with Hope being the pitcher of record. A double by Norm Klein paced his team's six hit attack.

A shut-out cost the Knights a defeat in freshman play. New Trier won 2-0. Ron Dolejs was the hard luck moundsman for Prospect. He took the loss after giving up single runs in the third and fifth. Joe Hines cracked a triple for the losers.

Lake Shore Form Chart

Here's a look at the 14 varsity events that will be staged Saturday in the Lake Shore track and field meet and some of the boys to watch:

100-200 Yard Dash—Wide-open North Chicago's Odom, one of the favorites, has a pulled muscle.

440 Yard Dash — Palatine's Bahnfleth is the favorite.

880 Yard Run — Could be an area finish with Palatine boasting McWilliams and Ortman and Arlington having Sayler.

Mile Run — Lanners of Niles East gets the nod with Williamson of Libertyville a possible runnerup.

High Hurdles — wide -open. Don't discount Jones of Libertyville.

Low Hurdles — Meister and McCartney of Palatine are potent 1-2 punch.

Shot Put — Hosimer of Palatine and Glick of Highland Park are favored.

Discus — Glick of Highland Park and Biskin of Niles East are slight favorites.

Broad.. Jump — Menary of Glenbrook North has been flirting with 22 feet.

High Jump — Clendenning of Waukegan is favored with Wolf of Highland Park and Render of Palatine others in the six-foot plus category.

Pole Vault — Melville and Clendenning of Waukegan are the boys to beat with Lechtenberg of Highland Park right behind.

Relays — Palatine is the team to beat in both the 880 and mile events.

Rain Halts Lion Game; Makeup Set

St. Viator and St. Ignatius battled through four scoreless innings Monday afternoon before a steady rain forced postponement.

The two clubs will try again on Thursday, April 28, at the Lion diamond.

Bob Stevens started on the mound for the Lions against St. Ignatius and was touched for one hit in four innings, a first inning single. He struck out seven.

Jerry Donahue's single to right field in the opening frame was the Lions' only safety in four tries.

St. Viator was scheduled to play at St. George yesterday (Wednesday) in a switch of the original site.

The Lions will play at DeLaSalle Friday afternoon and will host St. Mel Saturday at 2 p.m. St. Joseph comes to town Monday afternoon and Maryville will meet a host Lion nine on Wednesday, April 27.

Arlington Travels Saturday

Downers Grove Tops Cards in Twin-Bill

by BOB FRISK

They packed all the drama into the second game last Saturday in a West Suburban Conference doubleheader at Arlington's Recreation Park.

Visiting Downers Grove North settled the issue early in the opener, but the Trojans experienced many nervous moments in the nightcap before they could claim a sweep over the host Arlington Cardinals.

An alert defensive maneuver in the final inning of the second game halted an Arlington uprising and sent the Trojans home with a hard-earned 3-2 victory.

Downers Grove had coasted to a 7-1 win in the first meeting.

THE VARSITY Cards, still seeking that first victory of the season after five straight setbacks, were scheduled to journey to Glenbard West yesterday (Wednesday) to meet the league-leading Hilltoppers.

Arlington will be at Hinsdale Saturday for a doubleheader and will journey to Maine East next Wednesday afternoon.

Although they suffered their second one-run defeat in league action in that second game last Saturday, Coach Fran Somers' Cards didn't yield without a fight. They had two leads on the Trojans and the tieing run on third base with only one out in the final frame.

THE EXCITING seventh opened in routine fashion as Ron Horcher lofted a fly to center field for the first out.

Somers went to the bench for his next hitter, inserting Ron Thompson as a pinch-hitter, and he made the right choice. Thompson belted one of Roy Lesten's offerings to the corner in right field, and the big football tackle, admittedly no Maury Wills on the base paths, still showed good speed in legging out a triple.

Steve Allen went in to run for Thompson and Brad Somers picked up a bat to hit for pitcher Jim Bressler. The tension mounted.

DOWNERS GROVE catcher Joe Radosevich, who whipped the Cards in a basketball outing with some last-second heroics, then stepped in to help rescue the Trojans.

With the bunt signal on and Allen heading for home, Radosevich called for a pitchout. Somers couldn't get his bat on the ball and Allen was nailed at the plate for the second out.

With that headache past Downers right hander Lesten got Somers on a swinging third strike for the final out.

ARLINGTON HIT the scoreboard first in that second game when Thad Woodard's sacrifice fly drove home Horcher in the third inning. Ron had reached on a walk, stolen second base, and sailed to third on pitcher Bob Young's hit off the second baseman's glove.

Downers came right back with a singleton of its own in the third but it could have been worse for the Cards. The Trojans had the bases loaded with no outs but only pushed one runner across.

Arlington climbed into the lead again in the fourth.

DOUG FINK dropped a bunt single as the leadoff man, and he went to second on Gary Bozee's sacrifice. An error sent Fink to third, and the Cardinal first sacker scored when Joe Nastal laid down a bunt single.

Downers pushed over the clinching markers in the fifth on a single error, and long double to left-center.

Arlington had a runner on second in the sixth, but its best chance came when Thompson tripled with one out in the seventh.

Young started on the hill for the losers and was relieved by Jim Bressler in the fifth. Bressler, who had also worked in the opener, didn't yield a run in his two frames.

IN SATURDAY'S opener Downers tagged Arlington starter Allen for five hits and four runs in the third inning and it was easy the rest of the way.

The Trojans pushed over two more in the fifth off Bressler and one in the seventh off John Shartle.

Arlington only reached Downers lefty Bob Holman for four hits. Mark Frase had two, and it was Frase who drove in the Cards' single run.

Woodard walked as the Card leadoff man in the fourth inning, and Frase sent him home with a booming two-base shot to left field.

Arlington had base runners in six of the seven innings but couldn't ignite any offensive fireworks off Holman who favored a sharp-breaking curve ball.

Cards Rout Bulldogs in Loop Tennis

Arlington's newly - crowned Evanston Invitational champions launched their West Suburban Conference tennis schedule Tuesday with an easy 5-0 conquest of Riverside-Brookfield.

Coach Tom Pitchford's Cardinals lost only one set as they trounced the visiting Bulldogs.

Arlington also won the frosh-soph meet, 5-0.

Billy Von Boeckmann, Jim Esser, and John Jarecki scored singles wins for the varsity Cards.

Von Boeckmann whipped Dave Arndt in first singles 3-6, 6-4, 6-2. Esser triumphed 6-2, 6-0 in the second slot, and Jarecki scored with a 6-2, 6-0 win in No. 3 play.

Brian Burke and Dave Milligan worked in first doubles again and toppled their Riverside opponents with ease, 6-0, 6-0.

Matt Weeg and John Brost showed a 6-0, 6-3 win in second doubles.

PROSPECT: What do the Knights have that warrants such a high assessment by both seers? They have—in a league where good pitching and good defense will be the paramount necessities—good pitching. Some defensive lapses cost them in their 3-2 early season mark.

Headman Chuck Aldrich has back from last year's team (7-6-1 in the old MSL) six players who won varsity letters. Two of the standouts are both juniors: Dave Kingman and Tom Lundstedt.

Kingman will rank with the best on the mound in the MSL, author of two no-hitters and two one-hitters on the 1965 sophomore team, and 12 innings of no-run ball with the varsity. He started 1966 with a blanking of Arlington. Lundstedt is a catcher now, but also an infielder-outfielder-pitcher, and he can hit, with a .351 mark last season.

In J. D. Thorne, the Knights have the necessary second proven pitcher, and a hitter as well. There are two other mound possibilities, and an apparent new hitting find in infielder Maury Galliger.

Defensive lapses—slight ones—may hurt, but the Knights look strong, and I'd quarrel only to say they'll share the pinnacle.

FOREST VIEW: The question confronting Hal Sprehe is how to replace the super-hurler, southpaw Tom Lundgren? How well he does it is very much a key to the Falcons' success, and Michael thinks he'll have more fortune than I do in building a staff around key returnee Rick Henderson.

The Falcons—who won two straight after losing their first three—are a sound team defensively and well-coached. That's going to be among their saving features. They have not yet shown any potent hitting, though in outfielder Mike Holstrom they have a boy who hit .283 last season and .417 with a Forest View summer team, and in Henderson and infielder Bob Erlander two other boys who should be able to stroke the ball.

Some proof in hitting and the arrival of pitching will mean the difference between second and third.

PALATINE: Terry Gellinger's Pirates have shown good form in winning their first three exhibition games, getting their few hits when they were needed, getting signs of strong pitching, and playing fine defensive ball.

Like Forest View, they are well-drilled in fundamentals, and that will carry them a long way. With senior Barry Yurtis as the number one pitcher and junior Irv Hahnfeldt as number two, the potential there is good. The hitting is questionable, but with a very young team, it is taking time to come around. Those who have seen the Pirates think it will, and with the defense and an unusually-strong team attitude will make them formidable. I think formidable enough to get half the MSL's baubles, while Michael says: Show me.

WHEELING: The best hitting and the best all-around player in the league may belong to Wheeling, but Steve Chernicky's Wildcats have been sabotaged in pitching. Of last season's two leading hurlers, Jim Pavelle moved away and Skip Grandt lost his appendix on the eve of the season.

Much of the 'Cats burden will fall on Mark Newman, who will pitch and can play the infield or outfield. He hit .327 with last year's Wheeling team and .358 with Arlington's 42-6 American Legion team last summer, so he's loaded with experience.

At the plate, look for heavy support from Tom Manderscheid, an infielder-outfielder-pitcher who hit .346 in 1965, and Bob Krug, a catcher who batted .375.

But if Newman doesn't have a strong year and if Grandt doesn't heal fast, there'll be little on the mound, and a questionable defense behind it. The 'Cats, 0-3-1 in the early season going, need a strong reversal.

MAINE WEST: In 1965, Al Carstens' Warriors ruled the MSL, but times change, even Maine West times, as witness the 1965-66 basketball team.

The 1965 nine was almost totally ravaged by graduation, and Maine, though it did beat an average Evanston team 3-2, dropped four straight in the past week.

The Warriors have shown an exceedingly weak offense, and were even no-hit once, though their decisions have mostly been close ones. If anything makes the difference for them, it will likely be tradition and at least one good pitcher.

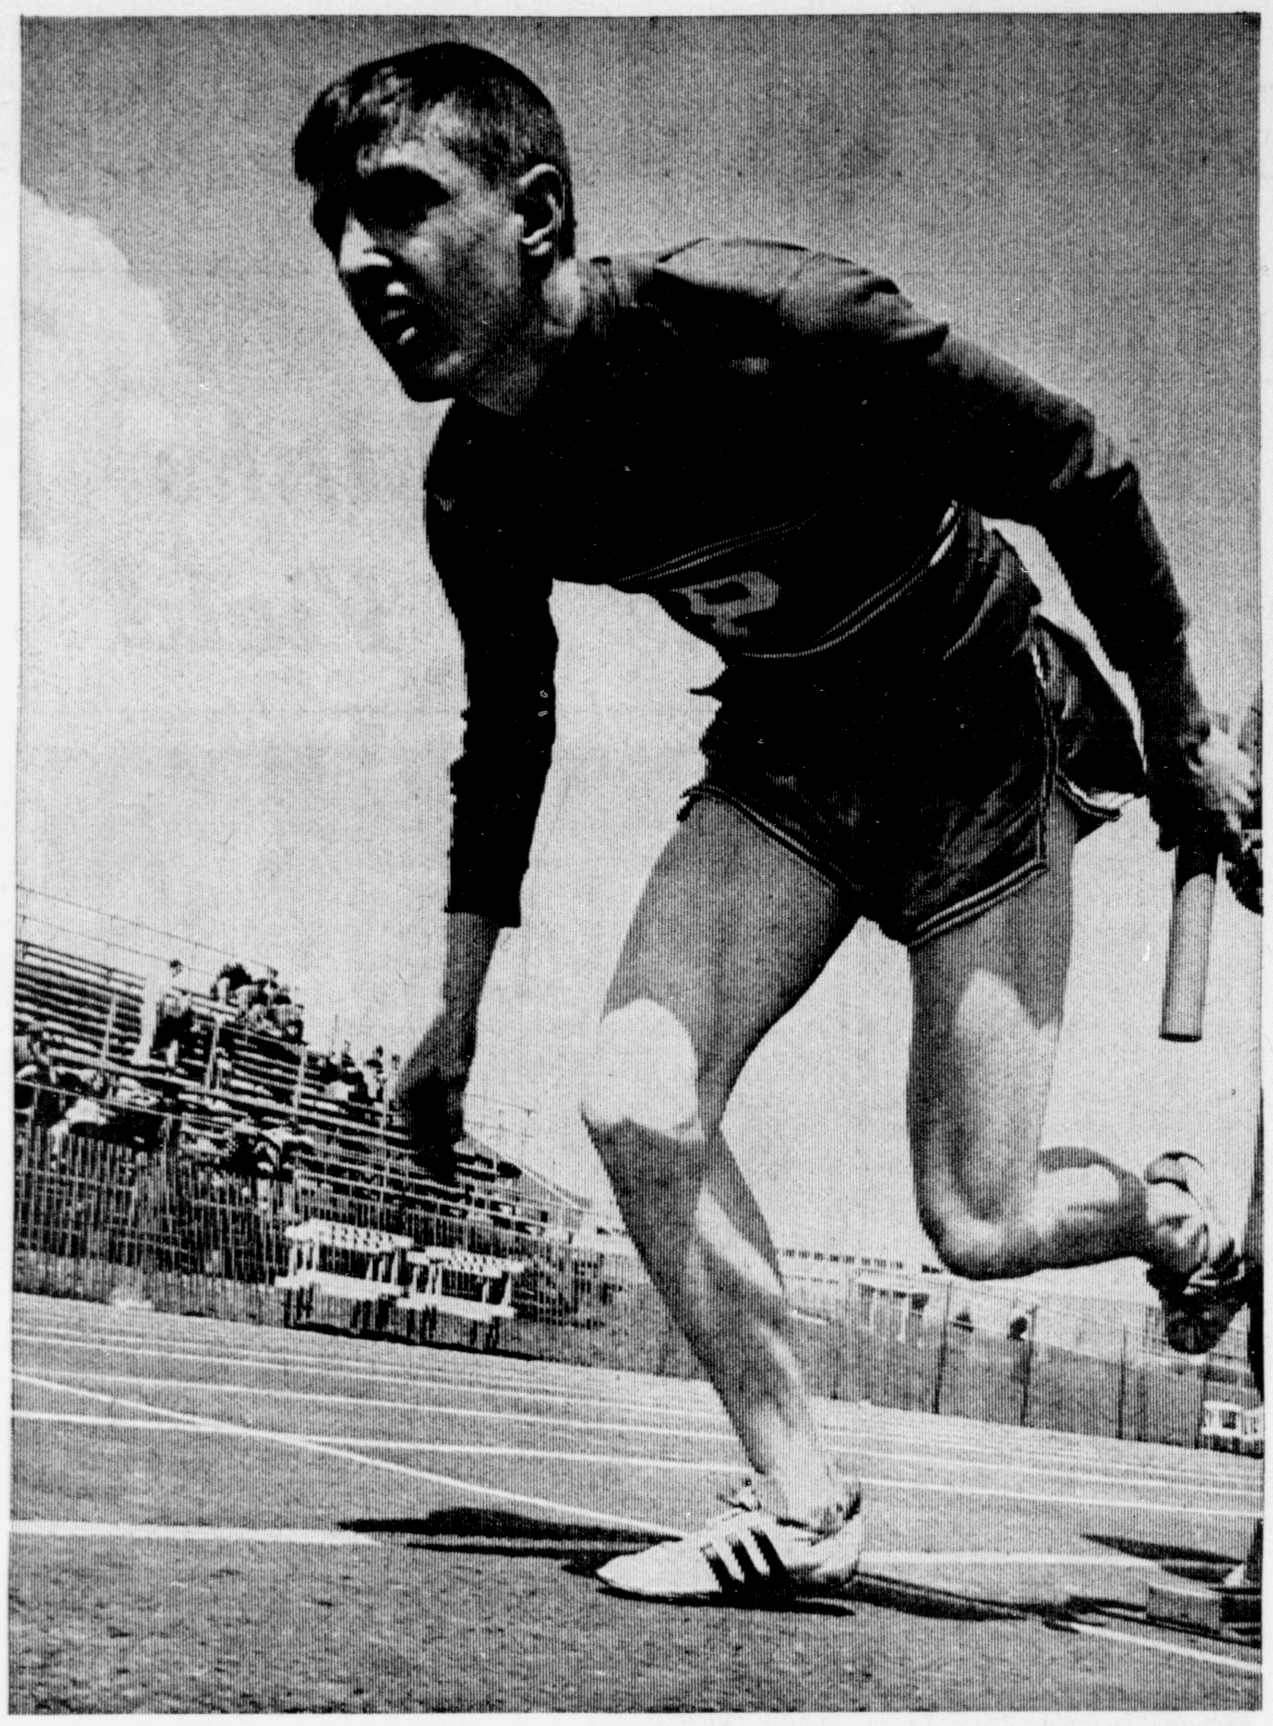
CONANT: The 17-0 debacle with Glenbrook North notwithstanding, the Cougars have prospects, though Michael may not agree. They have been hurt so far by erratic pitching, weak hitting and shaky defense, and that obviously cannot continue. It's meant a 2-3 mark so far.

In pitching, Lynn Crouch's nine received an impressive performance from Al Ramsey in the 2-1 beating of Ridgewood and a shutout from sophomore John Moffat over an admittedly weak Maryville team. The key is the return of hard-throwing senior Dave Sander to form.

A big difference, I think, will come in hitting, because the Cougars have been getting their bats on the ball, and the two most proficient returning hitters—Al Heiman and Dick Helmer—are just tuning up now.

Defense is a problem, because sometimes it's good and sometimes bad, and that can't be tolerated in the league chase.

The MSL, as it did in basketball, is likely to produce an interesting baseball race, and even the leaders are not likely to tower over the also-rans. None of the teams has been especially menacing against outside opposition, witness an 11-15-1 composite record as of Monday, but against each other, the tussles should be worthy. And for the outcomes, you've already been given the alternatives.



SWIFT JUNIOR Bill Bahnfleth will be among the Pirates leading the Palatine track team into this Saturday's Lake Shore Meet at Waukegan, where Palatine will defend the title it's won the past three years. Now stepping into strong form, Bahnfleth is shown here leading off for a mile relay team that ran a dazzling 3:24.3 against Niles North Saturday. He also ran a :49.6 quarter mile as Palatine pulverized the Vikings thinclads.

and already has hit two minutes flat in the 880 yard run, will work with Rick Ortman in the half-mile. Ortman has a 2:02.1.

Dennis Denton (4:34.0) and Jerry Weyrich (4:48.0) will represent the Pirates in the mile run.

JOHNSON IS equipped with several talented hurdlers and will use four different boys over the high and low sticks. Bob Payne and Jerry Kissner have identical :15.4s, and they'll be entered in the highs. Bill Meister has reached 20 flat and Brian McCartney :20.1 in the lows.

The Pirates should put together two formidable relay teams although their primary strength is in the mile event where Bahnfleth, Blanchard, McWilliams, and Ortman have achieved the best mark in Illinois this season.

Ernie Quigel, Ekeberg, Meister, and McCartney will work in the 880 yard relay with a season best of 1:32.9.

In the field events the Pirates show their most class in the shot put where Duane Hosimer has hit 54-3 and in the high jump where Wayne Render has cleared 6-1.

Joe Coffaro (49-0) will join Hosimer in the shot, and Al Bisantz is expected to work in the high jump.

Rounding out the field events for Palatine will be Quigel (19-10) and Bill Gill (19-6) in the broad jump, Rick Johnston (11-6) and Art Zajonc in the pole vault, and Tom Coffaro (141-2¾) and Hosimer (139-8½) in the discus.

Lake Shore Form Chart

Here's a look at the 14 varsity events that will be staged Saturday in the Lake Shore track and field meet and some of the boys to watch:

100-200 Yard Dash—Wide-open North Chicago's Odom, one of the favorites, has a pulled muscle.

440 Yard Dash — Palatine's Bahnfleth is the favorite.

880 Yard Run — Could be an area finish with Palatine boasting McWilliams and Ortman and Arlington having Sayler.

Mile Run — Lanners of Niles East gets the nod with Williamson of Libertyville a possible runnerup.

High Hurdles — wide -open. Don't discount Jones of Libertyville.

Low Hurdles — Meister and McCartney of Palatine are potent 1-2 punch.

Shot Put — Hosimer of Palatine and Glick of Highland Park are favored.

Discus — Glick of Highland Park and Biskin of Niles East are slight favorites.

Broad Jump — Menary of Glenbrook North has been flirting with 22 feet.

High Jump — Clendenning of Waukegan is favored with Wolf of Highland Park and Render of Palatine others in the six-foot plus category.

Pole Vault — Melville and Clendenning of Waukegan are the boys to beat with Lechtenberg of Highland Park right behind.

Relays — Palatine is the team to beat in both the 880 and mile events.

Arlington Ball Tryouts Resume

The search for talent to bolster Major League rosters in the Arlington Heights Boys Baseball League will resume Saturday, April 23, as league managers continue to review the skills of young baseball players in the final session of tryouts.

Paul Morong will head registrations and assignments for the south side American League at Pioneer Park. North side boys are to meet at Miner Junior High School field where Jack Meyerhoff will direct trials for the National League.

Tryouts are again scheduled for 12:30 p.m. for ten year olds, and 1:30 p.m. for boys in the 11-12 year old bracket. Boys are to bring their own gloves.

Saturday's activities mark the second phase of the 1966 baseball program. According to Administrator Mert Taylor, the record turnout of eight and nine year olds will result in the Junior League fielding a total of 36 teams.

Prospect Splits

A split was gained by Prospect's lower level baseball teams in competition with New Trier The Knights sophs pushed across two runs in the top of the sixth to edge NT 3-2. Gary Andrews, Marv Hope and Steve Shawhan hurled for the winners with Hope being the pitcher of record. A double by Norm Klein paced his team's six hit attack.

A shut-out cost the Knights a defeat in freshman play. New Trier won 2-0. Ron Dolejs was the hard luck moundsman for Prospect. He took the loss after giving up single runs in the third and fifth. Joe Hines cracked a triple for the losers.

Rain Halts Lion Game; Makeup Set

St. Viator and St. Ignatius battled through four scoreless innings Monday afternoon before a steady rain forced postponement.

The two clubs will try again on Thursday, April 28, at the Lion diamond.

Bob Stevens started on the mound for the Lions against St. Ignatius and was touched for one hit in four innings, a first inning single. He struck out seven.

Jerry Donahue's single to right field in the opening frame was the Lions' only safety in four tries.

St. Viator was scheduled to play at St. George yesterday (Wednesday) in a switch of the original site.

The Lions will play at DeLaSalle Friday afternoon and will host St. Mel Saturday at 2 p.m. St. Joseph comes to town Monday afternoon and Maryville will meet a host Lion nine on Wednesday, April 27.

Downers Grove Tops Cards in Twin-Bill

by BOB FRISK

They packed all the drama into the second game last Saturday in a West Suburban Conference doubleheader at Arlington's Recreation Park.

Visiting Downers Grove North settled the issue early in the opener, but the Trojans experienced many nervous moments in the nightcap before they could claim a sweep over the host Arlington Cardinals.

An alert defensive maneuver in the final inning of the second game halted an Arlington uprising and sent the Trojans home with a hard-earned 3-2 victory.

Downers Grove had coasted to a 7-1 win in the first meeting.

THE VARSITY Cards, still seeking that first victory of the season after five straight setbacks, were scheduled to journey to Glenbard West yesterday (Wednesday) to meet the league-leading Hilltoppers.

Arlington will be at Hinsdale Saturday for a doubleheader and will journey to Maine East next Wednesday afternoon.

Although they suffered their second one-run defeat in league action in that second game last Saturday, Coach Fran Somers' Cards didn't yield without a fight. They had two leads on the Trojans and the tieing run on third base with only one out in the final frame.

THE EXCITING seventh opened in routine fashion as Ron Horcher lofted a fly to center field for the first out.

Somers went to the bench for his next hitter, inserting Ron Thompson as a pinch-hitter, and he made the right choice. Thompson belted one of Roy Lesten's offerings to the corner in right field, and the big football tackle, admittedly no Maury Wills on the base paths, still showed good speed in legging out a triple.

Steve Allen went in to run for Thompson and Brad Somers picked up a bat to hit for pitcher Jim Bressler. The tension mounted.

DOWNERS GROVE catcher Joe Radosevich, who whipped the Cards in a basketball outing with some last-second heroics, then stepped in to help rescue the Trojans.

With the bunt signal on and Allen heading for home, Radosevich called for a pitchout. Somers couldn't get his bat on the ball and Allen was nailed at the plate for the second out.

With that headache past Downers right hander Lesten got Somers on a swinging third strike for the final out.

ARLINGTON HIT the scoreboard first in that second game when Thad Woodard's sacrifice fly drove home Horcher in the third inning. Ron had reached on a walk, stolen second base, and sailed to third on pitcher Bob Young's hit off the second baseman's glove.

Downers came right back with a singleton of its own in the third but it could have been worse for the Cards. The Trojans had the bases loaded with no outs but only pushed one runner across.

Arlington climbed into the lead again in the fourth.

DOUG FINK dropped a bunt single as the leadoff man, and he went to second on Gary Bozee's sacrifice. An error sent Fink to third, and the Cardinal first sacker scored when Joe Nastal laid down a bunt single.

Downers pushed over the clinching markers in the fifth on a single error, and long double to left-center.

Arlington had a runner on second in the sixth, but its best chance came when Thompson tripled with one out in the seventh.

Young started on the hill for the losers and was relieved by Jim Bressler in the fifth. Bressler, who had also worked in the opener, didn't yield a run in his two frames.

IN SATURDAY'S opener Downers tagged Arlington starter Allen for five hits and four runs in the third inning and it was easy the rest of the way.

The Trojans pushed over two more in the fifth off Bressler and one in the seventh off John Shartle.

Arlington only reached Downers lefty Bob Holman for four hits. Mark Frase had two, and it was Frase who drove in the Cards' single run.

Woodard walked as the Card leadoff man in the fourth inning, and Frase sent him home with a booming two-base shot to left field.

Arlington had base runners in six of the seven innings but couldn't ignite any offensive fireworks off Holman who favored a sharp-breaking curve ball.

Cards Rout Bulldogs in Loop Tennis

Arlington's newly - crowned Evanston Invitational champions launched their West Suburban Conference tennis schedule Tuesday with an easy 5-0 conquest of Riverside-Brookfield.

Coach Tom Pitchford's Cardinals lost only one set as they trounced the visiting Bulldogs.

Arlington also won the frosh-soph meet, 5-0.

Billy Von Boeckmann, Jim Esser, and John Jarecki scored singles wins for the varsity Cards.

Von Boeckmann whipped Dave Arndt in first singles 3-6, 6-4, 6-2. Esser triumphed 6-2, 6-0 in the second slot, and Jarecki scored with a 6-2, 6-0 win in No. 3 play.

Brian Burke and Dave Milligan worked in first doubles again and toppled their Riverside opponents with ease, 6-0, 6-0.

Matt Weeg and John Brost showed a 6-0, 6-3 win in second doubles.

Six Runs for Each Nine

Wildcats Diamond Unit Ties With Maine South

A stalemate, a deadlock, a draw, a tie—all mean the same thing—no one wins and no one loses.

That decisionless fate befell Wheeling's baseball team, which hosted Maine South, last Friday. When the game ended each side had six runs.

MS scored first and was on top 3-0 as the 'Cats came up in their third. A single tally then and five more in the fourth accounted for the home total. The visitors pulled even with one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Darkness brought the contest to a halt before the last frame could be played. It was the fourth straight time this season that Wheeling, its record changed to 0-3-1, failed to get in a full seven innings.

CHIEF TALENTS in the Wildcats tie were Tom Manderscheid and Mark Newman.

Manderscheid, in the lead-off spot for coach Steve Chernicky, banged out three hits in four trips. He had a single, a double, his team's initial triple of the season, scored twice and had three RBI's. Manderscheid lifted his batting average to .385.

TOM MANDERSCHEID
Up to .385

Newman went all the way on the mound. While he allowed all Maine runs only two of those were earned. He gave up seven hits, three walks and hit a batter while fanning 12. With a bat Newman raised his average to .400 by going one for three.

The diamond deadlock opened with a walk and two singles giving the Hawks their marker in the first. Singles, one by Jeff Powell in the bottom of the first, another by MS in the second and a third by Bob Krug in the bottom of the second, were the only other offensive moves before the third.

AN ERRANT delivery struck the first batter Newman faced in the third. A passed ball, a single, an error and another passed ball gave Maine its 3-0 margin.

Booming a 3-1 pitch into deep left center, Manderscheid began Wheeling's third with his triple. Powell got his second hit of the game, a single, to score Manderscheid. After Newman and Rex Peterson grounded out the game progressed to the fourth.

Newman fired his only three up, three down inning to stop the Hawks in their half and the Wildcats had their best frame of the season in the bottom of the fourth.

Krug and Jeff Winterberg started the action by drawing passes. A bunt single by Jim Whittington loaded the bases. Rich Haddock took a 2-2 pitch for his third strike and the first out but John Hittman followed with a walk to force in Krug and leave the sacks filled.

NEXT AT THE plate was Manderscheid. He took a strike and two balls before lining a drive between Maine's left and center fielders. Three runs scored and Manderscheid pulled up with a double.

A fly out to right by Powell forced Manderscheid to hold at second but he rode home on the strength of Newman's single. Peterson, ninth 'Cats hitter of the frame, skied out to center. Wheeling, at that point, held a 6-3 lead.

Two errors and a single off Newman gave the Hawks a run in their fifth and, after Chernicky's forces went down in order in the bottom of the fifth, Maine came back to even totals in the sixth.

First batter for MS reached base on an error, the Wildcats fifth of the contest. Newman worked the count to 3-2 before the next batter singled putting two on with no outs. Next up for Maine was Jim Eibe. He slashed a triple bringing in a pair of teammates and tying the score at 6-6. Bearing down, Newman retired the side without further damage.

AS SHADOWS deepened Wheeling came up for its last chance in the sixth. Only one reached base in the inning. That was Manderscheid who got his third hit, a single to left. He got no further than first and the game ended in stalemate.

Though the game ended in a tie, perhaps the outcome was a moral victory for the 'Cats. They had dropped three in a row prior to the battle while Maine South had won three in a row.

Wheeling Linksmen Lose Opening Meet

According to those who are superstitious, "13" brings evil and disaster and, to Wheeling golfers, "13" brought bad luck and defeat.

The 'Cats dropped their opening links dual of the season to Maine South on Monday by a 243 to 253 score. That meet covered exactly 13 holes.

LOW MAN FOR coach Jack Berry's losing team was Dave Quirsfeld. He covered the first nine holes in 42 strokes, the next four in 17 and finished with a 59.

Behind Quirsfeld for Wheeling were Bob Boenig, Al Eisenstein and Dick Fontecchio. Boenig carded the lowest total for nine, a 41, but added 20 strokes over the next four for a 61. Eisenstein had a 47 plus 18 for a 63 while Fontecchio had a 68 on 48 for nine plus 20.

Fifth scorer for the Wildcats was Mike Fornero with a 71.

DAVE QUIRSFELD
42-17-59 for 13

Maine South's Steve Johnson tied Quirsfeld for meet honors. Johnson also had a 59 with 41 for nine and 18 for the other four. Other scorers for the Hawks were Scott Candrian and Les Matthews with 61's and Scott Pitt with a 62. George Yost was MS's high man with a 65.

EVEN THOUGH at the frosh-soph level there were just nine holes played Wheeling still lost. The unlucky "9" result was 177 to 189.

Dennis Klocke and Greg Turner were the younger 'Cats best. They each came in with 46. Craig Saar posted a 48 for the losers while Jeff Sorensen and Mike Stoik each had 49's. Leading the F-S Hawks was Steve Gabbert with a 41.

Lion Freshmen Drop Two Games

St. Viator's frosh baseball Lions suffered two losses last week after rolling to five straight triumphs.

Coach Joe Gliwa's outfit was toppled by Maine South, 7-3, and Holy Cross, 3-0.

In other action St. Viator bumped Glenbrook North, 5-2, for its fifth win as Tom Guzik went the distance on the mound.

Dave Muir was the big hitter for the Lions with two singles and three runs-batted-in.

King Hurls 2-1 Win

Falcon Nine Triumphs Over Glenbrook South

by MICHAEL HESS

It's been a complete reversal of hurling form . . .

Forest View pitchers began the season by giving up 23 runs in the first two games. Both outings resulted in defeat.

Then, in the next two battles, Falcons moundsmen yielded only four markers, three of them unearned. A loss and the campaign's initial win were brought by the improved throwing.

BILL KING
Titans Tamer

To cap this hill comeback, FV hosted Glenbrook South last Friday. Rick Henderson, who worked the opening inning, and Bill King, who was nearly untouchable in the last six, held GS to three hits and no earned runs while striking out seven and walking none.

FOREST VIEW handed the Titans a 2-1 setback.

The victory was not an easy chore for the Falcons. Greg Croft, a rugged righthander with a sharp curve, was Glenbrook's hurler. He allowed one earned run, two hits and walked one while striking out eight. Croft also carried his team's lone tally across the plate after being beaned.

Action in the contest got underway as Steve Gray rammed Henderson's first pitch into right field for a single. But the second GS batter fanned and Gray was nailed trying to steal. He was caught on a perfect peg from catcher Jerry Adams to Wally Zimmer. The third out came on a pop up.

When he had finished the first Henderson informed coach Hal Sprehe that his arm had stiffened. Sprehe gave King a quick warm up call.

ONLY RUNNER IN the bottom of the first was FV's Mike Holstrom. With two outs he grounded to Gray at third. Gray bobbled the ball and threw it into right field drawing two errors. Holstrom made second but a fly by Henderson closed the frame.

King took over Falcons' pitching in the second and Henderson went into left.

Before the bottom of the fourth there were just two more base runners, both for Glenbrook. Mike Reeves went to second on Kirt Koentopp's throwing error but moments later was picked off by King. Ken Howenstine took first on Adams' thowing error but didn't advance as King induced Reeves to ground out.

Forest View's decisive rally came in its half of the fourth.

First up for the Falcons was Koentopp, who knocked a soft liner which was caught by Croft. For the second time in the game Holstrom reached base on an error, this one by Larry Bruksch. Henderson advanced Holstrom by getting his team's initial hit, a Texas League single to left.

NEXT TO THE plate for FV was Dan Smith. He chose Croft's first delivery and banged it down the right field line for a double. Holstrom scored and Henderson went to third. A sacrifice fly to left brought Henderson across. That RBI drive was stroked by Bob Chudik. Gary Kalas grounded out to finish the inning.

The Titans scored their run in the fifth.

Croft walked slowly, but unin- and one offering from King thumped into Croft's helmet, bouncing all the way to third. Croft walked slowly, but unisjured, to first. A fly ball to right resulted in the first out but Mark Hall slapped a single to right.

With runners on first and second Bruksch punched a bouncer to Koentopp, who fumbled the ball and could get no one. The bases were filled. Buzz Avery was up next and he topped one to the mound. King picked it up and a force play, cutting off the run, seemed likely at the plate. But, catcher Adams failed to cover and, though King got Avery at first, Croft came home.

A POP TO short by Gray ended Glenbrook's chances for further scoring.

Adams was the only other to reach base for Forest View. He walked to lead off his team's fifth and was sacrificed to second. With Zimmer at bat Adams broke for third as a Croft pitch got away from his catcher. But, GS backstop Howenstine threw Adams out.

His second hit of the game, a double to right, made Hall the Titans' final runner. There were two outs in the seventh when he banged his drive down the line. King was equal to the task and wrapped up the 2-1 victory by getting Bruksch on strikes.

Six Runs for Each Nine

Wildcats Diamond Unit Ties With Maine South

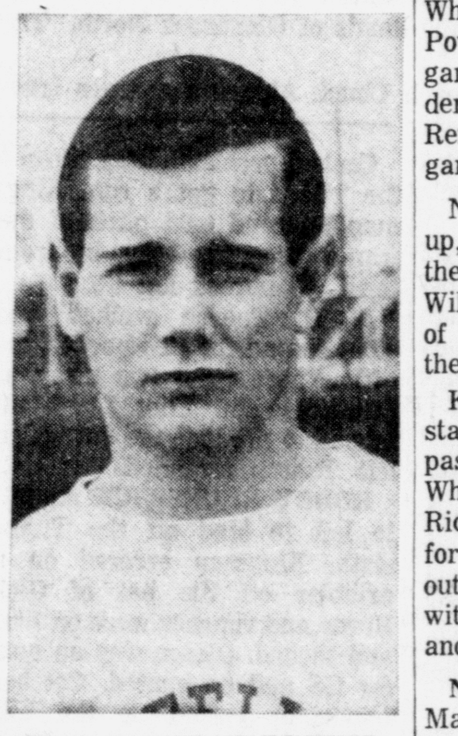
A stalemate, a deadlock, a draw, a tie—all mean the same thing—no one wins and no one loses.

That decisionless fate befell Wheeling's baseball team, which hosted Maine South, last Friday. When the game ended each side had six runs.

MS scored first and was on top 3-0 as the 'Cats came up in their third. A single tally then and five more in the fourth accounted for the home total. The visitors pulled even with one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Darkness brought the contest to a halt before the last frame could be played. It was the fourth straight time this season that Wheeling, its record changed to 0-3-1, failed to get in a full seven innings.

CHIEF TALENTS in the Wildcats tie were Tom Manderscheid and Mark Newman.



TOM MANDERSCHEID
Up to .385

Manderscheid, in the lead-off spot for coach Steve Chernicky, banged out three hits in four trips. He had a single, a double, his team's initial triple of the season, scored twice and had three RBI's. Manderscheid lifted his batting average to .385.

Newman went all the way on the mound. While he allowed all Maine runs only two of those were earned. He gave up seven hits, three walks and hit a batter while fanning 12. With a bat Newman raised his average to .400 by going one for three.

The diamond deadlock opened with a walk and two singles giving the Hawks their marker in the first. Singles, one by Jeff Powell in the bottom of the first, another by MS in the second and a third by Bob Krug in the bottom of the second, were the only other offensive moves before the third.

AN ERRANT delivery struck the first batter Newman faced in the third. A passed ball, a single, an error and another passed ball gave Maine its 3-0 margin.

Booming a 3-1 pitch into deep left center, Manderscheid began Wheeling's third with his triple. Powell got his second hit of the game, a single, to score Manderscheid. After Newman and Rex Peterson grounded out the game progressed to the fourth.

Newman fired his only three up, three down inning to stop the Hawks in their half and the Wildcats had their best frame of the season in the bottom of the fourth.

Krug and Jeff Winterberg started the action by drawing passes. A bunt single by Jim Whittington loaded the bases. Rich Haddock took a 2-2 pitch for his third strike and the first out but John Hittman followed with a walk to force in Krug and leave the sacks filled.

NEXT AT THE plate was Manderscheid. He took a strike and two balls before lining a drive between Maine's left and center fielders. Three runs scored and Manderscheid pulled up with a double.

A fly out to right by Powell forced Manderscheid to hold at second but he rode home on the strength of Newman's single. Peterson, ninth 'Cats hitter of the frame, skied out to center. Wheeling, at that point, held a 6-3 lead.

Two errors and a single off Newman gave the Hawks a run in their fifth and, after Chernicky's forces went down in order in the bottom of the fifth, Maine came back to even totals in the sixth.

First batter for MS reached base on an error, the Wildcats fifth of the contest. Newman worked the count to 3-2 before the next batter singled putting two on with no outs. Next up for Maine was Jim Eibe. He slashed a triple bringing in a pair of teammates and tying the score at 6-6. Bearing down, Newman retired the side without further damage.

AS SHADOWS deepened Wheeling came up for its last chance in the sixth. Only one reached base in the inning. That was Manderscheid who got his third hit, a single to left. He got no further than first and the game ended in stalemate.

Though the game ended in a tie, perhaps the outcome was a moral victory for the 'Cats. They had dropped three in a row prior to the battle while Maine South had won three in a row.

Gain For Lattof's In PWCTL

Lattof Chevrolet added another point to its slim margin in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling Legue's second round race Saturday night, expanding its advantage over Steve's Restaurant to three points.

Lattof did it by stopping River Rand Bowl cold with a 4-0 blanking, while Steve's was making it 3-1 against Morton Pontiac.

Striking Lanes passed Rolling Meadows Bowl into third by handling RMB 3 - 1 in their match.

With two weeks left in the regular season, Lattof and Steve's remain untouchable at the top, but very much in reach of each other.

Further information on the Saturday matches can't be provided because of late arrival of the scores at Paddock Publications.

Glenbrook Does It

Knights' Nine Edged 3 to 2

In Prospect baseball parlance "Glenbrook" has become a dirty word.

The Knights nine started its season with two victories. Initial defeat came April 11 at the hands of Glenbrook North. The score was 8-0.

Then, last Wednesday, coach Chuck Aldrich's charges traveled to Glenbrook South. Again there was a setback, a most heartbreaking, frustrating setback. Final tally was 3-2.

That combat with GS began as a scoreless pitching duel between Prospect's Dave Kingman and the Titans' Chuck Oleson. After the opening three innings Kingman had faced a minimum of nine batters while Oleson had issued only a single and walk.

WITH THE SCORE 0-0 in their fourth, the Knights put two on via an error, which sent Kingman to second, and a walk to Vince Franzone. But, the threat ended when Clyde Whitcomb grounded out.

A single to center by Steve Gray got GS underway in the bottom of the fourth. Kingman, while walking the next man, threw a wild pitch and runners were on first and third. The following two hitters went down on strikes.

Control problems then allowed the Titans to get a run. Kingman's second wild pitch of the frame brought Gray in from third. Glenbrook led 1-0.

J. D. Thorne walked and stole second for Prospect in the fifth. There were two away at the time and Tom Lundstedt fanned to produce the out which left Thorne stranded.

ROBBY BRUNSWICK singled to left to lead off the Titans sixth. Kingman errored on a dribbler off the bat of Glen Harer and runners were on first and second. Oleson was up next for GS and he bunted. Catcher Lundstedt picked up the ball and fired it into right field. Brunswick scored.

Glenbrook's second run of the inning came after Gray had bounced out. Ken Howenstine knocked a sacrifice fly to center, Harer tagging at third and going home after the catch. Kingman whiffed Larry Bruksch for the third out.

Skies were overcast as Prospect came to bat in the sixth. Duane Davis went down on strikes to start but both Kingman and John Phillips drew walks. Franzone, next up, bounced the ball down the third base line. It went for a hit and the bases were full.

Whitcomb then tapped one to GS's Mike Reeves at first. Reeves threw to the plate trying to get a force out but his toss was wide, Kingman scored and the bases stayed full. Out number two resulted from Maury Galliger's strike out.

WITH THREE ON and two away Don Whitlock stepped up. He socked a single to left, Phillips scored easily and it appeared the game would be tied as Franzone rounded third and headed for the plate. However, it was not to be.

Picking up Whitlock's drive in left Greg Croft sailed a strike to catcher Howenstine who put the tag on Franzone. That closed the inning and the umps called the game due to darkness. The Knights had lost 3-2, their second straight to a Glenbrook nine.

During his five innings of work Kingman gave up three runs on two hits, two walks and three wild pitches. He fanned seven as his personal record was evened at 1-1. Oleson yielded two runs on three hits, four walks, one hit batter and nine strikeouts.

Pioneer Stops Chalet, But Lead Is Still Big

Two Saturdays and counting . . .

That's how space terminology would be applied to the Paddock Classic Traveling League's round two race. Remaining are just two weekends before the roll-off, the regularly scheduled action this Saturday and the position play at Brim's Pioneer Lanes the Saturday after.

And the question remains: will Concourse Sports Chalet be halted?

The Sports lost their crucial tilt with Pioneer at Jack Gunnell's Lanes last Saturday, but only by 4-3. Bill Cook Buick, still hanging in contention, won 5-2 over Karlsen Pharmacy to gain two points on Chalet, and move a point ahead of Pioneer. But the gap between first and second stands at 10 points, and if anything is done to menace that, it will have to come this Saturday.

THE CHALET-Pioneer confrontation was as finely-fought as could have been predicted. Games one and three went to Pioneer by nine and eight pins, and number two went into the Sports Chalet bag by 22. That made the difference in the point for total pinfall, which went to Chalet by five.

Each team had two strong series and three in the average class. Chalet's Mike Wagner Jr. was high for his team and the match with a 615, including a 235 second game, while Tom Kouros had 599 for Chalet. Pat Peterson's even 600 topped Brim's, with George Schmidt rolling a 597, which featured a 242 third game.

Bill Cook Buick remained the team closest to Chalet by handling Karlsen Pharmacy at Rolling Meadows Bowl, losing only the second game by 19 pins. Al Jordan paced the Buick five with a 608, but he had ample support, including a 587 from Norb Leja. Ed Duff with 589 and Jim Runkle with 588 led the Pharmacy team.

MORTON PONTIAC, hosting The Brass Rail at Beverly Lanes, clouted the Railers 7-0. At the same time, Jeffery Lanes—in a match pre-bowled April 9—lost to City Welding Sales and Service by the same score, so Morton spurted the full seven away from the tie with Jeffery for fourth.

Les Zikes Jr. continued his late season rampage for Morton, rolling a 628 that brought him even closer to individual average leader Joe Simonis, who missed the Karlsen match. Ernie Koche added 589 to aid the Morton cause, while the best for the Railers was Harvey Randolph's 554.

BILL SMITH was immense for City Welding as it drubbed Jeffery. Bowling at his team's home Thunderbird Bowl, he crashed a 231-215-233—669, easily the best effort of the night in the PCTL, and his best of the season. Lobby Lobinsky rolled a 604 for the victors, while the tops for Jeffery was Don Christensen's 577.

In this Saturday's last stop before the finish, Sports Chalet will take on Jeffery at Jack Gunnell's, Cook Buick will engage Morton at Beverly, Brim's Pioneer will bump against City Welding at Thunderbird and Karlsen Pharmacy and The Brass Rail will meet at River Rand Bowl.

Forming Softball Leagues

Two softball leagues for 16-inch competition are in the process of being organized by the Northwest Suburban YMCA.

An Industrial League for companies in the area will begin play on Tuesday, May 24. All games are played on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. at Algonquin Jr. High School in Des Plaines.

Last year General Telephone Directory Company led the 10 team league.

Eligibility rules require that players be on the payroll of the company they represent. A meeting of any interested managers will be held on Thursday, April 21 from 5:30-6:30 p.m. at the "Y", 300 E. Northwest Highway, Des Plaines. (Phone 296-3376)

Churches in the area are invited to send a representative to a meeting on Monday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the "Y" to discuss formation of a league.

Churches will play their games on Tuesday evenings at 7:00 p.m.

VFW Division Opens Monday

The Arlington Post 981, V.F.W. Golf Legue will open its tenth season Monday evening, April 25, at Old Orchard Golf Club.

The league membership held its annual pre-tee-off meeting last Monday night to elect officers for the 1966 season and review movies of the 1965 Masters Tournament.

Frank Dailey was elected president while Joe Pitzen becomes vice-president. George Snelten and Harold "Red" Koelling were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. Max Mayrer will again serve as the league's weatherman.

JVs Win Again

Arlington's jayvee Cardinals ran their win streak to three last week with a 12-3 baseball victory over Forest View. Coach Bob Carter's outfit had dumped Prospect, 13-3, and Palatine, 5-1, in its first two games of the season.

Additional details were unavailable.

Gain For Lattof's In PWCTL

Lattof Chevrolet added another point to its slim margin in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling Legue's second round race Saturday night, expanding its advantage over Steve's Restaurant to three points.

Lattof did it by stopping River Rand Bowl cold with a 4-0 blanking, while Steve's was making it 3-1 against Morton Pontiac.

Striking Lanes passed Rolling Meadows Bowl into third by handling RMB 3 - 1 in their match.

With two weeks left in the regular season, Lattof and Steve's remain untouchable at the top, but very much in reach of each other.

Further information on the Saturday matches can't be provided because of late arrival of the scores at Paddock Publications.

Glenbrook Does It

Knights' Nine Edged 3 to 2

In Prospect baseball parlance "Glenbrook" has become a dirty word.

The Knights nine started its season with two victories. Initial defeat came April 11 at the hands of Glenbrook North. The score was 8-0.

Then, last Wednesday, coach Chuck Aldrich's charges traveled to Glenbrook South. Again there was a setback, a most heartbreaking, frustrating setback. Final tally was 3-2.

That combat with GS began as a scoreless pitching duel between Prospect's Dave Kingman and the Titans' Chuck Oleson. After the opening three innings Kingman had faced a minimum of nine batters while Oleson had issued only a single and walk.

WITH THE SCORE 0-0 in their fourth, the Knights put two on via an error, which sent Kingman to second, and a walk to Vince Franzone. But, the threat ended when Clyde Whitcomb grounded out.

A single to center by Steve Gray got GS underway in the bottom of the fourth. Kingman, while walking the next man, threw a wild pitch and runners were on first and third. The following two hitters went down on strikes.

Control problems then allowed the Titans to get a run. Kingman's second wild pitch of the frame brought Gray in from third. Glenbrook led 1-0.

J. D. Thorne walked and stole second for Prospect in the fifth. There were two away at the time and Tom Lundstedt fanned to produce the out which left Thorne stranded.

ROBBY BRUNSWICK singled to left to lead off the Titans sixth. Kingman errored on a dribbler off the bat of Glen Harer and runners were on first and second. Oleson was up next for GS and he bunted. Catcher Lundstedt picked up the ball and fired it into right field. Brunswick scored.

Glenbrook's second run of the inning came after Gray had bounced out. Ken Howenstine knocked a sacrifice fly to center, Harer tagging at third and going home after the catch. Kingman whiffed Larry Bruksch for the third out.

Skies were overcast as Prospect came to bat in the sixth. Duane Davis went down on strikes to start but both Kingman and John Phillips drew walks. Franzone, next up, bounced the ball down the third base line. It went for a hit and the bases were full.

Whitcomb then tapped one to GS's Mike Reeves at first. Reeves threw to the plate trying to get a force out but his toss was wide, Kingman scored and the bases stayed full. Out number two resulted from Maury Galliger's strike out.

WITH THREE ON and two away Don Whitlock stepped up. He socked a single to left, Phillips scored easily and it appeared the game would be tied as Franzone rounded third and headed for the plate. However, it was not to be.

Picking up Whitlock's drive in left Greg Croft sailed a strike to catcher Howenstine who put the tag on Franzone. That closed the inning and the umps called the game due to darkness. The Knights had lost 3-2, their second straight to a Glenbrook nine.

During his five innings of work Kingman gave up three runs on two hits, two walks and three wild pitches. He fanned seven as his personal record was evened at 1-1. Oleson yielded two runs on three hits, four walks, one hit batter and nine strikeouts.

Pioneer Stops Chalet, But Lead Is Still Big

Two Saturdays and counting . . .

That's how space terminology would be applied to the Paddock Classic Traveling League's round two race. Remaining are just two weekends before the roll-off, the regularly scheduled action this Saturday and the position play at Brim's Pioneer Lanes the Saturday after.

And the question remains: will Concourse Sports Chalet be halted?

The Sports lost their crucial tilt with Pioneer at Jack Gunnell's Lanes last Saturday, but only by 4-3. Bill Cook Buick, still hanging in contention, won 5-2 over Karlsen Pharmacy to gain two points on Chalet, and move a point ahead of Pioneer. But the gap between first and second stands at 10 points, and if anything is done to menace that, it will have to come this Saturday.

THE CHALET-Pioneer confrontation was as finely-fought as could have been predicted. Games one and three went to Pioneer by nine and eight pins, and number two went into the Sports Chalet bag by 22. That made the difference in the point for total pinfall, which went to Chalet by five.

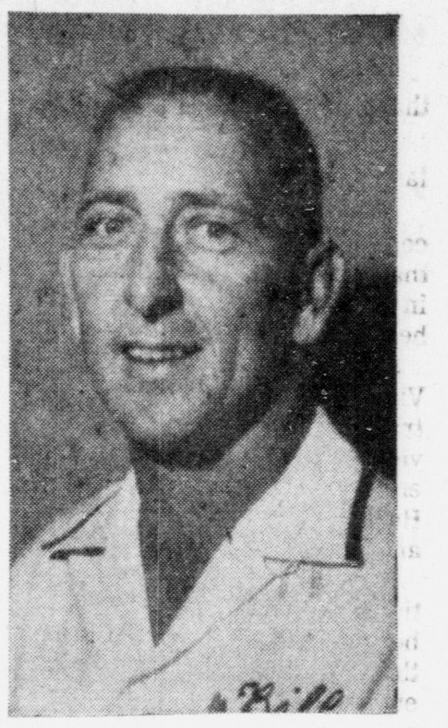
Each team had two strong series and three in the average class. Chalet's Mike Wagner Jr. was high for his team and the match with a 615, including a 235 second game, while Tom Kouros had 599 for Chalet. Pat Peterson's even 600 topped Brim's, with George Schmidt rolling a 597, which featured a 242 third game.

Bill Cook Buick remained the team closest to Chalet by handling Karlsen Pharmacy at Rolling Meadows Bowl, losing only the second game by 19 pins. Al Jordan paced the Buick five with a 608, but he had ample support, including a 587 from Norb Leja. Ed Duff with 589 and Jim Runkle with 588 led the Pharmacy team.

MORTON PONTIAC, hosting The Brass Rail at Beverly Lanes, clouted the Railers 7-0. At the same time, Jeffery Lanes—in a match pre-bowled April 9—lost to City Welding Sales and Service by the same score, so Morton spurted the full seven away from the tie with Jeffery for fourth.

Les Zikes Jr. continued his late season rampage for Morton, rolling a 628 that brought him even closer to individual average leader Joe Simonis, who missed the Karlsen match. Ernie Koche added 589 to aid the Morton cause, while the best for the Railers was Harvey Randolph's 554.

BILL SMITH was immense for City Welding as it drubbed Jeffery. Bowling at his team's home Thunderbird Bowl, he crashed a 231-215-233—669, easily the best effort of the night in the PCTL, and his best of the season. Lobby Lobinsky rolled a 604 for the victors, while the tops for Jeffery was Don Christensen's 577.



BILL SMITH

In this Saturday's last stop before the finish, Sports Chalet will take on Jeffery at Jack Gunnell's, Cook Buick will engage Morton at Beverly, Brim's Pioneer will bump against City Welding at Thunderbird and Karlsen Pharmacy and The Brass Rail will meet at River Rand Bowl.

Forming Softball Leagues

Two softball leagues for 16-inch competition are in the process of being organized by the Northwest Suburban YMCA.

An Industrial League for companies in the area will begin play on Tuesday, May 24. All games are played on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. at Algonquin Jr. High School in Des Plaines.

Last year General Telephone Directory Company led the 10 team league.

Eligibility rules require that players be on the payroll of the company they represent. A meeting of any interested managers will be held on Thursday, April 21 from 5:30-6:30 p.m. at the "Y", 300 E. Northwest Highway, Des Plaines. (Phone 296-3376)

Churches in the area are invited to send a representative to a meeting on Monday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the "Y" to discuss formation of a league.

Churches will play their games on Tuesday evenings at 7:00 p.m.

VFW Division Opens Monday

The Arlington Post 981, V.F.W. Golf Legue will open its tenth season Monday evening, April 25, at Old Orchard Golf Club.

The league membership held its annual pre-tee-off meeting last Monday night to elect officers for the 1966 season and review movies of the 1965 Masters Tournament.

Frank Dailey was elected president while Joe Pitzen becomes vice-president. George Snelten and Harold "Red" Koelling were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. Max Mayrer will again serve as the league's weatherman.

JVs Win Again

Arlington's jayvee Cardinals ran their win streak to three last week with a 12-3 baseball victory over Forest View. Coach Bob Carter's outfit had dumped Prospect, 13-3, and Palatine, 5-1, in its first two games of the season.

Crusader Battery Key To 3-2 Loop Triumph

by BOB FRISK

Some batteries produce electric energy.

Then there are those batteries—in the language of baseball—that produce victories.

Holy Cross brought such a battery to St. Viator High School last Friday afternoon.

Pitcher Joe Sanchez and catcher Bill Sievers were the key cogs in a Holy Cross machine that nipped the host Lions, 3-2, in the Chicagoland Prep League headliner.

DENNY WILKINSON
Center Field Blast

SANCHEZ, WHO attended St. Viator for two years before transferring to Holy Cross yielded only four hits over seven innings, striking out eleven. He also rapped out three hits and scored the winning run.

Sievers, a junior with exceptional promise, handled Sanchez behind the plate and delivered three safeties, the latter a seventh inning double that chased across the winning marker.

The victory was the tenth straight this season for Holy Cross and third straight in Chicagoland Prep League play. St. Viator slipped to .500 for both the conference and over-all standards.

THE LIONS, operating with ace righthander Jerry Donahue on the hill, drew first blood in the first inning after Donahue had escaped his opening crack at the Crusaders.

Any hopes Sanchez had for a no-hitter against his former teammates were shattered when Lion Bill Kaveney ripped a single past the bag at first.

Kaveney moved to second on a wild pitch and dashed home when the Crusaders' Jim Porter couldn't come up with Donahue's hot smash.

Sanchez got out of this jam by striking out the next three hitters.

HOLY CROSS loaded the bases in the second inning with one out, but Donahue got Porter on a fielder's choice and leadoff man Jim Barro on a high pop to Dan Miksta at third.

Sanchez reached on an error in the third inning and was cut down at home after Sievers' first double on a sharp relay from Larry Snyder to Kaveney to Dan Collins. The Crusaders went down in order in the fourth, but there was a different story in the fifth.

Porter's single to right launched the Crusader uprising and when Ken Cristo drove a hit to left that wasn't handled properly, Porter dashed in with what appeared to be the tying run.

BUT THE ALERT Lions called for the ball at second base and Porter was ruled out for not touching the bag.

St. Viator's excitement over this maneuver was short-lived, however. Sanchez rifled a single to center to bring in Cristo with the visitors' first marker.

Holy Cross took a 2-1 lead in the top of the sixth on singles by Sievers and Joe Dobner and a blast through the box by Rich McKeen.

Wilkinson, who was hitting safely in his fourth straight game, crashed a drive to deep center field that resulted in a triple and sent Collins home with the Lions' second run.

Wilkinson stayed at third when Sanchez got Bob Stevens, filling in for John Loughman in center, on a pop to short and Miksta on a swinging third strike.

Holy Cross settled the issue in the top of the seventh.

CRISTO LINED a sharp grounder to first that Kaveney fielded with a magnificent effort for the first out, but Sanchez, that old nemesis, cracked a double to center.

Sanchez went to third when Kaveney came up with another nice play on an infield smash, and the Holy Cross pitcher scored on Sievers' two-base knock to left.

Sanchez preserved the one-run advantage in the concluding seventh as the Lions failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Donahue went the full seven frames for the losers. He allowed 11 hits, eight over the last three stanzas, and struck out seven.

Win Evanston Invitational

Doubles Teams Pace Cards in Net Victory

"They were just great. It was a real team victory. Everyone had to come through and they did."

Arlington's Tom Pitchford was a happy coach Monday as he looked back on the varsity Cardinals' triumph in the eight-team Evanston Invitational.

BRIAN BURKE
Dynamic . . .

DAVE MILLIGAN
. . . duo

The Cards scored eight points Saturday for a one-point advantage over runnerup Evanston. New Trier was third with six.

"This was certainly our biggest win of the season so far," Pitchford said. "There was a high quality of play in the tournament, and this should have given our doubles teams confidence."

IT WAS IN doubles that Arlington really spearkled en route to the team championship.

Brian Burke and Dave Milligan, working in the number one doubles slot, "played exceptional tennis" as they knocked over three opponents for the title.

John Jarecki and Jim Esser, who normally work in singles, were paired in second doubles, and they also toppled three opponents in claiming an Invitational championship.

SINGLES PLAYERS Billy Von Boeckmann and John Brost had nothing to be ashamed about despite falling in second round matches.

Von Boeckmann, only a sophomore, got by Mike Masoncup of Maine South in his first match in No. 1 singles, 6-4, 6-0, but fell to eventual champion Gale Carrell of Evanston in the semi-finals, 6-0, 2-6, 6-2.

"Bill ran into a good boy but still turned in some fine tennis for us," Pitchford praised. "He actually gave Carrell a better match than Marc Bishop of Niles East, who reached the finals."

BROST, THE most inexperienced of the varsity Cards in the Invitational, gave them a vital point in number two singles when he whipped Steve Bickel of Homewood-Flossmoor, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

The march of Burke and Milligan to the No. 1 doubles title was launced with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Clayton Mark and Jack Lanpher of Evanston. The talented Cardinal duo then eliminated Cook and Chad Swanson of Rockford West in the semi's, 6-1, 6-2.

In the title tussle in first doubles Burke and Milligan whipped New Trier's Andy Crawford and Chip Clements, 10-8, 6-3.

IN SECOND doubles Jarecki and Esser opened with a 6-0, 6-2 win over Dick Galen and Dave Kritzler of Niles East. They bumped Roger Friskey and Peter Smith of Evanston in the semi's, 6-2, 6-3, and coasted in the title match against Bob Landman and Rick Davis of New Trier, 6-2, 6-2.

"The doubles teams both earned their titles," Pitchford said. "They had to beat Evanston and New Trier on the way."

First Victory For FV Nine

One left arm brought victory number one.

Forest View's baseball aggregation lost its first three games of the 1966 season. Then, last Wednesday, FV traveled to face Niles North.

Opening on the Falcons mound against NN was junior southpaw Marty Fontana. He gave up one run on two hits and two walks and fanned four in the five innings he worked.

MARTY FONTANA
A Strong Five

While Fontana's strong hurling held the Vikings in check, Forest View batters built a big lead. Pacing that attack were Rick Henderson and Gary Kalas who combined for four hits, three RBI's and one run scored.

AT CONTEST'S end Niles had been defeated 8-2 and the Falcons had their initial triumph.

In the first inning FV jumped off to a 2-0 advantage. Wally Zimmer led off by reaching second on an error. A bunt single by Kirt Koentopp put runners on first and third. Both scored as NN's third baseman threw a bouncer off the bat of Mike Holstrom into right field.

Henderson followed with a single but Holstrom was picked off third and after he was tagged out Henderson was run down off second. Dan Smith was hit by a pitch but Kalas closed the frame by striking out.

Both teams were scoreless in the second.

FOR THE SECOND time in the game Holstrom reached base on an error. That action came with one away in the third. Henderson forced Holstrom at second for the second out but Dan Smith doubled Henderson home and Smith rode home on Kalas' single. A fly to center by Bob Erlander was the third out.

At that juncture the Falcons were in front 4-0.

In the top of the fourth Jerry Adams singled to center and was forced by Fontana who was sacrificed to second by Zimmer. Koentopp's grounder to deep short sent Fontana racing toward the plate where he was safe on a close play. Holstrom followed with a single but Holstrom lined out to short.

Fontana stopped Niles in the bottom of the fourth, his shutout still intact. However, after a three up, three down FV fifth the Vikings finally pushed a run across. An error and a single brought the tally.

FOREST VIEW wrapped up the decision in its half of the sixth. Walks to Dennis Lynch and Zimmer put runners on first and second with one out. The bases were loaded when Koentopp bunted and Niles tried but failed to catch Lynch going into third.

The Falcons sixth run resulted when Lynch scored on a wild pitch. Henderson sent two more across with a single. Bob Chudik grounded for the third out.

In the bottom of the sixth Don Gossage took over on FV's hill. He gave up a triple and single for NN's last run and last hits that frame. Gossage, a junior, whiffed two and walked one in his two inning outing.

Kalas, who lined a single to right, was the game's only base runner in the seventh.

Host Warriors Capture First

'Cats Take 2nd, Knights 3rd In Maine's Track Triangular

Wheeling and Prospect track units battled down to the wire last Saturday. The 'Cats finally edged the Knights by two points 46-44.

There was just one trouble with that two team finish. It came in a triangular meet. Maine West, the third entry, won with 68 points.

For second Wheeling had five firsts, four seconds and thirds and one fourth. Three top spots, six runner-up places, a trio of thirds and a quartet of fourths went to Prospect.

HIGHEST POINT getter for the Wildcats of coach Jim Hoffman was Jim Bowker. Bowker was best in both the 220 and 440 yard dashes and third in the 100. He had a :23.3 in the 220 and :53.2 in the 440 to win and a :10.7 for his third. Bowker personally collected 12 meet points.

Behind Bowker for Wheeling was Bob Bromley. He had eight meet points with a first in the 180 yard low hurdles, in :21.2, and a second in the 120 yard highes, in :15.9.

Leading Prospect were Vaughn Pederson and Phil Cordina. Pederson was first in the high hurdles in :15.8 and second in the lows in :21.3. Tops in the pole vault was Cordina, with a leap of 12 feet. He also was runner-up in the high jump with the bar at five feet, four inches.

Other firsts for the Wildcats went to Tony Stoik and Jim Lemerande. Stoik's 42 feet, five inches paced the shot putters while a 123 foot, 7½ inch toss put Lemerande ahead in the discus. Lemerande was also second in the shot with a heave of 41 feet, 6¼ inches.

THE KNIGHTS mile relay unit won their team's other first. A clocking of 3:30.6 put the running quartet of coach Dick Calisch in ahead.

Additional seconds for Prospect were picked up by Leroy Rateike, at 19 feet, 6¼ inches in the broad jump; Dennis Breen, with a 10:41.8 in the two mile; Sid White, in the discus (distance unavilable); and Vince Curry, with a :54.4 in the 440.

Mike Guiney gained Wheeling's other second in the 220. He was timed in :24.0. Guiney was also fourth in the 100 in :10.7.

Among the many good showings for Maine's varsity entry, two were especially outstandings. Those were the 4:22.0 time of soph Lee LaBadie in the mile and the 1:59.4 of Kevin Flurkey in the 880. Both performers, of course, won their events.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level there was a slightly different story. The Wildcats jumped into first, with 68 points, while MW was next at 58 and the Knights third at 33.

Leading the way for Wheeling were Coe Meyer and Tom Johann. Meyer was first in the discus and broad jump and third in the 100 yard dash. A first in the high hurdles went to Johann, who also took second in the lows and thirds in the 220 and broad jump. Both got 12 meet points.

Steve Holmes and Mike Corteen, with 10 and eight points respectively, led the younger Knights. Holes finished ahead in the mile and 880 while Corteen won the 100 yard dash and was second in the 220.

Other firsts for the 'Cats went to Mike Mirchell in the high jump, Bob Maslin in the pole vault, and the 880 and mile relay teams. Prospect's F-S team took no firsts other than those which went to Holmes and Corteen.

Lion Sophs Drop Four

It wasn't a week to remember for St. Viator's frosh-soph baseball team.

The Lions dropped four contests and watched their season record dip to 2-6-1.

Glenbrook North pushed over seven runs in the fifth inning and posted a 12-8 victory over the Lions. Dan Klingberg was the losing pitcher in relief.

A five-run fourth carried the Maine South Hawks to an 8-2 win over St. Viator on Thursday afternoon. Brian Rooney was the losing pitcher, and Len Basak had the long blow for the Lions with a double.

In Chicagoland Prep League play Friday Holy Cross put across five runs in the third frame and held on for a 6-3 victory. Ken Balinski was the losing hurler.

See separate story on St. Viator's soph game with Prospect.

To Start Campaign

Knight Golfers Get Two Wins

A pair of meets and a pair of victories—everything's as usual in Prospect golf.

Knights linksmen have compiled a 19-3 dual record over the last two seasons. It would have been startling had they lost either encounter which opened the 1966 campaign during the past week. But, there were no surprises.

To get the new schedule underway Prospect golfers topped both Elgin-Larkin and Deerfield.

Against E-L the Knights took a slim two stroke decision, 170 to 172. The low four for the winners were Neil Rowe with a 40, Dave Lovgren and Doug Lytle at 42 and Harry Wallace at 46. Joe Rosanova, with a 49, was fifth.

PACING THE Royals links entry was Dick Funk with a 41. Bill Hoffer had a 42, Craig Benstein a 44 and Jim Haderer a 45 for the losers. It was Benstein who got the lone varsity birdie which came on the 328 yard, par four fourth hole.

An improvement of 10 strokes permitted Prospect to stop Deerfield 160 to 164. Lovgren led the way in that meet with a three over par 38. A 40 from Rowe and 41's by Tom Balczak and Harry Wallace completed the triumph total. Fifth man was again Rosanova who carded a 42.

Those who counted for the Warriors were led by Mike Schwartz's 39. John Phillips at 41 and both Barry White and Ron Malvin at 42 rounded out the losing score.

In frosh-soph action the Knights also opened their season with a pair of victories. They handled Elgin-Larkin with ease, 181 to 201, but just slipped by Deerfield, 178 to 179.

BEST FOR the younger Prospect golfers against E-L was Art Schroeder. He had a 41. Bruce Timko, with a 42, Steve Orrell, with a 46, and Scott Crawford, with a 52, were others who were low while Jim Cowdrey came in with a 54 and was fifth. Timko's total was helped by a birdie he posted on the 155 yard, par three 12th hole.

Royals scorers were Keith Maisto, 47; Bernie Jensen, 48; Laurie Lieberman, 50; and Dale Larsen, 56.

Orrell came back to lead the Knights in the meet with Deerfield. He had a 42 and was pushed by the 43 of Gusty Yedor. Schroeder and Crawford came in at 46 and 47 respectively while Mike Harris and Rick Morris tied for fifth at 51.

Taking frosh-soph honors was Mike Schuler of the Warriors with a 41. Craig Weichmann had a 45, Keith Whitaker a 46 and Dean Laffey a 47 for the narrowly beaten losers.

Lions' Frosh Trackmen Win

St. Viator landed eight firsts but couldn't pick up the team triumph last week in frosh track competition with St. Joseph.

The Chargers gained a 58-56 victory.

Individual winners for the Lions were Mark Botterman in the mile run (5:17.8), Dan O'Keefe in the high hurdles (21.8), Victor Michalek in the low hurdles (24.5), Dailey in the shot put (30-6), MacDonald in the discus (84-7), Terry Herlihy in the high jump (4-8), and Dan Baron in the pole vault (7-6).

Over St. Viator Nine

Crusader Battery Key To 3-2 Loop Triumph

by BOB FRISK

Some batteries produce electric energy.

Then there are those batteries—in the language of baseball—that produce victories.

Holy Cross brought such a battery to St. Viator High School last Friday afternoon.

Pitcher Joe Sanchez and catcher Bill Sievers were the key cogs in a Holy Cross machine that nipped the host Lions, 3-2, in the Chicagoland Prep League headliner.

SANCHEZ, WHO attended St. Viator for two years before transferring to Holy Cross yielded only four hits over seven innings, striking out eleven. He also rapped out three hits and scored the winning run.

Sievers, a junior with exceptional promise, handled Sanchez behind the plate and delivered three safeties, the latter a seventh inning double that chased across the winning marker.

The victory was the tenth straight this season for Holy Cross and third straight in Chicagoland Prep League play. St. Viator slipped to .500 for both the conference and over-all standards.

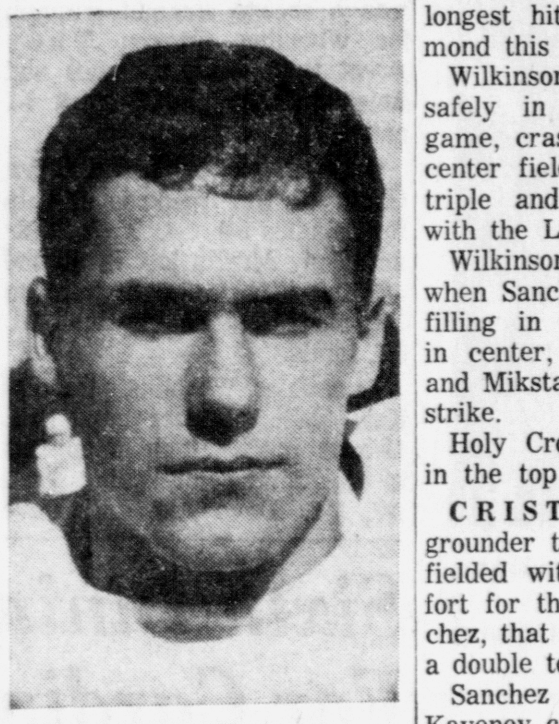
THE LIONS, operating with ace righthander Jerry Donahue on the hill, drew first blood in the first inning after Donahue had escaped his opening crack at the Crusaders.

Any hopes Sanchez had for a no-hitter against his former teammates were shattered when Lion Bill Kaveney ripped a single past the bag at first.

Kaveney moved to second on a wild pitch and dashed home when the Crusaders' Jim Porter couldn't come up with Donahue's hot smash.

Sanchez got out of this jam by striking out the next three hitters.

HOLY CROSS loaded the bases in the second inning with one out, but Donahue got Porter on a fielder's choice and leadoff man Jim Barro on a high pop to Dan Miksta at third.



DENNY WILKINSON
Center Field Blast

Sanchez reached on an error in the third inning and was cut down at home after Sievers' first double on a sharp relay from Larry Snyder to Kaveney to Dan Collins. The Crusaders went down in order in the fourth, but there was a different story in the fifth.

Porter's single to right launched the Crusader uprising and when Ken Cristo drove a hit to left that wasn't handled properly, Porter dashed in with what appeared to be the tying run.

BUT THE ALERT Lions called for the ball at second base and Porter was ruled out for not touching the bag.

St. Viator's excitement over this maneuver was short-lived, however. Sanchez rifled a single to center to bring in Cristo with the visitors' first marker.

Holy Cross took a 2-1 lead in the top of the sixth on singles by Sievers and Joe Dobner and a blast through the box by Rich McKeen.

Wilkinson, who was hitting safely in his fourth straight game, crashed a drive to deep center field that resulted in a triple and sent Collins home with the Lions' second run.

Wilkinson stayed at third when Sanchez got Bob Stevens, filling in for John Loughman in center, on a pop to short and Miksta on a swinging third strike.

Holy Cross settled the issue in the top of the seventh.

CRISTO LINED a sharp grounder to first that Kaveney fielded with a magnificent effort for the first out, but Sanchez, that old nemesis, cracked a double to center.

Sanchez went to third when Kaveney came up with another nice play on an infield smash, and the Holy Cross pitcher scored on Sievers' two-base knock to left.

Sanchez preserved the one-run advantage in the concluding seventh as the Lions failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Donahue went the full seven frames for the losers. He allowed 11 hits, eight over the last three stanzas, and struck out seven.

To Start Campaign

Knight Golfers Get Two Wins

A pair of meets and a pair of victories—everything's as usual in Prospect golf.

Knights linksmen have compiled a 19-3 dual record over the last two seasons. It would have been startling had they lost either encounter which opened the 1966 campaign during the past week. But, there were no surprises.

To get the new schedule underway Prospect golfers topped both Elgin-Larkin and Deerfield.

Against E-L the Knights took a slim two stroke decision, 170 to 172. The low four for the winners were Neil Rowe with a 40, Dave Lovgren and Doug Lytle at 42 and Harry Wallace at 46. Joe Rosanova, with a 49, was fifth.

PACING THE Royals links entry was Dick Funk with a 41. Bill Hoffer had a 42, Craig Benstein a 44 and Jim Haderer a 45 for the losers. It was Benstein who got the lone varsity birdie which came on the 328 yard, par four fourth hole.

An improvement of 10 strokes permitted Prospect to stop Deerfield 160 to 164. Lovgren led the way in that meet with a three over par 38. A 40 from Rowe and 41's by Tom Balczak and Harry Wallace completed the triumph total. Fifth man was again Rosanova who carded a 42.

Those who counted for the Warriors were led by Mike Schwartz's 39. John Phillips at 41 and both Barry White and Ron Malvin at 42 rounded out the losing score.

In frosh-soph action the Knights also opened their season with a pair of victories. They handled Elgin-Larkin with ease, 181 to 201, but just slipped by Deerfield, 178 to 179.

BEST FOR the younger Prospect golfers against E-L was Art Schroeder. He had a 41. Bruce Timko, with a 42, Steve Orrell, with a 46, and Scott Crawford, with a 52, were others who were low while Jim Cowdrey came in with a 54 and was fifth. Timko's total was helped by a birdie he posted on the 155 yard, par three 12th hole.

Royals scorers were Keith Maisto, 47; Bernie Jensen, 48; Laurie Lieberman, 50; and Dale Larsen, 56.

Orrell came back to lead the Knights in the meet with Deerfield. He had a 42 and was pushed by the 43 of Gusty Yedor. Schroeder and Crawford came in at 46 and 47 respectively while Mike Harris and Rick Morris tied for fifth at 51.

Taking frosh-soph honors was Mike Schuler of the Warriors with a 41. Craig Weichmann had a 45, Keith Whitaker a 46 and Dean Laffey a 47 for the narrowly beaten losers.

Whip Niles 8-2

First Victory For FV Nine

One left arm brought victory number one.

Forest View's baseball aggregation lost its first three games of the 1966 season. Then, last Wednesday, FV traveled to face Niles North.

Opening on the Falcons mound against NN was junior southpaw Marty Fontana. He gave up one run on two hits and two walks and fanned four in the five innings he worked.

While Fontana's strong hurling held the Vikings in check, Forest View batters built a big lead. Pacing that attack were Rick Henderson and Gary Kalas who combined for four hits, three RBI's and one run scored.

AT CONTEST'S end Niles had been defeated 8-2 and the Falcons had their initial triumph.

In the first inning FV jumped off to a 2-0 advantage. Wally Zimmer led off by reaching second on an error. A bunt single by Kirt Koentopp put runners on first and third. Both scored as NN's third baseman threw a bouncer off the bat of Mike Holstrom into right field.

Henderson followed with a single but Holstrom was picked off third and after he was tagged out Henderson was run down off second. Dan Smith was hit by a pitch but Kalas closed the frame by striking out.

Both teams were scoreless in the second.

FOR THE SECOND time in the game Holstrom reached base on an error. That action came with one away in the third. Henderson forced Holstrom at second for the second out but Dan Smith doubled Henderson home and Smith rode home on Kalas' single. A fly to center by Bob Erlander was the third out.

At that juncture the Falcons were in front 4-0.

In the top of the fourth Jerry Adams singled to center and was forced by Fontana who was sacrificed to second by Zimmer. Koentopp's grounder to deep short sent Fontana racing toward the plate where he was safe on a close play. Holstrom followed with a single but Holstrom lined out to short.

Fontana stopped Niles in the bottom of the fourth, his shutout still intact. However, after a three up, three down FV fifth the Vikings finally pushed a run across. An error and a single brought the tally.

FOREST VIEW wrapped up the decision in its half of the sixth. Walks to Dennis Lynch and Zimmer put runners on first and second with one out. The bases were loaded when Koentopp bunted and Niles tried but failed to catch Lynch going into third.

The Falcons sixth run resulted when Lynch scored on a wild pitch. Henderson sent two more across with a single. Bob Chudik grounded for the third out.

In the bottom of the sixth Don Gossage took over on FV's hill. He gave up a triple and single for NN's last run and last hits that frame. Gossage, a junior, whiffed two and walked one in his two inning outing.

Kalas, who lined a single to right, was the game's only base runner in the seventh.

Lions' Frosh Trackmen Win

St. Viator landed eight firsts but couldn't pick up the team triumph last week in frosh track competition with St. Joseph.

The Chargers gained a 58-56 victory.

Individual winners for the Lions were Mark Botterman in the mile run (5:17.8), Dan O'Keefe in the high hurdles (21.8), Victor Michalek in the low hurdles (24.5), Dailey in the shot put (30-6), MacDonald in the discus (84-7), Terry Herlihy in the high jump (4-8), and Dan Baron in the pole vault (7-6).

Win Evanston Invitational

Doubles Teams Pace Cards in Net Victory

"They were just great. It was a real team victory. Everyone had to come through and they did."

Arlington's Tom Pitchford was a happy coach Monday as he looked back on the varsity Cardinals' triumph in the eight-team Evanston Invitational.

The Cards scored eight points Saturday for a one-point advantage over runnerup Evanston. New Trier was third with six.

"This was certainly our biggest win of the season so far," Pitchford said. "There was a high quality of play in the tournament, and this should have given our doubles teams confidence."

IT WAS IN doubles that Arlington really spearkled en route to the team championship.

Brian Burke and Dave Milligan, working in the number one doubles slot, "played exceptional tennis" as they knocked over three opponents for the title.

John Jarecki and Jim Esser, who normally work in singles, were paired in second doubles, and they also toppled three opponents in claiming an Invitational championship.

SINGLES PLAYERS Billy Von Boeckmann and John Brost had nothing to be ashamed about despite falling in second round matches.

Von Boeckmann, only a sophomore, got by Mike Masoncup of Maine South in his first match in No. 1 singles, 6-4, 6-0, but fell to eventual champion Gale Carrell of Evanston in the semi-finals, 6-0, 2-6, 6-2.

"Bill ran into a good boy but still turned in some fine tennis for us," Pitchford praised. "He actually gave Carrell a better match than Marc Bishop of Niles East, who reached the finals."

BRIAN BURKE

BROST, THE most inexperienced of the varsity Cards in the Invitational, gave them a vital point in number two singles when he whipped Steve Bickel of Homewood-Flossmoor, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

The march of Burke and Milligan to the No. 1 doubles title was launced with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Clayton Mark and Jack Lanpher of Evanston. The talented Cardinal duo then eliminated Cook and Chad Swanson of Rockford West in the semi's, 6-1, 6-2.

In the title tussle in first doubles Burke and Milligan whipped New Trier's Andy Crawford and Chip Clements, 10-8, 6-3.

IN SECOND doubles Jarecki and Esser opened with a 6-0, 6-2 win over Dick Galen and Dave Kritzler of Niles East. They bumped Roger Friskey and Peter Smith of Evanston in the semi's, 6-2, 6-3, and coasted in the title match against Bob Landman and Rick Davis of New Trier, 6-2, 6-2.

"The doubles teams both earned their titles," Pitchford said. "They had to beat Evanston and New Trier on the way."

Host Warriors Capture First

'Cats Take 2nd, Knights 3rd In Maine's Track Triangular

Wheeling and Prospect track units battled down to the wire last Saturday. The 'Cats finally edged the Knights by two points 46-44.

There was just one trouble with that two team finish. It came in a triangular meet. Maine West, the third entry, won with 68 points.

For second Wheeling had five firsts, four seconds and thirds and one fourth. Three top spots, six runner-up places, a trio of thirds and a quartet of fourths went to Prospect.

HIGHEST POINT getter for the Wildcats of coach Jim Hoffman was Jim Bowker. Bowker was best in both the 220 and 440 yard dashes and third in the 100. He had a :23.3 in the 220 and :53.2 in the 440 to win and a :10.7 for his third. Bowker personally collected 12 meet points.

Behind Bowker for Wheeling was Bob Bromley. He had eight meet points with a first in the 180 yard low hurdles, in :21.2, and a second in the 120 yard highes, in :15.9.

Leading Prospect were Vaughn Pederson and Phil Cordina. Pederson was first in the high hurdles in :15.8 and second in the lows in :21.3. Tops in the pole vault was Cordina, with a leap of 12 feet. He also was runner-up in the high jump with the bar at five feet, four inches.

Other firsts for the Wildcats went to Tony Stoik and Jim Lemerande. Stoik's 42 feet, five inches paced the shot putters while a 123 foot, 7½ inch toss put Lemerande ahead in the discus. Lemerande was also second in the shot with a heave of 41 feet, 6¼ inches.

THE KNIGHTS mile relay unit won their team's other first. A clocking of 3:30.6 put the running quartet of coach Dick Calisch in ahead.

Additional seconds for Prospect were picked up by Leroy Rateike, at 19 feet, 6¼ inches in the broad jump; Dennis Breen, with a 10:41.8 in the two mile; Sid White, in the discus (distance unavilable); and Vince Curry, with a :54.4 in the 440.

Mike Guiney gained Wheeling's other second in the 220. He was timed in :24.0. Guiney was also fourth in the 100 in :10.7.

Among the many good showings for Maine's varsity entry, two were especially outstandings. Those were the 4:22.0 time of soph Lee LaBadie in the mile and the 1:59.4 of Kevin Flurkey in the 880. Both performers, of course, won their events.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level there was a slightly different story. The Wildcats jumped into first, with 68 points, while MW was next at 58 and the Knights third at 33.

Leading the way for Wheeling were Coe Meyer and Tom Johann. Meyer was first in the discus and broad jump and third in the 100 yard dash. A first in the high hurdles went to Johann, who also took second in the lows and thirds in the 220 and broad jump. Both got 12 meet points.

Steve Holmes and Mike Corteen, with 10 and eight points respectively, led the younger Knights. Holes finished ahead in the mile and 880 while Corteen won the 100 yard dash and was second in the 220.

Other firsts for the 'Cats went to Mike Mirchell in the high jump, Bob Maslin in the pole vault, and the 880 and mile relay teams. Prospect's F-S team took no firsts other than those which went to Holmes and Corteen.

Lion Sophs Drop Four

It wasn't a week to remember for St. Viator's frosh-soph baseball team.

The Lions dropped four contests and watched their season record dip to 2-6-1.

Glenbrook North pushed over seven runs in the fifth inning and posted a 12-8 victory over the Lions. Dan Klingberg was the losing pitcher in relief.

A five-run fourth carried the Maine South Hawks to an 8-2 win over St. Viator on Thursday afternoon. Brian Rooney was the losing pitcher, and Len Basak had the long blow for the Lions with a double.

In Chicagoland Prep League play Friday Holy Cross put across five runs in the third frame and held on for a 6-3 victory. Ken Balinski was the losing hurler.

See separate story on St. Viator's soph game with Prospect.

Cards Topple 'Cat Trackmen

Arlington High School senior Steve Ewart, who 48 hours earlier had collected three first place medals in a dual meet with Hinsdale, repeated his impressive effort last Thursday afternoon as the varsity Cardinals toppled visiting Wheeling in a dual track meet.

Ewart dashed to victories in the 100, 220, and 440 yard events in Arlington's 77-41 conquest of the Wildcats.

Ewart had a 10.5 clocking in winning the 100 yard dash, and he came back with a 23.1 in the 220. He nipped Wheeling's Jim Bowker at the wire in a 51.8 quarter-mile.

The expected duels between Ewart and two Wildcat standouts never came off due to injuries.

JIM LISAFELD, Wheeling's crack sprinter, pulled up lame in the 100 yard dash, and Bill Lytle, one of the area's finest 440 men, is on the sidelines with a knee injury.

There were two double winners on a varsity level.

Wheeling's Bob Bromley skimmed over the 120 yard high hurdles in a fine 15.7 and came back with a 21.3 in the 180 yard lows.

ARLINGTON'S Tom Hahn won the high jump at five feet six inches and the broad jump at 18-10½.

Arlington had four other firsts.

Arlington had four other firsts. Dave Schimpf stepped to a 4:38.4 mile in topping teammate Tom Thornton by one-tenth of a second, and Greg Zachwieja got off his finest throw of the season in the discus at 143 feet two and one-half inches.

Kim Markshausen of Arlington topped the shot put field with a flip of 49 feet four inches.

ARLINGTON ALSO won the mile relay with a 3:36.6 clocking.

Paul Fiegen gave the Wildcats a first place award in the 880 yard run with a 2:01.3 clocking, and Bob Maslin cleared 11 feet in the pole vault. The 'Cats had a 1:37.5 half-mile relay.

Arlington also won the frosh-soph meet but had more difficulty en route to a 62-56 triumph.

TERRY PITTS was a triple winner for the Cards as he topped the 100 yard dash in 10.9, the 220 yard dash in 24.4, and the 440 in 54.6.

Other Arlington winners were Dave Dieters in the 880 yard run (2:06.8), Rory Cassidy in the mile run (4:46.4), Dave Steele over the low hurdles (21.7), Brian Marinello in the shot put (38-¼), and Bob Graham in the high jump (5-4).

Tom Johann took firsts in the broad jump (17-6 3/4) and high hurdles (16.2) to pace the Wheeling frosh-sophs.

Other 'Cat firsts were gained by Tom Nelson in the pole vault (11-6) and Grund in the discus throw (112-6½).

Wheeling took the 880 yard relay in 1:42.9, and Arlington had a 3:45.2 mile relay.

Falcons Lose Links Opener

What difference does a year make? It makes four strokes difference, at least to Forest View golfers.

Last spring the Falcons links team opened its 1965 season by meeting West Leyden. FV lost that match by three strokes, 160 to 163.

Last Thursday the Falcons initiated their 1966 campaign and again challenged the WL aggregation. In that greens and fairways action FV was topped, but by a margin four strokes greater, 172 to 179.

Best in the meet for Forest View and coach Al Kintzle was Al Piehl. A senior letterman, Piehl led both teams with a 39 for the nine hole contest. That score resulted from six pars, two bogeys and one double bogey.

OTHER SCORERS for the Falcons were Doug Turner, Steve Pierce and Emile Bouchez. All three are juniors. Turner carded a nine hole score of 44 while Pierce went around in 47 and Bouchez in 49.

Scores which gave Leyden's Knights their triumph were a pair of 42's, a 43 and a 45.

At the frosh-soph level there was considerably more than four strokes difference. One year ago FV's younger golfers turned back WL by nine, 211 to 220, but last week Forest View gained victory by 30 strokes, 187 to 217. That 187, an excellent total for the first meet, is only eight above the varsity score.

Turning in the good F-S cards were two sophomores, Fred Lauing and Mark Johnson, and two freshmen, Steve Brown and Mike Harvey. Lauing led with a 44 while Brown was next with a 46 and Harvey and Johnson turned in a 48 and 49 respectively.

THE KNIGHTS used individual scores of 52, 54, 55 and 56 for their 217.

Second match of the season for the Falcons had been scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Kintzle's linksmen were to have faced Niles East but rain washed out the meet which will be rescheduled. Next golf action for FV will come tomorrow at 4:15 at home against St. Viator.

'Y' Launches Soccer Drills

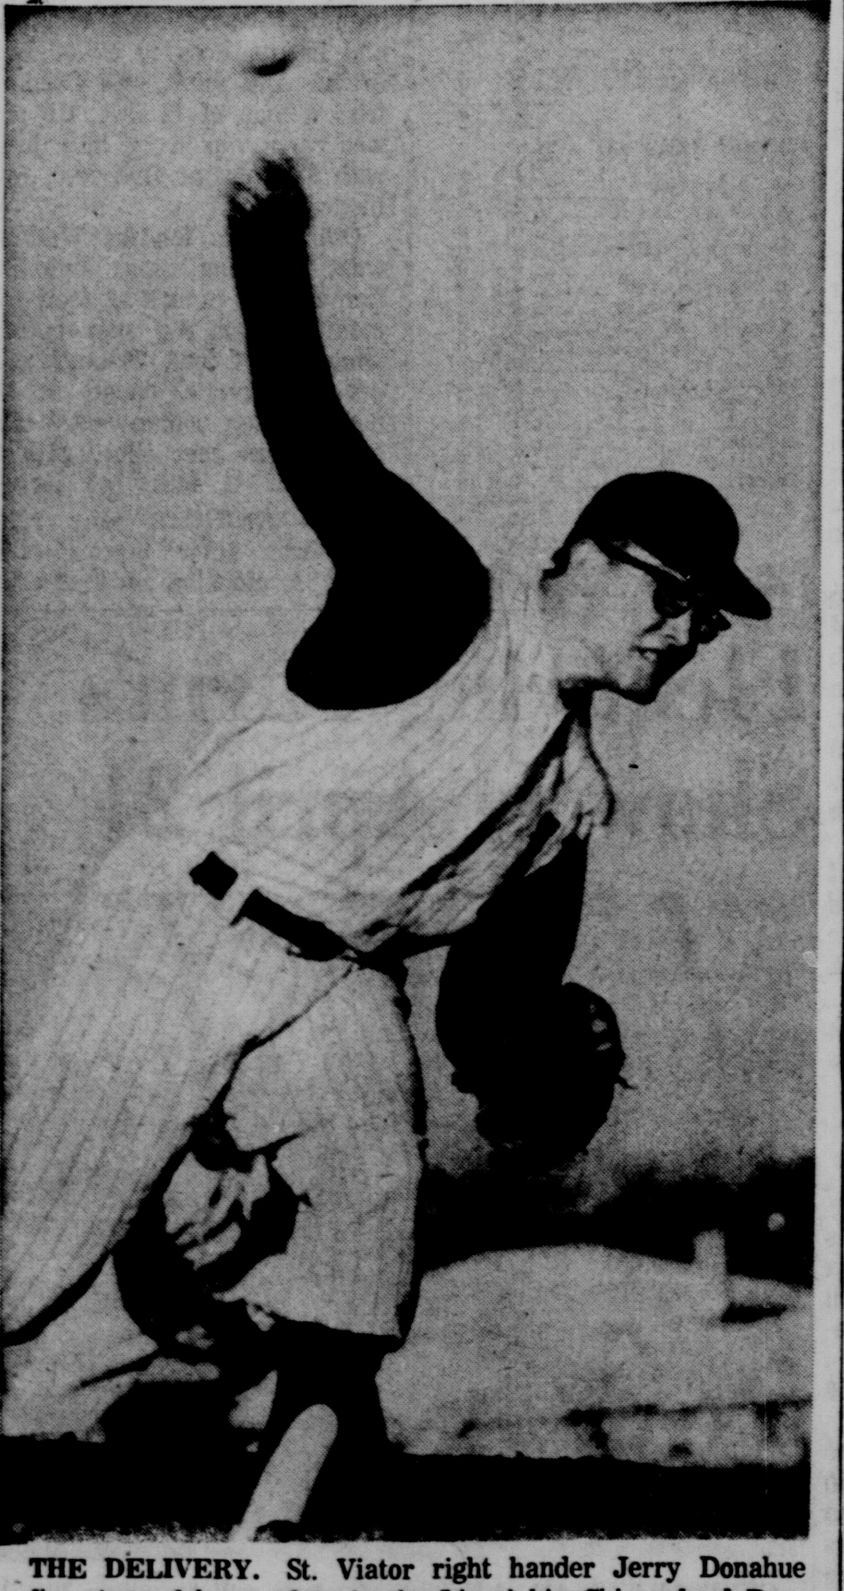
The Northwest Suburban YMCA will begin regular soccer practice for boys 9-17 years of age this Saturday, April 23.

Practices will be held every Saturday from 3:00-4:00 p.m. under the direction of Coach Pete Bogner. All boys in the northwest suburban area are invited to attend, whether they are "Y" members or not.

A schedule of games is now divided into three age groups, one for boys 11 and under, another for boys 12-14 and a third for youngsters 15-17.

Practice will be held at the "Y," 300 E. Northwest Highway, Des Plaines. Youngsters should wear regular outdoor play clothes.

For further information call Cliff Lothery at the "Y," phone 296-3376.



THE DELIVERY. St. Viator right hander Jerry Donahue fires toward home plate in the Lions' big Chicagoland Prep League meeting with Holy Cross last Friday afternoon. Donahue went the full seven innings in absorbing a 3-2 setback. Jerry took a 2-2 season mark into action this week.

But Frosh-Sophs Win

Wildcat Tennis Unit Falls to Niles West

News at the varsity level was not good but Wheeling's frosh-soph tennis team continued its winning ways.

On Tuesday afternoon the 'Cats varsity netters were beaten by Niles West 5-0. That was their second defeat of the young season.

IN F-S COMPETITION there was a second straight triumph for Wheeling players. They swept the singles matches and finished ahead of NW by a 4-1 count.

Opening varsity action Steve Groot of the Wildcats fell in first singles 6-0, 6-4. Walk Krier and Tony Martin lost in second and third singles. Both were on the short end of identical 6-1, 6-1 totals.

In doubles, Wheeling's team of Karl Meisenheimer and Ed Graves pushed their opponents to the limits before going down 9-7, 8-6. Dave Liu and Dave Stanowski dropped the second doubles match 6-2, 6-1.

Jim Cuca started the 'Cats frosh-sophs on their way to victory. He turned in perfect 6-0, 6-0 sccores to sweep past his first singles competition. Second singles went to Scott Decker 6-2, 6-1 while Tom Kreis captured the third singles decision 6-1, 6-4.

AFTER THEIR first doubles combination had been defeated Bill Reinhardt and Dan DenBeste came back in second doubles. That pair got a 6-4, 6-2 win for Wheeling to close the meet.

During the next five days coach Ted Ecker will lead his Wheeling net aggregation against three opponents. Today the 'Cats travel to Niles North while Saturday they host West Leyden before taking to the road once again next Tuesday for a trip to Glenbrook North. All three meets begin at 4:30 p.m.

Sixth Inning Woes For Cardinal Frosh

The sixth inning proved to be a nightmare in three of Arlington's four frosh baseball contests last week.

It started on Thursday afternoon after the Cardinals and pitcher Rick Roeing had dropped an 8-0 decision to York on Wednesday.

Arlington only trailed Glenbrook South by one run heading into the sixth, but the Titans exploded for three markers to put the decision out of reach and claim an 8-4 victory.

Gary McDougall, who relieved in the third inning for the Cards, was the losing pitcher.

On Saturday the sixth inning problems continued.

Downers Grove scored a single run in the sixth to top the Cards and pitcher Steve Stratton in one half of a doubleheader, 2-1.

The host Trojans trailed Arlington by four runs, 5-1, in the sixth of another game Saturday but erupted with six markers to take a 7-5 win.

Gary Anderson, who relieved starter George Cresswell, was the Cardinal loser.

Arlington was scheduled to play Glenbard West yesterday (Wednesday), weather permitting. Coach Jack Lifschin's outfit will entertain Hinsdale Saturday in a doubleheader and Maine East next Wednesday.

Evanston Thinclads Stop Pirates 92-34

Evanston's defending state track champions whipped Palatine's thincalds last week (Wednesday), but the Pirates got something out of the defeat.

While Bob Trevarthen's Wildkits were running up a 92-34 count in a chilly, windy evening dual at Evanston, Joe Johnson's crew did win one event it was shooting for: the mile relay.

The quartet of Bill Bahnfleth, John Blanchard, Rick Ortman and Randy McWilliams ran a strong 3.28.6 to beat the highly-rated foursome from Evanston.

THE PIRATES had three other victories in the meet, with McWilliams flashing a fine 2:00.9 in the 880 yard run, Duane Hosimer ruling the shot put with a heave of 52-2¼, and Joe Coffaro hurling the discus 140-8½. Hosimer also had a third in the disc, with 136-4½.

Other Palatine points came from Blanchard, second in the 440 to Evanston's brilliant Roy Houston, who won in :49.8; from Jerry Kissner, second in the high hurdles; from Bill Meister, second in the low; from Rick Johnston, second in the pole vault; and from John Ekeberg, third in the 220.

The 880 relay team ran a good 1:32.9, but ended a second behind Evanston's team.

The sophomore and freshman Pirates were also drubbed, the sophs by 101-22 and the freshmen 87-31. Palatine had one winner on the sophomore level, Mark Aggerbeck in the two mile run. Gathering seconds were Dave Kehe in the 880, Dave Chidley in the high hurdles; John Lang in the shot put.

Among the freshmen, Ray Sommer had a first in the two mile run, Dave Wessner in the low hurdles and Bob Dolatowski in the discus. The mile relay team also won.

Opening Switched

The opening card of the new stock car racing season at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park Roads in Schiller Park, has been moved back to Saturday night, April 30. A new first race time will be in effect this year—8 p.m. Gates will open nightly at 6 p.m.

Opening date had earlier been announced by Promoters Bill Cherney and Tex Wooten as April 23, but it is felt that the week later date will be appreciated by even the most anxious of fans and competitors in view of the extremely late arrival of spring-type weather in Chicagoland this year.

In the meantime, free-to-the public practice sessions for both the late model convertibles and hardtops that will be in action April 30 have been set for Sunday afternoon, April 24, at O'Hare from 1 to 5 p.m.

Cards Topple 'Cat Trackmen

Arlington High School senior Steve Ewart, who 48 hours earlier had collected three first place medals in a dual meet with Hinsdale, repeated his impressive effort last Thursday afternoon as the varsity Cardinals toppled visiting Wheeling in a dual track meet.

Ewart dashed to victories in the 100, 220, and 440 yard events in Arlington's 77-41 con-quest of the Wildcats.

Ewart had a 10.5 clocking in winning the 100 yard dash, and he came back with a 23.1 in the 220. He nipped Wheeling's Jim Bowker at the wire in a 51.8 quarter-mile.

The expected duels between Ewart and two Wildcat standouts never came off due to injuries.

JIM LISAFELD, Wheeling's crack sprinter, pulled up lame in the 100 yard dash, and Bill Lytle, one of the area's finest 440 men, is on the sidelines with a knee injury.

There were two double winners on a varsity level.

Wheeling's Bob Bromley skimmed over the 120 yard high hurdles in a fine 15.7 and came back with a 21.3 in the 180 yard lows.

ARLINGTON'S Tom Hahn won the high jump at five feet six inches and the broad jump at 18-10½.

Arlington had four other firsts.

Arlington had four other firsts. Dave Schimpf stepped to a 4:38.4 mile in topping teammate Tom Thornton by one-tenth of a second, and Greg Zachwieja got off his finest throw of the season in the discus at 143 feet two and one-half inches.

Kim Markshausen of Arlington topped the shot put field with a flip of 49 feet four inches.

ARLINGTON ALSO won the mile relay with a 3:36.6 clocking.

Paul Fiegen gave the Wildcats a first place award in the 880 yard run with a 2:01.3 clocking, and Bob Maslin cleared 11 feet in the pole vault. The 'Cats had a 1:37.5 half-mile relay.

Arlington also won the frosh-soph meet but had more difficulty en route to a 62-56 triumph.

TERRY PITTS was a triple winner for the Cards as he topped the 100 yard dash in 10.9, the 220 yard dash in 24.4, and the 440 in 54.6.

Other Arlington winners were Dave Dieters in the 880 yard run (2:06.8), Rory Cassidy in the mile run (4:46.4), Dave Steele over the low hurdles (21.7), Brian Marinello in the shot put (38-¼), and Bob Graham in the high jump (5-4).

Tom Johann took firsts in the broad jump (17-6 3/4) and high hurdles (16.2) to pace the Wheeling frosh-sophs.

Other 'Cat firsts were gained by Tom Nelson in the pole vault (11-6) and Grund in the discus throw (112-6½).

Wheeling took the 880 yard relay in 1:42.9, and Arlington had a 3:45.2 mile relay.

Falcons Lose Links Opener

What difference does a year make? It makes four strokes difference, at least to Forest View golfers.

Last spring the Falcons links team opened its 1965 season by meeting West Leyden. FV lost that match by three strokes, 160 to 163.

Last Thursday the Falcons initiated their 1966 campaign and again challenged the WL aggregation. In that greens and fairways action FV was topped, but by a margin four strokes greater, 172 to 179.

Best in the meet for Forest View and coach Al Kintzle was Al Piehl. A senior letterman, Piehl led both teams with a 39 for the nine hole contest. That score resulted from six pars, two bogeys and one double bogey.

OTHER SCORERS for the Falcons were Doug Turner, Steve Pierce and Emile Bouchez. All three are juniors. Turner carded a nine hole score of 44 while Pierce went around in 47 and Bouchez in 49.

Scores which gave Leyden's Knights their triumph were a pair of 42's, a 43 and a 45.

At the frosh-soph level there was considerably more than four strokes difference. One year ago FV's younger golfers turned back WL by nine, 211 to 220, but last week Forest View gained victory by 30 strokes, 187 to 217. That 187, an excellent total for the first meet, is only eight above the varsity score.

Turning in the good F-S cards were two sophomores, Fred Lauing and Mark Johnson, and two freshmen, Steve Brown and Mike Harvey. Lauing led with a 44 while Brown was next with a 46 and Harvey and Johnson turned in a 48 and 49 respectively.

THE KNIGHTS used individual scores of 52, 54, 55 and 56 for their 217.

Second match of the season for the Falcons had been scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Kintzle's linksmen were to have faced Niles East but rain washed out the meet which will be rescheduled. Next golf action for FV will come tomorrow at 4:15 at home against St. Viator.

'Y' Launches Soccer Drills

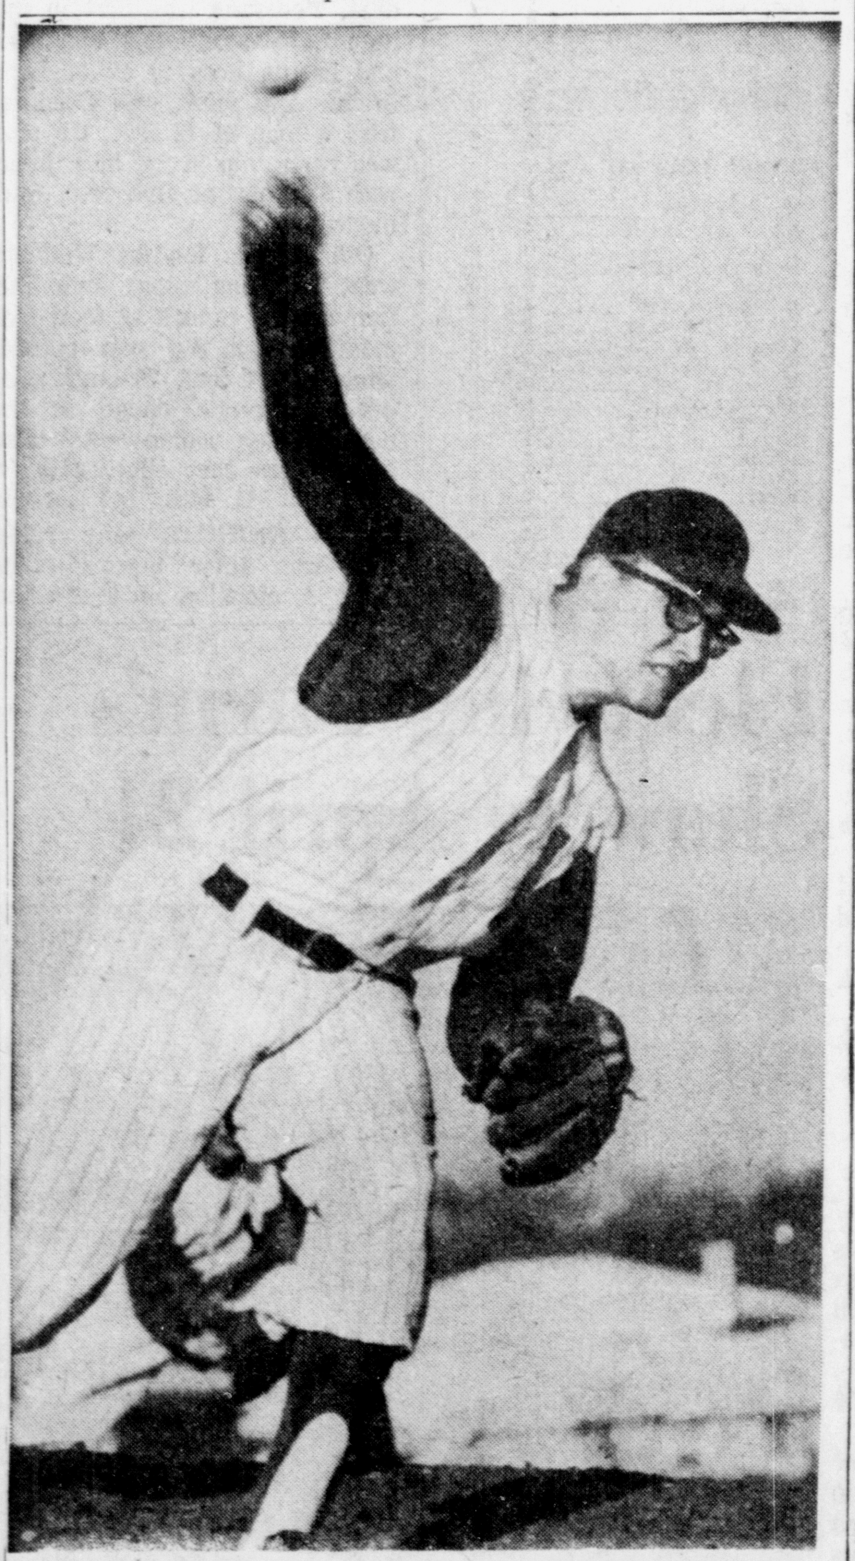
The Northwest Suburban YMCA will begin regular soccer practice for boys 9-17 years of age this Saturday, April 23.

Practices will be held every Saturday from 3:00-4:00 p.m. under the direction of Coach Pete Bogner. All boys in the northwest suburban area are invited to attend, whether they are "Y" members or not.

A schedule of games is now divided into three age groups, one for boys 11 and under, another for boys 12-14 and a third for youngsters 15-17.

Practice will be held at the "Y," 300 E. Northwest Highway, Des Plaines. Youngsters should wear regular outdoor play clothes.

For further information call Cliff Lothery at the "Y," phone 296-3376.



THE DELIVERY. St. Viator right hander Jerry Donahue fires toward home plate in the Lions' big Chicagoland Prep League meeting with Holy Cross last Friday afternoon. Donahue went the full seven innings in absorbing a 3-2 setback. Jerry took a 2-2 season mark into action this week.

But Frosh-Sophs Win

Wildcat Tennis Unit Falls to Niles West

News at the varsity level was not good but Wheeling's frosh-soph tennis team continued its winning ways.

On Tuesday afternoon the 'Cats varsity netters were beaten by Niles West 5-0. That was their second defeat of the young season.

IN F-S COMPETITION there was a second straight triumph for Wheeling players. They swept the singles matches and finished ahead of NW by a 4-1 count.

Opening varsity action Steve Groot of the Wildcats fell in first singles 6-0, 6-4. Walk Krier and Tony Martin lost in second and third singles. Both were on the short end of identical 6-1, 6-1 totals.

In doubles, Wheeling's team of Karl Meisenheimer and Ed Graves pushed their opponents to the limits before going down 9-7, 8-6. Dave Liu and Dave Stanowski dropped the second doubles match 6-2, 6-1.

Jim Cuca started the 'Cats frosh-sophs on their way to victory. He turned in perfect 6-0, 6-0 sccores to sweep past his first singles competition. Second singles went to Scott Decker 6-2, 6-1 while Tom Kreis captured the third singles decision 6-1, 6-4.

AFTER THEIR first doubles combination had been defeated Bill Reinhardt and Dan Den-Beste came back in second doubles. That pair got a 6-4, 6-2 win for Wheeling to close the meet.

During the next five days coach Ted Ecker will lead his Wheeling net aggregation against three opponents. Today the 'Cats travel to Niles North while Saturday they host West Leyden before taking to the road once again next Tuesday for a trip to Glenbrook North. All three meets begin at 4:30 p.m.

Sixth Inning Woes For Cardinal Frosh

The sixth inning proved to be a nightmare in three of Arlington's four frosh baseball contests last week.

It started on Thursday afternoon after the Cardinals and pitcher Rick Roeing had dropped an 8-0 decision to York on Wednesday.

Arlington only trailed Glenbrook South by one run heading into the sixth, but the Titans exploded for three markers to put the decision out of reach and claim an 8-4 victory.

Gary McDougall, who relieved in the third inning for the Cards, was the losing pitcher.

On Saturday the sixth inning problems continued.

Downers Grove scored a single run in the sixth to top the Cards and pitcher Steve Stratton in one half of a doubleheader, 2-1.

The host Trojans trailed Arlington by four runs, 5-1, in the sixth of another game Saturday but erupted with six markers to take a 7-5 win.

Gary Anderson, who relieved starter George Cresswell, was the Cardinal loser.

Arlington was scheduled to play Glenbard West yesterday (Wednesday), weather permitting. Coach Jack Lifschin's outfit will entertain Hinsdale Saturday in a doubleheader and Maine East next Wednesday.

Evanston Thinclads Stop Pirates 92-34

Evanston's defending state track champions whipped Palatine's thincalds last week (Wednesday), but the Pirates got something out of the defeat.

While Bob Trevarthen's Wildkits were running up a 92-34 count in a chilly, windy evening dual at Evanston, Joe Johnson's crew did win one event it was shooting for: the mile relay.

The quartet of Bill Bahnfleth, John Blanchard, Rick Ortman and Randy McWilliams ran a strong 3.28.6 to beat the highly-rated foursome from Evanston.

THE PIRATES had three other victories in the meet, with McWilliams flashing a fine 2:00.9 in the 880 yard run, Duane Hosimer ruling the shot put with a heave of 52-2¼, and Joe Coffaro hurling the discus 140-8½. Hosimer also had a third in the disc, with 136-4½.

Other Palatine points came from Blanchard, second in the 440 to Evanston's brilliant Roy Houston, who won in :49.8; from Jerry Kissner, second in the high hurdles; from Bill Meister, second in the low; from Rick Johnston, second in the pole vault; and from John Ekeberg, third in the 220.

The 880 relay team ran a good 1:32.9, but ended a second behind Evanston's team.

The sophomore and freshman Pirates were also drubbed, the sophs by 101-22 and the freshmen 87-31. Palatine had one winner on the sophomore level, Mark Aggerbeck in the two mile run. Gathering seconds were Dave Kehe in the 880, Dave Chidley in the high hurdles; John Lang in the shot put.

Among the freshmen, Ray Sommer had a first in the two mile run, Dave Wessner in the low hurdles and Bob Dolatowski in the discus. The mile relay team also won.

Opening Switched

The opening card of the new stock car racing season at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park Roads in Schiller Park, has been moved back to Saturday night, April 30. A new first race time will be in effect this year—8 p.m. Gates will open nightly at 6 p.m.

Opening date had earlier been announced by Promoters Bill Cherney and Tex Wooten as April 23, but it is felt that the week later date will be appreciated by even the most anxious of fans and competitors in view of the extremely late arrival of spring-type weather in Chicagoland this year.

In the meantime, free-to-the public practice sessions for both the late model convertibles and hardtops that will be in action April 30 have been set for Sunday afternoon, April 24, at O'Hare from 1 to 5 p.m.

Prospect Wins Two Net Duals

Up, off, and away to an excellent start . . .

Prospect began 1966 tennis competition with meets held last Wednesday and Saturday. A pair of wins resulted from those opening encounters.

First the Knights registered a shutout 5-0 victory over Elgin and then they edged past Maine East 3-2. Coach Chuck Sandine's netters had moved off to a 2-0 record.

At the frosh-soph level the start wasn't quite as good. Prospect's younger tennis entry duplicated the varsity 5-0 score against Elgin but then was ripped 3-2 by M.E.

FOR THE varsity Knights Glen Morton gave a good initiation to the campaign. He took first singles from Elgin by 6-3, 6-2 scores. Second and third singles matches went to Bryan Kiehl and Craig Wolf. Kiehl came out on top 6-2, 6-3 while 6-0, 6-4 tallies put Wolf ahead.

To complete Prospect's sweep both doubles combinations won. Tom Johnson and Jeff Long took 6-1, 6-1 sets while Paul Colianni and Chuck Hengls came through on 6-0, 6-1 totals.

The court battle with Maine found Morton again taking a straight set triumph. He won 6-4, 6-0. Scores of 6-4 and 6-2 sent Kiehl down to defeat in second singles and evened the meet but Wolf won 6-1, 6-0 putting Prospect ahead 2-1.

Johnson and Long teamed in first doubles to clinch victory for their team. The first set was easily taken 6-3 but the second set went 18 games before Johnson and Long took it 10-8. Colianni paired with Doug Heitzman in second doubles and lost in three sets 6-2, 4-6, 8-10.

IN THE OPENING pair of frosh-soph meets the Knights' Dave Johnson was the lone singles player to win twice. He beat his first singles opponent from Elgin 6-1, 6-3 and the Maine East entry 7-5, 6-2.

Chuck Hughson and Bill Wichman took second and third singles matches when facing Elgin. Hughson won with perfect 6-0, 6-0 scores while only one point was dropped by Wichman 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles against Elgin went to Boss Bondy and Clark Weber, 6-4, 6-4, and Jim Schiesser and Jeff Saur, 6-1, 6-1.

Hughson and Wichman both were knocked off by Maine's players. Hughson falling in three sets 1-6, 6-1, 5-7, before Wichman was topped 7-5, 6-2. Bondy and Weber fell 6-3, 4-6, 7-9 but Schiesser and Bob Brahl took a 6-3, 7-5 decision setting the final 3-2 meet score.

St. Viator Varsity in Track Loss

St. Viator managed only three first places Tuesday afternoon on a varsity level in a 77½ to 38½ track and field loss at Glenbrook North.

Bob Cooper was a double winner in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Ed Brown went 18 feet six inches in the broad jump.

Cooper had clockings of 10.8 in the century and 24.5 in the furlong.

The Lions had better luck in frosh-soph action as they topped the host Spartans, 66-50.

Dave Friedrichs was a double winner with 11.3 and 25.5 clockings in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Other St. Viator victors were Mark Pomplun in the 880 yard run, Tom Baron in the pole vault, Mike Cunningham in the mile run, Bob Rose in the shot put, and Leo Zikonski in the discus.

St. Viator will run against St. George Saturday afternoon at Winnemac Park with a 2:30 starting time.

Walks, Errors Fatal

Cougar 9 Battered 17-0 by Glenbrook

If there are certain contests in which athletes must get their troubles out of their system, Conant's baseball players had one last Friday. And headman Lynn Crouch must hope it was that kind of game.

The Cougars were overwhelmed 17-0 by the Spartans of Glenbrook North, as the victors pounded out 13 hits to capitalize on eight walks and seven Conant errors. The Cougars, for their part, were handcuffed from the beginning by the pitching of Scott Krause, getting only three runners on base in the game, and only one of those on a hit. That was a Dennis Shaw single in the fifth.

GLENBROOK NORTH, shaping up as one of the more potent diamond units in the area, used the combination of good pitching, strong hitting, tight defense and taking advantage of the breaks to charge away with the game. The Spartans tallied once in the first, three times in the second and 10 times in the fourth to reach the unbeatable stage.

Three Conant pitchers toiled in the game, with starter Mike Garchie getting the loss and first reliefer Craig Johnson the worst of it. John Moffat worked one inning without trouble.

The game, fifth in five days for the Cougars, put their early season mark at 2-3, and was almost the antithesis to Conant's drubbing of Maryville the day before.

The most agonizing time was the fourth inning, when Johnson was snowed under by four walks, three errors and six hits. Fifteen Spartans batted in the frame, and those 10 scored before it was over.

Arlington Wins On Frosh Track

Gary Fagerson, and Will Heinemann were double winners Tuesday afternoon as Arlington's freshman track squad whipped Prospect, 86-41.

Fagerson topped the high hurdles and pole vault, and Heinemann ruled the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Other Cardinal winners were Doherty in the 440 yard dash, Larry Larson in the low hurdles, and Paul Tollefson in the shot put.

Posting Prospect's firsts were Dick Paulson in the two-mile, Eric Swanson in the 880 and mile, Steve Schmidt in the high jump, Bob Bachhuber in the broad jump, and Tim Hammann in the discus.

FV Nines Lose Two, Win Three

Freshmen were successful but the sophs were bounced twice last week as Forest View opened baseball competition on the lower levels.

The FV frosh A team beat York 10-5 and Niles North 6-5 while the frosh B's slipped by NN 10-8. Scores of 10-9 and 11-9 meant sophomore setbacks for the Falcons at the hands of York and Niles.

Pat Corrado and Jim Dagget pitched the frosh A win over York. John Caltigrone, John Turner and Tom Wasilewski all hit triples in the winners seven hit attack. John Cavello and Turner each had two RBI's.

A full six inning route was turned in for the A's by Dagget against NN. Three FV tallies in the bottom of the last frame led to victory. Bill Manning, Corrado and Caltigrone had doubles for FV. Caltigrone knocked in the tying and winning runs.

In frosh B play against Niles the winning hurler was Bob Gaddini. His Falcons teammates gave him an 8-0 lead in the first two innings.

Errors dominated the play of Forest View's sophs. In their two close losses there were 45 miscues committed. Mark Ernst and Bruce Finch were on the mound against Niles while Keith Bauer hurled and hit a double against York. Late opponent rallies caused the FV setbacks in both contests.

Waycinden Tryouts

The Waycinden Area Boys Baseball League will meet Saturday at 10 a.m. at Einstein School for a program in connection with their first tryout and rating.

The boys will be seeing a double feature. The first film will be "Batting Tips" by Ted Williams and the second film will be "The Game No One Has Seen," which shows a session with the St. Louis Cardinals.

After the films, the boys will be taken out on the field for batting practice, fielding the ball, and catching fly balls. These sessions will be under the guidance of coaches who will rate the boys' abilities and attitude. These rating cards will be used later by the Commissioners to make up a group of balanced teams, which will be called together again at a later date to practice.

There is still time to register for this year's activities and those boys wishing to play and not as yet registered should contact Paul Augustine at 824-5978 or Laurie Woollard at 827-2432.

Bob Kukla Aids Monmouth Team

A former Palatine high trackman helped his team to victory in last Saturday's Monmouth Relays at Monmouth College.

Bob Kukla, a sophomore at Monmouth, took an individual trophy for third place in the 100 yard dash, and ran legs on the second place 440-yard relay and fourth place 880-yard relay teams.

A sprinter and relay man in his first varsity season at Monmouth, Kukla has been running the 100 in around 10 seconds flat this season, and had a first in a meet at Beloit and a second at Coe..

He was, as a Palatine senior in 1964, the leadoff man on the school's "Cinderella" 880 relay team, a unit that finished second in the state.

CATCHING CAN BE A difficult occupation at times as St. Viator junior Dan Collins learned in last Friday's Chicagoland Prep League meeting with Holy Cross. Collins was felled by a foul ball but bounced back to finish out the game. Holy Cross nipped the Lions, 3-2, with a run in the seventh inning. (Staff photo)

Posts 6-3 Victory

Maine South Whips Lions

by BOB FRISK

There are times when non-conference games come at the wrong time.

Like the day before a crucial league encounter when you need your strongest pitching.

St. Viator's varsity Lions, obviously looking ahead to their Chicagoland Prep League meeting with Holy Cross the next day, suffered a 6-3 loss to visiting Maine South last Thursday afternoon.

Maine's John Spiggos, a lefty, and right-hander Chuck Richards combined to check the host Lions with one safety, a soft drive to right field in the fifth inning by Denny Wilkinson.

ST. VIATOR was operating with a "new look" lineup which put a pitcher in center field, the regular third baseman at shortstop, a newcomer at third, a shortstop on the mound, and—after two innings—a reserve behind the plate.

Tom McDonald, who is no newcomer to the mound although he has been thought of as primarily a shortstop this spring, went the first four innings for St. Viator and allowed four hits and two runs.

Mike Miller, a sophomore lefty, finished up and was tagged with the loss.

MAINE'S SPIGGOS knocked down the Lions without a hit over the first four innings and has only himself to blame for his fifth inning troubles.

Nursing a 2-0 lead, Spiggos launched the fifth in fine style by fanning Bob Stevens and Larry Snyder. He then proceeded to walk three straight hitters to load the bases.

Wilkinson, the Lion right fielder who had three hits two days earlier in the loss at Carmel, poked a soft fly to right which fell for St. Viator's first and only hit of the game.

THREE RUNS scored on Wilkinson's hit, and the Lions kept the threat going as Paul Rocca and Tom Collins walked. But relief pitcher Richards got out of the jam with a strikeout.

Maine South moved back into the lead in the sixth on a walk, three singles, and an error and added one more run in the seventh.

The Lions had one base runner in the sixth but went down in order in the concluding seventh.

Lions Trackmen Whip St. Joseph

Denny Forston was a double winner last week as St. Viator's varsity track squad nipped St. Joseph by four points in action at Rockne Stadium.

Forston, a junior, collected place awards in the shot put at 45 feet one-half inch and in the discus at 123 feet as the Lions posted a 56½-52½ victory.

The varsity Lions had four other firsts in their first outdoor triumph.

Ed Brown sailed 19 feet in the broad jump for five team points, and Fred Booth clipped off a 2:12.6 in the 880. Pat Smith and John McDonald tied for first in the 440 with 55.6 efforts.

PETER PETERHANS gave St. Voator a first in the two mile run when he covered the distance in 10:52.9.

St. Viator a first in the two to worry about on a frosh-soph level, rolling to eight firsts in a 62-34 victory.

Dave Friedrichs won two individual events and worked on a victorious relay team to spark the Lion win.

Friedrichs flashed to a 10.8 clocking in the 100 yard dash and 24.4 in the 220 and he teamed with Bob Beirly, Dom Bellino, and Steve Boll for a 1:42.7 in the 880 yard relay.

OTHER WINNERS for the frosh-soph Lions were Mark Pomplun in the 880 yard run (2:19.8), Mike Cunningham in the mile run (5:06), Tom Carr in the high hurdles (19.9), Bob Rose in the shot put (37-10½), and Kavin Kaskie in the discus throw (107-2).

The victory was the third straight for St. Viator's frosh-soph entry in dual competiton.

Schoolboy Star

Glenn Beckert, youthful second baseman for the Chicago Cubs, was an all-city selection in both baseball and basketball playing for Pittsburgh's Perry high school.

Slams Long Triple

It's tough enough to lose in seven innings.

What really hurts is when you're deprived of even getting a chance to bat in the final inning.

Arlington High School lost its first West Suburban Conference baseball game last week (Wednesday) but you'll have a hard time convincing the varsity Cardinals that they couldn't have overcome a one-run deficit with one more crack at York pitching.

The visiting Dukes took home a 4-3 victory in a game cut short after six innings in a surprising decision by the chief umpire.

THE CLOCK SAID 6:04 p.m., the sun was setting in the west, and there appeared to be enough light to conclude one more inning, but the umpire said no without any previous warning to either coach.

The abrupt decision to stop the contest came after the host Cardinals had climbed to within one run of York in the sixth.

First baseman Doug Fink, who had driven home Arlington's first run in the second inning with a sharp single to right, sent two teammates across in the sixth with a booming triple to the right field corner.

FINK REPRESENTED the tying run on third base with two outs, but pinch hitter Bob Hecht rifled a line drive to center field that was hauled down by John Sonneberg.

Arlington, striving to record its first win after two non-league setbacks, had moved in front 1-0 in the second inning.

Thad Woodard reached second when his high infield pop was dropped by York Pitcher Mike Stertz. Woodard went to third on Jim Jorgensen's single to center and came across when Fink slashed a sizzler to right.

CARDINAL RIGHT hander Steve Allen had a shutout going until the fourth when the Dukes cashed in with three runs on three hits, a walk, and two errors. The big blow was Sonneberg's triple to right-center that drove two runners home.

York added its fourth run in the fifth. Glen Michi produced a single to right, and he scampered all the way to third base on a sacrifice bunt. The Duke right fielder scored on a wild pitch.

Arlington's best threat outside of the two scoring innings was in the third.

MARK FRASE lined a single down the third base line to launch the Cardinal third and went to second when Ron Horcher was safe on an error. The runners moved ahead on a passed ball, but York's Stertz, a 5-foot-8 lefty, got out of the jam by getting the next three hitters without a ball leaving the infield.

Allen went six innings for the Cardinals and allowed seven hits, striking out six and walking three. Stertz of York toiled five and two-thirds innings. The Duke southpaw struck out nine and didn't walk a man.

Over Hinsdale Varsity

Ewart Paces Card Trackmen to Win

Steve Ewart dominated the shorter running events by scoring three firsts last week as Arlington's varsity track and field team edged Hinsdale, 61-57, in outdoor competition.

Ewart took the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes in respectable clockings to give Coach Bruce Samoore's Cards three of their seven firsts in the four-point varsity win.

Arlington coasted on a frosh-soph level, 91-27.

Ewart fashioned a 10.3 in the century, 23.2 in the 220, and 52.2 in the 440 in pacing the varsity Cardinals.

CARY ANNEN was a double winner with a 16.5 clocking over the high hurdles and 21.0 over the lows.

Junior Greg Zachwieja got off a toss of 133 feet one inch in the discus for another Arlington first, and Tom Thornton turned in a 4:48.4 mile.

Dave Steele and Todd Somers each won two individual events to pace Arlington to its 91-27 frosh-soph victory.

STEELE COVERED the high hurdles in 18 seconds flat and the lows in 22.2. Somers won the broad jump (17-10) and pole vault (10-0) and also worked on the victorious mile relay team.

Joining Somers on the relay unit were Terry Pitts, Dave Dieters, and Chuck McGuffey. Pitts won the 440 yard dash in 55 seconds, and Dieters turned in a 2:07.2 for the 880.

Also scoring Cardinal firsts were Paul Tollefson in the shot put (38-5), Rory Cassidy in the mile run (4:52.5), and Chris Kaucher in the discus (103-5).

Lions Rock St. Patrick

St. Viator's varsity tennis team rolled to its third victory in four duals last Thursday by trouncing St. Patrick of Chicago, 5-0.

The triumph was the second in two Chicagoland Prep League meets for Coach Pete Dunderdale's Lions.

Scoring singles wins for St. Viator were John Allare (6-1, 6-1) Dave Harris (6-4, 8-6), and Tim Plesko (6-4, 7-5).

Teaming up for doubles victories were Greg Leydig and John Lavigne in the number one spot (6-1, 3-6, 7-5) and Jim Hillenmeyer and Greg Sidor in No. 2 (6-1, 6-8, 6-1).

St. Viator will host St. Mel today (Thursday) and will journey to St. Ignatius Saturday. The Lions will return home for meets next Monday and Tuesday with Carmel and St. George.

Lions' Golfers Drop Two

St. Viator's golfers launched the 1966 season with two tight losses.

Father Patrick Durkin's varsity Lions dropped a three-stroke decision to Carmel (165-168) at Village Green and fell by one stroke Tuesday in a triangular.

Notre Dame, with Jerry Damasus breaking Rob Roy's par with a sharp 34, bagged triangular honors with 155 strokes. St. Viator was second with 156 and Immaculate Conception third with 163.

Pat Hawley fired a 38 and Craig Crotty a 39 for the Lions against Carmel. Dean Muench and Tim Holmes followed with 42 and 49 respectively.

Hawley and Muench were the leaders Tuesday as they fashioned 38s at Rob Roy. Crotty was right behind with a 39 and Tom Cullen had a 41.

In frosh-soph play St. Viator whipped Carmel, 188-200, and also won the triangular by one stroke (183-184) over Notre Dame.

Dennis Palubicki was low against Carmel with a 43. Bob Horan (46), Ken Sophie (49), and Tim Moore (50) also figured in the scoring.

Horan (43), Palubicki (44), Sophie (48), and Ed Vallely (48) were the Lion scorers Tuesday.

FV Blanked 5-0

York's Netmen Topple Falcons

A tennis buzz-saw, driven by underclassmen, cut down and defeated Forest View last Wednesday.

York, playing two freshmen, a soph, two juniors and a pair of seniors stopped the Falcons net entry. Final meet score was 5-0.

"Their young team beat us badly in all five varsity match'es," said FV coach Rog Steingraber. "They played well and we were certainly not at our best."

To start the shutout Forest View's Jim Buckholz was topped 6-3, 6-1 in his first singles match. Then Rick Gillespie and Howie Brasch were setback in second and third singles. Gillespie lost 6-2, 6-4 while 6-3, 6-3 scores brought Brasch defeat.

THE DUKES winning singles trio were juniors Andy Pachner and Walt Koenig and frosh Jeff Dawson.

In first doubles Brian and Bruce Lampert of FV were whipped 6-1, 6-2. Yirk's whitewash was complete after Falcons Dick Zapfel and Bob Glaser dropped a 6-1, 8-6 decision.

At the frosh-soph level Forest View was also beaten but that meet couldn't have been much closer. Every lower level match went to three sets with the Dukes finally taking the triumph by a slim 3-2 margin.

Jim Musgrave got the Falcons off to a strong start. He came out ahead in F-S first singles 7-9, 6-3, 10-8. Losing in second and third singles matches were Dave Erickson and Gordon Folkman. A 1-6, 6-2, 6-8 tally belonged to Erickson while identical scores caused Folkman's defeat.

FV CAME BACK to even the meet at 2-2 on the strength of a 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 first doubles win by Mike Kinneman and Jerry Budz. Randy Zierfuss and Tim Ebel teamed in second doubles and split the first two sets 1-6, 6-2. In the decisive third set Zierfuss and Ebel were blanked 6-0.

"Musgrave and Folkman played exceptionally well for us," commented Steingraber on his younger Falcons.

At the varsity level there were two exhibition matches staged, both in doubles. Forest View's Ernie Troutman and Mark Thompson lost 8-6, 6-3 but Mike Gersie and Dick Blane teamed for a 2-6, 6-1, 6-2 victory in the second exhibition.

Both FV tennis units had their dual records moved to 1-4 by the loss to York.

Prospect Wins Two Net Duals

Up, off, and away to an excellent start . . .

Prospect began 1966 tennis competition with meets held last Wednesday and Saturday. A pair of wins resulted from those opening encounters.

First the Knights registered a shutout 5-0 victory over Elgin and then they edged past Maine East 3-2. Coach Chuck Sandine's netters had moved off to a 2-0 record.

At the frosh-soph level the start wasn't quite as good. Prospect's younger tennis entry duplicated the varsity 5-0 score against Elgin but then was ripped 3-2 by M.E.

FOR THE varsity Knights Glen Morton gave a good initiation to the campaign. He took first singles from Elgin by 6-3, 6-2 scores. Second and third singles matches went to Bryan Kiehl and Craig Wolf. Kiehl came out on top 6-2, 6-3 while 6-0, 6-4 tallies put Wolf ahead.

To complete Prospect's sweep both doubles combinations won. Tom Johnson and Jeff Long took 6-1, 6-1 sets while Paul Colianni and Chuck Hengls came through on 6-0, 6-1 totals.

The court battle with Maine found Morton again taking a straight set triumph. He won 6-4, 6-0. Scores of 6-4 and 6-2 sent Kiehl down to defeat in second singles and evened the meet but Wolf won 6-1, 6-0 putting Prospect ahead 2-1.

Johnson and Long teamed in first doubles to clinch victory for their team. The first set was easily taken 6-3 but the second set went 18 games before Johnson and Long took it 10-8. Colianni paired with Doug Heitzman in second doubles and lost in three sets 6-2, 4-6, 8-10.

IN THE OPENING pair of frosh-soph meets the Knights' Dave Johnson was the lone singles player to win twice. He beat his first singles opponent from Elgin 6-1, 6-3 and the Maine East entry 7-5, 6-2.

Chuck Hughson and Bill Wichman took second and third singles matches when facing Elgin. Hughson won with perfect 6-0, 6-0 scores while only one point was dropped by Wichman 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles against Elgin went to Boss Bondy and Clark Weber, 6-4, 6-4, and Jim Schiesser and Jeff Saur, 6-1, 6-1.

Hughson and Wichman both were knocked off by Maine's players. Hughson falling in three sets 1-6, 6-1, 5-7, before Wichman was topped 7-5, 6-2. Bondy and Weber fell 6-3, 4-6, 7-9 but Schiesser and Bob Brahl took a 6-3, 7-5 decision setting the final 3-2 meet score.

St. Viator Varsity in Track Loss

St. Viator managed only three first places Tuesday afternoon on a varsity level in a 77½ to 38½ track and field loss at Glenbrook North.

Bob Cooper was a double winner in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Ed Brown went 18 feet six inches in the broad jump.

Cooper had clockings of 10.8 in the century and 24.5 in the furlong.

The Lions had better luck in frosh-soph action as they topped the host Spartans, 66-50.

Dave Friedrichs was a double winner with 11.3 and 25.5 clockings in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Other St. Viator victors were Mark Pomplun in the 880 yard run, Tom Baron in the pole vault, Mike Cunningham in the mile run, Bob Rose in the shot put, and Leo Zikonski in the discus.

St. Viator will run against St. George Saturday afternoon at Winnemac Park with a 2:30 starting time.

Walks, Errors Fatal

Cougar 9 Battered 17-0 by Glenbrook

If there are certain contests in which athletes must get their troubles out of their system, Conant's baseball players had one last Friday. And headman Lynn Crouch must hope it was that kind of game.

The Cougars were overwhelmed 17-0 by the Spartans of Glenbrook North, as the victors pounded out 13 hits to capitalize on eight walks and seven Conant errors. The Cougars, for their part, were handcuffed from the beginning by the pitching of Scott Krause, getting only three runners on base in the game, and only one of those on a hit. That was a Dennis Shaw single in the fifth.

GLENBROOK NORTH, shaping up as one of the more potent diamond units in the area, used the combination of good pitching, strong hitting, tight defense and taking advantage of the breaks to charge away with the game. The Spartans tallied once in the first, three times in the second and 10 times in the fourth to reach the unbeatable stage.

Three Conant pitchers toiled in the game, with starter Mike Garchie getting the loss and first reliefer Craig Johnson the worst of it. John Moffat worked one inning without trouble.

The game, fifth in five days for the Cougars, put their early season mark at 2-3, and was almost the antithesis to Conant's drubbing of Maryville the day before.

The most agonizing time was the fourth inning, when Johnson was snowed under by four walks, three errors and six hits. Fifteen Spartans batted in the frame, and those 10 scored before it was over.

Arlington Wins On Frosh Track

Gary Fagerson, and Will Heinemann were double winners Tuesday afternoon as Arlington's freshman track squad whipped Prospect, 86-41.

Fagerson topped the high hurdles and pole vault, and Heinemann ruled the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Other Cardinal winners were Doherty in the 440 yard dash, Larry Larson in the low hurdles, and Paul Tollefson in the shot put.

Posting Prospect's firsts were Dick Paulson in the two-mile, Eric Swanson in the 880 and mile, Steve Schmidt in the high jump, Bob Bachhuber in the broad jump, and Tim Hammann in the discus.

Hole-in-One

Henry Huberty, a member of the Friday night golf leage at Arlington Country Club, fired a hole-in-one last week at the 199-yard eighth hole at Nordic Hills. Huberty used a three-iron.

FV Nines Lose Two, Win Three

Freshmen were successful but the sophs were bounced twice last week as Forest View opened baseball competition on the lower levels.

The FV frosh A team beat York 10-5 and Niles North 6-5 while the frosh B's slipped by NN 10-8. Scores of 10-9 and 11-9 meant sophomore setbacks for the Falcons at the hands of York and Niles.

Pat Corrado and Jim Dagget pitched the frosh A win over York. John Caltigrone, John Turner and Tom Wasilewski all hit triples in the winners seven hit attack. John Cavello and Turner each had two RBI's.

A full six inning route was turned in for the A's by Dagget against NN. Three FV tallies in the bottom of the last frame led to victory. Bill Manning, Corrado and Caltigrone had doubles for FV. Caltigrone knocked in the tying and winning runs.

In frosh B play against Niles the winning hurler was Bob Gaddini. His Falcons teammates gave him an 8-0 lead in the first two innings.

Errors dominated the play of Forest View's sophs. In their two close losses there were 45 miscues committed. Mark Ernst and Bruce Finch were on the mound against Niles while Keith Bauer hurled and hit a double against York. Late opponent rallies caused the FV setbacks in both contests.

Waycinden Tryouts

The Waycinden Area Boys Baseball League will meet Saturday at 10 a.m. at Einstein School for a program in connection with their first tryout and rating.

The boys will be seeing a double feature. The first film will be "Batting Tips" by Ted Williams and the second film will be "The Game No One Has Seen," which shows a session with the St. Louis Cardinals.

After the films, the boys will be taken out on the field for batting practice, fielding the ball, and catching fly balls. These sessions will be under the guidance of coaches who will rate the boys' abilities and attitude. These rating cards will be used later by the Commissioners to make up a group of balanced teams, which will be called together again at a later date to practice.

There is still time to register for this year's activities and those boys wishing to play and not as yet registered should contact Paul Augustine at 824-5978 or Laurie Woollard at 827-2432.

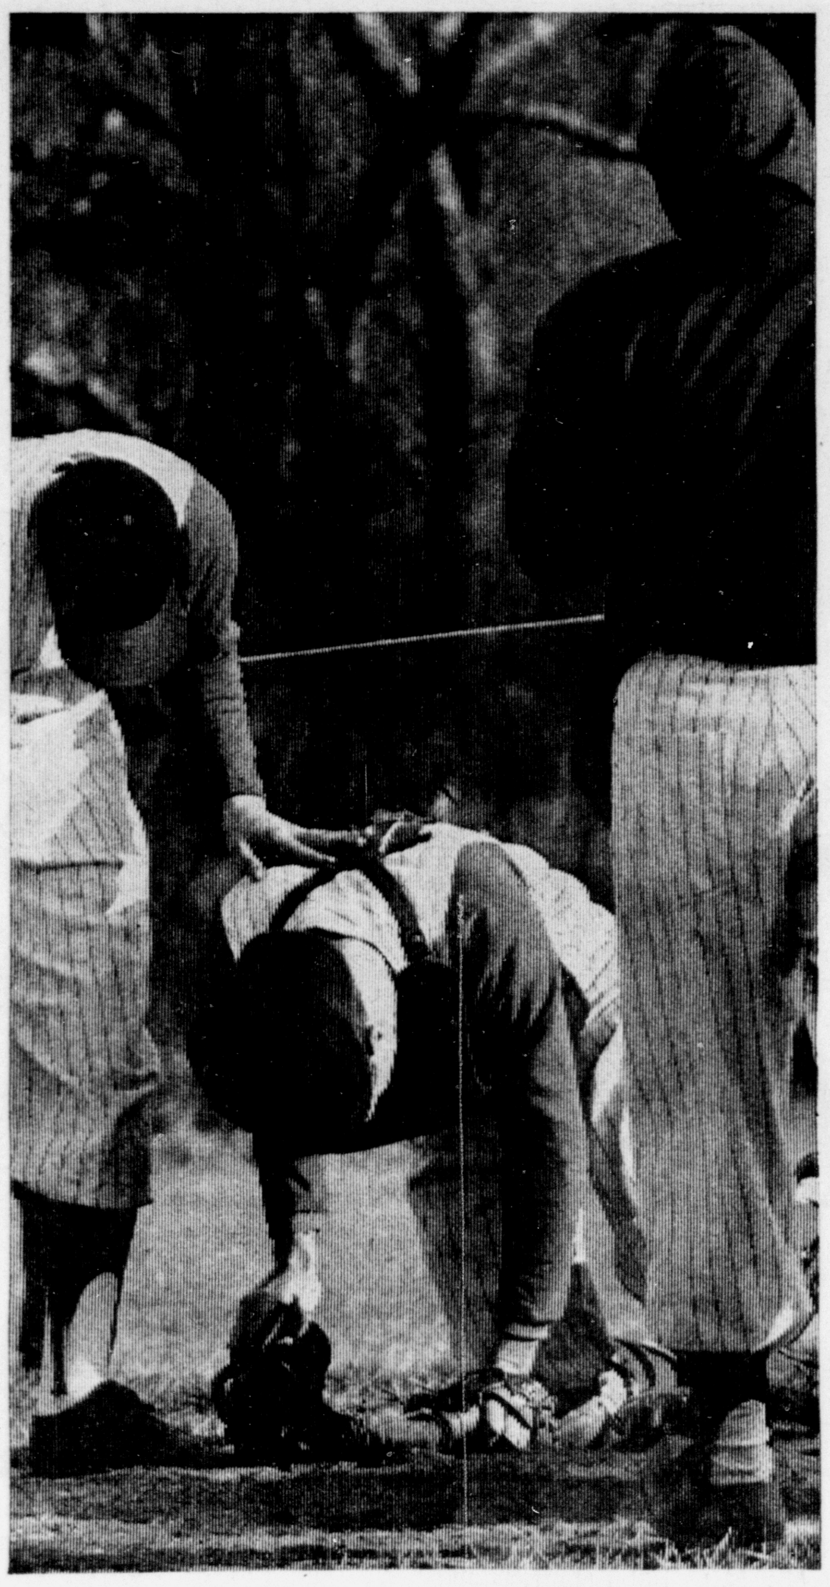
Bob Kukla Aids Monmouth Team

A former Palatine high trackman helped his team to victory in last Saturday's Monmouth Relays at Monmouth College.

Bob Kukla, a sophomore at Monmouth, took an individual trophy for third place in the 100 yard dash, and ran legs on the second place 440-yard relay and fourth place 880-yard relay teams.

A sprinter and relay man in his first varsity season at Monmouth, Kukla has been running the 100 in around 10 seconds flat this season, and had a first in a meet at Beloit and a second at Coe..

He was, as a Palatine senior in 1964, the leadoff man on the school's "Cinderella" 880 relay team, a unit that finished second in the state.



CATCHING CAN BE A difficult occupation at times as St. Viator junior Dan Collins learned in last Friday's Chicagoland Prep League meeting with Holy Cross. Collins was felled by a foul ball but bounced back to finish out the game. Holy Cross nipped the Lions, 3-2, with a run in the seventh inning. (Staff photo)

Maine South Whips Lions

by BOB FRISK

There are times when non-conference games come at the wrong time.

Like the day before a crucial league encounter when you need your strongest pitching.

St. Viator's varsity Lions, obviously looking ahead to their Chicagoland Prep League meeting with Holy Cross the next day, suffered a 6-3 loss to visiting Maine South last Thursday afternoon.

Maine's John Spiggos, a lefty, and right-hander Chuck Richards combined to check the host Lions with one safety, a soft drive to right field in the fifth inning by Denny Wilkinson.

ST. VIATOR was operating with a "new look" lineup which put a pitcher in center field, the regular third baseman at shortstop, a newcomer at third, a shortstop on the mound, and—after two innings—a reserve behind the plate.

Tom McDonald, who is no newcomer to the mound although he has been thought of as primarily a shortstop this spring, went the first four innings for St. Viator and allowed four hits and two runs.

Mike Miller, a sophomore lefty, finished up and was tagged with the loss.

MAINE'S SPIGGOS knocked down the Lions without a hit over the first four innings and has only himself to blame for his fifth inning troubles.

Nursing a 2-0 lead, Spiggos launched the fifth in fine style by fanning Bob Stevens and Larry Snyder. He then proceeded to walk three straight hitters to load the bases.

Wilkinson, the Lion right fielder who had three hits two days earlier in the loss at Carmel, poked a soft fly to right which fell for St. Viator's first and only hit of the game.

THREE RUNS scored on Wilkinson's hit, and the Lions kept the threat going as Paul Rocca and Tom Collins walked. But relief pitcher Richards got out of the jam with a strikeout.

Maine South moved back into the lead in the sixth on a walk, three singles, and an error and added one more run in the seventh.

The Lions had one base runner in the sixth but went down in order in the concluding seventh.

Lions Trackmen Whip St. Joseph

Denny Forston was a double winner last week as St. Viator's varsity track squad nipped St. Joseph by four points in action at Rockne Stadium.

Forston, a junior, collected place awards in the shot put at 45 feet one-half inch and in the discus at 123 feet as the Lions posted a 56½-52½ victory.

The varsity Lions had four other firsts in their first outdoor triumph.

Ed Brown sailed 19 feet in the broad jump for five team points, and Fred Booth clipped off a 2:12.6 in the 880. Pat Smith and John McDonald tied for first in the 440 with 55.6 efforts.

PETER PETERHANS gave St. Voator a first in the two mile run when he covered the distance in 10:52.9.

St. Viator a first in the two to worry about on a frosh-soph level, rolling to eight firsts in a 62-34 victory.

Dave Friedrichs won two individual events and worked on a victorious relay team to spark the Lion win.

Friedrichs flashed to a 10.8 clocking in the 100 yard dash and 24.4 in the 220 and he teamed with Bob Beirly, Dom Bellino, and Steve Boll for a 1:42.7 in the 880 yard relay.

OTHER WINNERS for the frosh-soph Lions were Mark Pomplun in the 880 yard run (2:19.8), Mike Cunningham in the mile run (5:06), Tom Carr in the high hurdles (19.9), Bob Rose in the shot put (37-10½), and Kavin Kaskie in the discus throw (107-2).

The victory was the third straight for St. Viator's frosh-soph entry in dual competiton.

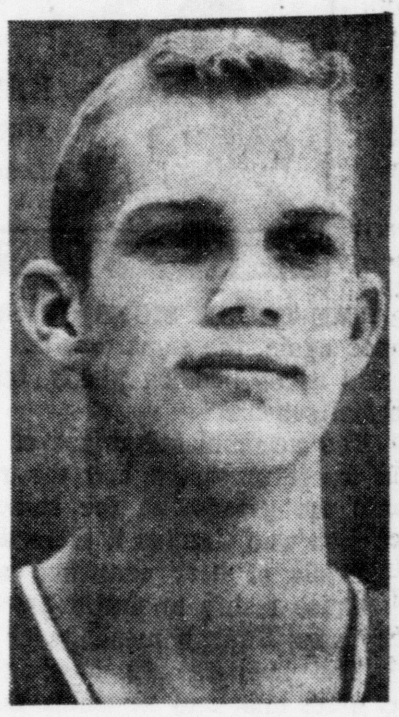
Schoolboy Star

Glenn Beckert, youthful second baseman for the Chicago Cubs, was an all-city selection in both baseball and basketball playing for Pittsburgh's Perry high school.

Game Called After Six

York Nips Cardinals In Conference Battle

by BOB FRISK



DOUG FINK
Slams Long Triple

It's tough enough to lose in seven innings.

What really hurts is when you're deprived of even getting a chance to bat in the final inning.

Arlington High School lost its first West Suburban Conference baseball game last week (Wednesday) but you'll have a hard time convincing the varsity Cardinals that they couldn't have overcome a one-run deficit with one more crack at York pitching.

The visiting Dukes took home a 4-3 victory in a game cut short after six innings in a surprising decision by the chief umpire.

THE CLOCK SAID 6:04 p.m., the sun was setting in the west, and there appeared to be enough light to conclude one more inning, but the umpire said no without any previous warning to either coach.

The abrupt decision to stop the contest came after the host Cardinals had climbed to within one run of York in the sixth.

First baseman Doug Fink, who had driven home Arlington's first run in the second inning with a sharp single to right, sent two teammates across in the sixth with a booming triple to the right field corner.

FINK REPRESENTED the tying run on third base with two outs, but pinch hitter Bob Hecht rifled a line drive to center field that was hauled down by John Sonneberg.

Arlington, striving to record its first win after two nonleague setbacks, had moved in front 1-0 in the second inning.

Thad Woodard reached second when his high infield pop was dropped by York Pitcher Mike Stertz. Woodard went to third on Jim Jorgensen's single to center and came across when Fink slashed a sizzler to right.

CARDINAL RIGHT hander Steve Allen had a shutout going until the fourth when the Dukes cashed in with three runs on three hits, a walk, and two errors. The big blow was Sonneberg's triple to right-center that drove two runners home.

York added its fourth run in the fifth. Glen Michi produced a single to right, and he scampered all the way to third base on a sacrifice bunt. The Duke right fielder scored on a wild pitch.

Arlington's best threat outside of the two scoring innings was in the third.

MARK FRASE lined a single down the third base line to launch the Cardinal third and went to second when Ron Horcher was safe on an error. The runners moved ahead on a passed ball, but York's Stertz, a 5-foot-8 lefty, got out of the jam by getting the next three hitters without a ball leaving the infield.

Allen went six innings for the Cardinals and allowed seven hits, striking out six and walking three. Stertz of York toiled five and two-thirds innings. The Duke southpaw struck out nine and didn't walk a man.

Over Hinsdale Varsity

Ewart Paces Card Trackmen to Win

Steve Ewart dominated the shorter running events by scoring three firsts last week as Arlington's varsity track and field team edged Hinsdale, 61-57, in outdoor competition.

Ewart took the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes in respectable clockings to give Coach Bruce Samoore's Cards three of their seven firsts in the four-point varsity win.

Arlington coasted on a frosh-soph level, 91-27.

Ewart fashioned a 10.3 in the century, 23.2 in the 220, and 52.2 in the 440 in pacing the varsity Cardinals.

CARY ANNEN was a double winner with a 16.5 clocking over the high hurdles and 21.0 over the lows.

Junior Greg Zachwieja got off a toss of 133 feet one inch in the discus for another Arlington first, and Tom Thornton turned in a 4:48.4 mile.

Dave Steele and Todd Somers each won two individual events to pace Arlington to its 91-27 frosh-soph victory.

STEELE COVERED the high hurdles in 18 seconds flat and the lows in 22.2. Somers won the broad jump (17-10) and pole vault (10-0) and also worked on the victorious mile relay team.

Joining Somers on the relay unit were Terry Pitts, Dave Dieters, and Chuck McGuffey. Pitts won the 440 yard dash in 55 seconds, and Dieters turned in a 2:07.2 for the 880.

Also scoring Cardinal firsts were Paul Tollefson in the shot put (38-5), Rory Cassidy in the mile run (4:52.5), and Chris Kaucher in the discus (103-5).

Lions Rock St. Patrick

St. Viator's varsity tennis team rolled to its third victory in four duals last Thursday by trouncing St. Patrick of Chicago, 5-0.

The triumph was the second in two Chicagoland Prep League meets for Coach Pete Dunderdale's Lions.

Scoring singles wins for St. Viator were John Allare (6-1, 6-1) Dave Harris (6-4, 8-6), and Tim Plesko (6-4, 7-5).

Teaming up for doubles victories were Greg Leydig and John Lavigne in the number one spot (6-1, 3-6, 7-5) and Jim Hillenmeyer and Greg Sidor in No. 2 (6-1, 6-8, 6-1).

St. Viator will host St. Mel today (Thursday) and will journey to St. Ignatius Saturday. The Lions will return home for meets next Monday and Tuesday with Carmel and St. George.

Lions' Golfers Drop Two

St. Viator's golfers launched the 1966 season with two tight losses.

Father Patrick Durkin's varsity Lions dropped a three-stroke decision to Carmel (165-168) at Village Green and fell by one stroke Tuesday in a triangular.

Notre Dame, with Jerry Damasus breaking Rob Roy's par with a sharp 34, bagged triangular honors with 155 strokes. St. Viator was second with 156 and Immaculate Conception third with 163.

Pat Hawley fired a 38 and Craig Crotty a 39 for the Lions against Carmel. Dean Muench and Tim Holmes followed with 42 and 49 respectively.

Hawley and Muench were the leaders Tuesday as they fashioned 38s at Rob Roy. Crotty was right behind with a 39 and Tom Cullen had a 41.

In frosh-soph play St. Viator whipped Carmel, 188-200, and also won the triangular by one stroke (183-184) over Notre Dame.

Dennis Palubicki was low against Carmel with a 43. Bob Horan (46), Ken Sophie (49), and Tim Moore (50) also figured in the scoring.

Horan (43), Palubicki (44), Sophie (48), and Ed Vallely (48) were the Lion scorers Tuesday.

FV Blanked 5-0

York's Netmen Topple Falcons

A tennis buzz-saw, driven by underclassmen, cut down and defeated Forest View last Wednesday.

York, playing two freshmen, a soph, two juniors and a pair of seniors stopped the Falcons net entry. Final meet score was 5-0.

"Their young team beat us badly in all five varsity match'es," said FV coach Rog Steingraber. "They played well and we were certainly not at our best."

To start the shutout Forest View's Jim Buckholz was topped 6-3, 6-1 in his first singles match. Then Rick Gillespie and Howie Brasch were setback in second and third singles. Gillespie lost 6-2, 6-4 while 6-3, 6-3 scores brought Brasch defeat.

THE DUKES winning singles trio were juniors Andy Pachner and Walt Koenig and frosh Jeff Dawson.

In first doubles Brian and Bruce Lampert of FV were whipped 6-1, 6-2. Yirk's whitewash was complete after Falcons Dick Zapfel and Bob Glaser dropped a 6-1, 8-6 decision.

At the frosh-soph level Forest View was also beaten but that meet couldn't have been much closer. Every lower level match went to three sets with the Dukes finally taking the triumph by a slim 3-2 margin.

Jim Musgrave got the Falcons off to a strong start. He came out ahead in F-S first singles 7-9, 6-3, 10-8. Losing in second and third singles matches were Dave Erickson and Gordon Folkman. A 1-6, 6-2, 6-8 tally belonged to Erickson while identical scores caused Folkman's defeat.

FV CAME BACK to even the meet at 2-2 on the strength of a 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 first doubles win by Mike Kinneman and Jerry Budz. Randy Zierfuss and Tim Ebel teamed in second doubles and split the first two sets 1-6, 6-2. In the decisive third set Zierfuss and Ebel were blanked 6-0.

"Musgrave and Folkman played exceptionally well for us," commented Steingraber on his younger Falcons.

At the varsity level there were two exhibition matches staged, both in doubles. Forest View's Ernie Troutman and Mark Thompson lost 8-6, 6-3 but Mike Gersie and Dick Blane teamed for a 2-6, 6-1, 6-2 victory in the second exhibition.

Both FV tennis units had their dual records moved to 1-4 by the loss to York.

THE OTHER SIGNS OF SPRING are appearing in abundance again, the signs that tell you the season has changed as surely as do budding plants, trilling birds, greening fields and cordial sunshine.

The accumulated refuse of the winter has shown itself in the forest preserves and the roadside recreation areas, lying amid the grass with the same callous abandon that marked the men who dumped it there while snow blanketed the ground.

Trails of beer cans and an occasional discarded kitchen appliance testify to man's passage on the roadways, wherever they slice through meadows or the scant patches of woodland.

The builders are bustling once more, tearing up turf, scraping hills and smashing down trees to make a clean bed for rustic country living homes.

Pollution is flowing easily again through the streams, rivers and lakes, no longer slowed in its stifling advance by the ice that locked the water tight for the winter season.

These are the other signs of spring, the ones no poet ever put to meter, but which hamper and menace any enjoyment you may reap from the outdoors, in spring or any season. season.

It's all part of man's consistent defiling of his natural surroundings, his unthinking disregard of the landscape around him, or the other men who might want to draw from its offerings. And no threat is more grave than that to the water.

It is so because whatever garbage is dumped on the land, it can with effort be cleared away with little after-effect. But the water, when it is fouled, can not easily be reclaimed. And the water, be it for fishing, swimming, boating or drinking, has more attraction and importance to the residents of this area than any other piece of nature's fabric.

Believe that it is a grave and a real problem, however distant it may seem when recounted in newsprint. You will believe it if you compare the waters of this region with the waters of northern Minnesota or the Southeast. There you will find liquid that is clear and fresh, almost crystalline. Here, in most locations, it is cloudy, murky, dirty, even poisoned, and its color ranges from green to brown.

You need only look at the filthy Fox River to comprehend it, or ask the fishermen who once peopled the piers of southern Lake Michigan in search of perch, or read of the industries seeping their oils into a Lake Zurich, or hear the warning of the state's Sanitary Water Board that the Chain-O-Lakes is dying amid a miasma of algae and tainted water.

The tragedy of our water has its seeds in many furrows, in citizens who care not what sewage they funnel into the lakes or what waste they dump over the side of a boat; in communities which spill their garbage into a river and allow it to flow through another community; in the industries that send their grimy and toxic discharges gushing into the nearest body of water.

Mostly, the blame lies with those citizens, municipal bodies and state agencies too apathetic, shortsighted, unconcerned or meek to do anything about it, or care about it. And they're the same citizens, bodies and agencies tempted to cry in anguish whenever the federal government moves toward a problem like that afflicting our water.

But the federal government is moving in, with its money and the strongest declaration to date on the pollution mess, and it's the best thing that could have happened. All those who have ignored the problem have been told to do something about it, or else. The "else" may include a trip to court for the offenders, or a wholesale expenditure to purify the defiled waters, or both.

The Water Pollution Control Administration has begun with $182,000,000 to attack formidable problems as the horrible Hudson River, stagnant Lake Erie and poisoned Lake Michigan. Already it's received a pledge that the spoilers of Lake Michigan will effort to make pure everything they send into it.

A vast companion program to clean and preserve entire river basins is still awaiting congressional approval.

What can be done for the smaller lakes and streams isn't yet clear, because the federal attention must be devoted first to the mammoth problems. But the hope is that the people and communities that have been using—and abusing—those bodies will get the message: the water is foul and time is short.

In State Swimming

'Y' Gals Capture First and Second

The Northwest Suburban 'Y' girls swimming team concluded a spectacular season last Saturday by taking first and second place awards in the state championships at the Riverside-Brookfield High School pool.

The area gals, unbeaten in years, topped the Junior Division for girls 13 and 14 years old.

Connie Foster of Mount Prospect set a state record in the 50 yard freestyle with a 27.0 clocking.

Northwest 'Y' also won and set two other records in relay events. Pat Wollerman of Arlington Heights, Liz Tobin of Des Plaines, Cathy Rowe of Arlington, and Jackie Nesvig of Palatine turned in a 2:06.5 in the 200 medley.

In the 200 yard freestyle relay Hazel Bowen of Barrington, Cathy Rowe, Jackie Nesvig, and Connie Foster fashioned a state record of 1:51.5.

Cathy Barale of Mount Prospect, D. VanDormolen of Rolling Meadows, and Ruth Ann Gabler of Arlington also added points to the Junior total of 167.

The Midgets (9 and 10) gained second place honors, scoring 93 1/3 points to finish only six and two-thirds behind Rock Island.

Scoring points for the Northwest 'Y' were Andy Sue Hibbs of Palatine, Jan Lesniak of Prospect Heights, Sandy Gabler of Arlington, Casey Wood of Mount Prospect, Molly Mitchell of Prospect Heights, Marcia Burrell of Mount Prospect, Susan Hale of Mount Prospect, and Janice Takata of Arlington Heights.

In the Cadet Division (8 and under) outstanding performers from the area were Margaret Gabler of Arlington, Sandy Hale of Mount Prospect, Susan Kopke of Prospect Heights, Jema Allen of Mount Prospect, Cheryl Takata of Arlington Heights, and Jody Epstein of Mount Prospect.

Scoring points in the Prep Division (11 and 12) were Kathy Dalton of Arlington, Jan Allen of Mount Prospect, Mary Ellen Geisler of Prospect Heights, Kathy Wood of Mount Prospect, and Mary Cronin of Arlington.

In the Intermediate Division (15 and over) Jeanne Pollard, Donna Altenbern, Karen Schmidt, and J. Grunwald of Mount Prospect were the Paddock area swimmers who collected points.

Still Openings In Golf League

Golfers interested in joining the Friday night league at Arlington Country Club should apply before Sunday, April 24.

An 18-hole tournament will launch the season Sunday, and anyone interested in playing this summer should contact Tom Milbourne at LE 7-5016.

Officers of the Friday night division are President Warren Erwin, Vice President Bob Helfers, Secretary Tom Milbourne, and Treasurer Leonard Wegryn.

Too Many Left On

Niles West's 9 Tops 'Cats 3-2

Leaving too many runners on base can be fatal for any baseball team. It was for Wheeling.

Last Wednesday the Wildcats diamond aggregation traveled to Niles West. Winner of the contest was NW by a 4-2 margin.

Primary cause of Wheeling's setback were the hitters who reached base but were stranded. Two were left on in the second, one in the third, two more in the fourth and three in the fifth.

That loss was number three of the season for coach Steve Chernicky's nine. For Niles it was the fourth straight victory.

ON THE WILDCATS' mound was Tom Manderscheid. He had a rough time in the opening two innings, giving up all four runs, three of them earned, on three hits, four walks and one hit batter. Manderscheid then settled down and retired Niles in order in the third, fourth and fifth, fanning four.

Darkness caused the game to be called after five frames.

Wheeling was three up, three down in the opening inning. A walk and stolen base put NW's lead-off man on second. He scored moments later as Manderscheid threw a grounder into right field.

In the second Rex Peterson singled to right for the Wildcats. Bob Krug's sacrifice bunt moved Peterson to second and Jim Whittington's bunt single put runners on first and third. A wild throw home on Jeff Winterberg's grounder allowed Peterson to score and left first and third still occupied.

RICK HADDOCK and Robin Melzer were up next. But, Haddock bounced out to third and Melzer to short. The frame ended and Wheeling had left two on base.

Niles pushed across the winning runs in its half of the second. A walk and sacrifice put a man on second and then, in quick succession, a single, double and another single accounted for one RBI. The Indians had moved into a 4-1 advantage.

Only base runner in the third was Mark Newman. He singled and was stranded by his Wheeling teammates.

The Wildcats got their second and final tally in the fourth. Krug walked but remained on first as Whittington struck out on a 3-2 delivery and Winterberg flied to right. A blast to deep right by Haddock followed. Krug scored and Haddock stopped at second with a double.

FOR THE THIRD out Melzer flied to right.

In the fifth Manderscheid banged a 1-1 pitch down the left field line after Jeff Powell made the first out by skying to center. Out number two came by way of Newman's fanning. Then, loading the bases, both Peterson and Krug drew free passes. However, Whittington went down on strikes and the inning closed.

Wheeling thus left its fifth, sixth and seventh men on base.

Manderscheid set Niles down in order in the bottom of the fifth. In addition to retiring nine straight over the final three frames, Manderscheid allowed just one ball to be hit out of the infield but his steady efforts couldn't change the outcome. The game was called. The Wildcats lost.

The Indians, though they won, were outhit by Wheeling five to three. The difference was in men left on base. Niles stranded only three.

Cardinal Frosh Trackmen Post Win Over 'Cats

Three double winners paced Arlington's freshman track team to a 69-49 victory over Wheeling last Thursday afternoon.

Dick Ehlers, Tom Swanson, and Paul Tollefson recorded two victories each for the Cardinals.

Ehlers won the 100 yard dash (11.1) and 220 yard dash (25.1); Swanson topped the 880 yard run (2:16.0) and mile (4:56.1); and Tollefson took the shot put (39-3½) and discus (104-2½).

Other Arlington winners were Bill Price in the 440 yard dash (58.5) and Gary Fagerson in the pole vault (9-0).

Wheeling landed four individual firsts with Nick Silvestri in the high hurdles (19.0), Clay Gallimore in the low hurdles (24.0), Dick Davis in the high jump (4-8), and Mike McGinn in the broad jump (16.6).

EG Loses on Cat Diamond

Freshman and sophomore baseball defeats were handed Elk Grove by Wheeling last Thursday.

A three run homer by Jay Newman in the first inning gave the 'Cats all their runs in a 3-2 soph victory. John Cammarato and John Fedyski combined to pitch a two-hitter for the winners. Bob Artemenko went all the way to absorb the Grove's loss.

At the frosh level each team picked up nine hits but Wheeling held a 9-3 margin in runs and won. Marty Crain and Ted Ramirez threw the triumph. Steve Anthony had a double for EG.

Three Setbacks

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals dropped three baseball games last week.

York whipped the Cards, 4-3, and Downers Grove North gained 4-3 and 17-1 victories.

Additional details were unavailable.

WARREN LUEBCKE, a sophomore from Mount Prospect, has a 4-2 match play record this season for the North Texas State University golf team. Luebcke shot a 1-under par 69 in a dual match against Southern Methodist University for his low round this year. Luebcke was a prep standout at Prospect High School.

Frantic First Frame

Prospect Nine Tops Niles 5-3

It was a wild first inning!

Five errors, three passed balls, three sacrifices, two singles, one stolen base and hit batter occurred in the opening frame. Six runs, all unearned, crossed the plate.

Prospect and Niles North nines played that frantic first.

The Knights hosted the diamond action which took place last Friday. Ahead 4-2 going into the second, the nine of coach Chuck Aldrich went on to defeat the Vikings 5-3. Season record of the winners was upped to 3-2 by the result.

CLYDE WHITCOMB
2 for 2 for 2

LEADING Prospect's drive to triumph was hurler J. D. Thorne. He threw seven strong innings, allowing just two hits and one walk and didn't yield an earned run. Thorne fanned three to lift his personal mound mark to 2-1 and lower his ERA to 2.00.

Backing Thorne was a timely Knights attack which included seven hits. Big offensive blow was a two-run single by shortstop Clyde Whitcomb.

In Niles half of the first the lead-off man reached base on an error and was sacrificed to second. He went to third on a single and tallied on a passed ball. Another marker resulted from a ground out and another error. The Vikings had scored twice on just one hit.

Prospect's half of the frame was even wilder.

DON WHITLOCK began for the Knights by being hit with a pitch. He went to second on a passed ball, to third as Thorne reached safely on an error and home on another passed ball. Another error put Tom Lundstedt on and a sacrifice fly by Bob Robinson sent Thorne across.

Third Niles error of the inning permitted Lundstedt to get to third and batter Dave Kingman to take second. Strikes got Vince Franzone for out number two but then Whitcomb came up. His slashing single to left sent Lundstedt and Kingman across the plate. John Phillips grounded out to end proceedings and Prospect had scored four times on only one hit.

The rest of the game was tame by comparison.

There was no more scoring until the fourth. However, NN used Thorne's only free pass for a base runner in the second and Robinson's single gave the Knights a man on in the third. In the top of the fourth Niles was three up, three down and then came the lone earned marker of the contest.

WHITCOMB GOT Prospect's half of the frame under-way with an infield single in back of third. Phillips forced Whitcomb at second and moved up on a stolen base. A single to right by Maury Galliger brought Whitcomb home and made the score 5-2.

A scoreless fifth followed. The Vikings put two on, by way of a single and an error, but couldn't push them around. The Knights had one on, Kingman who singled, but left him stranded.

An error, Prospect's fourth and the game's ninth, gave Niles its final run in the sixth. Singles by Rick Lott, batting for Galliger, and Whitlock put two on with two outs in the Knight's sixth. Thorne closed the threat by lining to the Vikings pitcher.

In the last inning Thorne set Niles down one, two, three. He got the last out on strikes.

Knights Top Grove Nines

Prospect's soph and frosh diamond entries dealt Elk Grove a pair of defeats last week.

In sophomore action the Knights won 10-2. Steve Shawhan went all the way throwing a one-hitter for the winners. He was backed by an eight hit attack led by Mark Kitzing and Gary Andrews, who had triples and Mark Schillinger who doubled.

Gary Lemke and Sam Peters did the mound work for EG with Lemke drawing the loss. The Grenadiers' lone bingle was a double by Jim Hoffman.

A four run outburst in the fourth gave Prospect a 5-2 triumph in frosh action. Mark MacRae was the winning hurler on a one-hitter while Mike Kunze lost for the Grove. Bob Freck tripled and got one RBI for the Knights.

'Cats Drop Three of 4 On Diamond

Maine South took advantage of Wheeling frosh and soph baseballers last week and picked up three victories. Only in a freshman contest with Niles North did the 'Cats find victory.

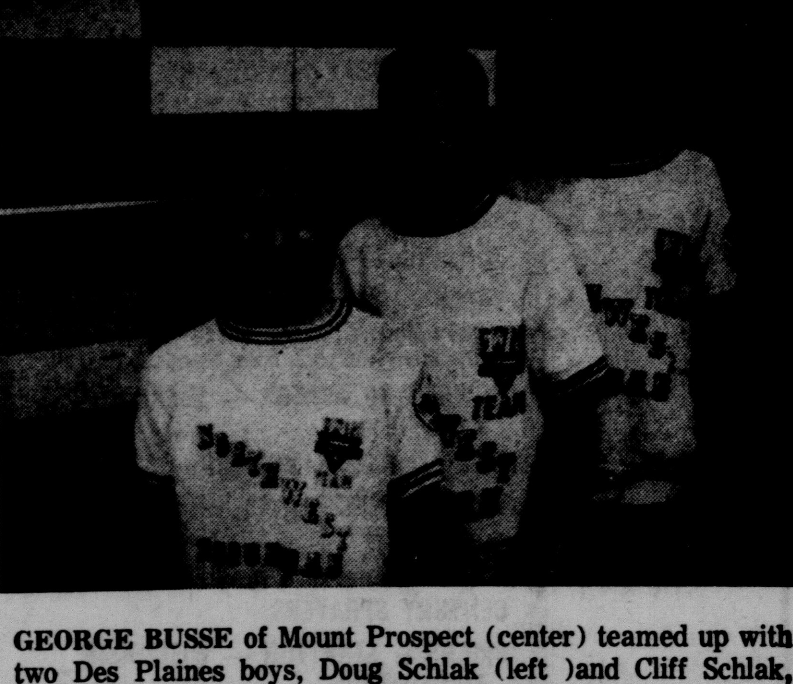
A 12-4 tally gave MS its win on the sophomore level. John Fedyski and Carl Kreutsfeld pitched for Wheeling but were hurt by 11 errors committed by their teammates. The losers got all their runs in the fourth.

In frosh A competition Wheeling was blanked 4-0 and only got two hits. Jon Christman and Ted Ramirez combined to toss a five-hitter for the Wildcats. There were no extra base hits in the struggle.

Lone triumph for Wheeling came on the frosh B level. Though they were topped 9-3 by Maine the 'Cats hammered Niles 13-7.

Carl Fricke was the losing pitcher against MS as Jim Lesniak smacked a double for his team's lone hit. Jim Born hurled the win against NN and hit a homer. Other big hits for Wheeling were triples by Christman and Lesniak while Mike Thomas and Greg Craighead got doubles. Austin Trice had both a triple and double for the winners.

Sixth in YMCA Relay



GEORGE BUSSE of Mount Prospect (center) teamed up with two Des Plaines boys, Doug Schlak (left)and Cliff Schlak, and Mike Salerno of Prospect Heights for a sixth place finish in the midget freestyle relay event at the Illinois Area YMCA boys swimming championships held in Evanston. Busse took a sixth in the midget 25 yard breastroke.

Connie Foster of Mount Prospect set a state record in the 50 yard freestyle with a 27.0 clocking.

Northwest 'Y' also won and set two other records in relay events. Pat Wollerman of Arlington Heights, Liz Tobin of Des Plaines, Cathy Rowe of Arlington, and Jackie Nesvig of Palatine turned in a 2:06.5 in the 200 medley.

In the 200 yard freestyle relay Hazel Bowen of Barrington, Cathy Rowe, Jackie Nesvig, and Connie Foster fashioned a state record of 1:51.5.

Cathy Barale of Mount Prospect, D. VanDormolen of Rolling Meadows, and Ruth Ann Gabler of Arlington also added points to the Junior total of 167.

The Midgets (9 and 10) gained second place honors, scoring 93 1/3 points to finish only six and two-thirds behind Rock Island.

Scoring points for the Northwest 'Y' were Andy Sue Hibbs of Palatine, Jan Lesniak of Prospect Heights, Sandy Gabler of Arlington, Casey Wood of Mount Prospect, Molly Mitchell of Prospect Heights, Marcia Burrell of Mount Prospect, Susan Hale of Mount Prospect, and Janice Takata of Arlington Heights.

In the Cadet Division (8 and under) outstanding performers from the area were Margaret Gabler of Arlington, Sandy Hale of Mount Prospect, Susan Kopke of Prospect Heights, Jema Allen of Mount Prospect, Cheryl Takata of Arlington Heights, and Jody Epstein of Mount Prospect.

Scoring points in the Prep Division (11 and 12) were Kathy Dalton of Arlington, Jan Allen of Mount Prospect, Mary Ellen Geisler of Prospect Heights, Kathy Wood of Mount Prospect, and Mary Cronin of Arlington.

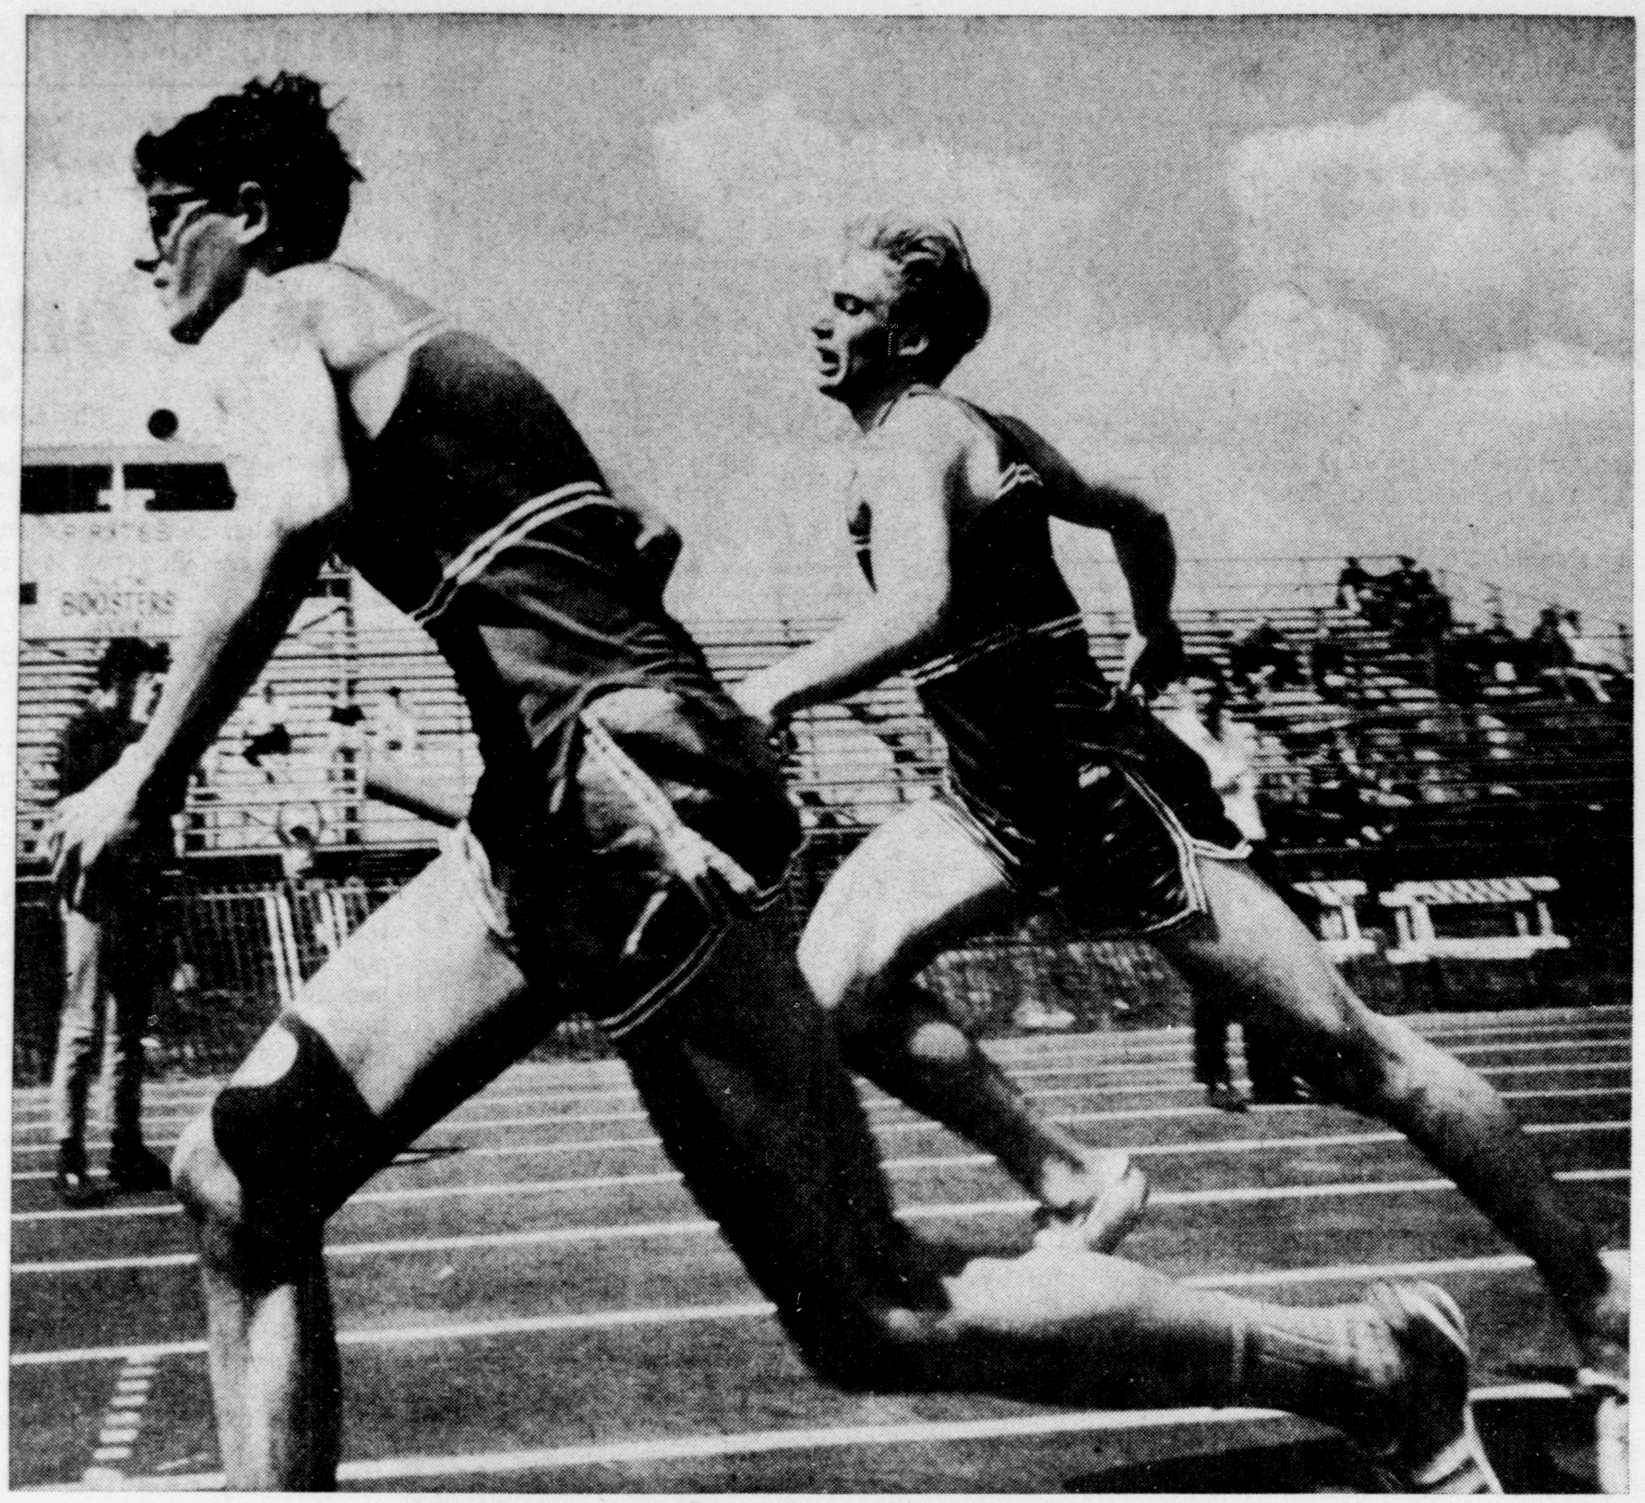
In the Intermediate Division (15 and over) Jeanne Pollard, Donna Altenbern, Karen Schmidt, and J. Grunwald of Mount Prospect were the Paddock area swimmers who collected points.

Still Openings In Golf League

Golfers interested in joining the Friday night league at Arlington Country Club should apply before Sunday, April 24.

An 18-hole tournament will launch the season Sunday, and anyone interested in playing this summer should contact Tom Milbourne at LE 7-5016.

Officers of the Friday night division are President Warren Erwin, Vice President Bob Helfers, Secretary Tom Milbourne, and Treasurer Leonard Wegryn.



ANCHOR LEG coming up for Palatine's mile relay team, as Randy McWilliams (left) takes the baton from Rick Ortman en route to a sparkling timing of 3:24.3. Bill Bahnfleth and John Blanchard ran the first two legs. The performance came in last Saturday's Palatine-Niles North dual at the Fremd track, a meet won handily by the Pirates 93-25.

Niles West's 9 Tops 'Cats 3-2

Leaving too many runners on base can be fatal for any baseball team. It was for Wheeling.

Last Wednesday the Wildcats diamond aggregation traveled to Niles West. Winner of the contest was NW by a 4-2 margin.

Primary cause of Wheeling's setback were the hitters who reached base but were stranded. Two were left on in the second, one in the third, two more in the fourth and three in the fifth.

That loss was number three of the season for coach Steve Chernicky's nine. For Niles it was the fourth straight victory.

ON THE WILDCATS' mound was Tom Manderscheid. He had a rough time in the opening two innings, giving up all four runs, three of them earned, on three hits, four walks and one hit batter. Manderscheid then settled down and retired Niles in order in the third, fourth and fifth, fanning four.

Darkness caused the game to be called after five frames.

Wheeling was three up, three down in the opening inning. A walk and stolen base put NW's lead-off man on second. He scored moments later as Manderscheid threw a grounder into right field.

In the second Rex Peterson singled to right for the Wildcats. Bob Krug's sacrifice bunt moved Peterson to second and Jim Whittington's bunt single put runners on first and third. A wild throw home on Jeff Winterberg's grounder allowed Peterson to score and left first and third still occupied.

RICK HADDOCK and Robin Melzer were up next. But, Haddock bounced out to third and Melzer to short. The frame ended and Wheeling had left two on base.

Niles pushed across the winning runs in its half of the second. A walk and sacrifice put a man on second and then, in quick succession, a single, double and another single accounted for one RBI. The Indians had moved into a 4-1 advantage.

Only base runner in the third was Mark Newman. He singled and was stranded by his Wheeling teammates.

The Wildcats got their second and final tally in the fourth. Krug walked but remained on first as Whittington struck out on a 3-2 delivery and Winterberg flied to right. A blast to deep right by Haddock followed. Krug scored and Haddock stopped at second with a double.

FOR THE THIRD out Melzer flied to right.

In the fifth Manderscheid banged a 1-1 pitch down the left field line after Jeff Powell made the first out by skying to center. Out number two came by way of Newman's fanning. Then, loading the bases, both Peterson and Krug drew free passes. However, Whittington went down on strikes and the inning closed.

Wheeling thus left its fifth, sixth and seventh men on base.

Manderscheid set Niles down in order in the bottom of the fifth. In addition to retiring nine straight over the final three frames, Manderscheid allowed just one ball to be hit out of the infield but his steady efforts couldn't change the outcome. The game was called. The Wildcats lost.

The Indians, though they won, were outhit by Wheeling five to three. The difference was in men left on base. Niles stranded only three.

Cardinal Frosh Trackmen Post Win Over 'Cats

Three double winners paced Arlington's freshman track team to a 69-49 victory over Wheeling last Thursday afternoon.

Dick Ehlers, Tom Swanson, and Paul Tollefson recorded two victories each for the Cardinals.

Ehlers won the 100 yard dash (11.1) and 220 yard dash (25.1); Swanson topped the 880 yard run (2:16.0) and mile (4:56.1); and Tollefson took the shot put (39-3½) and discus (104-2½).

Other Arlington winners were Bill Price in the 440 yard dash (58.5) and Gary Fagerson in the pole vault (9-0).

Wheeling landed four individual firsts with Nick Silvestri in the high hurdles (19.0), Clay Gallimore in the low hurdles (24.0), Dick Davis in the high jump (4-8), and Mike McGinn in the broad jump (16.6).

EG Loses on Cat Diamond

Freshman and sophomore baseball defeats were handed Elk Grove by Wheeling last Thursday.

A three run homer by Jay Newman in the first inning gave the 'Cats all their runs in a 3-2 soph victory. John Cammarato and John Fedyski combined to pitch a two-hitter for the winners. Bob Artemenko went all the way to absorb the Grove's loss.

At the frosh level each team picked up nine hits but Wheeling held a 9-3 margin in runs and won. Marty Crain and Ted Ramirez threw the triumph. Steve Anthony had a double for EG.

Three Setbacks

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals dropped three baseball games last week.

York whipped the Cards, 4-3, and Downers Grove North gained 4-3 and 17-1 victories.

Additional details were unavailable.

Frantic First Frame

Prospect Nine Tops Niles 5-3

It was a wild first inning!

Five errors, three passed balls, three sacrifices, two singles, one stolen base and hit batter occurred in the opening frame. Six runs, all unearned, crossed the plate.

Prospect and Niles North nines played that frantic first.

The Knights hosted the diamond action which took place last Friday. Ahead 4-2 going into the second, the nine of coach Chuck Aldrich went on to defeat the Vikings 5-3. Season record of the winners was upped to 3-2 by the result.

LEADING Prospect's drive to triumph was hurler J. D. Thorne. He threw seven strong innings, allowing just two hits and one walk and didn't yield an earned run. Thorne fanned three to lift his personal mound mark to 2-1 and lower his ERA to 2.00.

Backing Thorne was a timely Knights attack which included seven hits. Big offensive blow was a two-run single by shortstop Clyde Whitcomb.

In Niles half of the first the lead-off man reached base on an error and was sacrificed to second. He went to third on a single and tallied on a passed ball. Another marker resulted from a ground out and another error. The Vikings had scored twice on just one hit.

Prospect's half of the frame was even wilder.

DON WHITLOCK began for the Knights by being hit with a pitch. He went to second on a passed ball, to third as Thorne reached safely on an error and home on another passed ball. Another error put Tom Lundstedt on and a sacrifice fly by Bob Robinson sent Thorne across.

Third Niles error of the inning permitted Lundstedt to get to third and batter Dave Kingman to take second. Strikes got Vince Franzone for out number two but then Whitcomb came up. His slashing single to left sent Lundstedt and Kingman across the plate. John Phillips grounded out to end proceedings and Prospect had scored four times on only one hit.

The rest of the game was tame by comparison.

There was no more scoring until the fourth. However, NN used Thorne's only free pass for a base runner in the second and Robinson's single gave the Knights a man on in the third. In the top of the fourth Niles was three up, three down and then came the lone earned marker of the contest.

WHITCOMB GOT Prospect's half of the frame under-way with an infield single in back of third. Phillips forced Whitcomb at second and moved up on a stolen base. A single to right by Maury Galliger brought Whitcomb home and made the score 5-2.

A scoreless fifth followed. The Vikings put two on, by way of a single and an error, but couldn't push them around. The Knights had one on, Kingman who singled, but left him stranded.

An error, Prospect's fourth and the game's ninth, gave Niles its final run in the sixth. Singles by Rick Lott, batting for Galliger, and Whitlock put two on with two outs in the Knight's sixth. Thorne closed the threat by lining to the Vikings pitcher.

In the last inning Thorne set Niles down one, two, three. He got the last out on strikes.

Knights Top Grove Nines

Prospect's soph and frosh diamond entries dealt Elk Grove a pair of defeats last week.

In sophomore action the Knights won 10-2. Steve Shawhan went all the way throwing a one-hitter for the winners. He was backed by an eight hit attack led by Mark Kitzing and Gary Andrews, who had triples and Mark Schillinger who doubled.

Gary Lemke and Sam Peters did the mound work for EG with Lemke drawing the loss. The Grenadiers' lone bingle was a double by Jim Hoffman.

A four run outburst in the fourth gave Prospect a 5-2 triumph in frosh action. Mark MacRae was the winning hurler on a one-hitter while Mike Kunze lost for the Grove. Bob Freck tripled and got one RBI for the Knights.

'Cats Drop Three of 4 On Diamond

Maine South took advantage of Wheeling frosh and soph baseballers last week and picked up three victories. Only in a freshman contest with Niles North did the 'Cats find victory.

A 12-4 tally gave MS its win on the sophomore level. John Fedyski and Carl Kreutsfeld pitched for Wheeling but were hurt by 11 errors committed by their teammates. The losers got all their runs in the fourth.

In frosh A competition Wheeling was blanked 4-0 and only got two hits. Jon Christman and Ted Ramirez combined to toss a five-hitter for the Wildcats. There were no extra base hits in the struggle.

Lone triumph for Wheeling came on the frosh B level. Though they were topped 9-3 by Maine the 'Cats hammered Niles 13-7.

Carl Fricke was the losing pitcher against MS as Jim Lesniak smacked a double for his team's lone hit. Jim Born hurled the win against NN and hit a homer. Other big hits for Wheeling were triples by Christman and Lesniak while Mike Thomas and Greg Craighead got doubles. Austin Trice had both a triple and double for the winners.

Sixth in YMCA Relay

DEADLINES

Classified advertising now appearing in Thursday editions can also be scheduled in Sunday Suburbanite at the same time at advantageous discount. Or the ad may start Sunday and run in combination with the following Thursday. No classified advertising will be accepted for just the Sunday Suburbanite, without also appearing in the Thursday editions.

TUESDAY AT 3 P.M. for Thursday editions, and for Thursday-Sunday combination. Ads received until 10 a.m. Wednesday will appear in "Too Late to Classify" section of Thursday edition. THURSDAY AT NOON for Sunday Suburbanite for Sunday-Thursday insertions.

RATES

Reader classified rates: 20c a word first insertion, 17c a word repeated consecutive insertions. Minimum charge for any ad $2.00.
Sunday Suburbanite — reader classified, IN COMBINATION WITH THURSDAY ONLY, 8½ cents a word. $1 minimum.
Display classified rates: $4.90 per col. inch first insertion, $4.20 per col. inch repeated consecutive insertions.
Sunday Suburbanite display classified IN COMBINATION WITH THURSDAY ONLY, $2.10 per column inch. One inch minimum.
If it should be necessary to cancel a Sunday-Thursday combination ad, the Thursday rate will be charged.
We also offer a Contract rate to display classified advertisers. Call the classified department for more information.

BLIND ADS

A $1 service charge will be made for all ads when replies are to be received through this newspaper.

ADJUSTMENTS

If your ad appears incorrectly, notify us immediately. We accept responsibility for the first incorrect insertion only. Such responsibility is limited to such a proportion of the entire cost of the advertisement as the space occupied by the error bears to the entire space of the advertisement.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Ads will be taken over the telephone on a charge basis if the advertiser is listed in the phone book, or a subscriber to one of our newspapers. All ads appearing under "Situations Wanted" classification must be paid in advance.

Our 42 years in business means fairness in dealing. Our overhead is lower because:

1. Out of the high rent district
2. No salesman's commission to pay
3. No bulging advertising budget.
4. Low reconditioning costs
5. Low bank finance rates

Our 42 years in business means fairness in dealing. Our overhead is lower because:

1. Out of the high rent district
2. No salesman's commission to pay
3. No bulging advertising budget.
4. Low reconditioning costs
5. Low bank finance rates

SECURITY !
WHAT'S THAT???

If you're looking for promises, don't read any further—but, if you're smart enough to know that the only REAL security is the kind you make for yourself — maybe you're smart enough to answer this ad. We are a national organization with the most respected name in our industry. We sell a tangible product, but, more that that, we sell the intangible results of its use.

A strong desire to learn the sales profession will substitute for selling experience.

We would like to find a man who can see past the guaranteed salary and fringe benefits to the $10,000 to $15,000 incomes which many of our men enjoy. If you think you might be our man, call

SECURITY !
WHAT'S THAT???

If you're looking for promises, don't read any further—but, if you're smart enough to know that the only REAL security is the kind you make for yourself — maybe you're smart enough to answer this ad. We are a national organization with the most respected name in our industry. We sell a tangible product, but, more that that, we sell the intangible results of its use.

A strong desire to learn the sales profession will substitute for selling experience.

We would like to find a man who can see past the guaranteed salary and fringe benefits to the $10,000 to $15,000 incomes which many of our men enjoy. If you think you might be our man, call

Mrs. H. Pohlmann

Emilie Pohlman, 460 Alles Ave., Des Plaines, died in Lutheran General Hospital, Monday, April 11, as the result of a heart attack. She was 78 years old.

Mrs. Pohlman was born in Elk Grove and lived on Dundee Road in Arlington Heights for 32 years, until moving to Des Plaines 10 years ago. She was fond of gardening and quilting and was a member of the Ladies Aid Society of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Services were held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, April 14, at the church, followed by interment at St. John Cemetery.

Preceded in death by her husband and a son, Wilbert, she leaves her daughter, Bernice Gray; one son, Walter, both of Des Plaines; 12 grandchildren; seven great - grandchildren; three brothers, August Behrens of Mount Prospect, Alvin Behrens of Arlington Heights, and Herman of Norwood Park; and sisters, Martha Staat, and Mathilda Huebner, of Des Plaines.

Richard L. Hertel

Richard L. Hertel, 213 Graylynn Drive, a Mount Prospect resident for about 25 years, died in his home Saturday, April 16, following a heart attack.

Mr. Hertel, 77 years old, was a retired maintenance man for the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Arlington Heights. He was raised on a farm on Milwaukee Avenue, and had lived in Wheeling Township most of his life.

Funeral services were conducted at Oehler Funeral Home in Des Plaines on Monday, April 18.

He leaves his wife, Anna; one brother; and one sister. (A15

OBITUARIES

Please call information for obituaries to Mrs. Harry Schulze, 253-2352, by Tuesday noon.

James W. Norman

James W. Norman, 825 W. Glencoe Road, Palatine, died Saturday, April 16, in Northwest Community Hospital. His age was 76.

Mr. Norman lived in Chicago until moving to Palatine a year ago to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Bott. He retired about 10 years ago as an assembler for Imperial Brass Co. He was a member of Integrity Lodge 997, AF&AM. Mosaic tile work was his hobby.

Surviving are three daughters, Irene Huntziger, and Ethel Bott of Palatine, and Marie Richards of Birmingham, Ala.; six grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; and three brothers, Charles of Northfield, Thomas of Florida, and Harry of California.

Masonic services were conducted at 8 p.m. Monday evening, and funeral services held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Ahlgrim & Sons Funeral Home, Rev. Glenn Gumm officiating. Interment was at Mount Emblem Cemetery. (A15

James C. Wayman

James C. Wayman, 72, died Thursday, April 14, after suffering a heart attack in his home at 512 W. Wing St., Arlington Heights.

Mr. Wayman was born in Arlington Heights and was owner of a well-drilling business known as James C. Wayman & Son, retiring six months ago. His father, the founder of the business, was also a lifelong Arlington resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayman had celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Wednesday evening.

In addition to his wife, Myrtle, nee Dollen, he leaves two daughters, Myrtle Weaver of Palatine, and Joyce Tudyman of Arlington Heights; a son, Robert Wayman of Arlington Heights; six grandchildren; and two sisters, Jessie Kulin of Arizona, and Laura Belle Sieloff of Wisconsin.

The Rev. Roger E. Kellogg conducted funeral services Saturday, April 16 at Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home. Interment was at Randhill Park Cemetery. (A15

Michael Samar

A former Palatine resident, Michael Samar, late of Boulder, Colo., died Sunday, April 17, in Boulder.

Graveside services were held Wednesday, April 20, at Randhill Cemetery, conducted by the Rev. Glenn Gumm.

In addition to his wife, Bernice, Mr. Samar leaves two daughters, Michele and Tamara; a son, Jeffrey; his parents, Alex and Mary Samar of Palatine; two brothers, Philip, also of Palatine, and Nicholas of Wisconsin and one sister, Mrs. George Chipel of Palatine. (A15

Mrs. Peter Whitty

Louise H. Whitty, Route 1, Roselle, died Sunday, April 10, in DuPage Memorial Hospital, after a short illness. She was 62.

Mrs. Whitty married Peter Whitty in Itasca, where she resided until her husband's death in 1961, when she moved to Roselle to live with her daughter, Mrs. Robert (Audrey) Dorsen. She was an honorary member of St. John's Ladies Aid Society.

In addition to Mrs. Dorsen, she leaves a brother, Henry Kurth of St. Germaine, Wis.; one sister, Dorothy Bambera; three grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

The Rev. Raymond Wiegert conducted funeral services on Wednesday, April 13, at Richert & Son's Roselle Funeral Home. Interment was at Ridgewood Cemetery in Des Plaines. (A15

Howard R. Koch

Howard R. Koch, a 30-year resident of Addison, died suddenly Thursday, April 14, in Northwest Community Hospital, after suffering a heart attack at work. He was born in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. Koch, 42, of 277 Ninth Ave., was employed as a machinist for Methode Corp. in Palatine.

In addition to his wife, Ethel, whom he married in July, 1943, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Judith Venckus of Glen Ellyn; three sons, Roddy, Daniel, and Brian, all at home; one granddaughter; his father, Henry Cook; a brother, Melvin of Bensenville; and four sisters, Edith Wesbrock, Bernice Tucker, and Pearl Selcke, all of Addison, and Esther Axelson of Park Ridge. He was preceded in death by a son and his mother, Therese.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 16, at St. Paul United Church of Christ of Bloomingdale, with interment in the church cemetery. (A15

Walter C. Johnson

Services for Walter C. (Lefty) Johnson, 618 Burno Drive, Palatine, will be held at 1 p.m. today (Thursday, April 21), at Ahlgrim & Sons Funeral Home in Palatine, with interment at Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mr. Johnson, 45, died Tuesday, April 19, after suffering a heart attack in his home. He was data processing supervisor at White Cap, a subsidiary of Continental Can Co. Mr. Johnson was active in scouting and boy's baseball in Skokie, before moving to Palatine four years ago.

He leaves his wife, Lillian L., nee Stetins; a son, Lyn W.; one daughter, Lori B.; his mother, Mrs. Florence Johnson; a sister, Shirley Rossi, formerly of Palatine; and brother, Richard Johnson. (A15

Conrad W. Niedert

Conrad W. Niedert, president and treasurer of Niedert Motor Service for 48 years, died suddenly Friday, April 15, in Lutheran General Hospital. He was born Nov. 30, 1891, in Elk Grove Township, and resided at 1367 Oakwood Ave., Des Plaines.

Services were held Tuesday, April 19, at Immanuel Lutheran Church of Des Plaines, Rev. Allen H. Fedder officiating. Interment was at Ridgewood Cemetery.

He leaves his wife, Bertha, nee Grede; one son, Ralph A. of Palatine; five grandchildren; one great-grandchild; and three sisters, Alma Hanson of Melrose Park, Madeline Slaich and Edith Weikal, both of West Dundee. He was preceded in death by a brother, Lawrence, and son, Ferdinand. (A15

Charles E. Miner

Charles E. Miner, owner of Miner Realty, 150 N. Garden Ave., Bensenville, died Saturday April 16, in Sherman Hospital, after a short illness. His age was 74.

Mr. Miner was an electrical design engineer for many years before entering the real estate business, working in the construction of dams and powerhouses. He lived in Wood Dale for five years before moving to Bensenville, and was former president of the Wood Dale Community Club.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 19, at Geil's Funeral Home in Bensenville, with interment at Memory Gardens Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Maude, nee Higgins, he leaves a son, Charles R. of Arlington Heights; a daughter, Dorothy Milton of Chicago; and five grandchildren.

Frank Maluck

Word has been received that Frank Maluck, born in Itasca on June 5, 1894, died March 7 in Indianapolis, Ind.

Before moving to Indiana, as a retired carpenter, he lived and worked in the Itasca area.

He is survived by one son, Thomas; one grandson; three sisters, Sr. M. Borgia OSF (Kate), Sr. M. Alfred OSF (Mary) and Mrs. Ann Weber. A brother, Joseph, preceded him in death.

Services were held in Indianapolis.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

WORKING MAN FACES AGE 65 . . . AND COUNTS HIS BLESSINGS

"My husband hasn't been treading the carpets in the Executive Suite," the lady said. "His working years have been on a cement floor. His salary has been too modest to give him tax ulcers. His retirement income, far removed from such things as stock options and bonus savings, has been built on the simple structure of a pension plan and Social Security.

"He is what they call a working stiff . . . "

And this husband, according to his wife, will be bountifully blessed when he retires. She explains that he will win his freedom from:

1. The alarm clock
2. The lunch box
3. Thirty-minute lunch periods
4. Dirty work clothes
5. Freezing in winter and roasting in summer
6. Fighting rush-hour traffic
7. Rushing to work and rushing home
8. Arguing with the boss about vacations
9. Those cement floors
10. Nerves from overwork
11. Frustrations from a bullheaded foreman

Along with these freedoms her husband will win time for:

1. Evening adult education courses
2. Week-day social activities
3. Reading
4. Napping
5. Helping out in emergencies involving children, grandchildren, neighbors and parents
6. Traveling
7. Christmas with out-of-state children
8. Watching the 10 P. M. TV special
9. Yard work on week-days
10. Being my full-time handyman and chauffeur
11. Answering the phone and door bell when I stay in bed with a cold

This wife is convinced that retirement is going to be a ball in her house. It's a small house — only three rooms. When their five children left the nest they sold their big house, bought the little one, and banked the difference.

For the GOLDEN YEARS 36-page booklet, send 50c in coin (no stamps), to Dept. CSPS, Box 1672, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Charles E. Miner, owner of Miner Realty, 150 N. Garden Ave., Bensenville, died Saturday April 16, in Sherman Hospital, after a short illness. His age was 74.

Mr. Miner was an electrical design engineer for many years before entering the real estate business, working in the construction of dams and powerhouses. He lived in Wood Dale for five years before moving to Bensenville, and was former president of the Wood Dale Community Club.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 19, at Geil's Funeral Home in Bensenville, with interment at Memory Gardens Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Maude, nee Higgins, he leaves a son, Charles R. of Arlington Heights; a daughter, Dorothy Milton of Chicago; and five grandchildren.

Frank Maluck

Word has been received that Frank Maluck, born in Itasca on June 5, 1894, died March 7 in Indianapolis, Ind.

Before moving to Indiana, as a retired carpenter, he lived and worked in the Itasca area.

He is survived by one son, Thomas; one grandson; three sisters, Sr. M. Borgia OSF (Kate), Sr. M. Alfred OSF (Mary) and Mrs. Ann Weber. A brother, Joseph, preceded him in death.

Services were held in Indianapolis.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

WORKING MAN FACES AGE 65 . . . AND COUNTS HIS BLESSINGS

"My husband hasn't been treading the carpets in the Executive Suite," the lady said. "His working years have been on a cement floor. His salary has been too modest to give him tax ulcers. His retirement income, far removed from such things as stock options and bonus savings, has been built on the simple structure of a pension plan and Social Security.

"He is what they call a working stiff . . . "

And this husband, according to his wife, will be bountifully blessed when he retires. She explains that he will win his freedom from:

1. The alarm clock
2. The lunch box
3. Thirty-minute lunch periods
4. Dirty work clothes
5. Freezing in winter and roasting in summer
6. Fighting rush-hour traffic
7. Rushing to work and rushing home
8. Arguing with the boss about vacations
9. Those cement floors
10. Nerves from overwork
11. Frustrations from a bull-headed foreman

Along with these freedoms her husband will win time for:

1. Evening adult education courses
2. Week-day social activities
3. Reading
4. Napping
5. Helping out in emergencies involving children, grandchildren, neighbors and parents
6. Traveling
7. Christmas with out-of-state children
8. Watching the 10 P. M. TV special
9. Yard work on week-days
10. Being my full-time handyman and chauffeur
11. Answering the phone and door bell when I stay in bed with a cold

This wife is convinced that retirement is going to be a ball in her house. It's a small house — only three rooms. When their five children left the nest they sold their big house, bought the little one, and banked the difference.

For the GOLDEN YEARS 36-page booklet, send 50c in coin (no stamps), to Dept. CSPS, Box 1672, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.
